THOSE ROMAN STATES COVERS

Some weeks ago we published an advertisement in MEKEEL'S WEEKLY which included a short sketch of the Roman States and offered a series of these historically interesting covers at very modest prices. Many collectors and dealers asked us if we found such "educational" copy practical. The answer is that the very large Roman States correspondence is practically cleared out and we still are returning remittances or credits. Of the 26 items listed

Foreign Approvals

The work of mounting our collections of 19th Century foreign stamps is making good headway. Practically all the British Colonials are ready and they offer an unusual opportunity to fill the difficult spaces, as well as the easier ones, at prices averaging less than 50% of catalog. Let us know the country or countries you are interested in and we will send selections. References, please, if unknown to us.

$2.50 INLAND EXCHANGE
Gray, Lilac, "Imperforate"

It is quite probable that very few Imperforate $2.50 stamps were ever issued, as genuine singles are extremely rare (far more so than singles of the $2.00 P. W.), while the horizontal pair originally in the collection of Mr. William F. Morgan still stands "unique." It has fine margins on three sides, is close on the fourth, cancelled C. C. C. June 19, 1863, and is valued around $800 to $850. The greatest caution should be exercised by the prospective buyer of singles as the relative abundance of wide margined perforated copies offers tempting possibilities to the unscrupulous.

$3.50 INLAND EXCHANGE
Blue, "Imperforate"

Another rare stamp, relatively few being accepted as genuine Imperforate but fortunately for advanced Revenue specialists about six fine pairs are available. These come both horizontal and vertical, both having equal value which is about $500. The piece before the writer is dated June 3, 1864.

$5.00 PROBATE OF WILL Dull Red, "Imperforate"

Mention of this stamp will only be made in this article in order to record two very exceptional pieces, i.e., blocks of 18 and 21, respectively. The former, nine horizontally by two vertically, is quite generally considered much the better piece. It came from Mr. Eagle's collection and $1000 represents a fair value for it today.

$10.00 CHARTER PARTY
Dark Green, "Imperforate"

Under the tax schedule of 1862, the highest Charter Party rate was $10.00, being on vessels over 600 tons register, hence there would be no use for a pair of $10.00 if employed solely as originally intended by the Government and as dictated by the title of the stamp. That the schedules in this case appear to have been largely followed is rather indicated by the utter lack of pairs, so far at least as is generally known, but fortunately there is a block of 4 and another of 6 preserved, these coming to light on a document found in a mining camp in Nevada. They are dated Dec. 17, 1868, a late use of Imperforates, and can be rated as $600.00 and $850.00 items.

$10.00 MORTGAGE
Blue Green, "Imperforates"

Very fine pairs of this title are scarce, although one is known O. G. There is also a horizontal strip of four but a real classic is a wonderful block of nine with fine margins all round (sheet margin at left), perfect in all respects and dated Oct. 20, 1863. This must take rank with the large block of Charter Party as an $850 piece.

$10.00 PROBATE OF WILL
Dark Green, "Imperforate"

Here is another stamp rather elusive as a very fine single, that many collectors have felt should occur in pairs at least, but the only multiple piece known today is the vertical pair from the Eagle collection. The writer has had no recent opportunity to examine this item, hence will refrain from quoting a value which might easily be inaccurate.

$15.00 MORTGAGE
Dark Blue, "Imperforate"

Moderately common as a single, multiple pieces are very rare, in fact, not much more numerous than pairs of the $3.50 Inland Exchange, although necessarily rated much lower in value. The writer knows of four vertical pairs and two horizontal strips of three, appraising the latter at $300.00 each.

$20.00 PROBATE OF WILL
Orange, "Imperforate"

Always a popular stamp, pairs have long been regarded as real classics, although actually no rarer than those of the $15.00 or $25.00 Mortgage, there being five pairs and a strip of three known to the writer with the strong probability of a few others in old and obscure collections. All are vertical although Dame Rumor credits a horizontal pair which would cause no surprise by its appearance. A fine pair is worth $200.00.

$25.00 MORTGAGE
Red, "Imperforate"

Some years ago multiple pieces were extremely rare but more recently three new pairs have come to light, resulting in a total of at least five fine pairs, a strip of three, a good block of four and two strips of four which fit together to form a block of eight. The latter is reported as a beautiful lightly cancelled piece and while "re-constructed" should be worth $1000. Two pairs examined are dated July 12, 1863, and December 18, 1863, respectively, and would find a ready market at $200.00 each.

$200 U. S. I. R.
Carmine, Green, "Imperforate"

Though commoner in pairs and larger pieces than any other stamp dealt with in the present article the bright colors, combined with the glamor that is built around a $200 stamp make singles, and particularly multiples, highly prized items, and the writer is very certain that prior to the publication of this data not a dozen collectors in the entire country would have taken an Imperforate pair of 50c Surety Bond in preference to a pair

FILSTRUP EXHIBIT AT NEW YORK

The Collectors Club Favored With An Exhibit of a Very Fine Collection of United States 1851-1857

Reported by CHAS. J. PHILLIPS.

On Wednesday, March 3rd, a large gathering took place at The Collectors Club, New York, to welcome Mr. A. W. Filstrup of Benton Harbor, Michigan. Among those present we were all glad to meet Dr. Carroll Chase on his return from an 18,000 mile motor trip in France, etc.

Mr. Filstrup first of all showed his collection and described many of the choice items, and afterwards the members spent some hours in a careful examination of the volumes. To do justice to this superb collection one would require the whole issue of this paper, so I can only give a brief account of some few of the more remarkable items.

At the commencement of his remarks Mr. Filstrup said that he was under great obligation to Dr. Carroll Chase for many of his notes and for very much of the material in his collection.

The exhibit commenced with the 1851 imperf. 1c stamps. Reconstructed top rows were shown in early state of the left pane, and the right pane with the rare varieties. Many pages of Type II plate I were shown, such as page of red cancellations, page of blocks and strips, including block of 6 and two strips of 4. A page of inverted transfers. Several pages of early covers. Plate I, left and right panes reconstructed and nearly complete.

A very interesting page of "shifts".

Attention was drawn to the 1c plate I, printed on both sides and believed to be unique.

A good page was one of red cancellations including the "PAID 3" in circle, which is very rare in red.

The famous "cracked plate" varieties were shown complete in all varieties, both imperf. and perforated, the latter being some ten times as rare as the imperf.

The 1c perf. cracked plate was also here on cover in superb copies.

In the perf. 1c plate II, attention was drawn to a fine strip Nos. 98, 99 and 100 on the plate, and very rare.

1c Imperf., plate II, strip of 6 on cover.

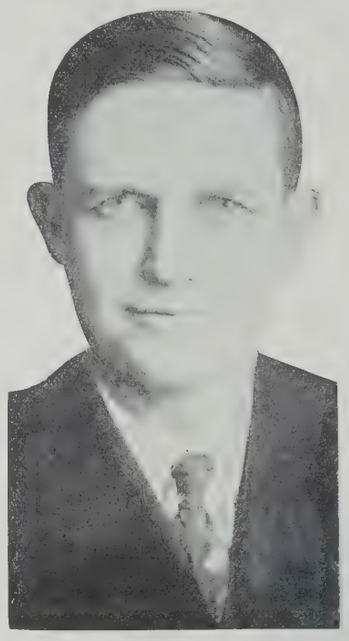
In plate IV all the rare types were shown and also stamps showing the imprints of the left and right panes.

In the 3c there were a number of blocks and strips of the imperf., unused, and complete reconstructed right and left panes of plates III and V.

The 5c imperf. included 4 unused, a block of 11 penstroked, 2 pairs on covers and 3 strips of three.

The 10c imperf. and perf. occupied the whole of a very large album and Mr. Filstrup said there were about a thousand copies.

A careful plan of plate I was drawn on one page showing the 200 squares and with the position of every shift or recut, and variety noted.



A. W. FILSTRUP.

Mr. Filstrup emphasized his interest in philately and his public spirit by journeying to New York for a meeting of the Collectors Club. Some time ago the WEEKLY paid tribute to Mr. Filstrup's many activities and the generosity that he has displayed in connection with worthy objects, not only in Benton Harbor, Mich., where he resides, but also elsewhere.

A cover was shown with imprint of No. 1 believed to be unique.

Blocks of 8 with one recut, two strips of 4, block of 4, and 8 strips of three, also later on block of 9, two blocks of 6, and strips of 5 and 6. A mint strip of four was much admired.

10c unused with double recut top and bottom. Many recuts were shown in the 10c imperf. and perf.

A fine strip of three imperf. showed the normal stamp, then a double recut, and last a single recut.

A fine item was a strip of 6 on cover with two recuts, Nos. 74 and 76 on pane.

In the imperf. considerable progress had been made with reconstructing the panes, the left pane had 67 positions filled, but the right pane only 37.

In the 10c plate II perf., a block of 42 unused was shown, stated to be the largest known. It was from the lower left corner of the plate.

A 10c Type II perf. was shown o Pony Express cover.

The 12c imperf., a pair was shown very thin paper. In the ordinary pa there were four strips of 4, two strips 5, and many pairs.

The bisected 12c was here in two examples on covers, one canceled STEAM over cut portion.

SHIP

12c perf., unused blocks of 25 and and used block of 6.

12c perf., on Pony Express cover, da Nov., 1860.

24c block of 22 unused.

24c page of stamps on cover and s of 5 used.

30c two unused blocks of 4, 30c re at bottom, and three pairs on cover.

90c unused pair, one of which has 4 lines at bottom, only found once plate of 100 stamps.

90c on large cover with blue Cincin cancellation, recently found in a C House correspondence.

Space will not allow of more details this truly magnificent collection. Filstrup gave us one of the finest most interesting displays we have had years and the hearty thanks of the C was extended to him for his great ki ness in making the long journey to N York to give us this treat.

Knowledge Is Power = Dollars
Do you realize how often you "give up" or "pass by" a real rare variety thru lack of knowledge?
Let me explain: Denmark No. 2, 4rbs brown is known with over 150 different numeral cancellations. No. 1 is worth $0.20 but dozens of them are worth $5.00 to $10.00 each and a few are rarities.
All these and nearly all Danish varieties are priced in my new Detailed Priced Catalogue of Danish Stamps of 1851-1899. I quote prices of shades, pairs, strips of three, four, six, blocks, sheets, stamps on cover, cancellations, recuts and scores of Inverted Frames, never before priced.
Illustrated Catalogue, 52 pages, printed on one side only, price $1.00 postfree.
Books of used Danish Stamps can be sent on approval. [tf

EAST AND WEST:—

THE Oriental Stamp Co. of Bangkok, Siam., informs us that the proposed Siamese Kingdon Exhibition has been abandoned, due to the sudden death of the King. The decision to overprint the recently issued airmail stamps with an exhibition inscription in native characters will of course be given up.

EARL E. WELLER of Elyria, Ohio, donates a subscription to the WEEKLY to John Stables, 3206 W. 95 St., Cleveland, Ohio. This collector, according to Mr. Weller, is a worthy shut-in who would welcome donations of stamps.

WE have received from Sefi, Pemberton & Co., 12 S. Molton St., London, W. 1, England, a large pricelist of sets, packets, stamp albums and accessories. This firm publishes the Philatelic Journal of Great Britain and a sample copy will no doubt be sent free upon request. The firm advertises itself to be "The finest stamp shop in England."

UNDER date of Feb. 1 Stanley Gibbons Ltd., 391 Strand, London, W. C. 2, Eng., sent out a very elaborate Illustrated Guide for Stamp Collectors, giving full particulars of albums, catalogs, handbooks and philatelic accessories sold by the firm. It is a finely printed booklet of 48 pages. This has been supplemented under date of March by a catalog of packets, sets, etc. Both booklets will be sent to any address upon request.

THERE is to be a stamp club in Kalamazoo, Mich. The faithful of the city and township as well as neighboring communities were called together March 11 at the office of C. H. Garrett. We hope in an early number to give full particulars of the organization meeting. M. F. R. English is taking the lead in promoting the new club.

PASCO - ELKO AIRMAIL.

By CALVERT R. STIER.

Commencing April 6 the citizens of Washington State will be able to send a letter all the way to New York in exactly 45½ hours. This will be the result of the Contract Air Mail Route No. 5, between Pasco, Wash., and Elko, Nev., which opens on that date. Later on this year Verne C. Gorst of North Bend, Ore., will start service on the Seattle-Los Angeles contract route. But the Pasco-Elko line contract is held by Walter J. Varney and this line is the first to begin on the Pacific Coast. This new line will greatly save time in the sending of mail by air from Seattle. Under the present train and air schedule it takes 46 hours by train for the mail to reach the governmental transcontinental line at Salt Lake, and from there 25 more hours by train to New York. This makes a total of 71 hours (three days).

Each day four planes will be used on the Pasco-Elko line, two being in the air at a time. Four or five pilots will make the round trip. Six swallow type planes have been built in Wichita, Kansas, for this air mail route. Each can carry 500 pounds of mail or approximately 20,000 letters.

Postage rates for air mail over the new line will be 10 cents per ounce to Elko and 5 cents for each of the government zones. Thus, from Seattle to Cheyenne it will cost 15 cents, to Omaha 20 cents, and to Chicago and points east 25 cents. The new 10 cent air mail stamps will be received by the Seattle Post Office soon and will be used for the contract routes.

If there are any collectors who would like to have covers sent on the first trip, and if they will send me the envelopes addressed and properly stamped, I will see that they are posted in time for the opening, April 6. Be sure to have postage sufficient for the zone to which the letter is to be sent. Address me at 905 33rd Ave., Seattle, Wash.

Unperforated - Unused - Block - Specials

We have them in great abundance—possibly the largest stock in the entire U. S. We purchased them as issued, at face, hence our willingness to sell to you at the low prices quoted below. All have nice margins and have never been hinged. Better load up on Singles, Pairs and Blocks now. They will never be cheaper.

On April 13 last, we ran a somewhat similar ad in MEKEEL'S offering certain unperforated unused blocks. The results were startling and there was no let up on orders for 6 weeks—orders coming from all parts of the U. S., Canada, Mexico and many Foreign Countries. (To Be Exact, 921 orders in all.) This time our goal is 1200 orders—we feel the prices quoted below will do the work. We are getting ready for an avalanche of orders. Our service will be prompt and we guarantee perfect satisfaction.

SOME "DONT'S" FOR ADVERTISERS

Don't build up the catalog value of a packet with such trash as punched Philippines stamps or Ecuador revenues. A satisfied customer is better than a single sale.

Don't advertise a stamp with fiscal cancellation and quote catalog price for a postally used copy. Let alone the moral aspect, from a business standpoint, honesty is the best policy.

Don't wait until Wednesday to mail ad copy. Have it in our office Wednesdays.

Don't advertise a stamp at the catalog quotation when the revised prices mark it down to a fraction of the original amount.

Don't offer any premiums for a certain number of "first" replies to your advertisements. There is an element of chance there that the postal authorities dislike. If the premium goes to every patron, "chance" disappears.

Don't reflect in any way upon the advertising of your competitor. Every tub should stand upon its own bottom, and your prices will speak for themselves. Buyers are cautious of dealers who seek to rise by riding rough shod over their neighbors.

These "don'ts" MUST be heeded.

EDITORIAL.

A little more than six months remain before the New York Exhibition becomes an accomplished fact. The preliminary notices that the great undertaking has been receiving are varied and numerous; and it may be said that the Exhibition is being properly introduced to the philatelic world. The first lap of the race finds the management in fine fettle and ready to start on the second leg. Now, a very necessary part of the programme must be considered and that is the question of financial assistance. The Exhibition is to be held in New York, the philatelic capital of the country, but it will be a national and not a local event. The stamps on display and the attendance will come from almost everywhere. New York will do the heavy work, literally speaking, and in a financial way, it will be taxed roundly. In supplying the monetary foundation, the city is digging deep into its own pockets. The duty of raising funds from those interested in the progress of American philately is one that should not be thought unpleasant. The Exhibition is for all classes and cliques, "inner wheels," and select circles all give way in the common impulse to further the great cause. The year 1926 is the "anno mirabilis" of the American collector.

Without attempting to reflect the aims or objects of the Exhibition managers or, indeed, speak for them in any way, we say that plans for collecting funds to further the work will soon be forthcoming. A committee for prosecuting the task has been appointed and in due time, a systematized attempt will be made to cover the country. The editor of the WEEKLY is on this committee and expects to have his share in the work of soliciting funds. A large list of contributors will be a vote of confidence in philately and in the ability of the Exhibition sponsors to meet the expectations of all.

A reader says: "I now think that you have a clear idea of what you are trying to do and so no longer do I resent your harping on publicity for philately, as if it were a question of liberty or death. You may remember that I wrote you criticizing your pounding away on the subject. Send me something for a luncheon talk on stamps before a business club." This collector, who has long been in the ranks is a welcome recruit in the work of acquainting the outside world with the fact that philately is a pursuit on a par with others that have been recognized for many years. The time is coming when some knowledge of stamp collecting will be had by every person in this country, through publicity that will permeate each stratum of society, so to say.

Mr. Henry M. Showman, Los Angeles, California, has sent in a copy of the Los Angeles Evening Herald for March 3, 1926, that contains a page ad of the Broadway Department Store. In this advertisement generous space is given to the following announcement: "Attention! Stamp Enthusiasts! The Broadway has opened a Stamp Collectors' Section. We are pleased to announce a distinct innovation. A department devoted to stamp sets and needs of the stamp collector—albums, etc., has been added to the stationery department. Over 20,000 different U. S. and Foreign Postage Stamps are now in exhibition in this section. Come in and get acquainted with this interesting department. Sets ranging from 100 varieties for 15c to 5,000 varieties for $45. Also, packets by countries, 10c to $3." This is a well-calculated appeal to the budding and other philatelists and while the Broadway Department Store is not the first to include stamps in its ads as a staple article, yet it does not stretch the truth much when it claims pioneership in this line.

In our opinion, the committee of the International Philatelic Exhibition has made a master stroke in securing the services of Emil Fuchs as designer of the medal which is to be awarded to exhibits of prize-winning class. Mr. Fuchs contributed a series of highly interesting memoirs to the Saturday Evening Post not long ago which were replete with philatelic material. It will be remembered that Mr. Fuchs was selected by King Edward to delineate his features on the Edwardian stamps, after the death of Queen Victoria; and collectors know how well he compassed his commission. The New York Times says that among the members of the committee who will pass upon the design are Messrs. Steinway, Lichtenstein and Lindquist.

Mr. A. H. Wilhelm, the president of the American Philatelic Society, has been visiting cities of the middle west where he had the opportunity of conferring with workers and other members. Mr. Wilhelm is giving a good account of his officership and his example is a stimulating one, as he leaves no stone unturned in promoting the interests of the large organization of which he is the head. One of the difficulties of a chief executive is to secure the support and co-operation of all the members and in this connection, Mr. Wilhelm deserves the consideration of all.

"I saw a collection to which no stamps were added since 1875 but in it, the U. S. stamps were woefully weak, while the foreign were in force, including singles that catalogued as high as fifty dollars. There was a 5c of 1847, a 12c, 1869, and so on. Were old catalogue prices misleading on U. S. and were these stamps always scarce?" quizzically asks a correspondent. Fifty years ago, young collectors often devoted their attention wholly to foreign stamps and neglected U. S. issues. It was usually the older collector who was inclined to fill up the U. S. spaces. Good old collections are to be found sparsely settled by U. S., in consequence.

The Chicago Philatelic Society is doing collecting a service by trying to direct philatelic enthusiasm in the local schools, Y. M. C. A.'s and community centers. In the way of providing speakers and solving problems of organization of clubs, the older society seeks to encourage the interest of the young collectors and at recent meetings of the Chicago Philatelic Society the presence of young leaders has been stimulating all around. The junior pages of several of the Chicago newspapers are showing the effect of this awakening and we notice that the editor of the Chicago Post has a notice in a recent issue to the effect: "Boys and girls who wish to trade stamps may send descriptions of their stamps to the Boys' and Girls' Post." Stamp news has been published in several of the newspapers through the enterprise of young contributors.

Several suggestions have been received relative to commemorative issues for the U. S. that have been mentioned in this column but we do not care to be placed in the position of advocating anything of the kind, without having definite knowledge of the circumstances that might make such issues plausible. At any rate, we are content to abide by decision of the department in this reg as we know that many considerat enter into the question of such issues are not always generally underst Collectors naturally do not wish to h commemorative issues in such numbe to make them common, even tho happily, in the case of such emissions our government, no idea of making pr out of collectors is an impelling mo in furnishing the stamps.

THE PHILATELIC INSTRUCTOR

By FRANCIS M. BOTELHO, Ph.D., Wayne, Pa.

CHAPTER XVI.

Using Duplicates to Advantage.

Any collector at all active will soon acquire a quantity of duplicate stamps, some common and some rare. To the uninitiated, this condition would seem to be undesirable. But to one who has any experience in the hobby, this supply of "surplus" material is exactly what he needs for furthering the growth of his collection.

Duplicates are obtained in various ways, including gathering every stamp in sight, purchasing in sets or packets, buying singly, exchanging per unit or units, and contributions by non-philatelic friends.

Duplicates can be put to use advantageously as follows:

(1) Giving in exchange for specimens you do not have;
(2) Selling individually or in groups;
(3) Placing in club circuits (either sale or exchange);
(4) Presenting to beginners to enhance their enthusiasm;
(5) Entering for auction sale, if the stamps are not "commons";
(6) Contributing to charitable or religious bodies;
(7) Keeping for future accrement in value.

As stated in a previous chapter, exchanging is usually done on basis of the pricings in one of the standard catalogues. In exchanging with collectors within the U. S. A., naturally an American catalogue would be used. In Canada, a Canadian. In Europe, any of the ones published there. In Asia and elsewhere, either an American or British or Continental.

A small number of philatelists exchange on the "group plan," namely: giving a certain quantity of specified emissions in return for stated quantity and assortments. In these cases, catalogue values are often disregarded, by mutual agreement.

The best way to offer in exchange (unless a "group plan" is adopted) would appear to be to mount each stamp neatly on either "approval sheets" or "approval cards." When doing so, the practice is to mark below his stamp the catalogue item number and the price. Needless to say, the particular catalogue and its year of issue should also be mentioned either on the sheet itself or on a separate slip.

Your correspondent could then pick out the stamps he wants from your offerings and return the rest to you with offerings of his own duplicates, mounted and marked in the same manner. You would then pick out what you want, taking value for value, unless previously arranged differently.

In selling, the same method of presentation should be employed. The correspondent could select those items that interest him and return the others to you, accompanied by his remittance for what he has taken.

The foregoing relates to exchanging by mail. For exchanging in person, the stamps may be inserted in small approval books manufactured for the purpose. The stamps would then be loose, unmounted, and the values could be readily looked up in a catalogue. This saves the time and trouble of marking as indicated. Where personal meeting can be arranged, the "exchange by mail" delays are avoided.

A modification would be to put up your duplicates in small packets, assorted or otherwise, and fix a net price for the lot. Your correspondent would then take "packets" and offer you also "packets" in exchange.

To expedite matters, "want lists" are sent by one exchanger to another.

Much of the detail work of keeping track of stamps offered for exchange or sale may be eliminated by entering them in club circuits as explained in Chapter XV.

If you have duplicates somewhat better than the ordinary run as regards catalogue valuation, you could enter them at auction sales. See full information in Chapter XII.

Should you have a big quantity of the commoner stamps, you could put them to best use, for the benefit of philately in general rather than yourself in particular, by presenting to beginners. This would encourage them considerably, and perchance some of them later on may have specimens you need for completing some set or page in your album or albums.

Another way to employ common duplicates is to contribute them to charitable or religious bodies, because they would then eventually pass into the hands of people who know what to do with the stamps to secure for themselves a profit on the price they may have paid "en bloc" to such bodies. These are the stamps known as "missions."

For those whom giving away possesses no appeal, their best plan is to hold their duplicates until an opportunity presents itself for them to obtain a satisfactory value in return, there is nothing better than to keep the duplicates for future increase in value. In this respect stamp collecting is like investing in real estate.

While exchanging is not selling, it is nevertheless barter, and bartering is the parent of modern selling for a monetary consideration. Wherefore, the natural tendency of every active collector towards becoming, on the side, a tramp dealer.

New Contract Air Mail Service Route

Under date of March 2nd, the Second Assistant Postmaster General, Mr. W. Irving Glover, announced that effective April 6, 1926, contract air mail service will be established over route C. A. M., No. 5, Elko, Nev., via Boise, Idaho, to Pasco, Wash., and return. There is no doubt but what special cancellations will be furnished in connection with this western service, the second to be established in the United States.

Up to March 4th, the Department has awarded ten contracts for such service and while these have been mentioned on separate occasions, I do not recall that they have been listed all at one time. As I have received numerous letters from our readers asking about the establishment of such routes, such a list will be of interest at this time. The name mentioned in each case is the firm with whom the contract has been closed for the route specified.

C. A. M. 1—Colonial Air Lines, Inc., Naugatuck, Conn. Boston, Mass., by Hartford, Conn., to New York, N. Y., and return.

C. A. M. 2—Robertson Aircraft Corporation, Anglum, Mo. Chicago, Ill., by Springfield, Ill., to St. Louis, Mo., and return.

C. A. M. 3—National Air Transport, Inc., 310 So. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill. Chicago, Ill., by Moline, Ill., St. Joseph and Kansas City, Mo., Wichita, Kans., and Oklahoma City, Okla., to Dallas and Ft. Worth, Tex., and return.

C. A. M. 4—Western Air Express, Inc., 801 W. M. Garland Bldg., Los Angeles. Salt Lake City, Utah, by Las Vegas, Nev., to Los Angeles, Calif., and return.

C. A. M. 5—Walter T. Varney, 1540 Pine Street, San Francisco, Calif. Elko, Nev., by Boise, Idaho, to Pasco, Wash., and return.

C. A. M. 6—Ford Motor Company, Dearborn, Mich. Detroit, Mich., to Cleveland, Ohio, and return.

C. A. M. 7—Ford Motor Company, Dearborn, Mich. Detroit, Mich., to Chicago, Ill., and return.

C. A. M. 8—Vern C. Gorst, 405 Balboa Bldg., San Francisco, Calif. Seattle, Wash., by Portland and Medford, Ore., Sacramento, San Francisco, Fresno, and Bakersfield, Calif., to Los Angeles, Calif., and return.

C. A. M. 9—Charles Dickinson, Room 132, Auditorium Hotel, Chicago, Ill. Chicago, Ill., by Milwaukee, and La Crosse, Wis., to St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minn., and return.

C. A. M. 10—Florida Airways Corp., 50 East 42nd Street, New York, N. Y. Atlanta, Ga., by Jacksonville and Tampa, to Miami, Fla., and return.

Just as soon as the Department announces the inauguration of any of these other services, details will be given our readers.

1½c Provisional Envelope

Mr. J. C. Finch has shown me a copy of the 1c green round die envelope, size 8, on white, die B, overprinted 1½c with the double line overprint. This is the first die B that has come to hand and I understand that it was issued by one of the west coast post offices. This variety unsurcharged first made its appearance about ten years back and it had been supposed that the supplies in the post office were exhausted previous to this time.

ARGENTINE.—The Economist Stamp Co. have shown us a new 5c rose red stamp bearing the likeness of Bernardino Rivadavia, the first president. At the top of the stamp is the name of the country and below the inscription "8 de Febrero" with the date "1826" to the left and this year's date to the right. The figure of value is in the lower left corner.

CUBA. — Two new denominations are about to be issued, viz., 13 and 25c, while the existing 8 and 10c values are to appear in new colours.—Stamp Collecting.

DENMARK.—Mr. A. E. Pade has shown us the 30ö orange and the 40ö blue with the surcharge "20" over the figures of value in black. On the 40ö value blocks obliterate the former value. Mr. Pade also adds that a new commemorative issue is about to appear in celebration of the 75th anniversary of the first Danish postage stamp. It will be of three values; 10, 20 and 30 ore and in the design of one of the early skilling issues.

HEDJAZ.—New stamps have been issued by King Ibn Seoud, in the denominations, colours, and quantities given below. Examples arrive from our Alexandria correspondent, Mr. A. Sempad, and we regret there is not time for us illustrate them if we are (as our read naturally expect) to be prompt with Chronicle.

RAY ITEMS:—

OBIN LAMPSON of the Fellowship Stamp Agency, Fresno, Cal., wishes to inform the firm's patrons that mat- s recently brought to their attention l be handled as quickly as possible, withstanding the severe handicap der wh.ch the office is laboring because illness.

HE Michigan Stamp Club has just held its annual election of officers, the following board was re-elected the coming year:—President, Charles sley; vice-president, Clarence Maher; y, A. M. Livington; treasurer, R. O. yer; trustees, Dr. H. P. Hoskins, H. Kaufmann, F. T. Bott; publicity man- r, Herman W. Boers.

N Feb. 4 the Butler, Pa., Philatelic Society was organized, and it now sixteen members. Meeting nights are t and third Thursdays. Ralph Sand- h is president. We are indebted to Club for a library subscription to the ler Public Library. We are indebted Ed. L. Smith, treasurer, for this infor- ion.

C. WHITMORE of the law firm of Boorman & Whitmore, Atlantic, a, sends us a renewal of subscription the Atlantic Carnegie Free Library accompanies it with this statement:— did not renew the local library sub- ption when it expired recently, think- that it was not appreciated. How- r, I find I was mistaken as our libra- n tells me that many calls are made the WEEKLY. To square myself I pose not only to renew the subscrip- but to present the library with a y of the Dictionary." Mr. Whitmore es his order for the Dictinoary three ies, and adds this bit of pleasantry to letter:—"Kindly fill the order for the tionaries before you become further couraged and make another reduction the price."

F. RAPKIN, of London, will visit the U. S. during April. He will erse the country west to Denver and Francisco. His line of philatelic ac- ories will give him a goodly reception. itinerary will be published next week.

THE BI-MONTHLY JOURNAL

A house organ with an inimitable style and charm, published every two months. Each issue consists of from 32 to 48 pages, every one containing a formidable array of unusual offerings in medium and scarce sets, packets and special collections, dealers' stocks, single stamps, philatelic supplies, etc., etc.

Albert C. Munson, 412 Broadway, Houston, Texas, writes:

"I enjoy the Bi-Monthly as much as MEKEEL'S; there is no other paper, house organ, journal or circular of any kind wherein one can find such extraordinary good stock—and at such reasonable prices."

C. A. Ralston, 164 Vaughn St., Waterloo, Iowa, says:

"I am paying subscription charges for two large house organs, but would rather get along without both of them than to lose yours. If necessary, I know that I could pay a substantial subscription to the Bi-Monthly and save all of it on stamps offered in a single issue."

The Bi-Monthly Journal is a distinctive publication and absolutely free to patrons. You can't afford to be without it!

STAMP NEWS IN BRIEF

BRITISH EMPIRE.

Great Britain.—Mr. A. Kirby reports booklet No. 28 (2s) with watermark sideways on the first page of 1½d stamps, which consists of four stamps and two advertisements. The sideways watermark is a novelty in the booklets, though we believe it has appeared regularly of late in certain rolls for automatic machines.

Mr. W. J. D. Lyford-Pike learns that the 1½d Postage Due stamp is to be withdrawn. We should not be surprised to see other values of the Postage Dues, and also one at least of the postage stamps, withdrawn in the near future, as there is today very little call for certain items.

British Guiana.—Recent shade variations (Messrs. Ewens, Ltd.). 2c distinctly brighter; 4c a deeper, more chocolate tone; 24c and 72c a browner purple.

British Honduras.—2c paler brown; 5c pale dull ultramarine. Recent shades from Messrs. Ewens.

British Solomon Islands.—Forthcoming changes. All with Script watermark. 1d, "blue-purple;" 4d black and red on yellow; 2s, purple and blue on blue.

Canada.—Mr. E. C. Powell points out a very easy test for Dies I and II of the War Tax stamps, of which we do not remember any previous notice. It consists in a broad band of solid colour running diagonally upward across the space between the "1" and "T" of "1Tc," this feature being exclusive to stamps of Die I.

The stock of the 2c, imperf, on hand at the Philatelic Agency has now been exhausted, and no more will be issued. The only imperf. now on hand is the 3c.

It will probably be some months before the new historic series is issued.

Cayman Islands.—The current 2s is shown us by Messrs. Ewen's Colonial Stamp Market Ltd., in a paler, redder shade of purple.

Gambia.—The 4d on Script paper has been sent out to the colony.

Gibraltar.—Lieut.-Col. E. J. McAllister states that he has noted a small variety in the new 2s 6d stamps, in the shape of a small break in the cross-stroke of the "N" of "SHILLINGS," this being constant on the bottom left-hand stamp in each sheet. The stock of the 2½d Script has been destroyed.

Grenada.—We are to have a 3d, purple on yellow, Script watermark, before long. Also 2d, grey; 4d, black and red on yellow; 6d, black and red, and 1s, brown-orange, all Script.

Late shades, current issue: 1½d rather redder; 2d more orange; 5d, the purple much browner; 9d, browner and paler; 3s, the green is yellower; 2s, the purple is reddish instead of greyish (a tendency in several recent 2s Colonials). All from Messrs. Ewens.

India.—Several readers send us cuttings stating that the new Security Printing Press at Nasik has sent out the first consignment of its products, this consisting of registration envelopes, which will be followed by post cards and small-value stamped papers. Postage stamps do not seem to be probable arrivals as yet.

Hyderabad.—From a cutting kindly sent by Mr. E. C. Martinnant, we learn that stamps of the value of ¾ anna, and one rupee may be expected, while the colours of other stamps will be changed.

Irish Free State.—Mr. John Dixon writes: "It may interest your readers to know that the use of the Irish Free State Postage Dues for the collection of duty on articles by post, and the collection of the 6d delivery fee on all parcels from outside the Saorstat, have been discontinued, by order dated early in November last. Used copies of the four values are now seldom met with and there is practically no use for the 6d value."

Malta.—The new 2½d provisional presents several features of interest. Mr. J. F. Darmanin shows us specimens, which he states are from three distinct printings. The first and second are on the paler blue stamps of Plate 2, whilst the third printing, most often met with, is on the bright blue stamps of Plate 3. We have only seen sheets of the bright blue, and these show considerable variation in the relative positions of the "T" of "Two" and the "h" of "half-penny," which may interest specialists.

Mauritius.—This chameleon colony is to have a new 2c, purple on yellow, Arms type, Script watermark, rather a strange colour allotment for so low a value, now that purple on yellow is again being used for 3d equivalents.

New Zealand.—While the design of the new stamps issued in connection with the Dunedin Exhibition is not unpleasing, the general effect is poor, though better than in the case of the Christchurch Exhibition issue of 1906. The coloured background on which the stamps are printed is not at all helpful.

We have seen a 1d "Universal" stamp with margins attached, which bear advertisements of Abdulla Cigarettes and Jeyes Fluid. Curiously enough the appeal of the stamp margins is counteracted by the postmark, which reads, "Ask for and buy New Zealand made goods."

Palestine.—Messrs. Ewens show us the current 13m in a pale greyish ultramarine.

St. Lucia.—The 2½d is to revert to its old colour, blue, while the 3d will appear for the first time in the old colours, purple and yellow, on Script paper.

St. Vincent.—Messrs. Ewens, Ltd., show us a number of shades in the current issue, the most marked being a pale green ½d, the 1d deep carmine-lake, the 2d in slate, and 3d deep bright blue.

Straits.—Johor. A new $500 duty is in preparation, for those who like such high values.

Kedah.—The 4c will shortly appear in "blue-purple" on Script paper.

Turks, and Caicos Islands.—Messrs. Ewens show us shades in the current issue, notably a duller blue in the 3d and a paler brown in the 1d.

Union of S. Africa.—The issue of a reproduction of the Cape Triangular in the new series for this Dominion, the early values of which are now at last to hand, proves that the Union Government has the intention of making collectors pay a proportion of the cost of producing the new stamps, for an imperf. stamp of triangular shape is by no means practical for general use, even though, for the convenience of business firms, the stamps are sold, already cut up, in packets.

Nor can we imagine that the issue of alternate stamps with inscriptions in English and Dutch (in the same sheet in the

CATALOGUE VALUE OVER $200,000.00

All 19th Century Stamps

I have the pleasure to announce the purchase of the well known collection of Mr. Henry Schinzel of postage stamps of the 19th Century only. This included the famous collection of British Colonials formed by Mr. Jorge Rodriguez in Buenos Aires and purchased for nearly $50,000.00 in 1916. It also includes collections formed by the late Mr. Benno Loewy, and many stamps from the collections of Messrs. A. B. l'Argentiere and Paul Mirabaud.

I have remounted the stamps in about 126 of my approval books and I can now send collectors any country on approval that they care to see.

The prices are, in general, on the following basis. Stamps from 1880 to 1900 from 50 to 60% of catalogue. Stamps before 1880 about 30 to 35% under catalogue, except for exceptionally fine pieces in early issues which are priced at low market values. The following are brief details of the approval books I have now priced ready for sale.

Ceylon

The old "pence" issues form the most valuable group in the whole collection. I have ten books made up pricing to over $18,000. I have divided these into (I) stamps on covers, (II) unused, (III) used.

In the unused there is a fine Imperf. 4d from the Sir W. B. Avery collection, price $1500 (cat. $2500), five 1s 9d green in shades, and a grand lot of "Star" and "C & C C" in shades.

The used include 10 of the 6d on blued paper and a fine lot of imperf. 4d, 8d, 9d, 1s 9d and 2s. Later issues are superb.

West Indies

There are eighteen books of these with all the old issues strongly represented. In Trinidad I note four unused blue lithographs with a superb very early impression with gum, the only one I have had, thus, in forty years dealing. The Barbados are very fine and include 1d on half of 5sh unused superb pair, two used pairs and several singles. St. Vincent very strong in unused and used. All the Provisionals, the rare 5sh Star is here in six well centered copies. Grenada has most of the errors, many being both unused and used. Turks Island, many of the rare surcharges. Nevis, a grand lot for plating, a great opportunity to fill up gaps in one's plates.

British Guiana has some good items, such as 1852, 4c blue (Scott 7) unused; 1862, 4c blue, a strip of 4 types unused. Set of the rare officials unused, etc., etc. British Honduras. All the rare provisionals, Scott's 26, 26a, 51a, etc.

New South Wales

A fine lot of "Sydney Views", 4 fine unused and 83 used. These include a superb strip of four 1d, plate II. The other Australian Colonies are well represented.

British North America

Most of the rarities are here. Canada, a superb 12d laid paper, unused. New Brunswick, two 1sh's and the 5c Connell. Newfoundland, scarlet, 2d unused, orange 1s unused, etc., etc.

Space will not allow full description, but all the British Colonies 19th Century are very fine and most Foreign Countries are well represented, for instance:—Naples "Arms" and "Cross" unused, and also used on newspapers.

Let me have a list of the countries you are interested in and I will send them as free. Apply early, as the good items are selling very fast.

I am open to buy fine collections of stamps of the early 19th century at top market rates. [35-7 case of the ½d and 1d and in different sheets in the 4d) is a real necessity, as dual inscriptions on the same stamp are quite feasible.

However, the new stamps have met with a warm welcome and are a distinct improvement on the old series, though the colour of the 4d is weak in the extreme.

OTHER COUNTRIES.

Albania.—We understand that the present Air Post stamps will shortly be withdrawn and the remainders disposed of to the best advantage. If this proves profitable, it is proposed to issue further Air stamps at fairly frequent intervals, which will be withdrawn from circulation after being in use for a short time, the remainders of each issue then being disposed of. There does not, however, seem any likelihood of large stocks being thrown on the market at less than face value.

Turkey.—Lieut. D. M. J. Murray states that the current issue of Turkey is produced by zincography. He believes that one original die was used, and from this die three further dies were prepared, for the stamps bearing the words "paras," "piaster," and "piasters" respectively. The second was used in error for the 100 pi., in which the value is in the singular.

In October, 1924, an official Air post service was started between Constantinople and Angora, but was only in use for a fortnight. A special postmark of the normal Turkish type was used, with the inscription, "Aerial Post (Stamboul)" in French and Turkish. Our informant assumes that a corresponding postmark exists for Angora.—Stanley Gibbons Monthly Journal.

NORTH DAKOTA COLLECTORS CLUB

By FREDERICK W. ALLEN.

North Dakota collectors held their midwinter session at Fargo on February 26th and 27th. This organization is now entering upon the third year of existence. Due to the fact that the membership is scattered over the state, it is not possible to hold frequent meetings.

Enthusiasm and the spirit of good fellowship permeates the occasional "get-togethers," and makes every meeting one to be long remembered. Such a philatelic organization has long been needed in this section of the Northwest. The A. P. S. has long served as a connecting link, and now it in turn will benefit.

Mr. Fred Krueger of Fargo, president, and Dr. Thorlief E. Stangebye of New England, ex-president, rank as the premier philatelists of the club. Both are life members of the A. P. S. Mr. Krueger possesses a general collection of note and many special groups of countries, remarkable for their completeness and condition. Dr. Stangebye needs no introduction to the fraternity. His extensive travels from coast to coast have made him known to most of us. Few dealers in the country can produce as fine an accumulation of general issues before 1880 as he owns. Condition is here to be found in all its beauty. Cape triangulars, several hundred of them, Brazil "bulls-eyes," Rividavias, Norway number ones, Early Mexicos, and dozens of other showings in matchless form. The doctor is a member of the Collectors Club of New York, Collectors Club of Southern California, and other leading societies.

Dr. Rolf Hovde, of Winthrop, Minn., favored the membership with his presence and with a view of his precancel collections of the Dakotas and Minnesota. These are without an equal in the country. Dr. Hovde exhibited also the precancel collection, exclusive of the Michigan section, belonging to General C. A. Coolidge of Detroit. This holding is replete with items of noteworthy character and a decided treat for any precancel enthusiast. It is contained in five volumes and will soon be sold via the auction route by the Rotnem Stamp Co. of Minneapolis.

Others present were Prof. A. F. Gamber of Valley City; Drs. Kaess and Hughes of Fargo; Messrs. Axelson, Farnham, Duff, Johnson, James Kaess, James Krueger, of Fargo; F. W. and R. M. Allen of Grand Forks; R. T. Barber of Wahpeton; B. Lorentz of Valley City and K. W. Haviland of Hope.

nterest in the subject, and if so, will ly extend his present efforts and r in sequence the part Perforates, the ortant Perforate items and the In-
s. Also should there appear a wide-ad and sufficient demand for a reli-treatment of all the Imperforates, matter likewise can receive attention.
o this ultimate end, therefore, it is estly requested that all interested ers feel perfectly free to communi-with the writer; frankly expressing views which they may hold, inquiring more specific data or tendering any n scarcer, and the time can be short-e by publication of definite facts that laid in leading many dormant enthu-

s back to their studies of the subject.

CATALOG OF RUSSIAN LOCALS

Reviewed by FRANK L. COES.

It may be of interest to you to have a résumé of the Soviet "Catalog of Russian Rural Postage Stamps" as edited (?) by F. G. Chuchin, under date of 1925. Very evidently printed in control of the stamp monopoly of the Soviet, and the "Commissioner for Philately and Vouchers" at Moscow, and with the cover bearing the "Workers of the world, unite" motto, it is of interest in several ways beyond the attaching facts of arrangement, novel illustrating scheme, and typography.

The English is poor. Not even rudimentary, in places, and shows the limitations of a literal translator who depends wholly on his dictionary. Mostly understandable however, it still bears many gross errors, most of which are due to the translator, some to the evident desire of the parties in interest not to mention the old regimé in historically correct English, and the rest to lack of room, or data to support sub or minor variety numbering. This total lack of sub or minor varieties places the value of the book to the student wholly in the listing of the towns of origin and the series of issues.

The illustrations are grouped onto both sides of coated paper leaves folded around the signatures before collation, and are type illustrations only. The districts (Posts?) are listed in an index. the transliteration of the Russian names being rather stereotyped and not always the accepted English equivalent. This is misleading to the English collector, altho usually his good sense and ability to use phonetic spelling will get him over doubtful locality names. St. Petersburg, of course, does not appear as such, and this removal of the historical item is no great help in other post lists. Perfunctory values appear, probably from reasons of policy, rather than because the values cannot be obtained.

There is also a map of the issuing districts, titled in Russian and loose in the volume, but this is of little value as it also evades some outstanding facts.

Many of the Rurals were hand set and often there were as many varieties as stamps in the sheet. This is misleading in many cases, but saves space. Rarities which would in our system of cataloging bear no price, are rated as R, RR, or RRR, this being the mark of extreme (?) rarity.

Many collectors have based arrangement and data on the old Gibbons Part III, last issued in 1899, and strange to say this seems to check closely with this volume, with the exception of a few routes omitted for political reasons, or others less clear.

Of course collectors of Rurals will stock the book as part of the bibliography of the Zemstvos series, but to a beginner it is about as valuable as any alphabetical list of the post routes would be, and while it might make it possible to estimate the space required for a complete series, it will certainly not make collections any more accurate.

Poltawa, Pskov, and other issuing districts that had the celebration craze shortly before the war period, are specially weak in informative data. Similarly, many tête-bêche, couché, and other "positions" of issue are overlooked in the text though noted in the prefacing. This again makes for a condensed manual, but leaves much to be desired by the collector.

SUBSCRIPTION RENEWALS.

Some of our subscribers need to know our rule regarding discontinuances. We discontinue all subscriptions in arrears promptly the second issue of each month. This means that your subscription should be renewed prior to expiration. The expiration number can be ascertained by consulting your wrapper. No free copies of the WEEKLY are sent out and this rule is as fixed as the laws of the M and P. Our older subscribers understand our rule and the newer subscribers should get acquainted with it is the actual CASH cost of the two superb collections outlined in our last week's advertisement. The collection formerly belonging to Mr. R. G. Hitchman of Toronto and the collection and accumulation belonging to the late Dr. George D. Woodward of Camden, New Jersey, added to our own stock gives us better facilities for handling your wants than ever before.

TWENTY-EIGHT THOUSAND DOLLARS

We Still Want to Buy

other collections and accumulations suitable for the building up of our present stock.

What Have You to Sell?

We particularly need and desire special collections of United States, mint British Colonies or specialized collections and single items from any of the following groups:

United States
Canada or Other British North Americans
Confederate States
Early Imperforate Issues of Any Country

In United States we can particularly use quantities of any of the earlier issues or Commemoratives, Departments, Revenues, etc.

Let us know what you have to offer, stating quantities and your net price for individual lots and for the entire accumulation that you have to dispose of in the stamp line.

MEANWHILE

do not forget that we are Headquarters for over 45,000 varieties. Your want list will have prompt attention if accompanied by satisfactory bank or commercial references.

As stated in our last week's advertisement, a goodly number of items from our recent purchases are offered in the March and April issues of our "EMCO MONTHLY CIRCULAR." As usual, the bulk of such purchases as these collections will be used in our Approval Selections by individual countries. If you would like to fill in certain countries, your application for first choice should be made without delay. Many good things will quickly disappear.

I CRAVE PONY EXPRESS === I AM THE ORIGINAL OVERLAND MAL

Hello Everybody — this is W. P. L. — W. PARKER LYON speaking

Don't go way folks.—I am the only original Western Frank Fiend. I was the first white child born West of Missouri. My advent on this Ball Mud was an event of Historical interest. Simultaneously with my birth, meteors fell in Denver, Colorado, telegraph poles took root and grew the Banks of the Wabash, and Tamales were invented by the Spanish cook employed by my parents. My birthplace was in a canyon near t Painted Desert,—a canyon filled with cactus and rattlesnakes. When a boy I drove a six horse stage between Yuba Dam and Deadwood, Dakota, carried two guns in my belt, shot from my hip and never missed a male. Between killing Mail robbers, I put in my spare time studying Weste Franks.

I also later rode the Pony Express between Julesburg and Placerville. Many a time after a brush with the Indians, I trailed into the Stage Stati with my carcass so filled with arrows that I more resembled a porcupine than a human being. I remember after one of these experiences, I m Sammy Clemmons, a boy then a tenderfoot, who afterwards became the famous Mark Twain. Seeing those little red spots on my map where t arrows had been, he asked if I had Prickly Heat—"I'll say I had." Later I was elected Sheriff of the County. The West was wild and woolly those days. Every day we had our killings, and the best men won. When I slept at home, which was seldom, I nested in a mattress made HUMAN HAIR,—the moustaches and whiskers shaved off the men I had killed in pursuit of duty, and in the collection Western Franks Th tell me KING GEORGE collects IVORY HEADS. George ought to see my head, it's IVORY all right. Indians in the early days got what I had the way of hair, and I now wear a mat. Well folks, I have given you an eyeful as we say "OUT WEST". Part of my tale is fiction and ficti solely, because my Mother did not happen to meet my Father soon enough. I am told the first Frank was an act of God, for we are told how I created Eve solely for Adams Express Company.

Now to come to the point, if you have any Wells Fargo or the earlier Pony Express covers, any Pikes Peak franked envelopes, or any of t early covers having hand stamped express company franks on, I am interested in buying same. Suppose you send them for my inspection, wi your selling price attached. I might refer you to any bank in the UNITED STATES, and Bradstreet will give you my rating. For a fine Collecti I'd pay from $10,000 to $20,000. W. Parker Lyon, 1161 Virginia Road, Pasadena, Calif.

ADLETS

Minimum two lines.

RATE.—30c per line, cash in advance. No display allowed. Six words (32 letters) to the line, including address. We offer 50 lines for $12.50, where cash is paid in advance. This space can be used at such times and in such quantities as may be desired.

This column is for the use of our patrons who desire only a few lines of space. If you want to buy, sell, exchange, it is without doubt the best advertising medium in the world. It is impossible to guarantee advertisers in this department, and patrons must satisfy themselves as to the reliability of the parties with whom they desire to engage in business relations.

A STANDARD COLOR CHART OF POSTAGE STAMPS

By VICTOR W. ROTNEM in collaboration with PROFESSOR L. F. BOON.

Professor L. F. Boon of the University of Minnesota, has for some time been making a detailed study of the colors of postage stamps. He has asked me to assist him in presenting a problem, as he sees it, to the collecting world. Briefly stated, the problem is that Scott's Standard Postage Stamp Catalogue is packed full of intricate color nomenclature, which when carefully inspected, causes one to wonder whether the descriptions of colors can be standardized. We recognize that considerable information on what is being done in the industry has appeared from time to time in the Philatelic press, but it is Professor Boon's idea to approach this problem from its philatelic aspects. This first article aims to state the problem and present the data on which further research is to be done. If, with the assistance of collectors, Professor Boon is able to make a thorough scientific study of this matter, it is very probable that a difficult philatelic problem will be solved. To quote Professor Boon:

"One of the things that was noticeable early in this study was that no list was available for all of the colors and shades listed in Scott's. So sometime ago I started to make up such a tabulation and was surprised at the enormous number of shades listed. If a list of these shades was given without reference to actual stamps, it would be deceptive, for few people would believe that so many colors were given. However, giving a check list proves that these were actual stamps listed.

"One of the difficulties in making up a list for actual use is that there seems to be no standard color nomenclature. Attempts have been made, I have been informed, to standardize the names for colors and I shall get in touch with publishers shortly who have made such studies."

The list which is presented is an attempt to list the cheapest stamps, which show definite colors. Many years ago a small color chart catalogue was published, which gave the names and colors of stamps, which would make a usable color chart. However, since this publication was issued long ago, many of the stamps have now increased in price so much that often later issues have been found in which the prices are cheaper. If a collector were able to complete the stamps, which Mr. Boon lists, he could then have a sample of practically every color which is described in Scott's catalogue.

A very careful study has been made of Scott's catalogue and it is probable that a further study of this catalogue would reduce some of the higher priced stamps which have to be listed. Still, it is felt that the list which is presented is safe data on which to begin. In presenting the data it is important to notice that in using the Scott Company's nomenclature, there seems to be frequent repetition of color and shade in the list. For example, "light red," "pale red," "light rose," "pale rose." To indicate the intricacies of the description of colors, including red, the following list is presented:

brick red	orange red
bright red	pale red
brown red	pale red brown
brownish red	pale red violet
copper red	red
dark brown red	red brown
dark red	red orange
deep red	red lilac
deep red brown	red orange dull red	red violet
dull rose red	reddish bistre
dull reddish brown	reddish brown
Indian red	reddish violet
lake red	rose red light red	salmon red
	vermilion red

It can be noticed also that the above list does not include colors, which are basically vermilion, scarlet, rose, carmine, lake, or brown.

Another difficulty that will be found is that green, for example, does not mean the same in the stamps of all countries. Mr. Boon has samples in his collection of variations of considerable magnitude in the green stamps; the same thing can be found true in the blues and stamps of other colors.

It was doubtful whether such a series of stamps could be selected so as to be placed in order in a regular color chart without overlapping and duplications. Probably it would be found that there would be gaps in the chart and crowding together of shades at other points because of the lack of standardization.

It is necessary, if we are going to make a standardization of colors, to get some sort of a scheme whereby blue or red or green or any other color will always be the same no matter what country will issue the stamps. Of course, another difficulty which will arise is that stamps will change color under the action of the sun and chemicals.

"I have endeavored to list cheap stamps because it is assumed that anyone interested in making a color chart of stamps would not care to spend a large sum of money on such a collection. Where a price is not given, the catalog value of the stamp is ten cents or less. Where a stamp is priced used and unused, the cheaper price is given. In a few cases no stamp was noticed in the catalog at a low price such as, the dull carmine New Zealand, No. 151, $150.00."

"I have endeavored to give single colored stamps on white paper. In a few cases, I have found it necessary to list bi-color stamps and in a very few cases, stamps on vari-colored paper. Wherever bi-colored stamps have been listed, however, the other color has been noted."

20TH CENTURY
British Colonials

Collectors' attention is called to the splendid lot on sale at our office. Flattering remarks by leading collectors on the quality of this offering have been very gratifying.

In spite of heavy sales we are able constantly to replenish and add to the depleted parts. We are drawing on one of the finest reserve stocks in existence. Practically all the recent sensational rarities are here together with a wonderful range of rare, medium and common stamps. Prices are well within those ruling at auctions. It is worth noting that large sales have been made to dealers.

We solicit your want list or personal inspection.

Original Covers

"Was surely pleased to see some of your covers again, there is such a mighty difference! If anyone has nicer, I should like to know him—but I doubt if he exists."

Such is the opinion of one of my American clients, as to the quality of my modern original covers, written under date of January 23rd, 1926.

What I have done for this gentleman I can do for you, if you will let me know the sort of things you require in modern British Colonials used on neat small covers?

UNITED STATES "EDUCATORS"

For those who are not certain of their classifications of 19th Century U. S. stamps (and that means nine collectors out of every ten) we have made up this series of packets and approval booklets, in which every stamp has its correct catalog number.

Packet A. — 30 varieties of U. S. postage only, all classified, including every issue from 1851 to 1890 inclusive, only $2.00

Packet B. — 20 varieties of the hard-to-place Bank Note issues each one numbered according to Scott's catalog, 1871 to 1890 ..... $1.00

"Educator" Approvals contain almost all regularly issued stamps of the United States from 1847 to 1900. No stamp priced more than $5, most of them at big discounts from catalog prices. Sent only against references or deposit. [H

Take a look at this lot of stuff, poison labels, coffins, monuments, etc., a merry group surely! The two KKK's, and the Monument seem to be the only two with any significance at all, and the latter is said to be a "joke" on one of the men in that P. O., and speedily squelched by the chief, a statement borne out by the very few copies found.

The KKK's were all torn off the covers in the lot that I had the pleasure of seeing, yet enough paper was left to show the town pmk. fortunately. The masque was rather difficult to portray, especially the whiskers part, as they were stamped in a vague flowing manner, as tho the wind had taken a hand in the cancelling, and the effect is slightly different on the actual pmk. than here shown.

Have I previously mentioned this: each canc. shown in the Forum has slight variation from the copy from which it was taken. These variations occur unintentionally in most cases, while in others there is sometimes a "secret mark" added or removed, as it might not be well to make exact duplicates of some of these rarer cancellations. You know that the Kicking Mule has several near relatives, of more recent birth so to say, and these are very readily distinguished as spurious, by the minor variations from the true Mule, which has been so well studied that one almost counts the nails in his shoes. The original Mule was a sleekly curried, well nourished fellow, while his stable mates are "not so good".

No. 5 has been sent me by Mr. W. H. Schneider on a Black Liberty postcard, very finely struck, and it was from his card that this drawing was made. The Black Jack comes with the skull, No. 8, and is in my own collection. There are several types of this commonly seen Poison Label (No. 9), and one of the prettiest is in collection of Mr. J. W. Prevost, it being hit in purple on a 2c vermilion, these colors always making an interesting combination, this cover being from Poplar Grove, Arkansas.

Some have written in asking if I wished to make drawings of the stamps later than 1869 issue, as it is outside the group on which the Forum is headed. Yes, I am glad to take any and all odd cancellations up to 1900. Dr. Evans has been saving me tracings of odd items as he receives them, and they will appear under one or the other of our headings as fits the articles best. He has recently sent in the locomotive, which we have seen on the 2c 1883 only so far. This is a fine cancellation.

Dr. Chase has promised me that I may "take a trip" thro his voluminous collection of 3c stamps, 1851-57. I can say that there will be a large and diversified gathering of the unusual in this collection. This collection has been many years in the making, and Dr. Chase has been interested in odd cancellations ever since he started to collect "3's".

Mr. E. S. Knapp has sent in a 3c 1857, with a very odd Indian head in black, This Indian was undoubtedly a chief, easily told by his noble mien—you know what I mean.

From the last lot sent in by Mr. H. C. Brooks are the following which were omitted thro lack of space before:—Cancels on 3c 1861's, covers; Columbus, Ga., open heart in black; Macon, Ga., small shield; Pleasant Mount, Pa., "Golf Ball" in appearance; Davenport, Ia., shield in blue; Elizabeth, N. J., shield; Indianapolies, Ind., open "H" in cut cork; Louisville, Ky., "P" in cut cork in blue; same with "A"; Roxbury, Mass., red pmk., and black star in circle on stamp; Ludlow, Vt., heavy outline star in circle, dot in star; Chattanooga, Tenn., black star with small open dot in center, surrounded by circle; Louisville, Ky., open six point star in cut cork, blue; Phelps, N. Y., black star within a star; Salem, Ind., "5"

By FRANCIS M. BOTELHO, Ph.D., Wayne, Pa.

CHAPTER XVII.

Becoming A Dealer In Stamps.

Of necessity, the collector who also sells his duplicates or special sets and assortments must keep his "stock" in a systematic manner.

He must have the following equipment and supplies:

(a) Current standard catalogues;
(b) Current special price-lists and supplements issued by the catalogue publishers;
(c) Lists and circulars issued by others in the business;
(d) Approval books and approval sheets for getting up his sales offerings;
(e) Trays, envelopes, drawers, or small boxes for keeping his stock in a business-like manner. In this connection see Chapter VI, Spreading Out the Nucleus;
(f) Stationery (for a beginning, only letter-heads and envelopes would suffice);
(g) Record of approvals sent out and returns therefrom;
(h) Record of sales;
(i) An appropriation for advertising, either in magazines or in literature for direct-mail circularizing;
(j) Scrap-book for clippings of competitors' offerings as shown by their advertisements;
(k) Mailing List (preferable in index card form).

The foregoing will seem like "lots of work," and to many the above enumeration will produce a reaction against all desire to engage in the stamp-dealing business. But, a fair proportion will be attracted, for the simple reason that most philatelists take up the hobby for mental recreation and physical relaxation.

That there can be good money in the business of selling stamps is a proven fact that needs not be reaffirmed. Nevertheless, it is quite opportune here to mention that few beginner dealers can expect handsome profits in this business. Many things have to be learned.

In the first place, you cannot do much business with the more advanced collectors if your "sales stock" is devoid of the kind of specimens they usually desire.

In the second place, if your stock for sale comprises mostly commons, your best policy is to advertise small packages at a nominal price (either 5c or 10c). In this connection, you must constantly bear in mind that your "stamp business" cannot, for the beginning at least, be depended on for a livelihood. If it employs your spare time that otherwise would be wasted, it has filled a lack. If it pays enough to cover the expenses, you will have had your pleasure at no cost. Only gradually, by giving satisfaction to every client and by being able to offer good values, can you expect to build it up to the proportions that would bring you substantial financial returns.

The all-important factor in getting started is to have the wherewithal with which to do some advertising, so as to put your offerings in mediums that would enable you to reach the class of prospective customers who would be interested in what you have to give. The amateur stamp-dealer should commence by striking out for the school-boy trade. To secure this, advertisements should be placed in the classified columns devoted to "Stamps and Coins" in such publications like Popular Mechanics, Popular Science, St. Nicholas Magazine, Boys' Life, etc. "Packets" have been found to be good leaders to feature. Every answer that is an order for such packets is also an active prospect for "approvals," and these are the dealer's best source of revenue.

The money earned in doing a stamp business provides that much more means for investing in one's own collection, and every new recruit you attract to the philatelic ranks spells more scope for philately. With increased scope, the possibility of disposing of your own collection—if and when you decide so to do—becomes correspondingly improved.

Knowledge Is Power = Dollars

Do you realize how often you "give up" or "pass by" a real rare variety thru lack of knowledge?

Let me explain: Denmark No. 2, 4rbs brown is known with over 150 different numeral cancellations. No. 1 is worth $0.20 but dozens of them are worth $5.00 to $10.00 each and a few are rarities.

All these and nearly all Danish varieties are priced in my new Detailed Priced Catalogue of Danish Stamps of 1851-1899. I quote prices of shades, pairs, strips of three, four, six, blocks, sheets, stamps on cover, cancellations, recuts and scores of Inverted Frames, never before priced.

Illustrated Catalogue, 52 pages, printed on one side only, price $1.00 postfree.
Books of used Danish Stamps can be sent on approval. [tf

N. Y. STATE STAMP COLLECTION

Clipping from JOHN W. COONAN.

ALBANY, Feb. 24.—The State of New York has a stamp collection.

Dr. James I. Wyer, director of the State Library, also is the commonwealth's philatelist, having under his care the 10,000 stamps that comprise the collection.

The state is interested in philately not as a hobby but as a means of recording postal history, and its stamps, which cover all issues by the United States and 19th century issues of foreign countries, are held as a reference collection. It contains many rare items and many duplicates; some of the latter are traded occasionally for varieties needed to fill vacant spaces in the big albums. Parts of the collection are placed on public exhibition from time to time.

The Library is also assembling "wild cat" bank notes, which hark back to the days when neither banks nor their notes had either state or federal supervision and when the notes were no better than the banks that issued them. Already more than 100 specimens of this currency, dated before the Civil War, have been contributed to the collection by residents of the state.

Some of the more interesting of the bills are a five dollar note of the City Bank of Albany; a two dollar bill of the Union Bank of Albany; a five dollar bill of the Chemung County Bank of Horseheads; a five dollar bill from Henry Keep's Bank at Watertown; and a three dollar bill from the Corn Exchange Bank of New York City.—Middletown (N. Y.) Times Press.

GERMAN PLEBISCITE AREAS

By A. WAGNER.

(We are very pleased to publish the following article as an answer to a query presented by one of our readers. The article will doubtless be very welcome.—Ed.)

As a subscriber to your excellent paper I beg to state the following with reference to your news item on page 70, of No. 5, Whole No. 1830, requesting information as to what has become of certain plebiscite areas:—

Eupen and Malmedy.—Two districts of Rhenish Prussia. Placed under Belgian administration after the war and definitely ceeded to Belgium in 1920.

Upper Silesia.—Although the plebiscite in March, 1921, yielded a majority of votes for Germany, the League of Nations, in October, 1921, decided that Germany was to share the territory with Poland.

Allenstein.—Plebiscite area in the province of "Ostpreussen" (East Prussia). This province, as the name indicates, is situated in the extreme east of Germany. The plebiscite of July 13, 1920, yielded a crushing majority of votes for Germany. It was, consequently, decided that the province of East Prussia should remain German property.

The Saar Territory.—Is still under the administration of the League of Nations. It is a Rhenish district, with Saarbrücken as the capital, the number of stamps issued so far exceeding 100.

Schleswig.—In pursuance of the plebiscite of March 14, 1920, the northern part of this province was apportioned to Denmark, the southern part remaining German, as before.

In regard to the plebiscite area of Marienwerder in the province of West Prussia, this was restored to Germany, the plebiscite of July 10, 1920, having shown a big majority of votes for that country.

EMCO MOUNTED COLLECTIONS

8,000 Varieties

"WINNER"

This collection is worth considerably more than our price, as in this collection are to be found stamps which are usually not in collections of this size. Catalogue value will mount up very high as many real good 19th and 20th Century are included in this collection.

$70.00 A BARGAIN

It is the EMCO quality that appeals so strongly to the collector's sense of discrimination.

Buy Conveniently

Buy this collection on our dignified "Deferred Payment Plan" in three monthly payments of $40.00, $20.00 and $10.00 respectively.

On receipt of your initial payment the part proportional to your payment is forwarded to you and the balance set aside for you to be forwarded in instalments on receipt of the due part payments until you have the whole collection in your hands.

The Duplicate Question Solved

If you buy this 8,000 variety collection you don't have to keep such stamps as you have already in your collection. You may return them to us, and we will make you a prompt cash refund for what you return, on the following basis:

If You Return	We Refund In Cash	If You Return	We Refund In Cash
2,000 stamps	$ 2.50	5,000 stamps	$20.00
3,000 stamps	6.00	6,000 stamps	27.00
4,000 stamps	13.00	7,000 stamps	35.00

Our cash refunds are always the same, whether you pick the very best stamps out of this collection and return to us the very cheapest or vice versa. The number returned determines the cash refund.

At least 2,000 stamps have to be taken and duplicates may be only returned in even numbers of 1,000.

All our general variety packets and collections with from 5,000 varieties upward can be purchased at our regular prices on our

EDITORIAL.

Mr. Roscoe L. Wickes, Chicago, shows an envelope bearing a three cent of 1851, with the postmark, "Ind. Central R. R., Jan. 8," addressed to a point in Ohio. In Colton's map of Indiana, published in 1852, we find: "The Indiana Central Railroad is 71½ miles long from Indianapolis to Richmond, and is continued thence four miles to the Ohio line by the Richmond Railroad." Some time before 1873, the name of the Indiana Central was changed to Columbus, Chicago and Indiana Central. In that year, it was leased by the Pittsburg, Cincinnati and St. Louis Railroad, which was owned by the Pennsylvania System. It has since been absorbed by the main line of the Pennsylvania road.

Mr. A. F. Merell of San Francisco is making the name of "The Stampman" famous. He has become one of the microphone hits of his city where for many months he has regaled the boys and girls with talks on stamps, which he illustrates by sending to applicants, a little batch of stamps. Now comes the news in a radio paper issued by the Merell station, KFRC, that the stamp talks have been instrumental in leading "from forty to fifty elderly folks in the bay district to become addicted to the romance of stamp collecting." May Merell's vocal powers expand and his group of gentle addicts increase. Several weeks ago, Mr. Merell had three worthy collectors of the city, Mr. Henry C. Marcus, Mr. Theodore Behr and Mr. C.C. DeSelms on for an airing at KFRC.

There is reason to regret the closing of a post office and the "discontinued offices" sometimes tell of desertion and decay. We can understand the feeling of "a relic collector" who in a Lafayette, Indiana, newspaper deplored the fate of South Raub, Indiana, now postally extinct. The post offices that flourished and faded are catching the eyes of the collectors of covers and the early birds in the field will find much better pickings than the collectors with a thought for the historical who join the ranks later.

NO. 1 WEST 47TH STREET, NEW YORK, N. Y.

As a newspaper man, Mr. Clinton L. Chalfant cannot understand how any big advertiser will blithely ignore the dictum that it is illegal to picture a U. S. stamp in its entirety. He sends a big page ad of Swift & Company showing in reduced size, a letter, stamp and all. Such mistakes are unintentional and for that reason are not viewed so sternly that the wheels of the machinery of the law are oiled, in consequence. The innocent violator of this law would be set down much more gently than the fellow would who knew better; and in his case, the impact might cause his teeth to rattle.

The Long Beach, California, "Tele-gram" recently contained an article over a column in length, descriptive of the collection of Mr. Harold Ward of that city. A half-tone accompaniment pictures Mr. Ward with his opened album showing two pages of neatly mounted stamps. The article is written appreciatively and is readable, indeed. The reporter neatly handles his work and gives a good interpretation of the sentiment of stamps in the following words: "Its market value is $5,000, but to its owner, it is priceless. To their owner the stamps are as suggestive of far places and their romance and beauty as are quaintly set jewels, old armor and rich fabrics. They also tell a story of historic and economic changes and some of them carry human interest stories."

In an envelope postmarked Baltimore, the following typewritten communication was enclosed, from which the name of the sender was omitted, intentionally or otherwise, but we think that it is safe to publish it: "I have come into possession of a packet of stamps as sold in 1879 by J. W. Scott. The stamps were never taken out of it and it remains as it was when received. The price of the packet was ten dollars and it contained six hundred varieties, among which there are many high-priced stamps although the condition of all the stamps is not perfect. If it would interest you, I shall make up a list of the stamps and total their catalogue value." We take this means to say that such a compilation would be interesting and a readable summary could be made from the list of these stamps.

With the foregoing paragraph in mind, a few comparisons may be attempted. In 1879, a collection of fifteen hundred stamps was above the average and a thousand stamps, even, made a respectable showing. There were practically no specialists in those days although there were many keen judges of stamps in what may be called their scientific aspect. It was only four or five years before that philately was mentioned in an encyclopedia, for instance, Appleton's "American Cyclopedia," having been the pioneer in this connection; and a double-page plate of stamp designs was a feature of the notice. Then, any addition to the ranks of collectible issues was eagerly welcomed where now it is taken as a matter of course, since there are now nearly fifty thousand stamps from which the collector may pick.

The Hon Secretary, W. B. Haworth, of the Permanent Executive Committee of Philatelic Congresses of Great Britain, informs us: "It has been decided to add two names to the Roll at the 13th Philatelic Congress to be held at Liverpool in 1926. Of these one is to be a representative of the philatelists of Great Britain and her Colonies and Dominions, and the other to represent foreign countries." Nominations that were to be made by those philatelists whose names were already on the rolls, were to have been received by February 28, 1926.

From Mr. Walter D. Case, Bloom-field, Conn., we have received a copy of an old cover, sent in 1814, from Tavistock, evidently, to Ashburton, England. Imprinted on the upper right hand corner in two lines, is, "Tavistock Penny Post" and at the right of this impression is "No. 2" in box design. The historical significance of markings of the kind, antedating the use of stamps themselves, makes them worthy of attention from collectors.

Here is one of those fugitive items that find their way into print, that has been rescued by Mr. William Forster of Elizabeth, N. J., and sent in to us: "A stamp collection of 536,830 stamps is owned by Edward J. Vogel, of Readville, Mass. It represents twenty-seven years of his life. He recently carried his stamp book to the White House and President Coolidge autographed it." It would be interesting to know just how much is fact and how much fiction in this story. Even though Mr. Vogel devoted twenty-seven years of his life to his art, he has been under the stern necessity of adding about 20,000 stamps yearly to his collection. Did he merely tuck his book with its half-million stamps and more under his arm and run over to the White House? Did President Coolidge oblige with his autograph before or after looking over the "collection?" Here is a case for the chief of our gang of nailers of rumors and reports perpetrated on philately in public print. It must be admitted that the unphilatelic reader of the foregoi paragraph receives a false impression the dignity of collecting from it. The is such a thing as philatelic publicity wi reverse "English."

HOW SHALL WE SELL PHILATELY?

By R. D. MACGUFFIN.

The best way to learn how to do a thing is to discover the fundamental principles behind some big success along parallel lines. Strange as it may seem the most successful salesmen in America are college presidents. The colleges of this country contain today approximately four times as many students as they did twenty years ago. What sold so much hard work to so many young people? And how? What sugar coats the pill so it can be made palatable to so many young folks? Answer: College athletics and engineering courses that train the student to be a money maker.

The modern college is a small island of recitation rooms entirely surrounded by athletic fields and football stadiums. Mr. College President was wise enough to grasp a fundamental law of human nature, i.e., the tendency of both the male and female human to worship a hero of the athletic field and to give him and his prowess free publicity unlimited, and thereby give the college a glamour that attracts youth as the clover does the bee. Don't think for a minute that the college presidents have not fostered college athletics; they have been the wise old guiding spirits behind the building of 70,000 seating capacity stadiums. Why not? A perfectly legitimate means to a perfectly desirable end, said end being the building up of the college.

The main thing, however, was to discover the fundamental traits in human nature that would get a response as per schedule. "Hitch your wagon to a star" is an old adage which means make some law of nature haul your load, like the unchanging, never ceasing, effortless law of gravity. Let nature do it. It is just a matter of understanding nature and that includes human nature. The college president sold their wares by understanding human nature and making certain unchanging laws pull their load. It was easy; all they had to do was to know what to do.

We want to sell philately to the world. We get tired of being in such a small minority. We get tired of being asked, "What are they good for?" What have we got, with which, to do our selling? Is there a fundamental law of human nature that will do for us what athletics and engineering courses did for the colleges? Positively there is such a law that governs all humans and it is universal in its application; all men have the love of gain; money-making is a universal passion. There are few words sweeter to the ear than profit. Money-grubbing is not as unfashionable as it used to be; the mid-Victorian idea that a man in trade was a bounder is passe. Times change, in fact, times have changed. But we haven't. It is time we did.

We are still trying to sell philately to a world that is essentially commercial with philatelic literature that reads like a cross between an encyclopedia and a geography. Let's continue that kind of philatelic literature but not to the exclusion of another kind. Let's quit playing on a one-stringed fiddle. Let's hitch our load onto a fundamental law of nature, just as much a law of nature as the law of gravity. Water does not run down hill any more consistently than mankind loves money and the acquisition of profit. Men like to learn how to make money. That sort of information soaks in quickly if presented in a manner sincere and backed with figures sufficient to be convincing.

J. A. Galbraith, 115 Nassau St., N. Y.

Now it is up to us to use our judgment. A matter of policy is to be decided upon. Its importance cannot be overestimated. Either we go on saying that philately has its hold because of beauty, geography and historical significance or we take the spot light off those estimable things and put it onto the money-making side of stamp collecting. Before you make your decision, maintain an open mind till you get enough facts to enable you to decide intelligently. If the number of collectors were quadrupled in the next few years it would be a great thing for all concerned, collector and dealer alike. We all agree as to the desirability of the end but not as to the means.

If ten thousand men who are collectors now could be convinced that the profit side of stamp collecting should be talked and if those ten thousand men were furnished with convincing figures to back their claims, would their recruiting efforts be many times as successful as our efforts have been in the past? Is the thing important? Surely. Then don't YOU try to decide till you know just how strong the money-making argument can be made to be. Let's get the facts and then use our judgment in this matter. Whether we can make human nature's love of money-making serve as the unchanging law that will pull our load all depends on the manner in which we present the facts and figures that will show the past performances of stamp increases in value. Also the law of supply and demand must be shown in its particular application to stamps so that we may look into the future. When these things are presented to you then use your judgment and decide whether we shall use them as the prime means of selling philately to the non-collector and to bolster up the half-hearted collector. Meanwhile kindly maintain an open and receptive mind.

Air Route Jacksonville To Miami Established

Under date of March 19th, the Second Assistant Postmaster General, Mr. W. Irving Glover, announced that effective April 1, 1926, contract air mail service will be inaugurated over part of route C. A. M., No. 10, service to be from Jacksonville, Fla., via Tampa and Ft. Myers to Miami, Fla., and return, a total distance each way of 468 miles. The route will be operated daily, the south bound plane leaving Jacksonville at 10.00 A. M., and arriving at Miami at 3.25 P. M., whereas the north bound plane leaves Miami at 7.00 A. M. and arrives at Jacksonville at 12.25 P. M.

This service when completed will run as far north as Atlanta and the contract with the Government is held by the Florida Airways Corporation of Tampa and New York City, who will receive in payment an amount of ten cents an ounce or fraction thereof on all mail handled.

No announcement is made by the Department at this time as to when the service will be established between Jacksonville and Atlanta.

Rotary Prints

Mention was made in this column a few weeks back of the fact that beginning July 1st it was expected that all of the denominations of the current set from 1c to 10c inclusive would be produced on the rotary press and on the rotary press alone—that is, the flat plate printing of these lower denominations would be discontinued.

The fact that these rotary stamps have horizontal ridges, which appear noticeable from the back, have led many of our readers to inquire as to why the presence of the lines. Those who used the early rotaries for postage or discussed the matter with the postal clerks will recall that there was considerable complaint due not only to the fact that the stamps fell apart while in stock, but that they curled and it was almost impossible to keep them flat. The complaints were so numerous that it was necessary for the Bureau to take some steps that would eliminate these two glaring defects. They prevented the falling apart by changing the perforation and in order to have the stamps lie flat they have been experimenting for several years and during this time have used several methods to break the gum. Some will show single diagonal lines spaced some distance apart, but here of late they have adopted a double line breaker spaced a little short of a quarter of an inch part. These stamps are now making their appearance even in the smaller post offices and differing so greatly from the flat plate has forcibly brought the variety to the attention of a great number of our readers.

1922, 30c "Buffalo"

Mr. Walter L. Clark has submitted for inspection a copy of the current 30c showing a distinct double transfer. We find the frame line immediately under "UNITED" strongly doubled, starting well below the "U" and extending up to the "D". As the specimen submitted is a single used copy, it is impossible to tell the plate or plate position.

Philippine Islands

I was recently shown by the Scott Stamp & Coin Company imperforated horizontal pairs of the current Philippine stamps from 2 centavos to 4 peso inclusive and I was informed that the 10 peso existed in similar condition.

Investigation at Washington shows that during last May slightly more than 100,000 stamps of this character of all denominations were turned out, samples going to the Director of Posts at Manila, and the remainder sold to a sales company in the same town to whom they were delivered through their representative—a bank in New York. Philippine papers of last December carry several columns of information relative to this issue and state that the Philippine authorities will be glad to fill further orders for similar stamps if purchased in lots of 10,000 pesos or more. These stamps will no doubt reach the American market in short time and in view of the quantities issued and the possibility of more coming out, they, of course, should be valued at figures not greatly more than the perforated stamps are bringing.

It is certainly to be regretted that the Philippine Government should take any such means of raising revenue. We recall that they sold the 16c Dewey through the Philatelic Agency in order to raise sufficient to pay for the die, but we did not look for any wholesale selling of varieties in such a manner. These stamps are not on sale at the agency either perforated or unperforated.

It may be well to state at this time that the printing of the Philippine stamps is no way under the control of the United States Post Office Department, but postal affairs are independently operated. They have a contract with the Bureau Engraving and Printing to furnish them with certain stamps and securities somewhat similar to the contract between the United States Post Office and the Bure

Had the postal affairs of the Island en under our own Post Office Depart-nt, such a thing would never have hap-ned. It is with satisfaction that we alize that Washington keeps its postal airs clean and if any errors or varie-s creep out, it is due entirely to gligence or error.

ALGERIA.—Whitfield King & Co. have own us the new 80c, 1fr 05c and 3fr mps of France with the surcharge lgerie" all in black.

BELGIUM.—We have received from our respondent, Mr. Henry Hooreman, pies of the "Floods" stamps. They are two designs, one in light blue color d the other in a slight greenish blue l both of 1fr+1fr value. Both stamps ture in the centre a cavalry man rid-on a white horse with his sword in right hand. Below is the word "Cari-" and at the bottom is the three line el "Inondations 1 fr. Watersnood."

DANZIG.—Whitfield King & Co. report appearance of the 15pf red and the of blue, of the current type with the rcharge "Dienstmarke" as per the 1924 rprint, for official use.

OHORE.—Whitfield King & Co. inform that they have received the $4 green l brown, script watermark.

MALTA.—We learn from several corre-ndents that the recent provisional p on 3p was exhausted on February last.

MONACO.—Whitfield King & Co. send chronicle the 25c rose, of the 1924-25 ue with the surcharged "30" in black. o parallel lines obliterate the former ues.

MELANGE:—

J. WM. HARMON, Oklahoma City, Okla., when renewing his subscription sends in a new subscription for the local philatelic society, called the Oklahoma City Philatelic Society. It was recently organized by some boys and Mr. Harmon believes that they need the WEEKLY.

THE Stamp Club of the Y. M. C. A., The Hague, Holland, will be glad to receive donations of used stamps. They are made into packets and sold for the benefit of the Association. G. de Jonge, secretary of the Club, may be addressed at the Y. M. C. A., Prinsengracht 4, The Hague, Holland.

WARNER BATES of Buffalo, N. Y. well and favorably known to the readers of our paper, has been elected secretary of the New York State Automobile Association. Mr. Bates has had varied experiences in publicity work and brings to his new position an ability and energy which is bound to make him successful in his new work. Congratulations. Dr. R. C. Fisher sends clipping.

IT is with sincere regret that we record a severe accident which recently befell K. Pathe of the Pathe Stamp Co. He was the victim of an accident which resulted in six broken ribs and he is now confined in a Dallas, Tex., hospital. His stamp business will be carried on as usual from 4808 Victor St., Dallas, Tex.

WILL Louis Raskin, address unknown, please write the Fellowship Stamp Agency, 433 Rowell Bldg., Fresno, Calif.? If so, his order for stamps will be filled.

ARTHUR BARGER & CO. of Framingham, Mass., is running a large advertisement this week, which is bound to attract attention. It is very evident that this firm has sources of supply for airmail stamps which places it in the front rank of dealers in this interesting specialty. We urge a perusal of this very attractive advertisement.

on stamp; Leominster, Mass., pmk., in red and black "3" on stamp. Where color is not mentioned, black is meant always.

On 3c 1857's: "Fort Madison, Oct. 6, Ioa.", "Fort Plain Sep 24 N. Y.", "Normal College Nov 5 N. C.", "Davidson College Jul 3 N. C.". These forts and colleges make nice postmarks. The town of Warren, state indecipherable, shows four long bars close together, stamp pencanceled "Used Up". "Newark Valley Sep 9 N. Y." with red flag in circle.

One beautiful cover shows all in red ink, pmk. being "RAPPAHANNOCK ACADEMY OCT 15 VA." in a double lined ellipse at left of envelope, while over stamp is a similar single lined ellipse showing "PAID 3", this cover being of the 1851 period, the stamp a beautiful orange brown.

One of the most perfect 15c black Lincolns ungrilled of 1862 issue I ever saw on cover is mailed from "Andover, Mass" to Paris. The town it starts from, Andover, and all the route markings are in red or red-orange, and the effect of these brilliant colors, and the black stamp on a white envelope are positively "stunning" as one says on occasion. More anon.

TEN YEARS RENEWAL

Occasionally we feel compelled to give space to the kind words which reach us in the course of our regular correspondence with subscribers. In this instance we must recognize a letter just at hand from G. Decker French, Davenport, Ia. Mr. French remits $10 for a ten years' subscription to our publication, and we consider this worthy of noting as a marked tribute to the WEEKLY. Of course we have entered Mr. French as a member of our Honor Club and we thank him for this splendid token of esteem.

Walter V. Reynolds, N. Y. City.
G. Decker French, Davenport, Ia.

We acknowledge with thanks the remittance of $5 from Dr. William H. Ivie of Berkeley, Calif., for membership in our Honor Club.

A very pleasing letter is at hand from Walter V. Reynolds, 63 Mamaroneck Av., White Plains, N. Y. Mr. Reynolds is connected with the firm of James-Reynolds Co., general contractors, 138 E. 59 St., N. Y. City. In making his application for membership in the Honor Club he encloses a remittance of $6, which covers an additional new yearly subscription.

Elsewhere in this issue we have paid special attention to G. Decker French, who has not only taken out membership in the Honor Club, but has renewed his subscription for a period of ten years. Mr. French is located in the Putnam Bldg., Davenport, Iowa. We greatly appreciate his support of our publication.

THE RAREST OF THE KICKING MULE CELLATIONS, "GOLETA, CALIF."

By H. SANDBERG, Sandberg, Calif

S. J. Jones of Santa Maria, Califo was the first collector to discover "Goleta Kicking Mule". He found copy on the original cover, and to h am indebted for much of my data on interesting cancellation.

It was my good fortune less th year ago to secure the correspondenc a resident of Goleta in the early eigh by the name of D. A. Martin and an the numerous ordinary envelopes wer covers with the Kicking Mule canc tions: Aug. 16, 1881, canceled in b on 3c green; Feb. 14, 1882, cancele black on 3c green stamped envelope; 12, 1884 canceled in red on 1c pos due; April 3, 1884 in red on 1c b April 28, '84 in red on 1c post c June 3, '84 in red on 1c blue.

The Goleta canceller and dater all in one piece; that is why the Mu always the same distance from the c cancellation.

Here is the famous "kicking mule" ca lation approximately correct in detail, sho the distance that it was from the postmar the case of Goleta, on the combination of mark and canceler in one piece.

Some time later in 1884 or early of 1885, the Goleta Post Office was stroyed by fire, (including the cance stamp), and as the Government had gun to enforce the regulation that Postmasters be required to use the r lar Government cancelling stamp, marked the end of the Goleta Kic Mule.

To give a little history of the G Post Office: Goleta Post Office in was a country store situated a few r from Santa Barbara, Calif. The s and a blacksmith shop constituted town. Mr. Foster was the Postma up to the latter part of 1882 and sele the design of the Kicking Mule fro number of samples submitted him l representative of Morse, Klinkner & of San Francisco.

My friend, Parker W. Lyon of P dena, Cal., tells me he knew Mr. Klin personally and that he always drov span of little mules shaved clean painted in brilliant colors.

The Humane Society had him arre once, as in one instance he had used h paint and one of the mules died. Klinkner's partiality to mules evide suggested the design of the "Kic Mule".

The other Kicking Mule cancellat are "Port Townsend, Wash.", whic the most common, the same being qu large town at that time; Susanville Forbestown next in order of rarity, good sized villages in the eighties.

There should be quite a few cover existence in those towns; but so far very many have been found.

Any Kicking Mule cancellation sh only be collected on the original as th the only way to identify it and to gu against counterfeiting.

Many an interesting study can be m of the old cancellations and it puts lately more in the light of a scien study than the mere accumulation o large number of stamps.

Hussman Stamp Company
A.P.S. A. No. 393 St. Louis, Mo.

FAR AND NEAR:—

MRS. JOHN VAN BURK, Lenox, Mass., writes us as follows:—"Perhaps you might interest some of your readers to help boys of Opportunity Farm, New Gloucester, Maine, as there were fourteen stamp collectors who lost everything in the fire which destroyed the Kendall House last spring. Some of your boy subscribers may be willing to mail to the farm address as given old copies of the WEEKLY."

IN the New York Times, for March 3 was a letter addressed to the editor by Franklin S. Smith of Jersey City, N. J., in which reference was made to the French Tax Fund already noted in the WEEKLY. Mr. Smith has made a commendable attempt to educate not only the dealer, but the general public as to investments in stamps.

HAVE just been reading Mr. Pierson's article on the difference between Jamaica Nos. 79 and 92. I have both varieties which show perfectly the difference as illustrated by Mr. Krause, but on which I can not discern any appreciable difference in the distance from the top of the turret to the shade horizontal lines at top of stamp. There may be others that occur differently.—E. G. Bennett.

THE Philatelic Society of the Oranges (N. J.) will meet at the library of Dr. Edward C. Worden, Milburn, N. J., on the evening of April 2, when Dr. Worden will exhibit his specialized United States stamps.

ON Feb. 26 the Buffalo Stamp Club was host to a party of Batavia collectors. Dinner was served for thirty and afterwards a talk was given by Milton R. Miller, editor of the Batavia News. Every Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock the club rooms are open for the boy collectors of the city. Several of the older members are always present to show the boys how and what to collect, and how to arrange and mount stamps. Visiting collectors and dealers will be welcomed at 552 Main St., any Friday evening. We are indebted to Dr. R. C. Fisher for an interesting letter dealing with the activities of the local club.

AT the annual S. P. A. convention in Cincinnati, August 10, M. Ohlman will hold his customary auction sale. These sales have come to be a regular and much appreciated feature of the conventions of this live society.

I NOTED with interest Mr. W. D. Pierson's description of a difference between Jamaica Nos. 79 and 92. On examining the copies in my collection, I found the distance between the fighting top on the mast and the lines below the upper label to be just the reverse of Mr. Pierson's. Examination of duplicates showed that both watermarks come in both spacings. This is probably due to the stamps, although in one color, being printed in two impressions. The only real difference in design is in the flag."—CHAS. F. SCHELL.

SOME WORTHY SHUT-INS

Dr. H. B. Hinman, Stokes Bldg., Everett, Wash., A. P. S., 6481, and Vice-president of the Washington State Philatelic Society writes us a letter, which we shall quote in toto. It reads as follows:—

"Please ask your subscribers to send some stamps to Jesse Warren, care of the Seattle General Hospital, Seattle, Wash., to be divided between him and two other boys. They are there for a year with diabetes under the care of the city of Seattle. Jesse has a collection of 1,000, but the other boys are just beginning. Their physician is very anxious to have their interest in stamp collecting sustained, as time hangs heavily on their hands. Seattle subscribers might call with a few stamps, and will find three fine, bright and intelligent boys."

We are accepting Dr. Hinman's suggestion and pass it on to our subscribers for their usual generous response to such calls. Make it a part of your interest in our hobby to help worthy boys and girls who are situated as these boys are.

Can You Resist

the Allurement of "AIRMAIL"? Aside from the intense human interest every flown cover has on the face of it, just pause to think of the future from an investment standpoint. The first Official Airmail Flight took place only 15 years ago, at Allahabad, India, Feb. 18, 1911. The first Official Air Stamp was issued on May 22, 1917, by Italy, for the flight between Turin and Rome. A comparatively new hobby, it now has hundreds of devotees, with new collectors continually coming into the fold. Why should you delay at least investigating, when it is possible to build up a fine collection? A few years from now it will be like trying to complete the United States Postmaster's Provisionals. A case of "it can't be done." Even if you don't care to order anything, let us have your name. We will be pleased to send you sample copies of the "AIR POST BULLETIN" and "THE FLYING SALESMAN." Better still, send us $1.80 for a copy of Turton's "AIR POST CATALOGUE," a necessity for the AIRMAIL collector.

THE BI-MONTHLY JOURNAL

A house organ with an inimitable style and charm, published every two months. Each issue consists of from 32 to 48 pages, every one containing a formidable array of unusual offerings in medium and scarce sets, packets and special collections, dealers' stocks, single stamps, philatelic supplies, etc., etc.

Albert C. Munson, 412 Broadway, Houston, Texas, writes:
"I enjoy the Bi-Monthly as much as MEKEEL'S; there is no other paper, house organ, journal or circular of any kind wherein one can find such extraordinary good stock—and at such reasonable prices."

C. A. Ralston, 164 Vaughn St., Waterloo, Iowa, says:
"I am paying subscription charges for two large house organs, but would rather get along without both of them than to lose yours. If necessary, I know that I could pay a substantial subscription to the Bi-Monthly and save all of it on stamps offered in a single issue."

The Bi-Monthly Journal is a distinctive publication and absolutely free to patrons. You can't afford to be without it!

STAMP NEWS IN BRIEF

Argentine Republic.—From Mr. H. G. Spanton and Mr. F. E. B. Metcalfe we have news of a projected issue which will commemorate the centenary of the establishment of the Argentine postal administration. The suggested designs, which are not unattractive, include 3c, portrait of B. Rivadavia who reorganised the postal service a century ago; 5c, portrait of San Martin; 12c, view of the new G. P. O., Buenos Aires; 25c, view of old G. P. O. a century ago. Tenders for the production of these stamps have been asked for in London.

Bolivia.—In the new Waterlow printing of the current Arms type, the details of the engraving in the central oval are clearer than in the printings by the American Bank Note Co. or Messrs. Perkins Bacon & Co. The central ornament at the top, above the "EO" of "CORREOS," is broad and squat and the shading of the background around the arms is regular all round, except immediately above the eagle, where shorter lines are used to give a lighter effect. We do not yet know which values have been printed by Messrs. Waterlow and Sons.

Greece.—A new stamp is to be issued in commemoration of the hundredth anniversary of the breaking of the blockade of Missolonghi.

Hungary.—The new currency (1 pengo=100 garas=12,500 kronen) will naturally call for a new series of stamps. Its appearance will definitely close the period of the fall in the European exchanges, as all currencies are now more or less stabilised.

Italy.—Il Bolletino Filatelico states that a stamp will be issued to commemorate the Virgil centenary. The design will be taken from a rare old mosaic, representing the poet with two muses. We wonder whether this stamp will make his works any more popular with the young idea!

Jugo-Slavia. A new issue is being prepared by the State Printing Works, and new Air stamps are also likely to be issued in the present year, says Die Postmarke.

Persia.—Mr. R. W. Gray states that he believes 20,000 of each value of the new provisionals were issued commemorating the deposition of the Shah and the appointment of Reza Khan Pehlevi as head of the Provisional Government. The new ruler of Persia was once a private soldier.

The 2 kran with inverted centre, listed this month, was received by a gentleman in London on his ordinary correspondence. The postmark of the pair seen was Mohammerah, and apparently a sheet was used there without the error being noticed, as one or two other copies have reached London.

It is expected that the remaining stocks of the engraved series with portrait of the ex-Shah will be overprinted shortly, pending the production of an entirely new series.

Russia.—There is a frankness about the latest Russian stamps, which comes as something of a surprise after the recent attempts to indicate the scientific standing of the country by means of the Popoff and Lomonosoff issues. The new stamps commemorate the revolutions of 1825 and 1905, and the scenes they depict illustrate the whole gamut of revolution—processions, mob orations, street-fighting, barricades, and trench digging. They are certainly of unique interest to the collector who likes a spice of novelty, but they can hardly be considered as good propaganda from the Soviet point of view.

A new series is being considered, which will commemorate the tenth anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution. The set is to consist of twenty-one stamps in three designs, which will include the word "Post" in six languages—Russian, Ukrainian, White Russian, Georgian, Armenian, and Turkish.

Numbers printed of the Revolution commemoratives listed this month:—

3 k. 500,000 of each issue.
7 k. 2,500,000 of each issue.
14 k. 500,000 of each issue.

No figures are given for the imperf. stamps, for the existence of which the usual excuse of printing delays is put forward. Our own opinion is that these imperf. stamps are issued purely to double the number of varieties available for collectors.

San Marino.—Commendatore M. A. Jamieson kindly informs us that San Marino is shortly to issue a new series, consisting of 10c, 20c, 25c, 45c, 50c, and 1 and 2 l. values. May we hope that this series will be permanent—at least for a few months?

Siam.—The Neue Freie Presse states that the new Air stamps will shortly be overprinted with the Siamese equivalent of "Royal Siamese Exhibition," 100,000 sets being so treated. After the "Malaya-Borneos" we can hardly say anything against this comparatively modest flutter.

Spain—Cuba. The reduced prices announced this month for certain items are the result of the sale of remainders amounting to about eight million stamps, which fetched $1,500 at an auction in Cuba. Other stamps were included besides those of which prices have been reduced, but in these cases the quantities sold were so small that they will not affect the market value of the stamps.

Switzerland.—Mr. A. D. Jenny draws our attention to the interesting fact that the 10c of the new Pro Juventute series has a border formed of embroidery patterns, embroidery being a special product of the canton Appenzell-Ausserrhoden, whose Arms are represented on the stamp.

INITIATION INTO PHILATELY

By BILL BLOSS.

III.—Beginning a General Collection.

In the previous chapters, we have demonstrated that progress in philately is made by a series of regular steps. Having proved that the successful collector must commence with the desire to collect, and having outlined reasons why it is advantageous for the beginner to make a general collection in preference to specializing, we will now assume that the neophyte is ready to take his first plunge into the deep waters of our hobby. The time has come for the collector to start to collect.

How does he go about it? There are many ways, depending upon his means and tastes. If he is a boy, limited as to spending money, he will doubtless start with a small album and a handful of stamps from a packet, or perhaps given to him by a friend.

If he is a boy, he is doubly fortunate in being able to start in that way, for he is making a real start. The Days of Real Sport in philately, according to most of the sages and long-hairs, have to do with a small album, and some stamps carried in the pocket along with a ball of kite-twine, a skate key, some marbles, an all-day sucker or two, and sundry other articles usual to the pockets of a small boy. We do not recommend this process as a means of preserving one's stamps, but it is customary for the youth to commence in this way, and the greatest day in a collector's life, we believe, is the first day.

The boy making his first collection has his philatelic career ahead of him. The boy grown up who starts another collection has much pleasure to look forward to, but the second collection is never as exciting as the first. So our boy friend is doubly fortunate in having a long career and a real initiation into the hobby ahead of him.

The boy of today is confronted with the task of getting many more stamps than the youth of a decade or two ago, but on the other hand he has the joy of amassing a larger collection for the same outlay of money. Twenty years ago, a thousand varieties was a good collection for a boy, and if purchased as a starting packet, cost about $5.00. Today, our boy can buy his first thousand for a dollar or so.

It has been our experience that the boy from eight to twelve will find the album such as the Scott Imperial or similar book, a good means of housing his stamps. The boy starting at eleven or older should endeavor to start with the Scott Junior album. While this article is not written in the interest of the Scott Stamp & Coin Co. we endorse their albums as being the most suitable for the American collector. There are many good makes of foreign albums, but the Scott books being planned in accordance with their catalog, will prove very useful to the collector in America. The British boy will find an English album best, the German boy will prefer a German album, but the American boy with a German album is very likely to run into difficulties on his arrangement, fine as the foreign books are.

The beginner, man or boy, will find the Junior Album useful for housing up to ten thousand varieties. Beyond that point, he will probably want the three volume set, giving spaces for all stamps. Below that number, he will find the books rather bulky for the satisfactory display of his stamps, for a few thousand stamps are practically lost in the three volume set. However, the collector, with prospects of making a large collection in a short time, would do well to start with one or all of the volumes, to save work of remounting later, and also to give him the fun of accurate arrangement. This matter rests largely with the collector, but needs some thought before starting.

We know of a number of adult collectors using the Junior album, who confine themselves to its limitations, but who find it an excellent book for forming a representative collection of all countries at moderate cost.

Having acquired an album, our collector begins his search for stamps to put in it. The most satisfactory start is made by buying the largest variety packet one can afford, then adding to it by purchase of packets by countries, sets and single stamps to fill in the sets already started. The larger the starting packet, the less duplicates one will usually acquire in buying other packets, strange as that may appear. The collector who buys a thousand variety packet, and later buys a two thousand will find many duplicates of his first thousand. Buy the two thousand first, if possible, then take up the packets by countries.

Having stamps to put in the book, the method of putting them in must be considered. The old paste pot, and porous plaster mounts are as extinct as the dodo. Use nothing but the best make of peelable hinge, as sold by your dealer. Be sure the hinges are peelable. They will stick, but they must peel, if one is going to save stamps from thin spots and tears in remounting. Learn to properly affix the stamp, by moistening the tip of the hinge only, applying it to the stamp, then moistening the tip of the other end of the hinge, and affixing to the book, leaving the center part dry. This makes it possible to raise the stamp for examination, gives a clean start in removing the hinge, and helps to eliminate the hump in the stamp or page. Too many collectors ruin their stamps by over-moistening the hinge.

With the great quantity of stamps now available, a catalog is almost vital to the collector. It helps him to place his stamps correctly in their proper order; it lists those he needs to complete his sets and countries, it describes differences which might escape his eye; and if he is buying stamps, places an approximate value on them. Buy an up-to-date catalog as soon as possible, and avoid mistakes.

Since this is an era of discrimination, and the torn stamp which satisfied our forefathers is now despised by collectors, the beginner should pay attention to the condition of his specimens. See that every stamp is the finest copy of its kind you can obtain. We do not believe in the lengths to which some collectors carry the condition question, but we do know that a damaged stamp is without beauty or value. The beginner should bear this in mind, as many stamps are damaged through carelessness before experience in the handling is gained. Handle stamps as far as possible with a pair of blunt-end tongs. A little practice will soon make it unnecessary to touch the stamp with the hands, and will demonstrate that tongs are really time-savers. They will pay their small cost many times in preventing tears and soiling.

For the study of stamps, a watermark detector is useful. This consists of a tray or cup with black surface, on which the stamp is placed face down, and when pure benzine is dropped on the stamp, will show the watermark of the paper. A magnifying glass will save the eyes in looking for types and minor differences, and will reveal many details, which go to make collecting interesting.

These are the working tools of a philatelist. All are essential to the advanced collector, and the sooner the beginner learns to use them, the sooner he will become advanced, and the more pleasure he will derive from his collection.

The collector who takes his philately seriously will soon find that it gives in pleasure and knowledge in ratio to the care and study he gives to it. He will, if really interested, begin to study his stamps, and as he does so, will seek more knowledge. This he will obtain from his catalog, from helpful articles in MEKEEL'S and from the number of useful handbooks published on various subjects of the hobby. Men have spent many hours in studying and tabulating details of the various phases of philately. The result of their labors has in many cases been placed at the disposal of collectors through the books they have written on the subject. Get the study-habit early in the game and learn all you can about your stamps. You will then be in a better position to make a really fine collection.

It is possible by having a thorough knowledge of any branch of philately to form an interesting and valuable collection at considerably less expense than without this knowledge. The student knows what to buy and what not to buy. He profits by knowing "the good ones" and buying them from the chap who scorns study. He knows what to look for where the other fellow doesn't. It pays to know things.

PHILATELIC VAUDEVILLE

Probably the most universally popular stamp of all time is the three-cornered Cape of Good Hope stamp. These old classics are sought after by all classes of collectors, and every philatelist likes them. Realizing that their popularity is world-wide, the Union of South Africa is again making history in philately by issuing a new 4d triangular stamp in similar design, shape and color, which will be sought after by most collectors. Some will want the new stamp because they cannot have the old, others will want it as a souvenir of their old friend, the triangular Cape.

One of the prize beasts in our philatelic circus is the giraffe on the stamps of Tanganyika. This giraffe has recently changed his color on four values, and the old colors promise to become "more better." A word to the wise is unnecessary.

Who is the little lady on the 1924 35c stamp of Salvador, and how does she rate a place on a postage stamp, other than for her unusual ability to please the eye. Strange tales have come to us from various people who claim to know the young lady personally. One man states she is the daughter of a wealthy coffee planter, and she was thus honored for political reasons. Another tells us she is a girl from his home town, of poor but respected parentage, and that she was chosen by popular vote to represent Miss Salvador on the stamp. We like her, and think her stamp is pretty, but how does she manage to break into the limited circle of femininity on postage stamps? Let's hear from one who really knows.

We have pink surcharges, yellow surcharges (which are usually rare) black, blue, green, brown, and now Albania has given us a white surcharge in one of her latest stampic outbursts. What next, as father said, when baby cut off the cat's tail.

Now that Holland has taken up commemoratives for the Life-boat Societies, great opportunities are presented for other worthy causes. Why not a series for the Home for Disabled Dutch Cheeses, or a Norwegian issue for the benefit of indigent herrings, or a fine U. S. issue in the interest of the Society for Smaller Holes in Doughnuts? Anyway, it takes all kinds of stamps to make a really fine collection.

And now for an hour's study of Jugo-Slavia, a land of philatelic charm for the student.

ST. LOUIS to CHICAGO by AIR MAIL

Contract air mail route No. 2 starts April 15th, with four landing places: St. Louis, Springfield, Peoria, and Chicago. I will send you First Flight flown covers from any of these places to any of the other three for 50c each. I will supply complete set of 12 First Flight flown covers, consisting of a cover flown from each place to each other place on this route for only $5.00.

The Dallas-Chicago air mail route starts May 12th. Why don't you subscribe to my Air Mail Cover Service and get first flight flown covers from all new air mail routes as started? You receive one or several from each route, as you see fit, at a service charge of only 25c per cover.

A collection of first flight covers of Uncle Sam's air mail routes will be a thing of beauty and a joy forever. The covers that I prepare are exceptionally fine, all of uniform size and with the red, white and blue stripes. This is your Grand Chance to get in on something worth while. Don't be one of those to regret at a later date. Send me your name and address now and let me send you the dope, at least.

Why Not Straighten Out The "Bank Note Issues"

Here is a new series of U. S. "Educators" . Short sets at a few cents each that will enable you to put the right stamps in their proper places. We see so many collections of U. S. worth anywhere up to $1,000.00 with the Bank Note issues of 1870, 1873, 1879 and 1882 all jumbled up, or represented by unattractive copies, that we know most collectors need some help to get them straightened out. The 1c, 2c, 3c stamps seem to offer the most difficulty, and after these the 6c, 10c and 12c.

So here they are, all arranged and classified for you: the low values in short sets, the higher values priced singly. All of these are fine fresh copies, which will improve the appearance of your pages even though you already have learned to classify them correctly.

THE SETS

1870. Nat'l print. 1c. 2c, 3c, for	$ .16
1873. Cont. print. 1c. 2c. 3c, for	.15
1879. Amer. print. 1c. 2c. 3c, for	.10
1882. Re-engvd.. 1c. 2c. 10c, for	.08
The four sets, post free, only	.45

FINE SINGLES

	1870.	1873.	1879.	1882
6c	.25	.15	.40	1.00
10c	.40	.22	.15	.03
12c	.75	.85	..	..
15c	1.00	1.25	.50	..
30c	2.50	.40	.50	..

The labor involved in sorting the cheaper sets is worth as much as we ask for them. We do it to help get in touch with those collectors who do not know that we have probably the largest stock of specialized United States stamps in the world, and can supply almost anything at modest prices. A trial may convince you; if it doesn't you can always get your money back for the asking. Approval selections against references.

UNITED STATES ISSUES 1870-1900

DR. WM. EVANS, Editor,
313 E. Freemason St., Norfolk, Va.

(Any letter requiring a reply must have a self-addressed stamped envelope. No attention can be given matters that do not belong to the years indicated. What can you contribute of interest?)

The menu for this week is varied. A number of oddities and "unusualities" have been sent for observation.

Mr. J. W. Sampson shows a 5c Trans-Mississippi and a 5c rose lake Hawaii of the 1894 issue on a cover postmarked Honolulu, Jan. 8, 1899. Was this the common practice as late as that?

Mr. O. J. Klinger submits a 15c Interior cancelled with a large K and a 2c Treasury with an odd star. He also includes two postal cards from Chicago, Ill., one cancelled with a neat blue shield and the other with a W in a circle. The postmark on the latter shows W. D. Sta. In the same lot are some "Army Franks." New to me. Who knows anything about them? What are they?

Mr. Samuel Bennett has sent a number of 3c War Dept. cut square envelopes many of which show County postmarks, and a number of others postmasters' names.

One of the stamps is cancelled with a real locomotive and the fireman busily engaged in stoking it. Some cancel, this is. I'm under the impression that Mr. Atherton reported one of these sometime ago and said he would give us a tracing of it.

Mr. Chas. E. Herman sends a nice lot of colored cancellations beginning in the '70's and ending with a block of four ½c Hale cancelled in a bright green. Postmasters don't all conform with absolute regularity to postal instructions it seems. Maybe some of them regard these instructions as an infringement of their personal liberties, and take this way of expressing their dissatisfaction. Whatever the cause the result is not displeasing to the eye of a stamp collector.

Mr. O. F. Weed sends some of the freakiest imaginable perforations of 3c green it has ever been my lot to see. They're as bad as some of the war-time perforations, and look as if the perforating machine had been out all night, or something.

He also includes two stamped envelopes with a distinct double print of the stamp in color, and another with one albino and one colored impression. They're positively weird.

The same lot shows the right diagonal half of a 1c and the left diagonal half of a 3c 1890 on a cover postmarked at New Haven, Conn. It went through the mail all right.

Mr. R. H. Huetson shows a cover postmarked Rochester, N. Y., which was carried by a 1c 1882 re-engraved. The cover has been used a second time. The original address has been erased and a new one written. This time two 2c red brown stamps were put upon it, and one of them is stuck over the original 1c stamp almost completely hiding it from view. The second postmark is N. Y. & Chi. R. P. O. Mid. Div.

Mr. Herman also sends a 3c green canceled with the legend shown in cut No. 1. And a 1c blue with the same legend, but in this instance blurred by too much ink. How it came to be used, or where, or when, you'll have to figure out. I don't know.

Mr. Herman also includes two pairs of 1c 1882 re-engraved showing an appreciable difference in the spacing between the stamps. One pair is spaced 2mm and the other 2½mm. Examination of a few pairs in my possession revealed that I had 'em—and didn't know it. How many more of you are in the same class? And now who will tell us whether these two spacings were used on one plate, or were they on different plates? And who will tell us why they were used? Was it done to try to correct the lack of regularity in perforating, as the same experiment was tried a few years ago, or did it just "happen"? Has anyone noticed it in other issues, or the other values of this issue?

A cover from Mr. R. L. Hustis shows the peculiar little postmark shown above—No. 2. Almost looks as if it had been done by hand, but it wasn't.

Mr. John E. Fast sends a cover bearing a 3c carmine and a 5c green registration stamp of Canada addressed to Canton, Ohio, postmarked Grand Narrows South, N. S. Au. 1, 90. On the back are the following markings. Port Hastings, N. S. Au. 2, 90, St. John, N. B., Canada, Au. 4, 90, twice, and that peculiar and mysterious letter in a circle, about which we have had some remarks lately, shown above as No. 4 and which was doubtless applied in the registry division of the New York Post Office. The tapeworm professor certainly had no chance to put his private mark on this letter. No. 3 shows the B of these markings, as shown by Mr. Corwin. Miss Mabel McCleuthen sends a registered cover, a 2c stamped envelope, to which has been added a 1c and 10c re-engraved and a 2c redbrown, postmarked Dubuque, Iowa, addressed to Germany. On the front a little oblong sticker of the New York Registry Division. On the back a large magenta handstamp, Dubuque, Iowa, Registered, No. —. The N. Y. Letter in circle D 4-20-84, the oval New York, N. Y. Reg'y Div. handstamp 4-21-1884.

Another registered cover with a 2c brown stamped envelope and a 10c re-engraved on the face and a block of four 2c redbrown on the back, all pencanceled. On the face the red handstamped Registered Aug. 23, 1887, Kansas City, Mo., and the New York sticker. This letter is addressed to Berlin. In the center of the block of 2c stamps is the U8-26-87 stamp in black, and this is repeated at the lower corner of the block. The oval New York Reg'y Div. 8-27-87 stamp also hits the block and the cover, and in one corner a circle bearing the figures 18—69 the lower line being indecipherable. Please page Sherlock Holmes!

And pursuing this subject a little farther Mr. George W. Corwin has this to say, "I have found several envelopes that were registered and all addressed to a defunct firm on Beekman Street, New York City, bearing the same letters as mentioned by Mr. S. C. Rogers, namely B. C. D, O, S and U. These are all dated from 1-14-99 to 3-25-99, are all in one color, namely the so-called red ink used on ordinary rubber stamp pads. Instead of this letter being struck (or falling) on the stamp it is impressed (in every case except two) in the center of the back of the envelope where the four folds come together. In two cases this device has been used on the stamp, one of the instances being with the stamp in upper right hand corner of front of envelope and the other with stamp on back where folds come together. These registered letters are from the length and breadth of the U. S. and doubtless all passed through the general Post Office in New York City, then located at City Hall Park, a bare three blocks away. A quantity of unregistered covers addressed to the same firm, covering the same period, all gathered from the same source, does not contain this special device." And after another "voyage of discovery" in this lot of material Mr. Corwin says, "upon examination of some of the 2c covers they showed another back stamp that I have never heard of before, i.e., "Mail Detention." And this brings out the suggestion that these markings may have been used by the investigating force at the Post Office. His reports certainly refute the idea that they were private markings of the tapeworm "professor." No. 3 is a tracing of the B marking from Mr. Corwin's lot.

Mr. Dan C. Unimick sends a drawing of a cross used at Columbus, Ohio, on a 3c green cover. No. 5 and Nos. 6 and 7 are other crosses less frequently seen than Maltese Crosses. They are all on 3c greens, but not on covers, so that their point of origin is not known. Can any one tell us?

Year dated postmarks 1870 to 1877 have been reported by only five or six correspondents. What's the trouble? No one else got any?

THERE is a letter at this office for Clifford M. Drury. As our mail list is not arranged alphabetically we are unable to forward communications.

Knowledge Is Power = Dollars
Do you realize how often you "give up" or "pass by" a real rare variety thru lack of knowledge?
Let me explain: Denmark No. 2, 4rbs brown is known with over 150 different numeral cancellations. No. 1 is worth $0.20 but dozens of them are worth $5.00 to $10.00 each and a few are rarities.
All these and nearly all Danish varieties are priced in my new Detailed Priced Catalogue of Danish Stamps of 1851-1899. I quote prices of shades, pairs, strips of three, four, six, blocks, sheets, stamps on cover, cancellations, recuts and scores of Inverted Frames, never before priced.
Illustrated Catalogue, 52 pages, printed on one side only, price $1.00 postfree.
Books of used Danish Stamps can be sent on approval. [tf

U. S. REVENUE NOTES

By FRANK L. APPLEGATE, Medford, Ore.

From an old book, "Reminiscences of Sixty Years in Public Affairs," by George S. Boutwell, I copy this interesting passage:

"Mr. S. M. Clark, then Supt. of the Bureau of Printing (July, 1862) was greatly disappointed when I decided to reject all his designs for stamps and requested him to introduce the likeness of Washington after Stuart into each stamp. As far as I know, the Internal Revenue stamps were never approved or condemned by critics or by the public. After advertisement, a contract was made with Butler and Carpenter of Philadelphia to furnish the stamps at a rate of thirteen cents per thousand.

In the year 1873 I received from Mr. Carpenter an album which contained proof specimens of every internal-adhesive stamp, public or private, engraved and printed previous to March, 1873. This volume may contain the only complete collection of stamps issued from the Revenue Office previous to that year."

Mr. Boutwell, it may be recalled, was Gov. of Mass., 1851-2, one of the leading organizers of the Republican Party in 1854, Comm. of Int. Rev. in 1862 and Sec. of the Treasury from 1869 to 1872. It would be interesting to know what became of Mr. Boutwell's collection of proofs.

South Carolina Documentary Revenues.—The same act of the General Assembly that created the Business License (Tobacco, etc.) taxes also initiated documentary taxes in this state analogous to the Federal documentary taxes. Stocks and bonds are taxed at 5c on each $100.00, stock transfers and promissory notes 2c on each $100.00, conveyances 50c on each $500.00, proxies at 10c, and powers-of-atty. 25c each.

This act became effective May 1, 1923, and a full set of stamps was ready for sale on that date. They are lithographed in upright format 17½x24 mm. in size and each bears the imprint of the American Bank Note Co. outside the design at the bottom. The design consists of the arms of the state in circle in the center surrounded by the words "Dum-Spiro-Spero-Spes" in minute letters. "SOUTH CAROLINA" at top. "DOCUMENTARY" at base, and small figures of value at sides.

The sheets contain 25 stamps (5x5) with perforated margins clear around. Entire size of sheet about 4½x5⅞ in.

The denominations were: 2, 4, 5, 8, 10, 25 and 50 cents in blue green, and $1.00, $2.00, $5.00, $10.00 and $30.00 in a dark reddish brown.

Owing to the fact that the figures of value were too small to work to advantage with the uniformity of color it was not long before complaints on this score were lodged with the Tax Commission who ordered the Bank Note Co. to prepare new dies with larger numerals, and stamps so altered began to appear early in 1924. Values and colors are the same excepting that the dollar values are in even more of a red brown than before. The size and general features are also the same except that the words "South Carolina" and "Documentary" both appear at the top and the values with large figures occupy the lower one-third of the stamp.

At first, they came in sheets of 25 with perforated margins as in the first issue but later in sheets of the same size imperforate on the top, bottom and right sides, thus making many straight edge specimens.

For some reason a small order was placed with the Security Bank Note Co. of Philadelphia for certain values both of the Documentary and Business License Tax stamps. This was about the middle of 1924.

This issue is the same size and the sheet arrangement is the same also as the second American Bank Note Co. set (Imperf. on three sides of sheet) but are line engraved, and bear the Security Company's imprint at the bottom of each stamp. The design is practically the same as the large numeral lithographed set, but unfortunately the central design is even cruder than that of the latter set.

The following values were issued: 2c green, 4c green, 10c green and $1.00 brown. These were soon used up and were followed with more of the American Bank Note Lithographed issue which is still in use.

All of these stamps are perforated 12, and the American issues are uniformly well centered. In the Security issue the centering is not so good. Although the law has been in force now nearly three years few used copies have been shown—practically none of the dollar values of any set. As the law specifies a written or printed cancellation we are not likely to be plagued with the disfiguring cut and punched cancellation so common in some other states.

AN EXPLANATION

The absence of editorial copy this week is due to the illness of Mr. Severn. He has been confined to his bed with influenza, but is now improving. His department copy will doubtless appear in the next number.

The Managing Editor.

OMNIUM GATHERUM:--

WE have received from the C. D. Reimers Co., Fort Worth, Texas, Special Bulletins 17 and 17a. They are both substantial looking lists, very freely illustrated, listing a large number of beautiful sets at reasonable prices. Liberia receives special attention. A feature worthy of mention is a series of 10c sets.

WILLIAM BUTLER, 137 Gillard Av., Toronto 6, Can., would like to receive specimens of house organs for listing in his forthcoming Year Book. Will secretaries of stamp clubs also please write him full particulars as to time and place of meeting.

AT the meeting of the Buffalo Stamp Club, March 19th, there was an interesting stamp contest. Members were asked to submit twelve stamps mounted on a single page, condition, arrangement and general appearance only to be considered. Many fine and unique entries were made, and the award was given to LeRoy Brown, Olean, N. Y. Mr. Brown selected the Newfoundland 1910 set for display and received as a prize Cape of Good Hope 4d blue, No. 4, donated by the Marks Stamp Co. Honorable mention was given John Schaefer of Hamburg, N. Y., whose entry consisted of U. S. 3c stamps 1851-1890. Thanks to Dr. R. C. Fisher for the report

FRANK E. RUSSELL, 21 Adams St., Waltham, Mass., is unable to secure replies to letters addressed to Lloyd Martin, Wooster, Ohio, or William Falb, Brooklyn, N. Y. Interested parties should write to Mr. Russell.

OUR old correspondent Robert E. Sharp of Atlanta, Ga., informs us that he has a block of four 2c Hardings precancelled "Atlanta, Ga." in which the two left-hand stamps are minus AT and GE. The two right-hand stamps have the precancelling well centered and are perfect. Uncle Robert feels that he has a rarity.

THE Washington Times for March 18 contained a very nice writeup of a 5c Alexandria on the original cover in the possession of Edward Ledbetter of Alexandria, Va. An interesting part of this unique item is the fact that it contains a letter written from Mt. Vernon, April 22, 1802, as follows:—"Mrs. Washington desires Mr. Stabler will send by the bearer a quart bottle of his best castor oil and the bill for it." Mr. Ledbetter owns the drug store in Alexandria to which this order was originally sent. It is not explained how "the bearer" can figure in this incident, when the note bears the 5c Alexandria stamp. Several correspondents have favored us with news clippings.

A. W. WHITTEN noticed in the Weekly the word commendatory of the postmasters of Chicago and Cleveland for their handling of first day airmail covers in connection with the service recently inaugurated. He suggests that similar praise is due the Detroit postmaster, and we are very pleased to give this somewhat belated bit of credit.

OUR attention is called to an article in the Saturday Evening Post of March 20 entitled, "The Junk Snupper" in which there is a rather favorable mention of stamp collecting. Referring to our hobby and the prices paid for rare stamps the writer comments:—"Like everything else you have got to know the subject." Thanks to Franklin S. Smith for clipping.

THE Reading, Pa., Eagle for March 14 contained a lengthy story about Gustav Oberlaender, secretary, treasurer and general manager of the Berkshire Knitting Mills. The particular thing of interest to us is the fact that the article states that Mr. Oberlaender's hobby primarily is stamp collecting. He began as a boy in Germany, and it was the attractiveness of United States stamps, which "gave him his first inclination to emigrate to this country."

THE two articles on Jamaica Nos. 79 and 92 by Messrs. Krause and Pierson have provoked considerable comment and correspondence. Dr. Evans is the latest to write us regarding these varieties, and he suggests that it is up to someone to make a study of the various varieties and dies that can evidently be found.

A STAMP club has been organized in Youngstown, Ohio, with Cornel Kmentt, A. P. S., 4712, as president and Dr. A. C. Tidd as secretary. These are temporary officers. The society meets the second and fourth Fridays of each month at the office of the Ohio Savings & Loan Co., 112 E. Boardman St. The name of the new organization is the Mahoning Valley Philatelic Society. March 12 O. S. Hart of Akron, O., exhibited U. S. blocks and visitors were present from Sharon, Pa., Akron, Lockport and Warren, Ohio.

WE regret to say that an error occurred in the advertisement of C. D. Reimers Co. in our issue of March 8. A set of Liberia was advertised at 12c and one of the set was announced as Scott's No. 760. This should have been 790. As 760 catalogs $1.75 the mistake is self-evident.

SENATOR CUMMINS of Iowa has introduced a bill in the Senate to penalize counterfeiters of U. S. postage stamps. The clipping at hand states that the act would not prevent the publication of illustrations providing the pictures were taken from defaced stamps or plates. Thanks to John R. Wolter for clipping.

AS a rule we do not take the space to review auction catalogs, but one is at hand from Luder-Edelman, Zurich, Switzerland, that commands attention. The sale will be held April 12-17 and there are no fewer than 3,956 lots, from all over the world. Accompanying the catalog is a supplement of 48 pages containing halftone illustrations of the "gems" of the sale. Not only are many fine singles shown, but pairs, strips and blocks on and off cover abound in profusion. It is enough to make one's philatelic mouth water to see the finely centered and lightly cancelled early U. S. There are approximately two thousand illustrations, which will give one a fair idea of this splendid catalog. The firm is to be congratulated upon being able to hold such a fine sale.

FIVE-YEAR HONOR CLUB

P. V. Hogan, Kingsport, Tenn.
R. G. Larranaga, San Luis Potosi, Mex.
G. E. Tisdale, Minneapolis, Minn.

We have three candidates this week for membership in our Honor Club. All three make their remittances of $5 "without fuss or feathers."

Mr. Hogan writes laconically:—"Eventually, why not now." Mr. Tisdale having received a renewal slip expresses the hope that "This will not happen again, for a while at least."

Not many of our Honor Club members come from Mexico, but we have one in Roberto Garcia Larranaga of San Luis Potosi. Mr. Larranaga is a life member of the A. P. S. and is also a member of the S. P. A.

The Managing Editor.

WHAT IS "ROSE"?

By STEPHEN G. RICH.

Natal No. 67 is rose. The U. S. Nos. 487, 491 and 579, the 2-cents horizontal coil of the last issue and the current one, are rose—for they are usually the same color as unfaded Natal No. 67. But they are catalogued as carmine!

U. S. No. 1627, 1 cent War Dept. on soft paper, is listed in the specialized catalogue as existing in rose—and as not scarce in that color. But ask to see a specimen, and it turns out to be only a dark dull red with a faint rose tinge. Cape of Good Hope No. 3 is also rose, but unless faded it is always much rosier than the 8-cent War Dept. Even at that, it is hardly more than a brick red.

What I want to bring out is that the term "rose," as used to describe colors of stamps, is now so vague and general a term, embracing so wide a range of hues, that it has become all but meaningless. It is not even used consistently. Stamps that are well within the range of "rose" are described also as "carmine" and "brick red".

The remedy lies, I think, in the substitution of the term "crimson" (Harvard alumni please approve) for the full and deep rose colors, and of perhaps "brick red" for the other tints. Let it be here noted that bricks, at least those in use in this part of the country, are not of the dull Indian red of the War Dept. stamps, but are distinctly within the "rose" tints.

But "rose" is not the only color sinned against. Vermilion has suffered equally. U. S. No. 213 is catalogued as vermilion; but every copy I have yet seen is of a deep red-orange, close to the color of U. S. No. 275a. The only genuine vermilion color that I have yet seen on U. S. adhesives is on the Interior Department stamps.

Also: won't the specializers take pity on us who are not gifted with the ultra-microscopic eye for colors, and avoid the ambiguous term "bright?" Is "bright blue" for example, deeper or darker than blue, or is it more contrasty against white paper—or what is it? Likewise, wherein do bright carmine stamps look different from carmine ones? Or are they the same as "deep carmine" specimens? For example, U. S. No. 277 is dark blue and No. 277a is bright blue. Is 277a the same color as No. 504 typically is? If so, why not call it just "blue?"

A little more consistency in color naming will aid some of us collectors materially; and if only they will disentangle "rose" for us we can forgive them for adhering to the "vermilion" misnomer that some bonehead in Washington gave to No. 213 when it was officially announced, or the confusion of "bright" colors.

OUR BOOK REVIEW

The Harris Publications Ltd., 46 Victoria St., S. W. 1, London, sends us four handbooks for review and we list them as follows:—

No. 6—"Postage Stamps of Rhodesia". This is an official check list compiled by a committee of the Philatelic Society of Rhodesia. It should be of great value to any student of these stamps. Price 25c.

No. 7—"Postage Stamps of the Soviet Republic" 1917-1925, by Godfrey M. White. An idea of its contents can be obtained from an enumeration of its divisions which cover the Russian, Ukrainian, Armenian, Azerbaijan, Georgian, Trans-Caucasian and Union Socialist Soviet Republics. There is a bibliography covering U. S. as well as foreign literature. Price 60c.

No. 8—"United States 2c 1893 Columbian" by H. E. Coulson. This book will be of special interest to U. S. specialists. It is the most ambitious study of this stamp that has ever been published. Mr. Coulson gives us a philatelic research of rare merit. Numerous varieties and types are illustrated, and a chapter upon the "broken hat" variety is especially interesting. Transfers, guide dots and cancellations are all covered with text and illustrations, while a check list completes an interesting booklet of 36 pages. Price 50c.

No. 9—"A Short History of the Post Office from Earliest Times" by A. E. F. Ginn. Price 12c.

None of these books are on sale at this office, but may be obtained by addressing the firm at the address above given.

ATLAS STAMP CO. (P. C. Smith) W. Somerville, Mass.

INVERTED CENTERS

I have just had placed with me to sell in behalf of one of my clients a small but choice collection of United States and foreign stamps with inverted centers. I prefer to dispose of the lot as a whole but if no purchaser is found within a few weeks, the collection will be broken up and individual items sold.

Among the pieces noted are the following in mint condition unless otherwise specified:

United States 1869, 15c, 24c, 30c, used.
1901, 1c and 2c.
1901, 4c "Specimen".
1918, Air mail 24c.
Argentine Republic 1899, 1 peso, used.
Canal Zone 1909, 2c.
Cuba 1910, 1c and 2c.
Danzig 1920, 5 mark.
Jamaica 1919, 1 shilling, used.
Russia, 14k on entire cover, with normal pairs of other denominations.

In addition, there are numerous other inverted centers of the Dominican Republic, Guatemala, Labia, Liberia, Mexico, Nyassa, Panama, Spain and Somali Coast. If you are interested in the collection or the individual items, correspondence is solicited.

MATCH AND MEDICINE

I have just acquired a very fine Match and Medicine collection containing practically everything cataloging up to $20.00 to $25.00, with some few of the rarer varieties. This collection was built up stamp by stamp over a period of twenty to thirty years and the condition is unusually fine when it is remembered that these varieties were used on match boxes and patent medicine packages and bottles. There are no duplicates and the collection is complete with the exception of possibly ninety to one hundred stamps — an excellent start for one who desires to collect these most interesting Revenues of our Civil and Spanish War varieties. The lot will catalog slightly in excess of $1,250 and for a quick sale is available at $450.

If there is anything else that you require in the way of United States postage stamps of either the 19th or 20th century, or British Colonies of the 19th century, want lists are solicited.

1922, 11c Hayes Imperforated

I have acquired from the Scott Stamp & Coin Company a horizontal pair of the 1922, 11c peacock blue in imperforated condition. This pair bears the electrotype precancel of San Francisco and I understand it was used in sending out catalogs by a firm in that city. The variety was not discovered until this pair was located and a diligent search failed to produce additional copies. There were numerous stories circulated as to a further supply but on this subject Mr. Hugh M. Clark of the Scott Company writes as follows:

"In regard to the pair of 11c imperforate stamps, I first learned of this variety when in California last summer. I heard several rumors of further supplies in San Francisco and in consequence I made a special trip to San Francisco to run down these rumors. I was unable to find any basis whatever in fact.

I have no reason whatever for knowing or believing that there is any other pair or even a single copy of this variety in existence."

Sesquicentennial Issue

Notes have appeared in this column from time to time relative to a proposed Sesquicentennial issue, but heretofore the information has been more or less indefinite. I am now officially informed by the Sesquicentennial Exhibition Committee of Philadelphia that they have communicated with Admiral Herman Osman Stickney, who has recently been appointed National Commissioner to represent the Federal Government, relative to these stamps. They have asked Admiral Stickney to take up the matter with the Department and it is now being given his attention. We hope within a week or ten days to be able to give even more definite data.

½c Nathan Hale Stamp

Mr. Gilbert Burr has submitted for inspection a very curious plate imperfection of the ½c stamp, wherein we find on Nathan Hale's forehead a little freckle caused by a scratch or plate imperfection of some kind. He has looked at a number of sheets and finds the variety constant throughout. It occurs on the twenty-second stamp from the southwest pane of plate 17077.

Air Mail Notes

Under date of March 19th the Second Assistant Postmaster General announced that effective April 15th next, contract air mail service will be established over route C. A. M. No. 2, from Chicago, Ill., via Peoria and Springfield to St. Louis and return, a distance each way of 278 miles. The route will be operated on such a schedule that it will make connections at Chicago with the over night air mail service in each direction between New York and Chicago. These planes over this contract route will run on the south bound trip daily except Sunday and Monday and on the north bound daily except Saturday and Sunday, the south bound planes leaving Chicago upon the arrival of the over night plane from New York and reaching St. Louis about 9 A. M. in the morning. The north bound plane will leave St. Louis at 4 P. M. and reach Chicago at 7.15 P. M.

Cameroons.—The Economist Stamp Co. have shown us the 20c green, 60c red and 1fr blue, all in the 1925 designs.

Costa Rica.—Provisional 3c, 6c, 30c and 45c stamps are decreed in the Journal Official, No. 274, dated December 28, 1925, these being surcharged on the existing stocks of 5c, 10c, 40c and 1 colon, respectively, for which there is no longer any demand. According to the San José administration's notice, any errors that are discovered will be destroyed in the presence of the Director-General of Posts and the Head of the Finance Department.

In the meantime we are informed that the 15c with portrait of Bolivar, the Nicoya Centenary issue, the Jesus Jimenez Centenary issue, and the Red Cross stamp will continue to be valid for postal use.—Stamp Collecting.

Dahomey.—New colors have been issued for this colony. They are the 20c green, 65c brown and olive green, 85c dark blue and orange and 1fr blue. The Economist Stamp Co. send these for our inspection.

DETROIT ANNUAL BANQUET

The 12th annual banquet of the Michigan Stamp Club of Detroit, Branch 47, of the A. P. S., was held at the new Webster Hall, on Saturday, March 20, and was the largest banquet ever held by a local club. It will long be remembered.

Heretofore it has always been a stag affair, but Harry Carter suggested that for this year the ladies should be invited, and plans were made for a big event. The ladies came, and saw, and realized the kind of fellows the Michigan boys are, and went away fully satisfied that their evenings are spent to good advantage. The tables were decorated with flowers.

Seated at the speakers' table were Postmaster Charles C. Kellogg, John Kay, William Markert, Frank J. Priest, Mrs. Harriet Brisley, S. E. Andrews, Charles Brisley, A. Livingston, and William Fratcher. Pres. Charles Brisley, president, acted as toastmaster.

Postmaster Kellogg gave a lengthy talk on postal matters, the growth of the local office and the further improvements desired. He complimented the club on its large membership and the attendance of the ladies, and congratulated all present upon the successful occasion. He was followed by Frank Priest, Asst. Supt. of Mails.

The honor of being the lady speaker of the evening fell to Mrs. Harriet Brisley, who spoke of her amusing incidents while meeting collectors.

John Kay was next on the list and he was followed by William Fratcher.

An auction sale of stamps was put on just to show the ladies how one is conducted. Dr. H. Preston Hoskins was auctioneer. Several lots were held exclusively for bids from the ladies, the successful bidder receiving a prize which was to be given to the husband. Prizes were obtained by Robert Meyer, William Fratcher and L. A. White. Musical numbers were rendered by F. F. Bott and Dean Macomb. A poem by C. H. Holden "Our Annual Banquet" was read and received with applause. Mr. Holden has removed from Detroit, and now resides at Port Dover, Ontario.

The menu card was of a special design in the shape of a stamp, and bore a picture of the Postmaster. A letter of congratulation was received from Pres. Wilhelm of the A. P. S. Floyd Quick was the official photographer. Prof. Wagner of the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor congratulated the club on the successful celebration, and Mr. Haarer, who was also present from Ann Arbor, promises attendance next year.

It was after 12 o'clock when the affair came to a close, and everybody went home with the memory of a most successful celebration. We are indebted to Herman W. Boers, the publicity agent, for a lengthy report of the proceedings, upon which we have based this article. We know of no stamp club that has a more enthusiastic press representative than Mr. Boers.

THE PRECANCEL REVIEW

F. W. Allen, Editor, 521 So. 4th St., Grand Forks, N. D.

MINNEAPOLIS MINN. | APPLETON WIS. | WICHITA FALLS TEXAS | Claremont N. H. | NASHVILLE TENNESSEE

New Issue Notes—The first 17c precancel to appear was Minneapolis in the new style of electroplate, illustrated above. Baltimore has a new plate of similar appearance and one of the first stamps precanceled with it was the new 13c Harrison. Bellingham, Wash., and Burlingame, Calif., are in receipt of their first electroplates, which are like the one from Minneapolis also. This type may be described as "similar to U-8," and a new Universal Style need not be created to cover mention of it in the catalog.

However, a new style which will be in order for the Catalog Chart, is shown above for Appleton. This is a recent production of the Bureau and unlike any previous design issued to a number of offices. Houston, Huron, S. D., Concord, N. H., Savannah, Ga., Stamford, Conn., and Mandan, N. Dak., have all come forth with new precancels printed from copper plates of one hundred subjects like the one for Appleton. Mandan canceled the old 13c green, and the new 17c, among others.

The Wichita Falls cancellation shows a three line adaptation of the same font of type just discussed. Possibly it will have companion plates in the near future. The only variety that has come to hand is the 1½c; it is a pretty specimen. A precancel of similar appearance is the 1½c Union City, N. J.

For some time Claremont has employed handstamps to do the necessary precancelling. Originally it had a regular plate which produced a three line overprint of plain caps between double lines. Many varieties exist in this Type I, from the 1908 "Merry Widow" Special Delivery to the red and blue 24c Aeroplane. Type II was intended only for the Parcel Post issue, and was a type-setting which would only fit the large red stamps. It is most striking to see and a precancellation desired by all. Types III and IV are still in current use, both being handstamps, the former of which is similar in design to the illustration above. This illustration will be Type V. The overprint is from a new electroplate that has just been issued to the Claremont office. A sister plate was also sent to St. Johnsbury, Vt.

The Nashville type is the one mentioned in this department several months ago. While it appears to be an "electro", that point is not settled in my mind as yet. There is to be found, running vertically between the subjects of every row, a thin line bearing the appearance of a pen stroke. Just what this is, I have been unable to ascertain. I cannot reconcile myself to the thought that such a line would show on stamps printed from an electroplate. If some Nashville reader will clear up this point, I think it will interest readers of this department, and collectors of precancels in general.

Special Handling—This stamp is now coming from New York in the same type as is used for the Special Delivery issues. The 2c Huguenot-Walloon exists in this type also. A large number of offices have precancelled the Special Handling in small quantities, as the demand, except in special instances, is limited. Mfr. C. E. Goulding shows me Shelby, Ohio, with a hand-stamped overprint of small serif caps between bars (U-56), most of which are used by an electric lamp manufacturer in that city. North Wales, Pa., is another handstamped one (U-58), that is used in quantity on floral shipments. Wooster, O., Virginia, Minn., Pomona, Calif., and Ashland, Pa., all had recourse to this stamp precanceled, during the past Xmas season.

Norse-American—The Norse-Americans precancelled from Minneapolis, in the new style overprint, cannot be given a clean bill of health. It is to be regretted that the shadow of speculation is to be cast upon them, and in justice to our readers we feel called upon to state that a number of the 2c and 5c were precancelled to order for a collector, who is holding them at high prices.

So. Milwaukee, Wis.—It is a long time since we have seen a new plate of the U-5 style come forth, but now we have it as the precancels from South Milwaukee show. I have seen the 4c, 10c and 25c of the new series. Milwaukee uses the same style of type, but the overprint appears in two lines instead of three, which we designate as U-3.

Wooster, O.—Mr. Donald E. Dickason reports that the U-10 electroplate was in use during the 1924 Xmas season for a short time, and has not been used since. The U-60 handstamp has done practically all the work for this office, and has precancelled all old series values from 1c to 50c with the exception of the 13c, the new series stamps from ½c to 5c, 7c, 10c and 20c; the ½c, 1c, and 2c postage dues; and the 10c, 15c and 20c Special Deliveries.

Napoleon, O.—As a correspondent, Mr. S. Hyman of Chicago, remarks: "It is a big name for a small town." Besides the Special Handling, I have a number of the current series bearing the cancellation.

Perry, N. Y.—A new-comer. stamped of course. Very few "break into" the precancel lime-light an electroplate. Perry precancels scarce items. I have seen only the series, 10c and 30c new. The latter the overprint up, and went into the specialized collection of this stamp, by F. L. Gellerman of Cloquet, Minn

Bell Flower, Calif.—A pretty a pretty precancel, and in all proba a pretty little city. The precancels hand-stamped in three lines — Bell Flower — Calif., between short Mr. L. J. Barry has shown me the 4 9c, current issue. Springfield, Ill., hand-stamp of similar appearance is in current usage.

Pittsboro, Calif.—There are a flo new towns using precancels in Calif but I have not seen Pittsboro ment yet. A 1½c came to me on a cir handstamped in the U-53. Other that are using precancels for the time are Burbank, Garden Grove, K burg, Orland, Parlier, Sawtelle, S vale, Venice, Watsonville and Wh I am indebted to Mr. S. J. Jones calling some of these to my attentio

Bridgeport, Conn.—Has comm using Bureau precancels. The 1c, 3c, 4c, 6c and 10c perforated around the 1½c coiled are out. Trenton, has the 3c, and Elgin, Ill., the 1c c These latter varieties are among most recently issued and unchron "Bureaus".

Ironwood, Mich.—Come handsta in the U-53. Mr. J. L. Garland re the current issue from ½c to 50c clusive of the 9c, 13c, 14c, 17c, 25c 30c. All overprints read normally, the 1½c also exists inverted.

Ashland, Pa.—W. P. Snyder inf me that Ashland has precancelled values of the current series from ½ $1.00, with the U-76 handstamp. the 10c and 15c Special Deliveries, 25c Special Handling, as well as po dues from ½c to 10c.

Huntington Park, Calif.—The 9c 10 was in stock when this office rec its handstamp, and was precancelled with most of the current issue fron to $1.00. I thank Mr. O. G. Soude specimens of the type used, which handstamped in three lines of small caps between bars.

THE BI-MONTHLY JOURNAL

A house organ with an inimitable style and charm, published every two months. Each issue consists of from 32 to 48 pages, every one containing a formidable array of unusual offerings in medium and scarce sets, packets and special collections, dealers' stocks, single stamps, philatelic supplies, etc., etc.

Albert C. Munson, 412 Broadway, Houston, Texas, writes:

"I enjoy the Bi-Monthly as much as MEKEEL'S; there is no other paper, house organ, journal or circular of any kind wherein one can find such extraordinary good stock—and at such reasonable prices."

C. A. Ralston, 164 Vaughn St., Waterloo, Iowa, says:

"I am paying subscription charges for two large house organs, but would rather get along without both of them than to lose yours. If necessary, I know that I could pay a substantial subscription to the Bi-Monthly and save all of it on stamps offered in a single issue."

The Bi-Monthly Journal is a distinctive publication and absolutely free to patrons. You can't afford to be without it!

3c Carmine (Error) Envelope

UNUSED, SCOTT'S U. S. NO. 2662A

20 times as scarce as the 5c Carmine (Error) Postage Stamp. [1steM

Postpaid.....$1.00

V. SCHWEDE, 107 Columbia St., SEATTLE, WASH.

Cambridge, Ohio—Here is another case where an old unwatermarked perf. 10 issue was current at a small post office. Cambridge was issued a U-53 handstamp for precancelling. Most of the present series were so canceled, and also a number of the 1917 perf. 11 set. There remained several sheets of the old 11c perf. 10, which were also precancelled, and a few salvaged by my informant Mr. Charles E. Goulding. Mr. Goulding sends for my inspection a pair of Cambridge precancels, with one stamp showing a distinct space between the letters "A" and "M" of Cambridge. This is rather an unusual error to find on a handstamp issued by the post office department. The spacing is to be found on the 1st and 16th objects of the twenty-five subject (5x5) stamp.

Conclusion—If any reader desires the Universal Style Chart, printed on cardboard, in convenient folder form, which illustrates over 40 different types of precancelled stamps, he can secure the same from the editor of this department at a cost of sixteen cents.

Notes of interest and inquiries welcomed.

STAMP CLUB PLAY IN COSTUME

George Hetrich, M. D., of Birdsboro, Pa., sends us a clipping from the Reading (Pa.) Eagle of March 20th, which gives the particulars of a novel entertainment, in that its purpose is to popularize stamp collecting. Dr. Hetrich informs us that Mr. Mengle who wrote the play is himself a stamp collector, as is his father, who is one of the instructors at the Reading High School. The clipping follows:—

An original playlet was presented by the members of the Douglass and Weiser Junior High School Stamp Club with the assistance of members of other clubs. It was designed to show the value of stamp collecting, which is fostered by the club and was written by Arthur Mengle, director of the organization. The costumes were produced by the Home Economics Department under Miss Madeline Gehris. Miss Lillie Beeh gave much valuable assistance in the staging of the play.

The president of the stamp club, Fred Richards, introduced the playlet to the faculty and students. The title was "Philatelia's Court." The cast follows:

NEW ENGLAND FIELD DAY

By William C. Stone.

The stamp clubs of Bridgeport, New Haven, Waterbury, Hartford, Holyoke and Springfield will meet in the latter city Saturday, May 8th. The Springfield Stamp Club has arranged the following program, which will be in charge of a committee composed of members of the three local clubs.

It is planned to meet not later than three o'clock at some hotel to be announced later, and at 3.30 there will be an auction sale made up of stamps contributed by members of the clubs. At 4.30 a contest will be held at which each member is requested to submit one album page in competition, the choice of subject being left to the competitor. Originality and condition are the main points upon which the exhibits will be judged. Catalogue value will not be considered at all. Three judges will be selected from the Conn. clubs.

At 6.30 dinner will be served, the price of tickets being $2.50. One delegate from each club will be called upon to say a few words and it is hoped to adjourn not later than 9 p. m., that the guests may reach home at a seasonable hour.

For particulars write to George W. Angers, Chairman, 888 Worthington St., Springfield, Mass. Notices will be sent to members of the above clubs from time to time giving further details.

RECOMMENDATIONS BY THE P. M. G.

By PHILIP H. WARD, JR.

Under date of March 30th, the Information Service of the Post Office Department advises that the Postmaster General has just made certain recommendations to the Special Joint Committee of Congress, which is now considering legislation relative to a change in postal rates.

The act of February 28, 1925, increased the rates on private postal cards from 1c to 2c and allowed the rate on the official cards to remain at the former rate of 1c. This action was taken although the Postmaster General at the time advised that both rates be made 1½c. Because of this increase in rates on the private cards, the revenue has very materially fallen and as a result, the Postmaster General now recommends that postal cards of both classes be rated at 1c each, for he feels that the decreased rate will result in an increased revenue.

The Postmaster General makes a new and important recommendation that legislation be enacted providing for a "C. O. D. post card." Such legislation would authorize him to accept for transmission in the mails business reply cards under conditions prescribed by him at postage thereon at the regular rate for post card and an additional postage charge of not more than 2c on each card to be collected on delivery to the original mailer. Provision is made for safeguarding the compensation and allowances to the various classes of postmasters. It is estimated that such a system will result in a material increase in postal revenues, and furnish another postal facility of special importance and advantage to the public.

This recommendation refers to the return postal card. Under our present regulations if a firm desires a reply they send out a reply card for which they pay the 1c postage in advance for the return communication. Thousands of such cards are thrown into the waste basket at a loss to the sender. Under this new recommendation, postage for the return postal would be paid for on the delivery of the communication.

The Postmaster General makes another recommendation on a matter which was not covered in the act of 1925.

The law requires that mail matter of the first class upon which one full rate of postage has been prepaid must be forwarded to destination. This requirement is taken advantage of by a number of concerns by mailing heavy first class matter with deficient postage. This failure to prepay the postage not only causes an additional handling by both clerical and carrier forces, but requires more time for handling and delivery and consequently entails additional expense and labor. It is recommended that in such cases if the postage is short only one rate the deficient postage only shall be collected, but if short more than one rate the deficient postage and an additional charge of 1c for each ounce or fraction thereof shall be collected.

The act of 1925 made certain changes in rates on second class mail matter, including that applying to transient second class, so-called, that is, publications entered as second class when sent by others than publishers or news agents. These are the publications sent by the public to friends, etc.

The act increased the rates for such matter, making them 2c for each two ounces or fraction for weights not exceeding eight ounces and for weights for matter exceeding eight ounces the parcel post rates to apply.

The Postmaster General did not recommend this rate and points out that the increase is excessive and has reduced the mailings of this class of matter largely and the revenue of the Department accordingly.

He, therefore, renews his recommendation made in November that the rate be fixed at 1c for each two ounces, regardless of distance carried.

The Postmaster General shows that the rates on third class matter and on fourth class matter fixed by the act of 1925 have approximately produced the results expected by the Congress in raising additional revenue from them. He, therefore, believes that there should be no change made in the rates for these classes.

The Postmaster General makes no recommendation for changes in registry, insurance, collect-on-delivery, return receipts, special delivery and money orders, but makes a recommendation for an important change in regard to the special handling charge. At present this charge does not cover special delivery of the article. He recommends that the terms of the provision be enlarged so as to insure special delivery as well as special handling and that the rates be graduated on the basis of weight, the new rates to range from 15c to 35c. There is a special exception with regard to the higher rate and where the mailer does not wish special delivery he may have the special handling at the rate of 25c.

Air Mail Notes

Under date of March 25th the Postmaster General further announces that effective April 17th contract air mail service will be established between Salt Lake City via Las Vegas, Nev., to Los Angeles and return, a distance each way of 600 miles. The establishment of this route will materially expedite delivery of air mail to and from points in Southern California and points in the east served by the transcontinental government operated route through connection at Salt Lake City. The service will be daily and the rate of postage for this route is 10c an ounce or fraction thereof with 5c an ounce additional for each zone or part of zone. The contractor for this new route is the Western Air Express, Inc., of Los Angeles, California.

Under date of March 24th bids were opened in Washington for an air mail service between Cleveland and Pittsburgh, a distance of 100 miles. Only one bid was received, namely, from Clifford Ball of the Standard Life Building, Pittsburgh. Mr. Ball agrees to furnish the service required by the Department for 80% of the revenue derived from the route.

FAR AND NEAR:—

HAROLD JARDINE, 387 Albany St., Boston, Mass., would like the address of a Mr. Whittier, formerly located at Worcester, but now residing in the vicinity of Boston.

CAN any of our subscribers furnish R. Burnley Hall, Box 273, Lock Haven, Pa., with the address of J. C. Mills, formerly an advertiser in the WEEKLY?

WE are indebted to Leslie E. Schumann, Franklin S. Smith, and George Meckler for news items that prove of special interest.

THE 1925 Year Book of the United Stamp Societies has just been issued. The price is 25c and a copy may be obtained by writing E. L. Clark, Sec., 25 N. Franklin St., Lynn, Mass. The book contains a large amount of useful society matter, including constitution, etc. There are eleven member societies, and complete lists of officers for each society are given.

WE congratulate St. Nicholas Magazine upon the fact that it has secured the services of Philip H. Ward, Jr., as the editor of their stamp department. Mr. Ward's first article will appear in the April issue.

W. C. PHILLIPS & CO. of Hartford, Conn., has renewed its contract for 5,000 lines of advertising space for 1926. We are also inserting this week the advertising of Van-Cleland, Winnipeg, Can., who will be with us under contract. This firm is headquarters for Canadian stamps.

A COPYRIGHTED despatch is being seen in the metropolitan press dealing with philately and its effect on Djibuti. The natives have of late become quite unruly. When arrested they have been fined 50 francs and handed a receipt with a government fiscal stamp having a face value of 50 francs. The disturbers of the peace have been selling these stamps at from 80 to 100 francs. The Djibuti police are now giving unstamped receipts.

WE have received from Harry C. Frank, Delaware, Ohio, a clipping from the Long Beach (Cal.), Press-Telegram, giving the particulars of the stamp collecting activities of Harold Ward of that city. It is accompanied by a nice picture of Mr. Ward and his album.

NANKING PHILATELIC SOCIETY

By WARREN A. SEAGER.

The regular monthly meeting of the Nanking (China) Philatelic Society was held on Monday, March 1st, at the home of Rev. L. S. Ruland, with an attendance of thirteen. Business on hand was disposed of during the usual stag dinner, leaving the rest of the evening free for the society's first auction.

In some of the larger centers in China, where there is a sizable western community on which to draw for membership, stamp auctions are a part of the regular routine; but for a small organization such as the N. P. S. an auction comes as a red letter event. Mr. Ruland conducted the auction in a way that might have caused an outsider to wonder why he hadn't taken up this work for a career. Bidding was lively on many of the 50 lots offered, and all but seven lots were disposed of at satisfactory prices. Over $60 changed hands during the evening. Now that the first auction has proved successful, the society is looking forward to "better and bigger" ones.

Four of the charter members of the N. P. S. are leaving for the U. S. A. on furlough during the summer and have planned to get together in New York for the Exhibition in October.

FIVE-YEAR HONOR CLUB

Dr. T. L. Stangebye, New England, N.D.
Thomas S. Crosby, Portland, Oregon.
Earl H. Macoy, Chicago, Ill.

Our first application this week comes from Dr. T. L. Stangebye of New England, N. D., an active factor in the North Dakota State Dental Association and as well an active and enthusiastic philatelist. This has been demonstrated by his success in organizing the North Dakota Stamp Club, which, by the way, will meet in Fargo in May. In mailing us his check for $5 for membership in the Club, Dr. Stangebye conveys his congratulations to the WEEKLY and promises us some day a story or two regarding some of his good finds. He is a life member of the A. P. S., a member of the S. P. A., the Collectors Club of N. Y. City and the Collectors Club of Southern California. We are very glad to introduce our old subscriber to this new relationship with the Honor Club.

We welcome Thomas Segur Crosby, 210 Third St., Portland, Ore., to membership in our Honor Club. He includes with his remittance of $5 for five years' renewal of his subscription an equal amount to pay for five copies of the Philatelic Dictionary. This co-operation in connection with putting the Dictionary into circulation is heartily appreciated.

Our final application this week comes from Earl H. Macoy, president of the National Printing and Engraving Co. of Chicago, Ill. We are pleased to acknowledge Mr. Macoy's remittance of $5 and have extended his subscription five years.

THE MANAGING EDITOR.

Have You a Surplus of These?

We always want to buy for ready cash and at the top of the market anything fine in early U. S. stamps or covers. If you have a specialized collection of any stamp or series; a find of old correspondence; an accumulation of 3c '51s, '57s or '61s on or off cover; patriotic covers of the Civil War, either Confederate or Union, or of the Spanish American war; a few thousand Bank Note issues, even the common 2c and 3c stamps if there are enough to bother with.

Send them to us with your best cash price. Particularly if you have items you think are worth more than anyone else will pay, for that is just the kind we want. Our check or the stamps will come to you by return mail if you ask it.

Just now we are anxious to spend some real money for fine items, but don't want the culls at any price.

Number 1 is a child's mug—milk—maybe Copper Lustre! (The scene changes.) Nos. 2 and 4 are kegs, and No. 3 is a barrel for low grade furniture polish. 5 is what keeps chickens from going out nights. The Devils, 6 and 10, look on it all "as is", while the drug store emblem, 7, stands by as a first aid station. No. 8, tho of slouchy appearance, is really "high hat"; and finally the spade may be used to cover up any or all of this group which may not meet your approval.

In a previous lot, No. 2 of March 1st, an angular beast was labeled "Black Cat". From Mr. Radasch comes word that this animal is a calf, and a bucking calf, that he has some of them on his farm! Has anyone a copy of this critter on cover? While the one shown appears to be of the Manx variety, it is doubtless not so, and any information re this beast will be welcomed, for it is a fine large cancellation.

Mr. Eugene Klein has sent in a recently found R. R. cancel which seems to be unlisted, "North Pa. R. R." This comes in a single lined pmk. with small type and on 3c '57 and 3c '61 covers. Cover sent is addressed to Gwynedd, a town in Pa.

Mr. Wm. S. Eager sends in a cover, 3c used in '57 and pmkd. "Fitchburg, Ms.," to Gardner, Mass., which shows on reverse "Putnam's Penny Post" in a circle, the pmk. being without date. Who has a word to say about this pmk? It sounds unusual, and there was not any R. R. at this time connecting these two towns.

Mr. Beverly S. King has sent in a very interesting cover, "New York Dec 7 1856" falls across the 3c U. S. stamp. At top right is a "Union Square" local canceled by the PAID in ellipse. The most interesting part of this cover to me is the return address, it being a large N interlaced with a similar size S, the latter being merely outlined in colour. Each big letter contains printing. In top right serif of the N is "New York" in colorless small letters, down the slanting bar of the N is "North & South", while bottom left serif has "Philadelphia."

The other reading matter in this monogram is "North & South Air Line Company Package Express. Opposition to the New Jersey Monopoly." Below all is the return address, "3 So. Third Street, Philadelphia."

Are you acquainted with that Patriotic design labeled "Death to Traitors"? It is made up of soldiers, all in blue, the attitudes of said soldiers give us the letters of the word Traitors. These are commonly found in "mint state"; but the used cover is very seldom found. How many varieties of the Patriotic designs do you reckon exist? It must be over two thousand, i.e., "in the thousands." You will see some beautiful Patriotics at the International Exhibition. Such items as these will draw the attention of the non-philatelist who just drops in for a few

THE PRECANCEL REVIEW

F. W. ALLEN, Editor, 521 So. 4th St., Grand Forks, N. D.

A Market Review— Popular interest centers in the fractional denominations. The demand for the 1½ cent is about as keen as that for the ½ cent. However, the former stamps are quite commonly seen in the regular course of business. The ½ cent precancel has a limited use, and should be scarce, but due to the fact that it must be precanceled and kept on hand when the need demands it, most offices carry precanceled stocks of it. This makes it comparatively simple for collectors to secure quantities at a slight cost, due to the low face value, and for this reason the supply on the market is very extensive. Most dealers have sizable stocks of it and can offer varieties as low as five cents each and still have a margin for profit. I do not consider any half-cent precancel in existence worth over twenty-five cents and the majority will come within a ten cent limit. A recent attempt to "boost" the prices of individual varieties, still current, by the publishers of the Standard Precancel Catalog was met with opposition from both the trade and collecting ranks. Inflation of the price of a current stamp precanceled must be guarded against, or an orgy of speculation is apt to begin. Time, only, will bring the scarce and underpriced precancels to the fore. An effort to create "scarce" and high priced varieties, before they are obsolete can never succeed. I find that the New York ½ cent is almost unsalable, and also Chicago, Philadelphia, and Saint Louis, due to the great quantity that have been used.

Small town precancellations on the 1½ cent bring an average of about eight cents. One of the scarcest I have had was from Wailuku, Maui, Hawaii. Fifty cents would not be an extreme price for such an item. Some small towns contain manufacturing companies which send out large quantities of circular matter franked with the 1½ cent, e.g., Camden, Me., Lemont, Ill., Shelby, Ohio. Such varieties are worth only a few cents each. Bureau precancellations on this stamp are for the most part plentiful and worth little, but here and there are such varieties like Albany, N. Y., Waukegan, Ill., Macon, Ga., Fulton, N. Y., Liberty, Mo., and Marion, O., that are hard to get hold of and worth in the neighborhood of a dime.

In the current series the 14 cent ranks next in general esteem. Prof. A. F. Gamber is the leading exponent of this denomination as a stamp for specialization and has without doubt the most complete collection.

The 25 cent and 30 cent values have attracted others. The former is rather scarce and finds a ready market. No important collections have come to my notice. The 30c Bison is not in such demand as the 25c, but still is sought after. F. E. Gellerman of Cloquet, Minn., is still hunting for new specimens for the "herd" he has penned up in his Ne Plus albums, and ranks as the foremost specialist on the precancellations of this issue.

The new 13c and 17c adhesives will, of course, find favor with many of the precancel fraternity. Hardly enough varieties have been produced as yet, to make a start upon, but when they do start coming there will be plenty of waiting album pages.

Due to the stocks of five dollar stamps of the old set being unexhausted, I have not noticed any of the new ones with a precancellation. On the new two dollar, I have seen Techny, Ill., and Paonia, Colo. The high value precancels have ever been in demand on account of their scarcity. True the $5 Marshall, Perf. 10 precanceled Rochester, N. Y., and the $2 bi-color from Endicott and Rochester are held in quantity and available on the market, but outside of these three, one has to do some "tall hunting" to assemble a showing.

The 1898 and 1902 precancels have suffered to some extent in popularity, because of the increasing difficulty to obtain fine copies and the decrease in the number of general collectors who have taken to forming special collections of home states or certain denominations of recent series. The whole field of perf. 12 and 10 issues contains much of interest, but after all just as much pleasure can be secured from the later and less expensive issues. The early "dateds" are always in demand, and fetch good prices, as do the special types, such as were used at Northampton, Waterbury, Lansing, Jackson, etc. The 13c, 1902 and 1908 series, are gilt-edge property.

Perforation variation is not such an important consideration with the precancel collector. The 1912-15 and 1914-17 stamps, perforated 12 and 10 respectively, are quoted at respectable prices in the Standard Precancel Catalog, but do not sell rapidly because of a scattered and very limited demand.

Freaks, errors, misprints, etc., are generally quick to sell as the unusual attracts most of us. I procured a 6c current issue, precanceled Philadelphia, on double paper, recently from an eastern collector. Also a beautiful block of nine (3x3) of the 2c 1914, precanceled with the Chicago mail-order house handstamp that had the error "CHIACGO" on one of its subjects, showing six stamps with the erroneous spelling and the center row of three with the correct overprint. It is this class of material that stands out in any collection and for which there will always be a constant demand.

Plate varieties are called for by an occasional customer, but most ignore them as a rule. There is no field so rich in interest and study as precancels showing cracked, broken, and worn subjects on electroplates. I presume the time will come when they will be much sought and perhaps attempts to "plate" precancels will be in vogue. Mr. E. M. Oleson of Minneapolis tells me he had a pleasant time locating all the "breaks" in the present San Francisco type, and when he accomplished the task without reference to a plate proof or entire sheet, he deserves commendation. There are twelve distinct flaws that have been caused through damage to the plate. I hope to cover these soon in a special article.

If I were asked what I consider to be the precancels overlooked by the majority of collectors, I should unhesitatingly reply "the large red Parcel Post series". While these were in public use they were widely precanceled. For many of them,

Knowledge Is Power = Dollars
Do you realize how often you "give up" or "pass by" a real rare variety thru lack of knowledge?
Let me explain: Denmark No. 2, 4rbs brown is known with over 150 different numeral cancellations. No. 1 is worth $0.20 but dozens of them are worth $5.00 to $10.00 each and a few are rarities.
All these and nearly all Danish varieties are priced in my new Detailed Priced Catalogue of Danish Stamps of 1851-1899. I quote prices of shades, pairs, strips of three, four, six, blocks, sheets, stamps on cover, cancellations, recuts and scores of Inverted Frames, never before priced.
Illustrated Catalogue, 52 pages, printed on one side only, price $1.00 postfree. Books of used Danish Stamps can be sent on approval. [tf special types were used and we find a wide range of variety. They do not appear to be popular at present, but a few years ago they were very much in demand. I look for a reversal in favor to come some day, for they are deserving of attention.

The Victory stamp precanceled has been reported as being in great demand, but I do not find such to be the case. The Pilgrim issue also seems to have been forgotten and commemoratives in general do not occupy their former place in the lime-light. Perhaps this is best for the hobby.

The most striking feature of the present precancel market is the strength shown by the 2 cent black Harding. It continues to retain many followers. Nearly twelve months ago the stamp had a sudden and sad fall caused by price inflation and prolific speculation, but is now on the upward trend as the "weeding out" process has been completed and the worthwhile items are becoming better known.

I trust that this market review has been of interest to many readers. Precancels are to be recommended for both study and investment. I do not wish to stress the latter too much, but it should be kept in mind that the precancel hobby is steadily growing in favor and there is ample indication of a bright future.

A LIBRARY SHOWER

A subscriber suggests that it would be a good plan if local collectors and especially local stamp clubs should put in the boys' departments of Public Libraries a copy of our Philatelic Dictionary. We would like to cheapen the price of $1 plus zone postage were it possible for us to do so, but the fact is that every copy of this book is now sold at a financial loss. If you think well of this proposition procure a copy of this book for your Library and we shall acknowledge your co-operation.

UNITED SOCIETIES CONVENTION

The Hackensack Philatelic Society have about completed their plans for entertaining the delegates from the different member clubs of the United Stamp Societies at the 8th Annual Convention to be held at Hackensack, N. J., on May 31, 1926. The Convention will be held at the Y. M. C. A., corner of Main and Passaic Streets and the Banquet will be held in the main dining room of the Oritani Field Club on Main Street. Since the last convention held at Worcester, Mass., the following local societies have been added to membership: Metropolitan Philatelic Society, Boston, Mass.; Syracuse Stamp Club, Syracuse, N. Y.; Paterson Stamp Club, Paterson, N. J.; New York Philatelic Society, New York, N. Y.; Capital City Philatelic Society, Harrisburg, Pa.; and Delaware Stamp Club, Wilmington, Del., making a total membership of seventeen clubs. Membership is open to any local society. The U.S.S. is different from other societies in that its membership is composed of local clubs and not individuals. The Hackensack Society extends an invitation to any local, not now a member, to send an unofficial delegate for the purpose of learning the aims and purposes of the U.S.S.

EDITORIAL.

An absence from the desk for a week has resulted in some congestion of correspondence, but in due course of time, an inroad will be made in the accumulation and the usual routine will be observed.

Our Washington correspondent who has been hinting at the possibility of certain special issues says that there is a likelihood that an announcement will be made of a celebration issue, the nature of which may not be divulged. It is to be one that has not been the recipient of any public notice, we are informed.

The following tribute is paid to C. E. R., whose article, "Worth More Than Radium," struck a new vein in the issue of March 15, 1926: "In glancing over your paper I note the article, 'Worth More Than Radium,' by C. E. R., and I cannot refrain from expressing my appreciation for C. E. R., whoever he may be. The writer of the study is a genius of high mentality and I venture to say that his logic will do more to increase interest in collecting that anything else written in years. It belongs in the daily press all over this broad land where it will catch the alert minds, needing less violent distractions. The last line, 'And I'd look at 'em and moralize,' speaks volumes and makes us realize, whether we want to or not, that after all, the 'joie de vivre' is worth more than all the filthy lucre in the world. John M. Sadler, Muncie, Indiana."

The following letter from Mr. Godfrey Schirmer, Denver, Colorado, is referred to readers in the hope that some one among them will supply Mr. Schirmir with the needed material: "As I contemplate giving a talk over the radio in connection with stamp collecting, in which I am very much interested, I find a note in your publication under date of February 8th, that you will be glad to furnish to those desiring it, some material and information in connection with a talk of this kind. Godfrey Schirmer, President, the American National Bank, Denver, Colorado." We have supplied various applicants with data until we have exhausted all the printed "talks" on hand and we are obliged to call upon readers for assistance in this worthy cause. We hope that the several readers who promised to prepare matter suitable for radio and other use will work to early advantage.

From Mr. W. E. Whitnall, Woodside, Heswall Hill, Birkenhead, England, we have received the following correction: "Re Mr. C. A. Howes' 'Washington-First on our Stamps' in the issue of the WEEKLY of February, 1926. There are the same mistakes as when the article was first printed (under another title) in the issue of Feb. 22, 1913. I read, near the end of the second paragraph ', . . distances under three thousand miles.' Last three words of third '. . . three thousand miles.' Both of these are mistakes. In each case it should be 'three hundred miles.' See second column on page 124 of issue of April 12, 1913, where you print a letter I sent you pointing out the same error." Mr. Whitnall does not weary of well-doing and again we set the records right. We remember Mr. Whitnall as having been much interested in the line varieties on the plates of U. S. of the Bureau prints and in this connection we may say that we have received an excellent article on the subject of arrow and line varieties from Mr. Jno. J. Spenser, Saginaw, Michigan, who is a keen student of these plate pieces, which will have space, with cuts, in a coming issue.

The recent "Saturday Evening Post" article on antiques, in which a reference to philately was made, has attracted the attention of a number of readers. The writer who uses a paragraph for the benefit of stamps is somewhat uncertain in his philatelic touch and it is none too flattering to read that stamp collectors in the aggregate have "precious little" knowledge of their objects of collection, but his remark that " you've got to know your subject" is not open to argument. The writer stresses the importance of condition and undertakes to compare prices for fine and for poor copies.

There is much philatelic activity indicated in Canada and reports from different centers show that the ground gained through the recent Montreal exhibition is being well cultivated. We learn from the Leader of Regina, Saskatchewan, that the Regina Philatelic Club held an exhibit at the Regina Public Library and the newspaper's account is headed, "'Good as Trip Round World,' is Said of Stamp Exhibition." Among the exhibitors was Mr. J. B. Parker, the president of the club who showed Dutch and colonies and there were other displays of a kind intended to have a decided popular appeal. President Parker said that the object of the exhibit was to interest the townspeople and particularly the younger element in stamps with a suitable object lesson; and it is hoped to have a stamp showing at the Regina fair later in the year.

Mr. Thos. Nixon, Toronto, Can., has sent us a copy of J. W. Palmer's Bric-à-Brac, London, dated December, 1885, whose title-page is adorned by several portraits of the redoubtable J. W. Palmer, himself. Older collectors will remem this somewhat singular man and his pap and recall how they were impressed wi the sapience of this nemesis of the forg stamp, as he advertised himself. Too, t pictures of his store at 281 Strand, Lo don, with its sign, "No Forged Stam Sold Here," and many other flaring a nouncements of the "oldest stamp me chant in the world" who styled himse as well, as "the exterminator of forg stamps" were dwelt upon by many pai of eyes forty years ago. In 1885, M Palmer advertised that he was givi special attention to "the English postag stamp department" and that his stock plate numbers was a vast one. We l lieve that Mr. Palmer was the subje of a little work, by Francis Neale, e titled "Romance in Reality; or, T Story of an Eventful Life."

At different times readers have aske about postal service in Labrador and v remember having secured information the subject for their benefit. In the N York Times of March 28, 1926, a stirri story is found telling how "huskies a their mushers" are "the only means winter communication through 700 mil of Icebound Territory in Labrador." M S. Tanner Green describes the dog pos and furthermore tells of what in effe are "franked envelopes" that are em ployed in mail carriage. We quot "This winter an enterprising individua thoroughly familiar with what obtains that region, had some special covers pr pared, which in an ocular manner sho how the arduously accomplished mail se vice functions in that isolated Canadia tract. The covers themselves bearing a tly do, a dog-team design and the in scription, 'Par cometique', 'By Labrador dog-team post,' were not officially issued by the Canadian Post Office, but are the ocial embossed stamped envelopes in crent use, to which the design in print in has been added outside post office p cincts; but inasmuch as they are prop erly prepaid the regular rates of postage, registered or ordinary, and since they pass over the route in the regular mails to their several destinations, they are a genuine record in every other sense." THOSE NEW SOUTH AFRICAN STAMPS

By STEPHEN G. RICH

(Probably there will be some more new ones issued by the time this gets to Beverly to be edited and to Portland to be set up; but I'll chance it anyway.)

No sooner had these three really agreeable additions to our collections come along than the Anvil Chorus commenced, and be it noted that thus far it is mainly the British who form the chorus. Hence someone must arise in their praise and since nobody else has the brass, Rich the Bookman does it.

Let me record my opinion at the start that the gray-blue color chosen for the three-cornered 4d stamp is a particularly happy choice. In contrast to the over-deep blues and reds used in its prototypes of 1854, this new stamp is printed in a shade, that in the dozen specimens of each language-variety that I have seen is particularly well fitted to bring out the fine beauty of the design. In fact, it is the color of the 1861 De La Rue print, Scott No. 13a, as closely matched as practicable. This No. 13a is considered by at least one specialist in Three-Cornered Capes that I know as the most artistically satisfactory of all the three-cornered set.

The Union government has shown good judgment in using the triangular and imperforate combination on the 4d stamp and not on the more extensively used denominations. Just as we here use an 8-cent stamp comparatively infrequently, and usually one at a time on a parcel, so the 4d stamp is one that can be provided in this condition without serious inconvenience to users. Sold as they are in packets, with the stamps cut apart, they are certainly of as great convenience as perforated stamps that have to be torn from the sheet or the roll.

The Anvil Chorus that objects to separate stamps in Dutch and in English for each denomination is basing its criticisms on a misunderstanding. In the constitution of the Union of South Africa it is provided that all government documents, securities, and papers shall be available in both English and Dutch. In the 1910 commemorative issue and the 1913-22 regular issues, the attempt was made to have both Dutch and English inscriptions on the same stamp. That this overloaded each stamp with lettering will be obvious to anyone who examines these stamps; and that the new device makes for a more satisfactory-appearing stamp in each case, will be equally obvious. Furthermore, this policy is in line with the surcharges for Southwest Africa previously issued by the Union government.

An outstanding feature that has apparently not been noticed by chroniclers is the fact that the Dutch stamps are inscribed, not in Holland Dutch or "High Dutch", as was the case with previous issues, but that the phonetically-spelled variety of Dutch called Afrikaans (not "Afrikander" as one of the Anvil Chorus labels it), which is in general use in South Africa. This is not the first use of Afrikaans on stamps, however, for the Union government used it on its four air mail stamps last year and in the latest settings of surcharges for Southwest Africa.

Now for some strictly philatelic details. The ½d and 1d are perf. 14.5x14; not 15x14 as one chronicler (not MEKEEL'S) gives it. No shades of the ½d have yet been seen by me; but the 1d and 4d show quite a little variation. The lot of 1d sold on the first day of sale (Jan. 1), at Johannesburg, was carmine and black; a cover from Newcastle, Natal, dated Jan. 6, addressed to me, shows the 1d in carmine-rose; and a cover sent me from Johannesburg on Jan. 26, has a lighter shade of pale rose with gray-black center. The 4d in English shows four clearly recognizable shades of gray-blue; and the 4d in Dutch three such shades. The darker shades appear to have been those first placed on sale, as what first-day covers I have seen show these shades; but at least two of the shades of the English stamp are lighter than any shades I have yet seen of the Dutch stamp.

As yet, inverted watermarks have not appeared.

A prediction may be in order at this stage. From the fact that the original Cape design has been revived, we may possibly expect to see some design from each of the other three provinces of the Union included in the series. That will of course mean the good old rectangular design with orange tree from the Orange Free State (for a while masquerading as "Orange River Colony"); but what Natal and Transvaal will contribute I cannot guess.

The series thus far is strictly in line with the policy of the present Nationalist government of South Africa. Both languages are given equal rights and stamps without the intrusion of the other; the designs are alike for both languages. The present government is consistently embarking upon the cultivation of South African patriotism, and is endeavoring to make available in both languages objects of national pride. For the Dutch-speaking South Africans, this means recognition of the English-speaking people as equally South Africans with themselves. For the English-speaking South Africans, this means setting aside the delusion that they are "British" and recognizing that they are South Africans and a part of the South African nation. The abandonment of the royal head on the stamps and the provision of separate stamps for each language are means purposely adopted towards that end. And we in America, troubled as we are to Americanize the immigrants, cannot but wish this autonomous kingdom, a republic in all but name, united to Britain by having the same king, all success in its efforts, through philately as well as through other means, to achieve national unity and national consciousness.

10c BLACK, SCOTT'S No. 29

One of the most popular stamps ever issued is the U. S. 1847, 10c black with portrait of Washington by Gilbert Stuart. Belonging to our first general issue — every collector of American stamps desires a copy. The fact that the variety is now platable has caused an unusual demand, with the result that copies are more difficult to obtain. Right at present I have on hand a number of this variety—all of them plated—and can furnish many of the positions. In addition to single copies off cover, I have on hand several pairs and singles on the cover.

For one who is not so particular as to condition, I can furnish what many would call a fine copy, a little close, at $18.00—good copies which are generally called very fine at $25.00 and superb copies at $40.00. In the way of covers, I can furnish perfection copies at $60.00 each. Pairs are priced in accordance with condition.

Please remember that I have a substantial stock of our other issues as well, but simply picked out this one stamp because of its popularity. Whether you want singles, strips, blocks or covers, used or unused, I am likely to have them.

My stock of the United States issues is the largest in the hands of any professional, so that if you are looking for something in United States, you are likely to find it here if it is available anywhere. Want lists of all sizes are solicited, whether large or small.

Always in the market to buy fine United States. What have you to offer?

Current Issue Oddities

Mr. W. A. Langdon has kindly submitted for inspection several oddities of the current issue, which he has recently acquired. He has located several strips of the 2c rotary in vertical blocks of twenty showing the entire left row with badly inked impressions, so that the stamps are only partially printed. These were penciled at the Bureau and the sheets should have been destroyed.

In addition, he has shown me a sheet of one hundred of the 5c rotary from plate 17587—the sheet showing the joint in the paper, giving us the so-called double paper varieties. Heretofore we have found the following rotary prints in similar condition: 1c of 1917, the 1c of 1922 and the 2c Harding.

Mr. Langdon also submits a block of four of the 12c Cleveland from the southeast pane, wherein the second stamp shows a distinct shirt stud. This seems to be an oddity in the plate, but I cannot definitely state without seeing further copies from the same position. Unfortunately we are not aware as to the plate number.

Plate Numbers Continued

Through the courtesy of Mr. A. W. Hall, Director of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, we are enabled to bring our plate numbers up to and including those issued to March 19, 1926. It will be noticed from the list that practically all of the plates are of the rotary type, for as mentioned in this column a few weeks back, after July 1st it is hoped that all denominations, from 1c to 10c inclusive, will be produced by the rotary press exclusively. This list furnishes us with no new variety that has not already appeared.

YOU COLLECT UNITED STATES

Do you know that over one hundred cities have had special stamps printed for t by the United States Government at the Bureau of Printing and Engraving, Washing D. C.? All these stamps are of the rotary press. The name of each town is printe denominations ranging from the one cent to the ten cent, inclusive, at the same t that the stamps are printed, perforated and gummed. Ordinarily, these stamps termed Precancels, but we like to term them Special City Stamps of the Rotary P or Washington Print for Special Use in Cities.

These Stamps Are Distinct Major United Stat Varieties

They may be compared to the Colonial issues of England. Our various city gov ments are as complex units as are the majority of the British Colonies. You se reality, these issues are special local stamps printed at Washington for use only in respective cities for which they are issued.

ECHUANALAND.—Mr. R. Roberts advises that the 6p Great Britain stamp, overmarked with the new style watermark has been overprinted vertically for use in this colony.

ENMARK.—We have received from M. W. T. Wilson the three values of the Jubilee set issued the 12th of March. The stamps are similar in design to the 1851 issue, the 10ö is green and has in the centre "10 ore" while the inscription has "Danmark" to the left and the figures "1851-1926" to the right. The 20ö is red and has the same central design as the 4r of the 1851 series. The name of the country is at the top and the value at the base, while at the left is "1851" and the date of this year is at the right. The 30 is the same design as the previous value, but the color is blue. Mr. Wilson adds that these will be on sale for two months only, during which time the postal stamps of the values concerned will not be sold. Mr. A. F. Pade also sends copies for our inspection.

Mr. R. Roberts sends us a new 10ö green postage due stamp. Across the central part of the stamp is the word "Gebyrmaerke" with the usual Danish Crown above and figures of value at each side. The name of the country is at the top and the base, the figure of value in very small type with "Ore" on each side.

JAPAN.—Frederick D. Markee has shown us the 13s brown, which was reported as having been issued sometime ago. The color is dull shade and in the type of Scott's A35.

MADAGASCAR.—The Economist Stamp Co. have shown us the 65c in black and blue and the 85c in green and red, both in the 1908-17 type.

MEXICO.—The Economist Stamp Co. report that the 2c scarlet, 3c bistre brown and 10c claret of the 1923 issue have been surcharged "Oficial", the first and last values having a blue overprint and the 3c a red.

MONACO.—Mr. R. Roberts sends the following additional values in the postage due stamps: 20c bistre, 60c grey and the 1fr brown on buff.

PARAGUAY.—Whitfield King & Co. inform us that the 1 peso dark blue of the 1925 issue has been surcharged with "C" in red in the upper right corner.

RAROTONGA.—Mr. G. V. Stewart informs us that the old Queen's Head stamps of this colony, which have been on sale concurrently with the Pictorials have been withdrawn and the remainder stocks destroyed.

SALVADOR.—The Economist Stamp Co. advise that the 5c black and the 10c orange of the 1924-25 series have been overprinted "Oficial", the former in black and the latter in red.

SOUTH AFRICA.—We learn from several sources that only a very limited number of the 4p imperforate were issued in unsevered sheets, and joined pairs should be rare. Later orders were supplied by the P. O. already cut up.

SOUTH WEST AFRICA.—Whitfield King & Co. call our attention to the difference between the first and second printing of the new 4p triangular stamp bearing the surcharge "South West Africa" and "Suidwes Afrika." The first printing is of a grey blue color while the 2nd is more of a greenish blue shade.

UNION OF SOUTH AFRICA.—The following is from the January number of the South African Philatelist, but, to date, the only values issued are the ½d, 1d and 4d.

The 2d value was not issued on January 1st as insufficient supplies have been

MY FINE, LARGE STOCK OF MINT 20th CENTURY BRITISH COLONIALS IS AT YOUR SERVICE. WHAT DO YOU NEED?

MAXWELL KRAUSE, Lebanon, Pa.

ADLETS

Minimum two lines.

RATE.—30c per line, cash in advance. No display allowed. Six words (32 letters) to the line, including address. We offer 50 lines for $12.50, where cash is paid in advance. This space can be used at such times and in such quantities as may be desired.

This column is for the use of our patrons who desire only a few lines of space. If you want to buy, sell, exchange, it is without doubt the best advertising medium in the world. It is impossible to guarantee advertisers in this department, and patrons must satisfy themselves as to the reliability of the parties with whom they desire to engage in business relations.

received. It will probably appear month. Its frame will be in mauve, the picture of the Union Buildings i centre will be in black. No detail garding the 3d stamp, which will l sale shortly, are available, but th denomination will carry the likene an orange tree (in black) in the c while its frame will be in yellow.

That the new series will includ values up to £1 seems certain in vie official statement to postmasters tha plies of all values to £1 of the k Head type will be issued to postma until they are used up.

At present postmasters are prec from requisitioning speciafly for the halfpenny and penny stamps, it stated that a proportion of the old new stamps will be sent against re tions.

Another instruction to postmaste that they may keep a special accou the 4d triangular in the column in books previously used for 1½d st This seems to suggest that the 1½d sive has been withdrawn from sale.

Each issue consists of from 32 to 48 pages, every one containing a formidable array of unusual offerings in medium and scarce sets, packets and special collections, dealers' stocks, single stamps, philatelic supplies, etc., etc.

Albert C. Munson, 412 Broadway, Houston, Texas, writes:

"I enjoy the Bi-Monthly as much as MEKEEL'S; there is no other paper, house organ, journal or circular of any kind wherein one can find such extraordinary good stock—and at such reasonable prices."

C. A. Ralston, 164 Vaughn St., Waterloo, Iowa, says:

"I am paying subscription charges for two large house organs, but would rather get along without both of them than to lose yours. If necessary, I know that I could pay a substantial subscription to the Bi-Monthly and save all of it on stamps offered in a single issue."

The Bi-Monthly Journal is a distinctive publication and absolutely free to patrons. You can't afford to be without it!

STRAY ITEMS:—

THE Convention of the Texas Philatelic Association will meet at Galveston, May 15 to 17, 1926. An ambitious program has been arranged and the features advertised will doubtless result in a big attendance. Among other things there will be a major event, "Galveston's Bathing Girl Review and International Pageant of Pulchritude."

A STAMP club has been formed in Schenectady, N. Y., with Joseph Stein, a High School Junior, as president. Meetings will be held Saturday evenings at 8 o'clock at 42 Forest Road.

THE Burtis Novelty Co. is sending out a circular in which they offer a three months' trial subscription to our publication in connection with purchases of $1 or more. We thank this company for this superb courtesy.

ALBANY, N. Y., is to have a new stamp club if sufficient interest can be aroused. C. W. Graham, 25 Washington Av., has charge of the movement and will be glad to hear from interested collectors residing in or near the city.

THE North Dakota Collectors Club will meet at the Fargo Y. M. C. A., May 21-22. Collectors whose itineraries include Fargo are cordially invited to attend.—A. F. GAMBER, Sec.

A NEW adlet advertiser will now be found in the WEEKLY. Herbert S. Ackerman, specializing in U. S. sidelines, has taken fifty lines of adlet space.

BANGOR, Maine, has a new stamp club called the Penobscot Valley Stamp Collectors Club. It held its fourth meeting March 30 and has twenty members. W. B. Gould, Hammond St., Bangor, will be glad to receive advice and suggestions about rules and procedure from any old club members.

MELVILLE J. BOYER, whose displayed advertising will be found in this and subsequent issues, is a professor in the Social Science Department of the Allentown, Pa., High School. He has for a number of years been an enthusiastic philatelist.

WE have received a letter from A. H. Wilhelm, president of the A. P. S., in which he expresses his hearty appreciation of the many courtesies extended him while on his trip through the south-west. He traveled as far south as New Orleans and then east to Cincinnati. Mrs. Wilhelm accompanied him and they were heartily welcomed and royally entertained wherever they happened to be. Pres. Wilhelm hopes that his trip may bear fruit in an awakened interest in local and branch societies. He feels that the south is a philatelic field that has been somewhat neglected. In some localities it was noted that the stamp club visited was not an A. P. S. Branch, but an independent organization. This, Mr. Wilhelm feels, should be corrected.

COLOSSAL VALUE!

Realizing the advertising value to us of an offering which will excite the wonderment and pleased comment of every purchaser, it is our practice to offer once each year a Combination Outfit of magnificent worth.

The Goliath Combination Outfit is our headliner for 1926—and far eclipses all previous standards of value. Every stamp is guaranteed genuine and in good condition. The catalogue value exceeds $83.00, and if purchased individually from approval sheets, the stamps in this outfit would probably cost you almost $40.00 net!

Study the big list of contents below and rush your order by return mail. We will make a little wager with you that you'll find the Goliath Combination the biggest Five Dollars' worth you've ever seen!

Contains all of the following:

		Scott's Catalogue Value
1,500	All Different. Includes Bulgaria, Australia, Danzig, Prussia, Serbia, South America, Memel, Wurtemberg, Portuguese Colonials, large French Colonials, etc. All good copies, genuine stamps, all different (no duplicates) with many unused. A really fine collection for anyone having less than four or five thousand varieties. Catalogue value is somewhat in excess of	$30.00
1	"Billion-Dollar" Packet. Consisting of 110 different unused Germany and Danzig which—figured at the prewar value of the mark—have a nominal (face) value of $1,002,176,450.25! These stamps form "a story without words" showing the complete collapse and downfall of a great nation. They are of great historical interest and every serious collector should have them. Cat. value over	2.25
1,000	Used Stamps. All free of paper; over one hundred different kinds and not more than 25 of any variety. Unpicked, in sealed envelopes, just as received from European prison inmates. Probably all cheap stamps, but you might find something good. A fine lot for exchange purposes. Cat. value estimated at about	20.00
1	Barbarian Packet. Stamps from the lands of bandits, anarchists, desperadoes, savages, bush-whackers, sun-worshippers, cannibals and head-hunters! Includes Transvaal, Togo, Cameroons, Abyssinia, Travancore, Cochin, Congo, Tchad, Siam, Dutch Indies, Nyassa, Fiji Islands, French Equatorial Africa, Gabon, Gwalior, Hyderabad, Jhind, Patiala, Dominican Republic, Philippines, Malay, etc.	..
1,000	Unused Stamps. A beautiful packet of recent issues, all in mint condition (never hinged). An opportunity for the trader or student. Catalogue value will probably exceed	20.00

SPEAK NOW---

OR FOREVER HOLD YOUR PEACE

Here's your last chance to get in on this philatelic opportunity. Before very long the United States will be covered by a network of Air Mail routes. Then a collection of Air Mail covers with the First Flight cancellations of the cities now being linked up in the Contract Air Mail system will be a valuable property. Besides which, think of the pleasure and satisfaction you will get from being associated with Uncle Sam's romantic commercial conquest of the air.

I have a limited number of First Flight covers with cancellations of cities where contract air mail already operates (Detroit, etc.) which I shall reserve for and sell to those who reply to this ad. Then, from now on, each subscriber will receive First Flight covers of all new routes, as established, at the service charge as given below.

All of the Air Mail covers which I supply are actually flown and prove such by their backstamps. They are uniform in size and bear the regulation red, white and blue stripes, making them very attractive in appearance. Many are the words of praise for them I've received.

Herewith $2.00 deposit which you are to hold intact as long as I partake of this service and return to me whenever I wish to discontinue. Beginning upon receipt of this application, without further notice from me and in so far as possible send me First Flight Air Mail covers indicated below of each new contract air mail route as placed in operation. I will pay for them promptly upon receipt of your bills, at the rate of 25c per cover plus the face value of stamps required for postage. All will be actually flown and franked with air mail stamps.

☐ A. Two covers (one each way, from terminal to terminal) of each new contract air mail route.

☐ B. Same as "A" but with addition of one cover from each city where plane stops en route. (For example, on Boston-New York route plane will land at Hartford. If you order "B" you will receive a cover with Hartford cancellation in addition to one flown from Boston to New York and one flown from New York to Boston.

☐ BB. Each city to each other city on each route. This gives you "A" plus one cover each way from each city between terminals, "complete coverage".

☐ C. One cover via each contract route and transcontinental route addressed direct to you. (Provided contract connects with trans.)

BITS OF NEWS:—

INFORMATION comes from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, that the Lawrence Bros. of Coe College recently gave a stamp talk over the local radio station, WJAM.

WE have received from Herman W. Boers a sample of the menu card issued by the Michigan Stamp Club in connection with their annual banquet, held Mar. 20. It is in the form of a postage stamp, including perforations. As an introduction to the menu we find this bit of conversation:—"Hawaii? Are you Hungary?" "Yes, Siam." "Come on, we'll Fiji." The various items of the menu all had a philatelic flavoring.

WE are advised that Arthur Barger of the Barger Stamp Co., Framingham, Mass., has recently been taken ill with pneumonia and confined in the local hospital. He is now convalescent and will soon be able to give attention to business.

OUR friend, Wm. D. Pierson of Waterbury, Conn., writes further Jamaica Nos. 79 and 92 as follows:—"Mr. Krause wrote me a few days ago calling my attention to the fact that the misplacement was due to the double printing. As the two shades of blue could be obtained in a single operation I was led to believe that this particular value had produced a variety. I am glad to acknowledge my mistake."

IN our issue of March 8 we referred to the fact that there were two stamp magazines in Great Britain quite similar in name. We had no idea of intimating that this constituted the total output of British newspaper activitives. Mr. Harris, of the Philatelic Magazine, is desirous that our readers shall know that his publication is also very much to the front, and we are pleased to commend it to any of our readers who may desire to have a publication from across the water.

WE have received another lot of the large J. P. S. stickers, issued to advertise the Society's free trip to New York. We can furnish a supply for a postage stamp.

minutes with his stamp collecting friend, and they will probably spend all of a "few minutes", probably till curfew calls.

After the non-philatelists have had their peep at "that British Guiana stamp", they will doubtless wander around and get acquainted with some Airmails, Patriotics, covers before stamps, or maybe odd cancellations. It is such displays that attract the "Uitlander", and who knows, some little bit of charm which we overlook entirely, may turn this visitor into one of the throng who make philately what it is—a fascinating, time dispelling attraction.

SUBSCRIPTION RENEWALS

Some of our subscribers need to know our rule regarding discontinuances. We discontinue all subscriptions in arrears promptly the second issue of each month. This means that your subscription should be renewed prior to expiration. The expiration number can be ascertained by consulting your wrapper. No free copies of the Weekly are sent out and this rule is as fixed as the laws of the M. and P. Our older subscribers understand our rule and the newer subscribers should get acquainted with it.

THE PHILATELIC INSTRUCTOR

By FRANCIS M. BOTELHO, Ph.D., Wayne, Pa.

CHAPTER XVIII.

Methods and Policies for Dealers.

Assuming you have decided to become a stamp-dealer, I think you will be interested in a few suggestions that I offer from my varied merchandising experience and from my special investigation of those who are buying and selling stamps for profit.

The philatelic business while unlike the hardware business has nevertheless many fundamental points in common.

For instance, sources of supply must be established, competitive prices must be fixed, stocks must be maintained in such wise as to be easily accessible, specialties require featuring, advertising is needed, and so forth.

Most important of all is a basic policy. By this, I mean that you must have a definite idea of what you propose to accomplish through dealing in stamps. Merely to have a general notion that you want to make money out of the game is scarcely sufficient, for it does not enable you to formulate clear-cut working programs. By "working programs" I refer to outlines of what you intend to do in the carrying out of your business rather than what hours or days you set aside for the routine matters.

A good policy that may be adopted by all new dealers would be something in the following order:

1. RESOLVED: To give prominence to offerings of assembled sets, packets, and collections, and to prepare these in assortments and at prices to suit the needs and pockets of collectors having in their collections varieties of up to ——— different.

By having such a working rule before you, the result will be that you will avoid scattering your energy in a number of unrelated directions. You will be led to concentrate your efforts, aiming at one central target so to speak. That should enable you to build up a good trade within the scope chosen, for you will learn what to have and to feature.

However, you may not care to deal in material of interest to comparatively beginners only. Perhaps you have already gathered stocks of rarer and more specialized specimens that should appeal to advanced philatelists. If so, your basic policy would be somewhat in the following nature:

2. RESOLVED: To feature higher priced items through approval sheets and books, offering at ——% below current catalogue prices.

This would mean that you will not seek the school-boy trade, nor even the older tyros. Your success will be entirely dependent on what you really deliver, which means your sales will be in a very pronounced manner dependent upon what you submit on approval.

Still again, you may decide to try for the business of both embryo and advanced collectors.

You may also want to sell only at retail and strictly by mail. You may even wish to do both a counter and mail business. There is nothing to prevent you from doing what you like best. But your final decision will be governed by your own facilities.

After you have established for yourself a definite policy your next step is to consolidate your sources of supply.

There are several big stamp houses (in the United States, Canada, England, Germany, France, Switzerland, Portugal, etc.) that, besides selling at retail, do an important part of their business in supplying at wholesale the smaller dealers who in their turn sell both at wholesale to yet smaller dealers and at retail to individual philatelists who purchase for their albums.

At first glance, it would seem that the small dealer would have little scope when his supplier also sells at retail. But this supposition is not well founded. In the first place, the big house has overhead expenses which the smaller operator has not. This means the latter can always sell at retail more cheaply. The system, therefore, is to buy from the former "in bulk" at reduced prices and to sell "piecemeal" at a margin.

Another way to secure quantity supplies is to exchange "in bulk" with other dealers abroad. Needless to say, the quality and assortment obtainable by this means cannot be always very good. But this system provides the "fillers," and leaves only the more desirable numbers to be purchased from the wholesale jobber.

The greatest factor in the stamp business is the time consumed in detaching the paper adhering to the labels, eliminating the damaged specimens, sorting out the material, grouping for packets, picking out for approval offerings, affixing to sheets, pricing the stamps, etc. All of this, however, is not much more different from any other line of industrial or commercial activity. In fact, there is the advantage of freedom from noise, grease, tax on health, foul air, etc.

There is, I feel constrained to add, a point of major importance that every stamp dealer should constantly bear in mind. It is this: Whereas, the nature of the business means appreciable profit can be had only by numerous sales in the course of a given period, the possibility is ever present of your coming across valuable "finds" and when you locate them your profit can reach extremely gratifying totals very rapidly.

Whatever policy you adopt, whatever methods you employ, I hope you will never forget that honesty is the surest, though not always the quickest, key for opening the door to material and spiritual well-being.

1½c Revalued Envelopes 1½c

We have refrained from selling these before, as we considered the prices asked to be too high. Now, however, we have been able to get a stock of most of the different types and papers at a reasonable price and can offer no less than 15 distinct and different varieties cut square or entire and correctly numbered for only $2.25.

This includes many that have been offered at from $1.50 to $15.00 each—and is a real bargain.

$1.00 Cancellation Cards

Odd and colored cancellations on old U. S. stamps are daily increasing in popularity and incidentally in price. Nothing can touch them in adding tone and attractiveness to any collection.

I am again making up special lots for those who have not progressed far in this interesting sideline. Each lot is mounted on an approval card with the year of issue, catalogue number and a description of the cancellation written under each stamp. All stamps are selected for distinct cancellations such as "Paid," Stars, targets, odd designs, colored inks, numerals, letters, etc., and no issues later than 1890 are included.

10 different cancellations on stamps in nice, undamaged condition, $1.00
Postpaid and returnable, if unsatisfactory.

BRITISH HONDURAS DUES

By Harry E. Huber.

On Jan. 2, 1923, Postage Due stamps of two denominations, 2c and 4c black, were introduced by British Honduras, to which a 1c value was added Nov. 1, 1923. These stamps were typographically printed in sheets of 60, without plate numbering, on script CA paper. The 4c is known with watermark inverted.

Section 4 of the regulations governing the issue and use of these stamps (made by the Governor in Council under subsection 1 of section 5 of Chapter 130 of the Consolidated Laws (Revised Edition), on the 8th day of November, 1922, provided that "Postage Due stamps shall not under any circumstance be issued to the public uncancelled."

Later (February 21, 1923) this section was amended to allow of their sale in mint condition to collectors and dealers:

"4.—Postage Due stamps shall not, under any circumstance, be sold to the public uncancelled across the counter. Their issue uncancelled will be made to philatelists by the Colonial Postmaster only on written application accompanied by their face value plus postage and registration when necessary."

To those Colonies making use of Postage Due stamps, a circular from the Secretary of State for the Colonies, dated April 21, 1925, ordered that in the future, these stamps should be reserved for official use, and sale should not be made to the public. Accordingly, section 4 of the regulations as amended February 21, 1923, was cancelled, by the Governor in Council July 8, 1925, and the original paragraph re-instated.

"No. 419. British Honduras.
Postage Due Stamps.

Regulation governing the issue and use of Postage Due Stamps, made by the Governor in Council under section 6 of Chapter 45 of the Consolidated Laws, 1924.

Regulation No. 4 of Regulations made by the Governor in Council on the 8th day of November, 1922, under sub-section (1) of section 5 of Chapter 130 of the Consolidated Laws (Revised Edition), as amended by the Regulation made by the Governor in Council on the 21st February, 1923, is hereby cancelled and the following substituted therefor:

4.—Postage Due stamps shall not, under any circumstances, be issued to the public uncancelled.

Made by the Governor in Council this eighth day of July, 1925.

Signed, E. A. Baber,
Clerk of the Executive Council.

S. S. Circular 21. 4. 25."

(Published in Gazette of 18th July, 1925.)

Evidently there was some misunderstanding in London, for on the basis of another circular from the Colonial Office, dated July 16, 1925, action was taken by the Governor in Council (on Sept. 23, 1925), cancelling the amendment of July 8, 1925, and reverting to the conditions of the February 21, 1923, amendment.

"No. 546. British Honduras.
Postage Due Stamps.

Regulation governing the issue and use of Postage Due Stamps, made by the Governor in Council under section 6, of Chapter 45 of the Consolidated Laws, 1924.

Regulation No. 4 of the Regulations made by the Governor in Council on the 8th day of November, 1922, under subsection (1) of section 5 of Chapter 130 of the Consolidated Laws (Revised Edition), as amended by the Regulations made by the Governor in Council on the 21st February, 1923, and the 8th July, 1925, is hereby cancelled, and the following substituted therefor:—

'4.—Postage Due stamps shall not under any circumstances, be sold to the public across the counter. Their issue uncancelled may be made to philatelists by the Colonial Postmaster only on written application accompanied by their face value plus postage and registration when necessary.'

Made by the Governor in Council this 23rd day of September, 1925.

Signed, E. O. B. Barrow,
For Clerk of the Executive Council.

S. S. Circular 16. 7. 25."

(Published in Gazette of 3rd October, 1925.)

D. L. R. 1912 Remainders Destroyed.

Early in 1924, a circular dispatched by the Colonial Office notified that when a new issue of stamps was made, the stock of the superseded type should be withdrawn from sale immediately, and destroyed. Generally, this was interpreted to mean a change in design, but in some Colonies, where supplies on script CA watermarked paper had been received, the Roman CA watermarked stock was destroyed.

In British Honduras, a Board of Destruction consisting of three heads of Departments, met about the middle of May, 1925, and destroyed the remainder stock of the 1c War (London overprint), 5c, 50c, $1 and $5 in the D. L. R., 1912, design. The quantity approximated 50,000 (90% were 1c War), with a face value slightly in excess of $6,000.

Nyasaland Type 1922-1925.

Nyasaland type stamps of 1c, 3c and 4c denominations have not yet been requisitioned the old stock being sufficiently large to last for some months. The 1c and 3c are in the DLR-1912 Postage & Revenue type, the former from plate 3, script CA, and the latter, from plate 2, Roman CA. The 4c is in the modified Peace type, printed from a line engraved plate, on script CA.

During 1925, fresh supplies of the 2c brown in sheet and booklet form; the 25c on green script (issued July 24, 1925), and the $1, all from plate 1, were dispatched to the Colony.

Postal Stationery.

The postal stationery at present in use comprises 1c and 2c wrappers, and 2c post cards (DLR — 1912 Postage — Postage type), and 2 3c registration envelopes (2 sizes, G and H), sold at 6c with embo head of King George V.

Slogan Cancellation.

A rubber stamp is occasionally us the G. P. O. at Belize, with the s (2 lines, 57mm long), BUY BRITISH G (caps 8mm high) AND GET THE BEST (4mm high). The impression is in v and the marking was first seen October, 1925.

UNITEDSTATES ISSUES 1870-1900

DR. WM. EVANS, Editor,
313 E. Freemason St., Norfolk, Va.

(Any letter requiring a reply must have a self-addressed stamped envelope. No attention can be given matters that do not belong to the years indicated. What can you contribute of interest?)

Mr. E. S. Knapp has sent for inspection a bunch of odd and interesting covers. One of them comes from Brazil and has a 50 Reis stamp. Handstamped on the cover is the inscription "Closed Against Inspection. N. Y. P. O." Also a large T in a circle which is the foreign label for postage due, and the further stamp "U. S. Charge To Collect 15 Cents," the "U. S. Charge" being printed in a half circle form.

A 3c green 1879 is canceled with a heavy oval gridiron surrounding a large monogram—blurred and postmarked BL(AIRS) TOWN N. J. If that guess as to the missing letters is wrong, who can correct it?

A 3c green stamped envelope has a magenta postmark Forrest City, Sierra Co., Calif., and a 2c vermilion comes from Harvard, Clay Co., Nebraska, and the stamp is canceled with one of those intricate spider web designs.

Then there is a cover which no doubt produced a flow of profanity from postal employees, if they indulged in that pastime. It's a 3c green stamped envelope postmarked in blue Stockham, Neb. Nov. 13. Addressed to E. Nalson, Nassau St., New York. The St. has written over it in red ink the letters P. O. It is postmarked Nassau, N. Y., Nov. 19. At the bottom is written in blue pencil Not Nassau, N. Y., and the word City has been placed after New York, also in blue pencil. In a blue circle at the left is the stamp "Deficiency in direction supplied by New York Post Office," and near the center is a double lined blue oval in which appears the inscription D. S.—No. 1, in two lines. A good example of the attempt made by the postal service men to get the letter to the person for whom it was intended. Query: Did they succeed?

Professor Gamber sends a 6c War Dept. with a neat P. O. D. monogram in violet. Not many of these floating around in approval books.

Mr. D. K. Dunbar sends a 2c red-brown on a piece of cover, which is imperf. and looks as if it had been that way when it was applied. One margin is not wide but the other three are wide enough and the bottom one looks as if it might have been in the tenth row of the sheet. Unfortunately only part of the postmark is there. The first letter of this which shows is I or L and the others are ETON. The name of the month cannot be made out. The date ends with an 0 and below this is the last figure of the year 6. The obliteration is not very plain, but appears to be one of those intricate spider webby affairs used in several middle west towns, and projects slightly onto the cover at the right of the stamp. Other copies from this town would help to determine the status of this stamp. Who has one?

Incidentally this copy shows a double transfer.

Mr. S. C. Rogers sends a few covers of interest, registered. One is from Chicago, Ill., to Sweden, one from Philadelphia, Pa., to Hayti, one from Ballston, N. Y., to Lexington Ave., New York City, one from Geigers Mills, Pa., to Floral Park, N. Y., one from Washington, D. C., to Hayti, and another from Philadelphia, Pa., to Hayti. On the back of each one is one of those dated letters in a circle which it now seems must have been used in the Registry Division of the New York Post Office.

Mr. Geo. W. Corwin submits a cover used in 1898 with a most unusual cancellation for that date. It is a registered cover with a 10c brown stamp, and the stamp is canceled with the star shown as No. 3, and while we are speaking of stars those above are a few more examples of unusual ones. No. 1 is on a 3c green, No. 2 on a 2c 1883 sent in by Mr. R. J. Tarpy used at Granfield, Mo., No. 4 is on a 2c green off cover, and No. 5 on a 3c green, re-engraved.

In the issue of March 15th part of a postmark was given and the request that it be identified made. Three people said that it might be Newton Center and Mr. Wm. S. Eager sent a cover showing that this is the correct diagnosis.

A correspondent asks "What does the 'high hat' cancellation look like?" And just to show him and others who may not have seen one look at Nos. 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10. They are all the high hat cancellations that have come to my view. Take your choice. They may have all been used at Danbury—and then again they may not. Who can tell us?

A 3c green is postmarked Jamestown Tenn., Sept. 15, 1879, and the stamp canceled with a neat little cross in a circle, all in magenta. This letter bears the postmark "Rec'd in Boston, Mass., Sept. 22 8 A. M." On the back are three markings, "New York Transit Sept. 21, 9 A. M.," "Boston Mass Carrier Sept. 22, 8 A. M." and "Charlestown Mass Recd Sep. 22, 1—A. M."

A 2c brown stamped envelope is postmarked in violet Ruffs Cre(ek), Pa., and has on the stamp in the same color part of an open star with segments of circles between the points, instead of the usual solid background. A complete star of this design would be a mighty nice thing to have. It is the first that has come to my notice. Perhaps other towns used it. Anyone got one?

Then there is a similar envelope from Sacramento, Calif., with checkerboard obliterator.

There are two 2c brown envelopes from Eulogy, Texas. One was used July 6, 1886 and the postmark tells us that C. W. Smith was P. M. then. The other is dated Nov. 18, 1887, and by that time Z. E. Mickey had become P. M., and Mr. Mickey used magenta ink for his canceller.

THE BI-MONTHLY JOURNAL
A house organ with an inimitable style and charm, published every two months. Each issue consists of from 32 to 48 pages, every one containing a formidable array of unusual offerings in medium and scarce sets, packets and special collections, dealers' stocks, single stamps, philatelic supplies, etc., etc.
Albert C. Munson, 412 Broadway, Houston, Texas, writes:
"I enjoy the Bi-Monthly as much as MEKEEL'S; there is no other paper, house organ, journal or circular of any kind wherein one can find such extraordinary good stock—and at such reasonable prices."
C. A. Ralston, 164 Vaughn St., Waterloo, Iowa, says:
"I am paying subscription charges for two large house organs, but would rather get along without both of them than to lose yours. If necessary, I know that I could pay a substantial subscription to the Bi-Monthly and save all of it on stamps offered in a single issue."
The Bi-Monthly Journal is a distinctive publication and absolutely free to patrons. You can't afford to be without it!

FEDERATION OF STAMP SOCIETIES

By Frank L. Coes.

(We have given considerable space to the "one big club idea" and for the time at least this will be the last word upon the subject. We have felt that the discussion of this subject would be helpful, but the time has now arrived when our space may well be devoted to other matters. Doubtless the coming conventions will deal with the proposal which has been so steadfastly supported by our correspondent.—W. O. W.)

I see Mr. Guest as an individual member of the A. P. S., and not as its Sales Manager, thinks I have a lot of revolutionary ideas which ought to be removed from my system for good; and after sorting out the "worthless trash" from the "One Big Club" idea, comes out flat for "Federation."

He is late on the "Federation", because you printed the first glimmerings of the current controversy over my signature, late last Fall, when I advocated the "Committee for Public Relations" or some other systematic effort of Club and Collector combination, which would give the collectors of stampic items a mouthpiece at Washington, a co-related steering committee behind him, and a unanimously supported publicity movement.

In that letter I disclaimed any credit for the idea, and no especial liking for the clumsy title, but hoped the fact of your presentation of the matter would stir to action some of the many interested clubs and individuals.

Like all genuinely new schemes, it landed as "flat as water on a plate", except for the personal criticisms from interested people. Mr. Ams was the first. He wanted the scope broadened. Then came a dozen or more who wanted the elimination or addition of this or that and the "One Big Club" idea was the direct outcome.

In the meantime I have discovered that the A. P. S. has a committee appointed to work on this matter, and that the most worthy gentlemen on this committee are at a little loose end because they do not live where the committees from the other societies in interest can easily confer. Also that for fear of "entanglements" and other things, which like hydra-headed doubts crop up from multiplied hearsay, there is a decided objection to officially appointing a committee in the Metropolitan district to further the controversial effort to crystallize the thing into something worth while.

These "ifs" about what I think and what others think mean just one thing. That some outside influence is stirring Officialdom to the extent that the existing "Big Club" is applying the first law of nature, "self preservation," by tooting its horn long and loud for its own stuff. Good—self interest, properly, will raise the standard of membership, and the quantity. But let me point out that self interest alone will not improve fellowship. No dog in the manger policy, or the "holier than thou" feeling ever got anyone anything but trouble. Moreover, self interest will not improve inter-society intercourse.

The gentleman from Dallas is correct in saying that I am not a person who has "intimate touch" with the greater portion of any society. It is impossible, because I am not an official by desire, or an official whose office is thus in touch with the membership. I don't like "house committee" jobs, because I have not the time. But this makes no difference to the actual value of criticism, nor does it reduce my right to criticize, because I hold an A. P. S. number much older than his, and the third "life" in the other society he belongs to, though he does not talk S. P. A. in the same breath with the "Big Club."

The thing the garden variety collector wants is a reduction of lost motion, a reduction of camouflage, and a hand in the appointment of a representative, non-partisan (as regards Club alliances) committee who shall have means, authority and vision enough to get the finally desired result; an individual representative at Washington, who shall be the official mouthpiece of Stampdom.

It won't do any good to duck the issue. Federation for this end will mean federation for other ends. Combination for a Public Contact Committee thru federation of interests, will mean just what it says:—combination, and the sooner we stop this useless explanation of what this or that society CAN do (but does not do or attempt) and get out in the open for a Federation, which shall drop club politics, and shall embrace Clubs, non-club members who collect, the trade, the press and all other interests connected with the collection of postage stamps and side lines, the sooner we will have a tangible, workable organization.

You will note that I habitually duck using the term "Philately" as a name for stamp collecting. I can't get results with it. If I have to use it in talking to the boys, I have to stop to translate it, and the sentence that holds it loses its punch. So I am still looking for a handy name for a possible combination, except Federation, Federated Committee, Public Contact Committee, or something yet again;—always dodging this appellation for Stamp Collecting, which does not "click" (apologies to O. O. McI) with the low brow, common garden variety of auditors to whom we must look for new collectors.

Now let me say this, while not an "official" per se, I belong to most everything big and most of the near by small ones, and I wholly fail to grasp "bigness" in any Club, which will not move forward, or whose officials stand aloof from a forward movement for fear of committing themselves to "entanglements" or for fear they will lose "prestige" as conservatives and leaders. The two do not go together in a democratic club. The leaders are usually the ready to talk, ready to argue and often not ready to work, ever present (no other place to go) members of the minority.

So the answer to all this is, forget that "Big" stuff and get your collar off. Go out and meet the others on their own ground, join the movement, and if you are "Big" lead it.

Knowledge Is Power = Dollars
Do you realize how often you "give up" or "pass by" a real rare variety thru lack of knowledge?
Let me explain: Denmark No. 2, 4rbs brown is known with over 150 different numeral cancellations. No. 1 is worth $0.20 but dozens of them are worth $5.00 to $10.00 each and a few are rarities.
All these and nearly all Danish varieties are priced in my new Detailed Priced Catalogue of Danish Stamps of 1851-1899. I quote prices of shades, pairs, strips of three four, six, blocks, sheets, stamps on cover, cancellations, recuts and scores of Inverted Frames, never before priced.
Illustrated Catalogue, 52 pages, printed on one side only, price $1.00 postfree. Books of used Danish Stamps can be sent on approval. [tf

DEATH OF J. E. HANDSHAW

It is with sincere regret that we are compelled to chronicle the death of the veteran dealer J. E. Handshaw of Smithtown Branch, N. Y. We have been advised by his son, William Handshaw, that his death occurred in the hospital at Orlando, Florida, after an illness of about eight weeks.

The Managing Editor was intimately acquainted with Mr. Handshaw. His interest in philately covered a period of fifty years and we have known him for the larger part of that time. When the Managing Editor was connected with the Scott Stamp Co., nearly thirty years ago, Mr. Handshaw was at the height of his activities as a stamp dealer. He has made several trips abroad and some three years ago he published a book dealing with his experiences as dealer and traveler.

The son, William Handshaw, has been carrying on, at 79 Nassau St., the business formerly owned by his father, and there is also another son and widow to mourn the loss of the loved one.

The writer takes this opportunity of paying this tribute to the sterling worth and integrity of J. E. Handshaw, who was the soul of honor in all his business relationships, interested in the moral development of his community, and a devoted Christian man. Philately is the poorer in the loss that it has sustained.

REVENUE NOTES

By FRANK L. APPLEGATE

How many, I wonder, have paused to consider the range denominations of United States revenue stamps that have been issued? The subject of different denominations is one that has always held a great fascination for me.

In documentary revenues we have had forty different values as follows: ½, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 (Playing Cards), 8, 10, 15, 20, 25, 30, 40, 50, 60, 70, 80-cent, and $1.00, $1.30, $1.50, $1.60, $1.90, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00, $3.50, $5.00, $10.00, $15.00, $20.00, $25.00, $30.00, $50.00, $60.00, $100.00, $200.00, $500.00 and $1,000.00, the latter being two hundred thousand times the value of the lowest value.

In proprietary revenues we have had 27 values, the ⅛, ¼, ⅜, ½, ⅝, 1, 1¼, 1½, 1⅞, 2, 2½, 3, 3⅛, 3¾, 4, 4⅜, 5, 6, 7½, 8, 10, 12, 20, 40, 50-cent and one and five dollars, thirteen of which are not included in the documentary list. These are the ⅛, ¼, ⅜, ⅝, 1¼, 1½, 1⅞, 2½, 3⅛, 3¾, 4⅜, 7½ and 12-cent. Added to the 40 documentaries this makes 53. Of the nineteen denominations issued for narcotics we gain two, the 16-cent and the odd value of $1.28, bringing our total up to 55.

Of the 36 denominations of wine stamps listed in the catalogue, the 18c, 24c, 36c, 72c, $1.20, $1.44, $4.00, $4.80, $9.60 and $40.00 are new, total 10, making 65 in all of U. S. revenue values as per Scott's, and quite materially outnumbering the postal issues which, with the new 17c, total up to only 51. But this is not all. We have also 33 denominations of Beer stamps as follows: 12½, 16⅔, 18¾, 20, 25, 26⅔, 33⅓, 37½, 40, 50, 53⅓, 66⅔, 75, 80-cent, $1.00, $1.50, $1.60, $2.00, $3.00, $3.20, $4.00, $5.00, $6.00, $7.50, $10.00, $12.00, $15.00, $25.00, $30.00, $37.50, $60.00, $75.00 and $150.00, of which the 12½, 16⅔, 18¾, 26⅔, 33⅓, 53⅓, 66⅔, 75c, $3.20, $6.00, $7.50, $12.00, $37.50, $75.00 and $150.00 are new to our list. All beer stamps as regularly issued have the monetary face value. When they were surcharged for provisional use when the tax rate on beer was changed only the date of the act was surcharged, leaving the value of the stamp to be computed under the new rate. Thus in 1914 under the Emergency Act, when the beer rate previously one dollar per barrel was made $1.50, the dollar stamp became a $1.50 stamp where surcharged "Emergency Act 1914," and other values accordingly.

Later in 1914 new dies were made which showed the new values, but in 1917 the rate was doubled and in 1919 doubled again, so that what was a $1.50 stamp as issued in 1914 became a $3.00 stamp when surcharged "Act of 1917" and a $6.00 stamp when surcharged "Act of 1919." Through the rush of business in the Bureau on these latter dates new dies were not made for the new rates and all we have to show for some of the values thus created—the $6.00, $12.00, $75.00 and $150.00—are the provisionals. Sixteen new denominations under the head of beer stamps make a total of 81 values so far, but the end is not yet. We still have the so-called Tax Paids. Very few of these show a monetary face value, but there are notable exceptions. Most of these are among a set of tobacco stamps issued in 1869. The tax was 32 cents per pound and each stamp bore the corresponding face value. There were:

The 8 marked * are new to our list and then there is a $1.25 stamp issued for cigars in 1872, which brings our total of U. S. Revenue denominations up to 90.

Canada Revenues.—For range of color, design and excellence of execution nothing can surpass the revenue issues of Canada and particularly those of the provinces British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, New Brunswick, Ontario and Quebec, as well as the Territory of Yukon and the Dominion itself, all have their own low stamps and I want to tell the uninitiated that they are surely things of beauty.

While the revenue emissions of our own country seem to have deteriorated of late years, not so Canada. The first Dominion of Canada bill stamps issued in 1864 were surface printed, but since then all Canada revenues with very few exceptions have been steel engraved, even the tax paids.

Take the stamps of the Dawson Mining Court. Any one seeing these large, handsome stamps displaying the view of a prospector examining a piece of ore far out in the wilds would surely think them made for collectors, but such is not the case. They have been in constant legitimate use since 1903 and are not too easy to get yet.

Take the Province of Quebec, which has been more prolific than any other. Here we have stamps of separate design for Law, License, Registration, Assurance (Insurance), Stock Transfers and Prohibition. The range of use is from 1864 to date and the execution is uniformly of the finest.

Only Prince Edward Island among the Provinces has issued no revenue stamps.

Anyone not familiar with the revenue issues of Canada will do well to send fifty cents to S. N. Oughtred, Box 242, Station H, Montreal, and get a copy of his latest catalogue. The little book is fully illustrated and to the uninitiated should be a revelation.

EDITORIAL.

On April 3, 1860, the first couriers of the Pony Express left Sacramento, California, and St. Joseph, Missouri, respectively, on their epochal trip runs, and some of the newspapers of the present day that give attention to historical events of the past, as described in the columns of these papers at the time of their happening, referred to the reality and romance of the Pony Express of sixty-six years ago. The Chicago Tribune, for instance, reproduced the advertisement that appeared on its pages announcing the new service and the rates of letter carriage. The Chicago agent was H. J. Spaulding and we infer that the business men of Chicago gave some patronage to the enterprise on the first trip. In this connection, we thank Mr. Timothy L. Hastings for the following reading notice in the St. Joseph Free Democrat, as indicating the pride of the citizens of that city for the great undertaking: "Take down your map and trace the footprints of our quadrupedantic animal: From St. Joseph, on the Missouri, to San Francisco, on the Golden Horn — two thousand miles— more than half the distance across our boundless continent; through Kansas, through Nebraska, by Fort Kearney, along the Platte, by Fort Laramie, past the Buttes, over the Rocky Mountains, through the narrow passes and along the steep defiles, Utah, Fort Bridger, Salt Lake City, he witches Brigham with his swift pony-ship-through the valleys, along the grassy slopes, into snow, into sand, faster than Thor's Thialfi, away they go, rider and horse— did you see them? They are in California, leaping over its golden sands, treading its busy streets. The courser has unrolled to us the great American panorama, allowed us to glance at the home of one million people, and has put a girdle around the earth in forty minutes. Verily, the riding is like the riding of Jehu, the son of Nimshi, for he rideth furiously. Take out your watch. We are eight days from New York, eighteen from London. The race is to the swift."

A subject that has interested some of the collectors who have yielded fully to the fascinations of the Pony Express covers is the approximate number of envelopes that received the markings of the service. The service of the express was in demand by the government, merchants and other business men, while the great newspapers of New York and San Francisco recognized the utility of the enterprise. Some of the papers printed editions on a tissue paper for relieving the burden of weight of the ordinary news-print. We have found some statistics telling of the cost of operation of the Pony Express which ultimately would have been a profitable venture had not the completion of the telegraph across the continent impaired its monopoly. According to the compilation under notice, the Nevada Indian war cost the operators $75,000 and the maintenance of the express was $30,000 a month, or $360,000 a year. During the part of two years that the post was in existence, its expenses, including the $100,000 for equipping the line, were approximately $700,000. Receipts did not average $1,000 a trip and in all, they were not over $500,000. At first five dollars were paid for every letter carried across the continent, but later rates were reduced and so, with a credit of $500,000 to be divided by a number of dollars a letter, it may be said that from 150,000 to 200,000 pieces were carried by the service celebrated in song and story.

We learn with no little satisfaction that the radio is being employed more generally in the circulation of stamp lore and now we wish to tell of the palpable hit made by Mr. Ronald M. Angus, Victoria, British Columbia, in spreading the gospel of philately. The Victoria Colonist says that Mr. Angus is the first speaker in Canada to broadcast on this subject and the paper devotes well into three columns to a report of the interesting talk; and a picture of Mr. Angus at the microphone is shown. Mr. Angus has been complimented by local philatelists and by some from the United States who picked up his words; and the station is asking for further engagements. It was at the suggestion of Miss L. M. Forbes, British Columbia's only lady stamp dealer, that Mr. Angus essayed his aerial fling. We have passed on the transcript of Mr. Angus' remarks to a correspondent who has asked for material for broadcasting.

Mr. F. Hugh Vallancey, proprietor of Stamp Collecting, London, will arrive at the Pacific Coast and then proceed to New York to attend the International Philatelic Exhibition. We shall be especially pleased to have Mr. Vallancey with us and we feel that many of us who have followed his career through his alert and able publication will wish his tour of inspection to be a pleasant one.

From Mr. H. J. Kaufmann, Bureau of Statistics and Publications, Board of Education, Detroit, Michigan, we have received a copy of School Topics, Cleveland, in which we find a column article, "Thrills Plentiful for Followers of 'King of Hobbies'." This fortnightly is the official publication of the Cleveland public schools and by its endorsement so whole-heartedly of our pursuit has paid a tribute of high degree to stamp collecting. The occasion for this account is a special exhibit of stamps on display at the historical museum of Western Reserve Historical Society, "which children of grades 5 to 12 are invited to view." It is said that the exhibit in question is one of no mean order and we are pleased that it has been made the subject of approving remarks about philately.

Mr. H. F. Bowker, Vallejo, California, has sent us the first nineteen pages of a special album that he is preparing for the reception of the stamps of the Chinese Treaty Ports, which engage the endeavors of collectors here and there who are still sensible of the thrall of these distinctive issues, even though they no longer are catalogued as straight postage stamps. Latterly, there has been a manifestation of interest in the Treaty Ports and with Mr. Siddall's catalogue and Mr. Bowker's album the collector will feel well equipped. Mr. Bowker who is in the U. S. Navy, has spent much time in the Orient and so he may be said to have studied these stamps at first hand.

Some months ago, a correspondent who was interested in the Philadelphia dealer, L. W. Durbin, so well-known thirty years ago, asked us for particulars of his career in Philadelphia, of which we were able to tell him to some extent. At the time, we neglected to mention that Mr. Durbin went to Philadelphia from St. Louis early in 1869, a fact that is recalled to mind by finding an advertisement in Mason's Monthly Coin and Stamp Collectors Magazine for January, 1869, in which Mr. Durbin announces that he was formerly in St. Louis. In May, 1869, Mr. Durbin assumed the editorship of the philatelic department of this monthly magazine, whose subscription price, by-the-way, was $1.50 a year.

We learn from Mr. Henry C. Needham, with much regret, of the death of J. E. Handshaw, for many years a wholesale and retail dealer in stamps, who passed away at the Orlando Hospital, Orlando, Florida, on March 26, 1926. His health had been impaired for some time, but a year or so ago he bought a winter home at St. Cloud, Florida, spending part of his time there. William and Herbert Handshaw, sons, will continue his business in New York, in all probability. Mr. Handshaw will be remembered by many of us with kindly feelings and his death will be deplored.

THE New York Times in a recent article describes the new St. Francis stamps of Italy and reviews the recent auction sale of the Isaac Cook, Jr., stamps, in which a 5c Missionary brought $2,150. The first day's sale realized $36,400.

J. Avery Wells Telephone Havemeyer 8350 J. Van Kirk Wells

HERE AND THERE:—

WE are pleased to have the following correction from Messrs. Stanley Gibbons, Ltd., London: "With reference to the note re Jamaica, 2½d, on page 159 of your issue dated March 15th, your correspondent has overlooked the fact that these stamps are printed at two operations and that the distance between the mast and the shading below Jamaica will therefore vary with the variations in the registration of the frame and vignette plates."

FROM Mr. A. E. Pade, New York, a clipping has come from the Post of his city saying that philatelists are to be charged with having a hand in the crime wave that has been sweeping Djibouti, whose stamps are popular with collectors. The natives have been cutting up scandalously and when fined fifty francs were given a receipt bearing a stamp that later was sold by them for 80 or 100 francs. The overworked police suggest that stampless receipts be given natives.

FROM Mr. A. F. Merell, the "Stamp-man" of the radio, San Francisco, we learn something of his present activities. He gave a talk on stamp publications late in March and showed the juniors the possibilities in collecting stamps. He had a date at the University High School on April 8th, having spoken the day before in the Lowell High School. From April 19th, he will give a full hour each Monday, 5.30 to 6.30 P. M. over KFRC. He secured the MacLaren covers for exhibition and with twelve other fine collections, he, assisted by Messrs. Marcus and Blackwell, filled the Y. M. C. A. hall from 11 A. M. to 6 P. M. Mr. Merell showed his U. S. proofs. Mr. Merell says that the death of Donald Piercy has been a sad blow to them as the success of the San Francisco society was largely due to Mr. Piercy's continued and untiring efforts.

THE latest number of Stampitis, the little paper that puts over philately in Texas with a bang, gives a foretaste of the pleasures awaiting the delegates who attend the convention of the Texas Philatelic Association at Galveston, May 15th to 17th, inclusive. Never have we seen a more attractive setting for a schedule of entertainment and if a cajoling word is sent to Mr. T. E. Flick, the secretary, 801 Twenty-second Street, Galveston, Texas, those who are interested in the forthcoming event may see for themselves. An exhibition extending over the three days of the convention is a feature. A "sitting squirrel" cancellation on a 12c Interior is illustrated in the paper, thereby providing a congenial companion to the "kicking mule" impression. Mr. Wilhelm, president of the American Philatelic Society, was a recent visitor to this city of philatelic pep

FROM Mr. T. C. E. Hunter, we have received copy of the Australian, which illustrates in its picture section a half-dozen of the new issues, the world over; and we are pleased to see this recognition in a standard publication.

"PIM" whose deftness in handling a comic strip for one of the syndicates is freely recognized turned recently to stamps for inspiration, which he found in good measure. "Telling Tommy" shows dad explaining to the little boy that even kings and queens are interested in stamp collecting and he names four royal collectors. He speaks of the great British Guiana rarity and the Post Office Mauritius as well; and the Union of South Africa, 2½d blue with King George's portrait is the centerpiece of the picture.

RECENTLY, the San Francisco News sought the advice of Mr. R. H. Mower of that city because complaint has been made that the stamps on sale do not stick tightly to letters and the conclusion is that "winter gum" does not work well in California's mild climate.

MR. H. A. DIAMANT, St. Louis, Mo., visited Chicago on the first leg of an extended trip east and attended the meeting of the Chicago Philatelic Society on April 1st, at which Mr. A. W. Filstrup, Benton Harbor, Mich., was the exhibitor. Mr. Diamant is tireless in promoting philatelic publicity and has many ideas on the subject.

EVIDENTLY the publicity committee of the New York Exhibition is getting in some work. We have before us a clipping from the Philadelphia Public Ledger, which deals in an interesting manner with the plans that are being made for the Exhibition. This particular article is based largely upon an interview with Chas. J. Phillips. Thanks to B. Cadbury for clipping.

THE ALVONIS CO., Monticello, N. Y., is now issuing a house organ called the Alvonis Bulletin. A copy will be sent upon request.

EARLY UNITED STATES
SUPERB USED

A Pennsylvania client has just placed with me to sell individually, a small but very choice lot of several of our first issues. These are in all cases used and quite a few are on the cover. I note particularly such items as singles and pairs of the 10c 1847; upward of twenty copies of the 5c 1851, including pairs; pairs and strips of three of the 10c and a very beautiful strip of three of the 12c on cover.

Most of the 5c 1851 known to philately show the postmark of "New Orleans." In this little lot I find several used from such cities as "Galveston," "Ilion," "Troy," and the like. These stamps are priced from $27.50 each upward, depending upon condition and cancellation. I have never had a nicer lot.

I also have a wonderful stock, used and unused, of both early and late U. S. and want lists are especially desired. If you have been following the auction sales lately, you have seen that fine United States are constantly advancing. While getting your pleasure, why not consider the investment feature as well? Many a collector has found this to his advantage, especially when he desires to sell.

Always in the market to buy anything choice in the way of United States postage and Revenues.

Air Mail, Jacksonville—Miami

The first flight inaugurating the contract air mail route, No. 10, between Jacksonville and Miami was made in accordance with schedule on April 1st. A plane left Jacksonville for Miami via Tampa and Fort Myers and also one coming north from Miami to Jacksonville, which stopped at the same two points in transit. The covers that I have seen mailed from Miami bear a postmark in magenta consisting of three concentric circles about 1¾" in diameter, similar to the one used in Detroit. Within the circles the following: "First Flight Inaugurating Contract Air Mail — Route CAM. 10—Miami, Fla., 6.30 A. M. April 1, 1926." Fort Myers and Jacksonville used a similar postmark with the name of the city changed, but in these two cases they used black ink. For some reason Tampa seems not to have had a special air mail cancellation for they applied the regular postmark with the name of the city, date and the wavy lines for cancelling the stamp. All covers that I have seen carried over this flight have been backstamped by the receiving station with the same postmark that they had used for the outgoing air mail.

We wish to thank Mr. S. E. Knox for the first cover coming to my attention from Miami and Mr. M. T. Danielson for a similar cover from Tampa. Although the Tampa cover was addressed to me at Philadelphia, I notice that it is backstamped at Jacksonville. This leads me to believe that all of the mail which they received was backstamped irrespective as to where it might have been addressed.

2c Rotary, Double Paper

In my notes of last week, mention was made of the fact that the 5c current issue rotary had recently been located, printed on paper that had been joined—hence, furnishing stamps on so-called double paper. Mr. Percy M. Day now advises me that he has found a similar pane of the 2c rotary perf. 10.

Revenue Notes

The new Revenue act of 1926 recently passed by Congress and signed by the President eliminates certain stamp taxes heretofore in effect. Effective March 29th, Documentary stamp tax on the following documents has been repealed: On bonds or certificates of indebtedness issued by any person, not a corporation, on deeds of conveyances, assignment and transfers of lands or other realty, on entry of goods or merchandise at any custom house, on entry for withdrawal of any goods or merchandise from customs bonded warehouses, on proxies for voting at elections, on power of attorney.

The only remaining documents taxed by the Revenue Act of 1926 on and after March 29th are bonds or certificates of indebtedness, capital stock as well as deed transfers, passage tickets sold or issued in the United States and sale or exchange of produce. While playing cards do not take documentary stamps, they do take stamps of interest to the collector and the tax on these remain as heretofore, namely 10c.

New Provisional Envelope

The 1c green on amber, round die, Scott's No. 2665, has been located in die D with the double line overprint. This comes from one of the smaller western towns and is the first on amber with this surcharge to be found. It is size 13, watermarked 19.

New $1.00 "Future Delivery"

The Scott Stamp & Coin Company report that they have recently located the $1.00 green Documentary surcharged in black "Future Delivery" in Roman letters similar to the "Stock Transfer" overprint found on the issue of 1920 to 1922. It is quite possible that other denominations will appear in time with a similar surcharge.

Postal Apport a la Gare d'un Colis de 3.5ou 10 Kilog." The Express stamp is changed in the second line and is "Livraison par Express" for "Apport a la Gare."

FRENCH GUIANA.—The Economist Stamp Co. and Whitfield King & Co. report the following changes: 65c deep green, 85c red purple and 2fr red on orange.

GERMANY.—Mr. A. Wagner writing under date of the 24th of last month informs us that he has just been advised that within the next few days a new series of Airmail stamps will be issued by the Post Office Department. The values will be 5pf green, 10pf red, 20pf blue, 50pf orange, 1M rose, 2M blue and 3M olive green. The new stamps will have the inscription "Deutsche" to the left and "Luftpost" to the right. In the centre will be an eagle ascending from the summit of a rock. Mr. Wagner further adds that the Airmail stamps now in circulation (Scott's AP3) will be withdrawn from sale on March 31st, but will have postal value up to the end of June, 1926. It is also intended to issue a new 15pf Airmail postal card, the color being violet.

JUGO-SLAVIA.—An entirely new portrait type has just appeared on a 1 dinar carmine stamp, the King's head being in profile, facing right, flanked by a pattern of diamonds. Mr. D. Hepworth shows us a used copy. New type, as above, surfaced-printed: 1 dinar carmine.—Stamp Collecting.

LUXEMBURG.—Mr. Henry Hooreman and Whitfield King & Co. advise that the 15c orange-brown, 20c sage-green and 1fr indigo have been surcharged "Official", the first two values in black and the 1fr in red.

MAURITIUS.—Mr. R. Roberts and the Economist Stamp Co. advise of the appearance of the 10c carmine, Arms type, on script watermarked paper.

MONACO.—Whitfield King & Co. report the appearance of the 45c in the type of Scott's A13 in a slate color.

SIERRA LEONE.—Mr. R. Roberts sends for chronicle the 1p deep violet, Die 11, script watermark paper.

SWEDEN.—Mr. R. Roberts sends for note the 5ö green, Lion type, watermark wavy lines, imperforate by Perf. 13.

SYRIA (Lebanon).—We are informed that, acting on the initiative of the Governor of the Lebanon and the General Secretary to the High Commissioner, it has been decided to issue a set of stamps with special overprint for the benefit of the refugees from towns and villages pillaged by the Druzes during the recent warfare. Ordinary adhesives of the current Lebanon series, both postage and postage due, have accordingly been overprinted "SECOURS AUX REFUGIES" and with new value.—Stamp Collecting.

URUGUAY.—The Economist Stamp Co. have shown us a set of three values of Airpost stamps bearing the words "Uruguay Correo Aereo" in the upper left corner. In the centre is a winged bird and at the lower right are the figures of value with "Cents" beneath. The colors are 6c dark blue, 10c vermilion and 20c green.

f-10gr brown-red (Dietrich vanquish- n Hogan).

OLOMBIAN REPUBLIC.—Mr. Sigmund iser and the Economist Stamp Co. e shown us a 4c blue stamp of a new lign. In the centre is the figure "4" h "Provisional" across it and with rreos Colombia" in a curved frame ve and the words of value in a curved me below completing the circle.

OSTA RICA.—The Economist Stamp and Whitfield King & Co. have sent for chronicle the four new provisionl surcharged on the stamps of the 1923 es: 3c on 5c blue, 6c on 10c brown, on 40c orange and 45c on 1col olive en.

ENMARK.—In commenting on the reently issued Gebyr stamp Mr. R. berts sends the following communica- n:

here seems to be some misapprehen- n with regard to the recently issued yr stamp of Denmark, which I sent on the 15th March, and I quote you m an official communication:—

The stamps Gebyr are intended for s in two different methods; the stamps e employed where any extra service atever has been furnished by the stal employees, such as filling up a m, marking a parcel, sealing a letter h declared value, etc.

econdly, as an overcharge in case of ting outside the ordinary hours.

n the latter case the stamps can be k on, on receipt of the letter or parcel tself, according to the wish of the sender. e effect of this last method is, that it ngs these stamps among the ordinary stage stamps as far as the Postmasters e concerned."

RANCE.—We have received from Mr. Roberts two 1fr Parcel Post stamps. e 1fr brown on yellow and the 1fr en Express. They both bear a four e inscription, the first being "Colis

HOTCH POTCH:—

WE have received from P. J. Drossos of Athens a specimen of the new set of stamps issued in connection with the Egypt Industrial and Agricultural Exhibition. The set will be in use three months. An agricultural scene is depicted and the set consists of six values 5, 10, 15, 50, 100 and 200m.

R. E. B. ROWE, 612 W. 112 St., N. Y. City, would like to know the present address of one Ernest Buchan, a shut-in. Who can favor him?

WE take great pleasure this week in publishing a page advertisement from T. Allen, one of our British advertisers. Mr. Allen has held a position on our first page for many months and is a fixture in our columns. He handles a class of goods that must recommend themselves to the most particular collectors. His page advertisement this week proves that he has a remarkable stock of stamps. Those who are preparing for exhibits at New York in October will do well to consult him in connection with the filling of want-lists. During his use of our columns we have never had a complaint of any kind filed against him.

A. H. GOETZ, 7 W. 42nd St., N. Y. City, has issued a summer price-list of singles, sets and packets. It may be had for the asking.

WE are informed by George B. Sloane that he intends to move from his present quarters to the new Collectors Club Building, 51 W. 48th St., N. Y. City. Besides Mr. Sloane, J. C. Morgenthau & Co., Herman Toaspern and the Martauco Stamp Co. are to have offices in the building. The ground floor, with a splendid store location, has not yet been rented. The building is now in process of being renovated to suit the needs of the Club and the dealers taking space in it.

WE are indebted to Albert E. Gorham and Joel H. DuBose for interesting air-mail covers. They mark the establishment of the first flight inaugurating contract air-mail between Miami and Jacksonville, Fla. Both covers bear Miami postmark of 6.30 A. M. Apr and the receiving Jacksonville postm of 1 P. M. The Miami special mar is in purple and the Jacksonville the reverse side of the envelope i black. Mr. Gorham also sends cover used on the first flight from J sonville to Miami. It bears the s date, April 1, the despatching time Jacksonville being 9.30 A. M., and receiving postmark at Miami being M. This cover has markings in b on the face and reverse side.

UNDER date of April 15, the M tauco Stamp Co. has issued a sp wholesale bulletin, which will be sen any dealer. Address 45 W. 45th N. Y. City.

A. F. MERELL, known as the KH radio stamp man, is busy with philatelic publicity. He now has members in his Stamp Club. Mr. M is also doing considerable work out of his radio activities. April 8 he g a talk before the University High Sc in Oakland. Beginning April 12 he the hour from 5.30 to 6.30 P. M. e Monday for his radio talks. If the P. S. could accomplish in other cen what Mr. Merell is doing in San F cisco it would do philately a world good.

To Connoisseurs and Discriminating Collectors

Do you know I hold one of the finest stocks of RARE British COLONIALS? I pay particular attention to condition and only stamps in the finest possible state will be found in my books. Prices are very reasonable. You will find in many of the most important collections, stamps that have passed through my hands. Ask your philatelic friend what he thinks of Allen's approval selections.

If you are anticipating exhibiting your collection at the coming Exhibition, then get in touch with me. I have many choice items in stock, items that will "catch the Judges' eyes" and pieces that will "stand out" in your collection as being classical and of great interest.

Below are a FEW of many rare items in stock. If there is nothing mentioned that interests you, please don't hesitate to write, as I am sure to have something you need.

I stock all periods—19th and 20th Century. Let me have your Want List. Approval selections of rarities.

SEEN AND HEARD:—

WE have received from P. A. Finlayson of Cleveland, O., information concerning a fine bit of publicity that has been instituted by members of the Garfield-Perry Stamp Club. The Burrows Brothers Co. have opened a stamp department and to better acquaint the public with its philatelic offerings the firm has arranged a free lecture on stamps twice every Saturday, at 10 A. M. and 2 P. M. An advertisement from a Cleveland paper shows an attractive announcement. Mr. Finlayson writes us as follows: "We started giving these lectures four weeks ago at 10 A. M. only but as we could not accommodate the people we now run it off at 2 P. M. as well every Saturday." The lectures are accompanied with slides, and the entire proposition is an excellent piece of publicity.

A COUNTY superintendent of schools in Southern California is sending out a bulletin to all the teachers explaining a new form of philatelic competition. Each school prepares a booklet of cancelled U. S. stamps. Each stamp is to be mounted on a separate sheet with a short account of the person or incident represented thereon. The scholar chooses his subject and writes a composition upon the material furnished him. The teacher's work is to show the child how to express the desired statements in clear, correct, concise and pleasing English.

WE have at hand a copy of "The Microphone," published by KFRC, San Francisco, Cal. The issue of Feb. 20, which is Vol. I No. 1, contains a very favorable mention of A. F. Merell's Monday night talks on stamp collecting. Quite recently the members of Mr. Merell's KFRC Stamp Club met at the Y. M. C. A., where there was an exhibit of original covers and also a volume of U. S. proofs. Pres. Wilhelm of the A. P. S. exhibited his specialized collection of U. S.

WE are indebted to Herman W. Boers and other subscribers for Easter greetings sent the WEEKLY.

PUGET SOUND ORGANIZES

By ARTHUR K. ROBERTS.

Out in the Pacific Northwest some enthusiastic stamp collectors have recently been granted a charter by the A. P. S. known as the Puget Sound Branch, No. 70. The membership already totals thirty-five. The organization is composed of collectors in Seattle, Tacoma, Everett and Bremerton.

Meetings are held the second and fourth Tuesdays at 1014 Third Avenue, Seattle; and the second and fourth Thursdays in the office of Mr. Ben Weeks, Provident Building, Tacoma. Clyde D. Brill, of Tacoma, is the first President of the Puget Sound Branch. Other officers are: Emmett R. Ashton, Seattle, Vice-Pres.; C. S. Ernst, Sec.-Treas., Seattle; Henry C. Hitt, Bremerton, Librarian and Expert; and Arthur K. Roberts, Chairman, Program Committee, Seattle.

Auctions have been held recently and the entire proceeds sent to New York to aid the great exhibition. Much interest is being aroused among the stamp collectors of the Puget Sound cities by the newly organized branch and its future success seems assured.

Washington Philatelic News

By PHILIP H. WARD, JR.

Air Route, Chicago to Dallas

Under date of April 6th, the Second Assistant Postmaster General, Mr. W. Irving Glover, announces effective May 12, 1926, contract air mail service will be established over route C. A. M., No. 3, Chicago, Ill., via Moline, Ill., St. Joseph and Kansas City, Mo., Wichita, Kans., Oklahoma City, Okla., and Fort Worth, Texas, to Dallas, Texas, a distance each way of 987 miles. The route will be operated on a schedule, which will make connections at Chicago with the air mail service in each direction between New York and Chicago.

The plane going south to Dallas will leave Chicago daily upon the arrival of the overnight plane from New York. It is expected to arrive at Moline at 7.25 A. M., and reach Dallas at 5.35 P. M. on the same day. Mail coming forward from Dallas will leave that point at 7.30 A. M. and arrive at Chicago at 7.20 P. M. in time to be dispatched on the plane leaving Chicago nightly for New York.

The postage over this new route is 10c an ounce or fraction thereof. The contractor is the National Air Transport, Inc., of Chicago, and this concern will receive 80% of the total revenue for carrying the mails over this route.

Air Route, Pasco to Elko

The first western contract air mail service was inaugurated on April 6th, between Elko, Nevada, and Pasco, Washington. The former city being on the transcontinental route enables mail from the northwest to come east at a saving of a number of hours. On this service several of the cities used the regular first-class mail cancellation in addition to the contract air mail service postmark, which has previously been described in this column, the postmark this time reading, "Elko-Pasco Route — Washington-Idaho-Oregon." Those that I have seen from Boise and Elko are in black while those from Pasco are in red. The airplane going north from Elko found it necessary on account of the weather to land, and as the landing place was about thirty miles from civilization, the mail carrier had to ride horseback this distance to reach a phone. The mail no doubt finally arrived at destination, but the covers over this trip have not as yet come to hand.

Under date of April 10th, the Post Office Department sends out the following notice concerning this route:

"Due entirely to the inability of Walter T. Varney, of San Francisco, contractor for the air mail service from Elko, Nevada, to Pasco, Washington, to perform his part of the contract, Postmaster General New today announced that, on request of Varney, the service on this route will be temporarily suspended. Varney explained in a message to the Department that he had only one good motor left and that those he had used had been found to be in bad condition. He stated he was unable to carry out the terms of his contract with the poor equipment on hand and requested that he be relieved from performing service for the time being. This commercial route was put into operation on April 6, 1926."

This means the suspension of the service four days after it was established and as it will take time to advertise for new bids, it is quite possible that it will be several months before the service is resumed. The postal bulletin of Monday, April 12th, conveys the same information to postmasters.

Mr. Benjamin Delovage kindly sends a clipping from the Sunday Oregonian of April 4th, which illustrates the route covered and showing by means of a map the territory that will feed this service. Judging from the detailed clipping, there was quite an event made of the first day flights.

New Second Issue Revenue

We have known for a number of years of the existence of the Second Issue Revenues in blue and black of the denominations of 25c, 50c and $1.50 with sewing machine perforations. These perforations, which come in more than one type, are undoubtedly unofficial, and it has been believed that the stamps were issued in imperforated condition and these perforations added after they had left the hands of the Department.

Recently in going over a lot of old papers, there were found a number of canceled stock certificates of the Southwestern Market Company of Philadelphia, the certificates being dated around April of 1872. Sixteen copies of the 25c Second Issue were found with substantial margins, imperforated. Most of the certificates used previous and after this month contained the normal perforated variety. These stamps have been shown to Mr. Hugh M. Clark and a number of others who all agree that they are undoubtedly imperforated, but Mr. Clark does not feel that he desires to mention them in the catalog until he sees a pair. If a pair should later be found, it will no doubt rank as one of the rarest pieces in the Second Issue.

Guam

The Collectors Club Journal for April announces the discovery by Mr. Herman Toaspern of the 10c brown in type II. We have known for several years that the $1.00 existed in the two types with the "Guam" overprint, but this is the first time the second type of the 10c has been located. Since this first copy was located, the owner of one of our largest collections of U. S. colonies has found a second copy which he had in his collec-

We have refrained from selling these before, as we considered the prices asked to be too high. This includes many that have been offered at from $1.50 to $15.00 each—and is a real bargain.

I think I am safe in saying that these two United States stamps are the most popular pair in the world. No stamps show such a multitude of interesting and distinct plate varieties.

I pride myself upon the vast stock of these that I have accumulated, and I am now able to offer them in

SALMAGUNDI:—

SUPPLEMENTING our chronicle of the Pasco-Elko air-mail cover sent us by Albert E. Gorham, we have now received one routed Elko-Pasco, which is of more than ordinary interest, because it was carried by the aviator who was delayed in transit. It bears the Elko postmark of 1 P. M. April 6, but the Pasco receiving marking is 11.30 A. M. April 9. It is an interesting cover, and we are indebted to Mr. Gorham for the same.

SOMEONE connected with the Milwaukee Philatelic Society put over a marvelous publicity stunt in the Milwaukee Journal of Sunday, April 11. An entire page was given over to the feature "Stamp Collecting a Fascinating Hobby." The article deals particularly with the collection of W. J. Uihlein, vice-president of the Milwaukee Philatelic Society. The pictures are of striking interest. One shows Mr. Uihlein and his secretary, Fred W. Noske, examining the former's twenty volume stamp collection. Five of the volumes lie open upon the table. One of the pages of the Uihlein collection is pictured, showing a set of old Swiss cantonals. The Journal states that this page represents a value of $2,710.00. A fine picture of King George is shown, also one of J. H. Puelicher, president of the Marshall & Ilsley Bank. One cannot fairly estimate the value of an article like this in promoting the interests of our hobby. Clipping from Hugo E. Traupmann, Jr.

SOMETIME next Spring Alan Cobham, who has just mapped out a commercial airway from London to Capetown, South Africa, will make a survey of a new Empire air route from England through Paris, Lyons, Pisa, Rome, Naples, Suda Bay, Cairo, Damascus, Romadi, Bandar Abbas, Karachi, Delhi, Calcutta, Rangoon, Bangkok, Singapore and Kalidjatti to Port Darwin, Australia. —G. V. Stewart.

FROM the Metropolitan Stamp Co., 1482 Broadway, N. Y. City, comes the Metropolitan Philatelic Messenger, a very ambitious house organ of 24 pages. It is a Volume 1, Number 1, and is a distinct acquisition to the list of publications issued by stamp dealers. There is enough reading matter to make the magazine something more than an advertising medium, and we urge our readers to send for a sample copy.

IN the Detroit Free Press rotogravure section of Sunday, April 11, appeared a nice picture of the dinner of the Michigan Stamp Club, held in March at Webster Hall. H. W. Boers, who sends us the clipping, is to be congratulated upon his enterprise.

THE fourth annual convention of the Southern New England Philatelic Societies will be held at Springfield, Mass., May 8. Mr. Atherton has sent us an extended notice, which we are unable to print in its entirety. He writes us that this is to be a big event and we are perfectly willing to believe it. This year Bridgeport, Hartford, Holyoke, New Haven, Waterbury and the three Springfield Clubs will participate. Previous gatherings have been held at Waterbury, Hartford and New Haven. On the program for this meeting will be found an auction, exhibits and dinner, with the usual incidental attractions.

JAMAICA NOS. 79 AND 92

By Maxwell Krause

I note your item on page 190 regarding the discussion and correspondence caused by the articles written by Mr. Pierson and myself concerning Jamaica Nos. 79 and 92, and the suggestion of Dr. Evans that someone make a study of the various varieties and dies "that can evidently be found."

All this comment has undoubtedly been caused by the fact that Mr. Pierson's article was unfortunately erroneous. The Jamaica pictorials were all made in two printings, which accounts for the difference in shades in so many instances between the centers and the frames of single specimens in all values, and for the discovery of the 1sh value with inverted center, although the stamp is printed in one color. Therefore, the position of the crow's-nest or top of the mast in the 2½d value in relation to the frame lines above it is entirely dependent upon the accuracy of the second printing. The space between the crow's-nest and the frame lines will vary considerably in both Nos. 79 and 92 and I have seen them come together in both varieties, as I have also seen them quite a distance apart. In other words, the difference described by Mr. Pierson is not a die variety and is created solely by the accuracy with which the centers were inserted in the second printing operation.

There is only one difference between the dies used in printing No. 79 and those used in printing No. 92, and that is in the flag on the left hand border, as described in my article. This difference I described fully and I also gave a history of the Union Jack at the time so that collectors in this country would understand why such a seemingly small difference was of considerable historical importance. I sent you the article because I had had so many inquiries asking just what was meant by the inverted flag referred to by Gibbons and the philatelic press, the average collector having failed to notice the small alteration made in No. 92 although aware that one had been made.

It is true that the watermark in itself distinguishes these two stamps from each other and it so happens that all copies with the old watermark were made from the original dies with inverted flag and that all copies on the new script CA paper were printed from the corrected dies. But there is absolutely no other difference in the dies.

At the time my article was published, I was pleased to receive letters from a number of collectors thanking me for the information contained in the story and advising that they had been puzzled on this point since Jamaica, No. 92, had been issued. I am sure that any discussion created was due to misunderstandings and I trust that this letter will entirely clear up the matter so far as I am concerned.

UNITED STATES "EDUCATORS"

For those who are not certain of their classifications of 19th Century U. S. stamps (and that means nine collectors out of every ten) we have made up this series of packets and approval booklets, in which every stamp has its correct catalog number.

Packet A.—30 varieties of U. S. postage only, all classified, including every issue from 1851 to 1890 inclusive, only $2.00

Packet B.—20 varieties of the hard-to-place Bank Note issues each one numbered according to Scott's catalog, 1871 to 1890 ..... $1.00

"Educator" Approvals contain almost all regularly issued stamps of the United States from 1847 to 1900. No stamp priced more than $5, most of them at big discounts from catalog prices. Sent only against references or deposit. [H

CHAPTER XIX.

Exchanging With Foreign Correspondents

I cannot be gravely in error if I venture the assertion that only a surprisingly few American stamp collectors do any exchanging with fellow-hobbyists in other countries.

This condition is not as it should be.

True, the average American knows no other language than English, or, if you prefer, "United States." Thereby, any attempt at corresponding with collectors who do not know English becomes a complicated proposition. But, English is the language used in many parts of the world, including: Ireland, Scotland, England, Canada, Australia, British West Africa, South Africa, India, Straits Settlements, etc., namely, over all those geographical divisions where the British flag flies as emblem of the rule of the "King of the United Kingdom and Dominion beyond the Sea and Emperor of India." In addition, barring Egypt and Indo-China, the stamp collectors in all the countries east of Suez understand English. On the other hand, west of Suez (i.e., Europe) English is becoming generally taught as a secondary language in the higher schools of most of the countries.

Thus, it will be seen that exchanging with collectors in foreign countries is no ago.

In an earlier chapter I had occasion to mention the advantage of being able to practise one's knowledge of foreign languages through corresponding with philatelists of other climes. As I am strongly of the opinion that every educated person should be able at least to read two or three languages, I wholeheartedly recommend seeking and maintaining letter- and stamp-exchanging connections for the linguistic benefit, if for no other.

However, there are other benefits too.

If you are a collector, you will be able to add many specimens to your albums at little cost, because in the same manner as U. S. A. stamps are easily obtained by you to send abroad, your correspondent will find it equally easy to gather his country's stamps to send to you in exchange. This remark refers particularly to the commoner and current emissions, but is not without application for the harder-to-get issues.

If you are a dealer, you will be able to acquire considerable varieties with a minimum outlay of cash as compared with buying the same quantities from a wholesaler, however reasonable may be his prices.

Of course, there will be instances—especially in the case of unusual or rarer numbers—where your wholesale jobber could supply you exactly what you want at less than what it would cost you through exchanging. For this reason, it is advisable not to overlook your jobber even if you import the greater part of your stocks for sale. In fact, it could happen that one or two of your foreign correspondents supply you with material of which your own American jobber is short; when an instance like this occurs, it means you should be able to sell to your jobber.

How to secure connections abroad?

By advertising in the club organs mentioned in Chapter XV, "Stamp Societies and Clubs."

The cost is hardly noticeable for Americans who are accustomed to advertising rates in the United States.

The number of replies is usually most satisfying. In this respect, I would point out the desirability of stating in your advertisements exactly what you expect. By doing that, you will avoid being the recipient of undesirable material of the sort representative of "mission lots."

As you know, "mission lots" constitute bargains from the quantity standpoint, but often are dismaying from the quality basis of judging.

Probably, you are thinking: Where will I get the stamps to send in exchange?

If your nucleus is not "strong", you are face to face with quite a little problem—so it seems. In reality, you have no problem at all. By broadcasting your calls judiciously in more than one of the aforesaid European club organs, you will receive offerings from widely-separated fields: from South America to Oceania and from China to Sudan. Accordingly, you will have the leeway to enable you to take out what you need or like, and then to give the stamps of one in exchange for those of the other. This is to say, you can make yourself the "exchange mart."

Quite apart from the benefit of acquiring stocks for sale at comparatively little expense, you will be learning much that you could never learn through merely buying from an American or other wholesale house.

Provided you exercise proper judgment and deal squarely with those who entrust their property with you, there is no valid reason for failure to glean knowledge and increase your bank account.

As there is import duty on used U. S. A. stamps only, and none on those of other countries, your importations will not involve you in Customs formalities.

TIDBITS:—

A LITTLE booklet, "Notes on Line Engraved British Stamps," by Harry Tahl, has been published by Frank Godden, Ltd., 359 Strand, London W. C. 2, England. The price of the book postpaid is 40c. Anyone interested in collecting British stamps will find this a very useful book. It is freely illustrated.

THE Pasco-Elko air mail service was inaugurated April 6 and specimens of covers are at hand from W. Schwede, Seattle, and H. C. Jones, Spokane. The cover submitted by Mr. Schwede shows a large violet marking, in which the hour of departure is given as 5:30 A. M. out of Pasco. The cover sent by Mr. Jones bears a Pasco marking of 6 A. M., April 6. Both communications were three days en route to Beverly, Mass. Mr. Jones informs us that his letter left Spokane on an old stage-coach for Pasco, via Walla Walla. He submits a clipping from a local paper showing the old-fashioned stage coach, which is labelled Spokane-Pasco Mail.

A MIXTURE:—

WE quote the following from a letter received from Oscar H. Rivero, Pasay, Rizal, P. I.:—"With regards to the information published in November 9th, 1925, issue about the imperforate current stamps of the Philippine Islands, I have the pleasure to send you under separate cover some pages of a Filipino newspaper printed in Spanish, which published the protest of the Asociacion Filatelica de Filipinas against the issuance of such kind of stamps."

A PASCO-ELKO air mail cover has been received from Albert E. Gorham. This differs from the covers we have previously described in that on the reverse side is an Elko receiving date of April 6, 12.30 P. M. We thank Mr. Gorham for his courtesy.

THE Jackson (Mich.) Citizen Patriot of April 8 contained an entire column of stamp collecting notes. Mrs. O. W. Mott sends us this clipping.

THE value of the air mail is every day apparent. We have before us a letter mailed by the Edmond Stamp Co., San Francisco, Calif. It bears the postmark of Friday, April 9, and on the reverse side the New York receiving marking of April 11, 11 P. M. Two days from ocean to ocean shows the marked progress that is being made in air mail delivery.

REGINALD E. PECK in renewing his subscription also includes a subscription for the Public Library at Westerly, R. I. Hearty thanks.

THE publicity campaign of the New York Exhibition has evidently been launched. The Buffalo Evening News of April 7 contained a column story dealing with the "Stamp Show." It was written by one Junius B. Wood and bears the following heading:—"Special to the Buffalo Evening News and Chicago Daily News." Clarence W. Dichel sends us this clipping. We hope our subscribers will keep us fully posted with clippings of this character.

THE dates of the S. P. A. Convention at Cincinnati are August 9-10-11 and hotel reservations can be made by addressing B. S. Daniels, Schmidt Building.

ELSEWHERE will be found the striking advertisement of Frank Godden, Ltd., of London, England. The collection which Mr. Godden has purchased is a most remarkable one. The Stamp Collectors Fortnightly recently published two pages of photographs of the rarities, one page being given to the Nova Scotia and Newfoundland shillings, no fewer than six of the scarlet vermilion being pictured. The collection is very strong in rarities. The notable collections of Lord Crawford, Castle, Hausburg, Mann and Ferrari have contributed to its value. There are classic issues of all countries up to 1876. We bespeak a perusal of this advertisement.

SUBSCRIPTION RECORD FOR MARCH

THE MANAGING EDITOR

Knowledge Is Power = Dollars
Do you realize how often you "give up" or "pass by" a real rare variety thru lack of knowledge?
Let me explain: Denmark No. 2, 4rbs brown is known with over 150 different numeral cancellations. No. 1 is worth $0.20 but dozens of them are worth $5.00 to $10.00 each and a few are rarities.
All these and nearly all Danish varieties are priced in my new Detailed Priced Catalogue of Danish Stamps of 1851-1899. I quote prices of shades, pairs, strips of three, four, six, blocks, sheets, stamps on cover, cancellations, recuts and scores of Inverted Frames, never before priced.
Illustrated Catalogue, 52 pages, printed on one side only, price $1.00 postfree.
Books of used Danish Stamps can be sent on approval. [tf

TES FROM EL PASO, TEXAS

By JOHN W. DYE.

he El Paso Stamp Club of El Paso, as, had the pleasure of entertaining sident A. H. Wilhelm of the Amer- Philatelic Society and Mrs. Wilhelm ently, at the home of Mr. J. Delano tlett. As a result of this visit there ll be about six new members of the P. S. shortly.

n order to stir up interest in stamp ecting among the school children of city the El Paso Stamp Club distrid as prizes, to the pupils having the hest grades in Geography, packets of eign stamps. The cost of this distrition was small and the results big. e result was the formation of at least e school children's stamp clubs. Earin the season the Club exhibited six nes of attractively mounted stamps in window of a large down town store. ough such exhibitions each time the mbership of the Club is increased. Club meets every alternate Friday ving at the home of one of the varimembers.

t a recent meeting new officers of the b were elected as follows:—Percy Ghee, President; Thomas J. Dwyer, e-President; A. P. Myers, Secretary-asurer. John W. Dye, the retiring sident, was appointed Club Auctioneer r Publicity Agent by the new president.

A GREAT PUBLICITY CAMPAIGN

By CHARLES J. PHILLIPS.

If the stamp dealers of this country will pull together, a certain great prosperity for their business is now in sight by taking advantage of the unique opportunity that is now offered to them.

The International Stamp Exhibition of October next will be the largest and most important one that has ever been held. During this Exhibition the convention of the American Philatelic Society will be held in New York at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel and 500 rooms have been reserved there for delegates, but it is expected that double that number may attend this convention.

At the Exhibition itself some forty booths have been arranged for the use of dealers and societies who wish to take advantage of this opportunity to meet their old friends and to make many new ones.

Collectors and dealers are coming in crowds from all parts of the world. Special arrangements are being made already in Gt. Britain, Germany and Austria for large parties of philatelists to visit New York. The Exhibition Committee, recognizing the great importance of this Exhibition and the opportunity it offers them to increase the publicity of stamp collecting, has engaged the services of a leading firm of publicity agents and in addition to paying their fee, have arranged for them to spend $10,000 in advertising in the general press of America and Canada.

This publicity will result in bringing to the Exhibition thousands of outsiders daily, a good proportion of whom should become stamp collectors.

The advertisements throughout the country should result in a great increase in collecting in all states, towns and villages, and all this publicity must prove of the greatest advantage to the trade for many years to come.

The committee has worked out a budget in detail and estimate that over $50,000 will be required to carry out the plans on a requisite scale.

The stamp trade of America has recognized the importance of this event to their business and the following firms have donated $1,000 each towards the expenses:—J. M. Bartels Co., Economist Stamp Co., J. C. Morgenthau & Co., Nassau Stamp Co., Charles J. Phillips and Scott Stamp & Coin Co.

Considering the unique opportunity now offered for increasing their business, it is hoped that every stamp dealer in America will do his bit towards aiding the committee to advertise the hobby of philately. Donations should be sent to J. Murray Bartels, president of the American Stamp Dealers Association, 116 Nassau Street, New York.

Every dealer devotes a certain sum of money to advertising and it is only by well planned advertising that a man who has a vision of the future state of his business can develop his business into a real paying proposition.

We have some one hundred and eighteen million people in this United States of ours. Surely we can make one per cent of them collectors if we take advantage of the opportunity now placed before us.

ANNOUNCING
The Sale by Auction in London
One of the Finest Collections
OF THE STAMPS OF THE ARGENTINE REPUBLIC
EVER OFFERED FOR PUBLIC SALE.

This collection, the property of an important Argentine diplomat, has been arranged on moderately specialized lines, and is practically complete, with the addition of numerous uncatalogued varieties.

THE EARLY ISSUES are remarkably fine, including an enormous number of the "Rivadavia" type, which are not, however, plated.

THE LATER ISSUES are a splendid lot, with most of the ERRORS including the scarce 1899 "inverted centres".

THE REGULAR ISSUES are followed by DEPARTMENTALS, and a fully representative collection of the rare early "SHIPS" of BUENOS AYRES with CORDOBA and CORRIENTES. The collection of PROOFS and ESSAYS is probably the finest extant.

Many of the rarer stamps are ex-Ferrari and other famous collections. The disposal of this aggregation presents unique opportunities to the Argentine Specialist and the General Collector.

THE SALE WILL TAKE PLACE
MIDDLE OF JUNE

CATALOGUES containing superb photographic reproductions of the important rarities ARE NOW READY and will be mailed FREE ON REQUEST; IF IMMEDIATE APPLICATION be made, sufficient time is provided for American collectors to mail bids.

Let every American dealer, be he large or small, do his bit, send his subscription or promise of help to Mr. Bartels, and if we all pull together in this way and raise sufficient funds to enable the Exhibition Committee to carry out its plans, the result should be prosperity throughout the trade for many years to come.

It is this unique opportunity that we now have that will enable us to create and interest thousands of new buyers in stamp collecting. Do not pass this up without thought. Everyone of you should at once decide to devote a certain proportion of his capital or available funds to helping the gigantic scheme of advertising that is now being planned for your benefit. Remember the old saying, "He gives twice who gives quickly."

CONVENTION COMMITTEES

We wish that we had sufficient space to insert all the publicity matter sent us by committees arranging for coming conventions. However, our space is very limited and it is necessary for the Managing Editor to distinguish between publicity matter and what is really news. If there are developments in connection with convention arrangements that constitute actual news matter we shall be glad to use the same, but please bear in mind that our subscribers are primarily interested in news concerning stamps.

EDITORIAL.

The western express franks, with the Pony Express covers riding at the head of the cavalcade, form a procession that is viewed with growing favor by the spectators who line the philatelic streets. In the west the historical interest of these covers is being emphasized and the appeal otherwise is not lost on those with philatelic instincts. Latterly, there have been many references to the franks in the press and some of the notices have been detailed in our columns. Now we have the March number of MotorLand, published by the California State Automobile Association, in which the leading article is "Early California From a Mail Bag," by F. J. Dietrich, Jr. The article, copiously illustrated, reveals the romance of early California through the private express company franks. Some of the old advertisements of the expresses are reproduced and about a score of franked envelopes are pictured. The source of supply of much of the material for the story was Mr. W. R. Parker of Stockton, California, whose researches in the lore of private express stamps have attracted attention. In the article are many references that would make readable quotations and we shall cite an example: "The research into western franks has brought to light a number of interesting facts. Agitation for a real railroad found an unusual outlet in the form of 'Putt's Overland Envelope.' This amusing masterpiece was a stunt perpetrated by an itinerant printer by the name of Putt, circulated in '61 or '62. In red letters and a variety of types, the envelope bore pieces of literature and poetry of, among other attributes, divers degrees of profanity. At considerable length, stage coach travel across the continent is described in no genteel terms. On the face of the envelope appears its purpose. 'This little institution is to be forwarded to its place of destination by Uncle Sam's GREAT MULE RAILROAD, and is expected to arrive inside of its schedule time — provided, the cars don't get STUCK IN THE MUD, nor the LOCOMOTIVE run out of grass! WE WANT A DIFFERENT RAILROAD'." Evidently this envelope is not of the stamped envelope variety, but is a plain envelope class, such as were many others that were not included in Phillips' list of franks published about thirty years ago.

Recently, we had a visit from Mr. Charles A. Nast of Denver, who was en route to the east. Mr. Nast revived old memories in an entertaining way and harked back to the times when our world was more compact and easier stirred by questions of procedure than it is now. Mr. Nast has long been a student of our revenue stamps, private and otherwise, and we remember his check-list of provisional cancellations on the 1898 proprietary revenue stamps as a thorough one. His studies in the cancellations on the three cent green, U. S., have covered a period of much time and his article on the subject, "Characteristic Cancellations," is a feature of our popular little work on the three cent green. Mr. Nast retains his enthusiasm for stamps and always intent upon putting philately's best foot forward.

Professor Franklin P. Metcalfe of Fukien Christian University, Foo Chow, China, has returned to his duties after a trip and with the new semester is getting into action in a philatelic sense. He has been successful as an organizer of boys' clubs for stamp purposes and he has started to plan another club. It is encouraging to find that an increasing number of educators are alive to the desirability of directing the thoughts of the young people to stamp collecting. It is always a foregone conclusion that for every so many boys and girls that are given a start on the philatelic path, there is one that becomes a permanent collector. The importance of primary training for collectors cannot be stressed too much and if they are coached properly at first, mistakes that will confront and dishearten them later will be at a minimum.

A correspondent in India says that he has found that many of the officers with whom he comes in contact are collectors and that there are many superb collections in their keeping that are unheralded and unsung. He says that he had the pleasure of seeing there a correspondent with whom he has corresponded since 1899 and that when he met him, they were "old friends" at once. The traveler speaks of the havoc wrought by India's climate on original gum and of the protective measures that collectors there have to adopt and he moralizes on the fact that philatelists here should thank their lucky stars that they are not handicapped in this manner.

Mr. George E. Terbush, the sales promotion man, who is never too busy to discuss ideas for the spread of stamp publicity, has the suggestion to make that a rubber-stamped frame, surrounded by a short slogan, such as, "Collect Stamps Now," be filled by a stamp pasted in it. The stamp could be placed on the business letter-heads and envelopes, even. At any rate, rubber stamps with a collecting slogan could be distributed for impressions on mail sent out by collectors.

The convention of the American Philatelic Society will be held in New York, October 18th to 20th inclusive, and it is safe to predict that attendance records for all times will be shattered. No doubt, so many collectors will go to New York to see the Exhibition and take part in the convention that a special railroad rate will be given. In fact, the Central Passenger Association has announced a certificate plan arrangement covering its territory, with issuing dates from October 14th to 17th, with October 18th as validation day at New York. The last honoring date for the return trip is October 23rd, 1926. The endorsing officer is Mr. Baldwin Schlessinger, 30 E. Houston St., New York. Under this concession, full fare is paid on the trip to New York and if two hundred and fifty tickets are presented for endorsement, the return trip will cost just half the full fare rate.

Here is the explanation of the post office department telling why the air mail service from Elko, Nevada, to Pasco, Washington, has been suspended temporarily. In writing to the government, the contractor said that he had but one good motor left and because of his poor equipment he asked that he be relieved for the time being from the performance of his contract.

The Canadian postal authorities have informed Washington that "in order to facilitate the handling and despatch of parcels posted at the larger centers where extensive mailings are made for delivery at places within the Dominion of Canada or in the United States, the postage-paid-in-cash system has been extended to parcels of third-class matter and parcel post. Each parcel mailed under the postage-paid-in-cash system will have affixed to it, at the upper right hand corner of the address where stamps are usually placed, an impression showing the amount of postage paid at third-class or parcel post rates."

In the "American Boy" for March there is a great piece of publicity based upon the career of Dr. Warren L. Babcock of Detroit, "the boy who learned about stamps." Dr. Babcock unrolls the philatelic reel artfully and in a most interesting way, and we are sure that his example will be such as to inspire in the boyish breast a decided respect for stamps. A portrait of Dr. Babcock is shown and the article is crammed with readable material.

The Dayton, Ohio, "Herald" recently contained an account of the organization of the Dayton Philatelic Society by the "big boys" of that city. There are about thirty names on the roll, including Congressman Roy G. Fitzgerald and Henry W. Pleasant's, assistant postmaster. Here is an auspicious beginning indeed.

NEW YORK EXHIBITION NOTES

The cost of the Exhibition has been estimated to be between $50,000 and $60,000. Up to the present time the financial pledges of the collectors and dealers throughout the United States have not been sufficient to guarantee this sum. This is no doubt due to a mistaken idea regarding the inception and purpose of the Exhibition.

The Exhibition was originally planned to take place in Philadelphia in connection with the sesquicentennial celebration in that city, but after due consideration the Philadelphians decided that New York had better facilities for holding a great international philatelic exhibition at this time. The matter was taken up with the Association for Stamp Exhibitions the Collectors Club, and other philatelic organizations, suggesting that the Exhibition be held in New York, and the Collectors Club immediately acted favorably on this suggestion. As most of the officers of the Collectors Club are also officers of the Association for Stamp Exhibitions, a joint meeting was called and the Exhibition was under way.

That is the story of how the Exhibition came to New York, and the interest of the Collectors Club in it. This seems to have created an idea in the minds of collectors that it is solely New York's exhibition planned for financial gain, and the surplus over expenses, if any, to be devoted to the building fund of the Collectors Club. This is a fallacy and absolutely not so. Neither the Collectors Club nor any other similar organization will receive one penny from any such surplus and at the last meeting of the Exhibition Committee the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved: THAT any surplus remaining after the Exhibition be divided as follows: $2,500 to be retained by the Association for the purpose of furthering future philatelic exhibitions in the United States and elsewhere and the balance to be divided and returned to contributors pro rata.

The New York collectors and dealers have given liberally both in time and money, but much remains still to be done to get the necessary funds together to insure the success of the undertaking Send your donation direct to Mr. Theodore E. Steinway, 109 West 57th Street New York City.

The opening day, Saturday, October 16, 1926, from 2.30 to 5.30 P. M., has been designated as Members Day and the Committee has arranged for a preview of the Exhibition by members of the Association for Stamp Exhibitions. Admission will be by membership card only and these may be obtained by sending $2.00 to Mr. Theodore E. Steinway for 1926 dues.

The first donation from an American organization was sent by the Delaware Stamp Club; $20 for a silver gold medal The honor of the first foreign donation falls to Stanley Gibbons, Ltd., who has donated a complete set of four medals as follows: Palm of Honor, $100; gold medal, $50; silver gold, $20 and silver, $10. It will be interesting to see who will be reported next.

New class for Air Mail stamps:—Class XVI-A—Sec. 1, General collection. Sec. 2, Specialized collection. Sec. 3, Flown covers—general. Sec. 4, Commercial usages. Sec. 5, Paris or Przemysl sieges. Sec. 6, First flights.

Class XVIII—New Section 10 added. Monographs or handbooks printed and published since October 1, 1925.

In response to many inquiries as to whether an exhibitor must show all of the countries noted in any one section or may exhibit one country only in competition with the others, the Exhibition Committee believed that the intent was perfectly clear, but in order that there may be no misconception, they have decided that where more than one country is named in a section anyone of such countries may be exhibited alone to compete with the other countries in that section.

For those who like statistics, it might interest them to know that the minimum number of awards authorized by the Committee is as follows: Palms of Honor 12, Gold Medals 123, Silver Gold Medals 61, Silver Medals 194, Bronze Medals 192. The silver gold medal which replaces the silver gilt medal has been decided upon and will consist of a silver medal with a rim of gold.

In conclusion let everyone who reads this send $2.00, dues for 1926.

THE BI-MONTHLY JOURNAL
A house organ with an inimitable style and charm, published every two months. Each issue consists of from 32 to 48 pages, every one containing a formidable array of unusual offerings in medium and scarce sets, packets and special collections, dealers' stocks, single stamps, philatelic supplies, etc., etc.
Albert C. Munson, 412 Broadway, Houston, Texas, writes:
"I enjoy the Bi-Monthly as much as MEKEEL'S; there is no other paper, house organ, journal or circular of any kind wherein one can find such extraordinary good stock—and at such reasonable prices."
C. A. Ralston, 164 Vaughn St., Waterloo, Iowa, says:
"I am paying subscription charges for two large house organs, but would rather get along without both of them than to lose yours. If necessary, I know that I could pay a substantial subscription to the Bi-Monthly and save all of it on stamps offered in a single issue."
The Bi-Monthly Journal is a distinctive publication and absolutely free to patrons. You can't afford to be without it!

U. S. ERROR ENVELOPE
3c RED ON AMBER

During the time the 3c rate existed for domestic postage, quite a commotion was caused when the 3c envelope normally printed in violet appeared in the red of the 2c. They were first found in New York on white paper and a much larger supply on the same paper was located in Seattle. Later on the variety in blue was found in smaller quantities and a year or so later, less than fifty on amber came to light with the imprint of a small Indiana bank. I was the first one to handle this variety and quite recently I have obtained several more from the original owner. The envelope is well seasoned, so that there is little likelihood of any more being found. Scott lists the variety as #266?b and prices it at $50.00.

I offer a superb unused entire copy mailed flat at $30.00. When this little lot is gone, there is little likelihood of getting them except when the larger collections are broken.

If you are looking for any of the overprinted 1½ cent envelopes, I have on hand a wonderful stock, including the rarer varieties.

CHRONICLE OF NEW ISSUES AND VARIETIES

The chronicle of United States is edited by PHILIP H. WARD, JR., Box 4216, Germantown, Phila., Pa., who will also be pleased to pass on oddities and varieties of all U. S. stamps from 1900 to date. The foreign chronicle is edited by PERCY C. SMITH, 75 Electric Ave., West Somerville, Mass. Correspondents will please be careful to send their matter to the right address.

ALBANIA.—Whitfield King & Co. have shown us the set of stamps mentioned in the Chronicle in issue No. 1836. The values are 1q orange, 2q red brown, 5q green, 10q rose red, 15q dark brown, 25q blue, 50q grey blue, 1fr brick red and blue and 2fr green and orange. All are of the same design, front face portrait, except the two franc values which show a profile view and different style of lettering.

BOLIVIA.—Inca Issue.—Receipt of the supplement to Kohl's Briefmarken Handbuch, Vol. I, reminds us that we have omitted to chronicle the values and colours of this remarkable set. We therefore extract the following particulars:

½c rose (500,000).	30c rose (500,000).
1c rose (1,000,000).	40c green (500,000).
2c black (1,000,000).	50c rose (500,000).
3c black (500,000).	60c violet (500,000).
5c green (1,000,000).	1b green (500,000).
10c green (1,000,000).	2b blue (498,800).
15c blue (1,000,000).	3b black (250,000).
20c rose (1,000,000).	4b grn.-blk. (250,000).
22½c green (500,000).	5b grey (250,000).
25c violet (1,000,000).

—Philatelic Magazine.

BULGARIA.—The Economist Stamp Co have shown us a 50c black, with a view of the Cathedral of Sophia in the centre.

EGYPT.—Mr. R. Roberts has sent for chronicle a set of six stamps bearing the inscription "XIIth Exposition Agricole Et Industrielle" and showing a farmer plowing with a yoke of oxen. The stamps are oblong in shape and carry the name of the country at the top in the centre with the words of value at the lower left corner. The watermark is crown and cipher letter "F" in Arabic, signifying King Fuad. The values and colors are as follows: 5m brown, 10m rose, 15m blue, 50m blue green, 100m mauve and 200m bright violet.

According to information disseminated by Messrs. Yvert & Tellier, special stamps are about to be issued for the use of the various legations and consulates in Cairo; they will be inscribed "ADMINISTRATION CONSULAIRE," and will comprise 50,000 copies of a 10m denomination, 20,000 of a 50m, 5,000 of a 100m, and 20,000 of a 200m.—Stamp Collecting.

FRANCE.—Whitfield King & Co. advise that the 50c, Sower type, has been issued in a grey green color.

HUNGARY.—New Series.—Further to our note of 18-2-26 we now learn that the designs are the work of Professor Franz Helbing, the off-set printed low values showing the St. Stephen's Crown and regalia, while the Pengo denominations will have vignettes of the Fisher's Bastion and Mathias Church at Budapest. One or two of the stamps may possibly represent the Virgin Patrona Hungariae.—Philatelic Magazine.

ITALY.—After describing the St. Francis commemoratives (formally chronicled in these pages a fortnight ago), Mr. Fred J. Melville says in the Daily Telegraph:—

Italy has some other interesting stamps in preparation, amongst them a series of air post stamps due this month. Signor Del Neri is the designer of the set, consisting of four values—60c greenish-grey, 1 lira blue, 1.50 lira orange-yellow, and 5 lire green. There are two designs, one showing the flying horse Pegasus, and the other an allegorical display of wings. The Italian Air Ministry secured the designs in public competition.

Lastly we are promised a stamp in memory of Virgil, which should provide yet another silken cord to link stamp collecting with the classroom. Virgil in person will be new to stamp portraiture, but there is an historic link with his works in the famous motto on the classic first issue of New South Wales, the "Sydney Views." The phrase, "Sic fortis Etruria crevit" (thus did brave Etruria grow) is from Georgics II, 533. It appears beneath the central design showing convicts, their fetters removed, landing at Botany Bay, received by Industry, and embarking on the simple life in praise on which the poet sings.

The air mail stamps—the old Pneumatic type with modified inscription, reading "POSTA AEREA"—chronicled in Stamp Collecting for January 30th, are duly notified in the current number of Il Corriere Filatelico.—Stamp Collecting.

NICARAGUA.—Mr. Robert J. Wagner reports that he has received a copy of the 6c red brown, No. 425, with the surcharge "Oficial."

STANLEY GIBBONS, LTD.

ONLY ADDRESS:—

DEPT. 20, 391 STRAND, LONDON, ENG.

EAST AND WEST:—

WE have received from Joseph A. Steinmetz a clipping from a New York paper which describes no fewer than seven auction sales listed for April. Considerable space is given to the description of these auctions to be held by Morgenthau, Scott Stamp & Coin Co., Ohlman, Percy G. Doane and J. M. Ortels Co. The article quotes a number of prices realized at a recent Toaspern sale and also notes the early removal of the Collectors Club to its new quarters.

WE have received from Frank Godden, Ltd., 359 Strand, London, W. C. 2, England, a photograph of what is described as "The rarest known British piece in the world." It consists of a block of sixty mint of the exceedingly rare Plate Eleven 1d black, with marginal inscription and plate numbers in corners. The value of this unique block is $17,500, and the photograph will be found of advice to anyone who wishes to determine if they have any Plate Elevens among their letters AA to EL. These reproductions are of the collotype process and retail at 36c.

WE are unable to decipher name and give credit to some Los Angeles subscriber who, under date of April 9, very kindly sent us a cover dealing with the first flight Los Angeles-Las Vegas-Salt Lake City air mail. The message was not received in time to use to the advantage of our subscribers. The flight was scheduled for April 17.

THE quarter-page auction announcement of H. R. Harmer should receive close attention. This firm is desirous of securing the names of American auction buyers, and has dated this sale far enough ahead to permit of across-the-ocean correspondence. Mr. Harmer, in his letter enclosing the copy, speaks in a very satisfactory manner of the character of his offerings of Argentine Republic and especially commends the superb photographic reproductions of some of the contents of the sale that are included with the catalog. The advertisement speaks for itself.

OUR Library Shower is already making itself felt. H. Roswell Jones, corresponding secretary of the Polytechnic Philatelic Society, Baltimore, Md., has sent us a subscription for the Institute Library, North and Guilford Aves., Baltimore. Who will be the next?

WE have received from Frank A. Goldsmith a clipping from the Boston Globe of April 11. It contains a column story concerning the stamp collection of Mr. Ralph H. Payne, Greenfield, Mass. Its well written and we regret that we do not have room to reprint it in its entirety. His collection includes a fine lot of Pony Express covers.

STAMP NEWS IN BRIEF

BRITISH EMPIRE.

Great Britain.—With reference to our remarks re sideways watermarks on this page last month, Lieut-Colonel L. J. Worthington kindly writes: "Sideways wmk. is found in the current ½d, 1d, and 1½d stamps issued in rolls of 480, delivery left side first ('controls' P, O and N respectively on the outer wrapper). The 2d (Control T) has still the upright watermark, the rolls being cut up from sheets, but if this value appears later in 'continuous' rolls, it will doubtless also have sideways wmk."

British Guiana.—Mr. R. Roberts reports the current 6c in a pale blue shade, quite different from the previous ultramarine.

Cook Islands.—L'Echo de la Timbrologie states that the stamps with portrait of Queen Makea Takau have been withdrawn from circulation.

India.—Charkhari. Messrs. Ram Gopal and Co. show us the 1 pice, turquoise, and ½ anna, red, with pen-and-ink surcharge "½ a" and "1 a" respectively. We await further news as to the official nature of these before listing formally.

Malta.—Since adding our note to Captain Jessop's article, with reference to the 5s on lemon paper (page 106), Mr. Forbes-Bentley has kindly shown us specimens of what he regards as the lemon shade. While there is a distinct lemon tone about the paper of the stamps shown us, this seems to be due largely to the green colour of the central portion of the design. It is doubtless a variety which specialists would wish to have, and according to Mr. Forbes-Bentley is of considerable rarity, but we do not think it is on the true lemon paper.

In this connection Lieut.-Colonel L. J. Worthington writes: "I feel personally very doubtful that the true lemon was ever issued. I have two marginal pairs of this stamp, one slightly more lemon than the other, but it is certainly not the true lemon. I do not know of any stamps of the same size as this being issued on lemon, and considered that the small supply of lemon paper was entirely reserved for cutting to the size required for the normal size, 120-set stamps."

Count San Fournier states that all the deep blue 3d stamps were surcharged as 2½d provisionals, so that there will be no 3d stamps of this shade. He adds that 2½d blue, and 3d black on yellow, are now on order. On the arrival of the new pictorial set, it is intended to overprint all stamps of the current series with the word "Gozo" for use in that island only. This is obviously a speculative device, and we hope dealers will refrain from ordering the "Gozo" set, if it materialises.

New Zealand.—We quote from a contemporary (the New Zealand Stamp Collector, we believe):

"The ½d and 1d Dues of New Zealand have appeared on the curious lithographed watermark paper, and these complete the list of this issue. All are very scarce and will be rare.

The paper with lithographed watermark was used as a last resort when all the other suitable paper had been exhausted. Although unsurfaced, it was what is known as imitation art paper, and was supplied from stock by the Government Printer. In order to minimise the possibility of forgery, the Stamp Department instructed the printer to print a watermark on the paper. Trial sheets were submitted with the watermark lithographed, and this method was approved. The Government Printer used a lithograph varnish and, as his instructions stipulated that the watermark should be clearly visible, it was necessary to add colour to the varnish. Owing to the difficulty of satisfactorily colouring the varnish, it was found impossible to maintain a uniform shade, and hence the lithographed watermark is found ranging in shade from pale grey to blue.

A few sheets of the 1d Dominion were issued with the lithographed watermark almost black, but these are very scarce.

Although it has been stated that the 3d King George was printed with the lithographed watermark, this is incorrect. The only stamps printed on this paper were the ½d and 2d King George the 1d Dominion, and the ½d and 2d Postage Dues. A small quantity of the 1d Dominion was overprinted 'OFFICIAL.'

The total number of sheets with lithographed watermark was comparatively small, and the bulk of the printing comprised the ½d and 1d values. The 2d was issued to only a few Post Offices, and should prove to be a very good stamp."

Nigeria.—Mr. C. V. Appleton reports the 6d, Script wmk., Die II, with watermark inverted.

Rhodesia.—Mr. G. N. Beaulah shows us a 1d King George, Die III, perf. 14, in a marked aniline shade, the colour showing through to the back of the stamp in a pronounced degree. There is a slight brownish tone to the colour of the stamp itself. Our informant states that this stamp was received from Livingstone just

NEW EDITIONS

20th Century International Albums

PART II

These albums are complete from Jan. 1, 1920, to include all stamps listed in the latest (1926) edition of Scott's Postage Stamp Catalogue. Because of the large number of stamps issued during this period these albums are about twice as large as the previous edition, and the loose leaf editions require double the number of binders in each instance, which explains the apparent increase in price of these editions.

The paper used is of a special, heavy quality, white stock especially adapted to the requirements of stamp mounting, and we highly recommend it to our patrons.

No. 3 Bound. 800 pages, 1 volume, printed on both sides of the paper. Brown Cloth, Gilt lettering, $6.00. Shipping weight 8 lbs.

No. 11 Loose Leaf. 800 pages, in 2 binders. Printed on one side of the paper. Pages with creased margin, $30.00. Shipping weight 26 lbs.

No. 11 Pages only, $22.00. Shipping weight 21 lbs.

No. 25 Loose Leaf. 800 pages in 4 binders, printed on one side of the paper. Pages with linen hinge, $50.00. Shipping weight 35 lbs.

No. 25 Pages only, $36.00. Shipping weight 22 lbs.

SUPPLEMENTARY PAGES

Those who own the previous edition of the Loose Leaf albums No. 11, or 25, may make them identical with this edition by the purchase of Supplementary Pages. These pages consist of all the added or changed pages which appear in the new edition.

2 THINGS U NEED!!

IF YOU COLLECT MODERN STAMPS, THERE ARE TWO THINGS YOU CAN HARDLY GET ALONG WITHOUT—ONE OR BOTH OF THEM!

THEY ARE — THE KRAUSE BRITISH COLONIAL NEW ISSUE SERVICE, AND KRAUSE'S WEEKLY BARGAIN LISTS.

THE KRAUSE BRITISH COLONIAL NEW ISSUE SERVICE, KNOWN FROM COAST TO COAST AND NUMBERING MORE THAN 200 REGULAR SUBSCRIBERS, IS THE CHEAPEST AND MOST COMPLETE BRITISH COLONIAL NEW ISSUE SERVICE IN AMERICA.

IT HAS RECENTLY BEEN GREATLY IMPROVED AND IS NOW SECOND TO NONE IN THE WORLD FOR COMPLETENESS.

I HAVE ON FILE MANY LETTERS FROM SUBSCRIBERS, MOST OF WHOM HAVE BEEN WITH ME FROM THE START, EXPRESSING APPRECIATION OF THE STAMPS RECEIVED AND THE MONEY SAVED THEM.

YOU CAN SHARE THIS WONDERFUL SERVICE WITH THEM—A CIRCULAR GLADLY SENT IF YOU ASK FOR IT—WILL EXPLAIN ALL THE DETAILS TO YOU.

MY WEEKLY BARGAIN LISTS ARE EQUALLY WELL KNOWN TO AMERICAN COLLECTORS.

THEY OFFER ALL THE NEW ISSUES, BOTH BRITISH COLONIALS AND OTHERS, AND ALSO HUNDREDS OF OTHER STAMPS, 20TH CENTURY ONLY — SPECIAL BARGAINS, RARITIES, UNUSUAL ITEMS, ERRORS, ETC., ALL AT ATTRACTIVE PRICES.

THEY WILL BOTH SAVE YOU MONEY AND KEEP YOU UP-TO-DATE.

THE COST TO SUBSCRIBERS IS 50c FOR 50 CONSECUTIVE NUMBERS—JUST A PART OF THE COST OF POSTING THEM TO YOU.

I BEAR THE REST OF THE EXPENSE, WHICH IS CONSIDERABLY MORE THAN 50c PER SUBSCRIPTION, AND I RESPECTFULLY REQUEST COLLECTORS WHO ARE NOT ACTIVE BUYERS TO WITHHOLD THEIR SUBSCRIPTIONS.

SO ACTIVE IS THE DEMAND FOR ITEMS OFFERED IN MY WEEKLY LISTS THAT I AM SELDOM ABLE TO OFFER THESE STAMPS IN OTHER ADVERTISEMENTS.

IN OTHER WORDS, IF YOU WANT TO SHARE IN THESE GOOD THINGS, YOU MUST GET MY WEEKLY LISTS!

WE NEED EACH OTHER—YOU NEED MY LISTS AND MY SERVICE AND I NEED YOUR PATRONAGE.

LET ME HEAR FROM YOU—WE WILL BOTH PROFIT!

MAXWELL KRAUSE, Lebanon, Pa.

ADLETS

Minimum two lines.

RATE.—30c per line, cash in advance. No display allowed. Six words (32 letters) to the line, including address. We offer 50 lines for $12.50, where cash is paid in advance. This space can be used at such times and in such quantities as may be desired.

This column is for the use of our patrons who desire only a few lines of space. If you want to buy, sell, exchange, it is without doubt the best advertising medium in the world. It is impossible to guarantee advertisers in this department, and patrons must satisfy themselves as to the reliability of the parties with whom they desire to engage in business relations.

before the new Northern Rhodesia stamps appeared.

Straits Settlements.—Mr. Foong Chu Wing tells us that from January 1st the internal postage rate (which includes Straits, F. M. S., the protected states, Sarawak, Brunei, and North Borneo) is lowered from 5c to 4c, the post card rate being 2c (as above), and 4c to British possessions, etc., foreign, 6c. Letter rate, British Colonies, 6c; foreign, 12c.

Union of South Africa.—Our thanks are due to the numerous read who sent us specimens of the new stan or cuttings relating to them. As stamps were on sale in London we w able to list them before they could r us from South Africa, hence the abse of any acknowledgment at the time.

OTHER COUNTRIES

Belgium.—In September of last y we noted a pair of the 55c on 65c "L monde" with inverted surcharge, sh us by a collector who found it am some stamps given him by a friend in Helena, who was himself not a collec Seeing our chronicle, Le Philatél Belge suggested that the authenticity the error was at least doubtful. were able to put the editor of our temporary in touch with the owner of stamps, and the former pronounced surcharge to be forged, a similar having been previously seen by him.

Apparently the forger had been tent to use a few of his "treasures" propaganda, by sending them through post, hoping that one at least would up and be recorded. He would then able to "discover" the remainder o sheet, unused, which would fetch h prices. That he got no further than did, in the case of the copy found St. Helena, is due to the caution of Belgian friends. Needless to say, finder of the error acted in perfect g faith, and had every reason to supp the stamp was genuine, bearing in m the "unphilatelic" circumstances of discovery.

Congo State.—The 20c value, be again required, is to be reissued in type of the 75c, colour bright green. stock of the previous 20c, olive, destroyed when the stamp was withdra

Bolivia.—From a decree published La Ilustracion Filatelica we get details the terms on which the Tihuanacu (S Gate) series was produced. Three cent of the total issue was to be gi to the promoter of the issue, and it probably some of these that came on market in Europe before the stamps reached Bolivia. We have been inform that the Sun Gate series has now been on sale in Bolivia, but we await so proof that it is in general use, bef listing it, as it is possible that criticis in the philatelic Press may lead to a v small quantity of stamps being put i postal circulation in order to give app ent validity to the issue—a proceed which would not, in our opinion, give catalogue rank. The numbers prin range from 250,000 to 1½ millions.

Mr. Mervyn G. Palmer states that 1c and 2c of the Centenary series w undoubtedly speculative, as none ha been on sale at La Paz. The specula is trying to sell the stocks of the 1c a 2c, but nobody will buy. May his di culties increase!

China.—Mr. A. W. Tyrrell shows a specimen of the 10c, blue, Junk ty with "2½" very boldly handstamped on in violet. It is on a piece of cover be ing the Shanghai registration label. T does not appear to be an official surchar Does any reader know more about it?

Costa Rica.—L'Echo de la Timbrol publishes a decree authorising the su charging of certain values not in freque use, in order to convert them into stan of denominations now required, but n included in the current series. Certa colours are also to be changed.

Denmark.—Mr. Svend Ramsing forms us that Denmark is to commem rate the 75th anniversary of the fi Danish stamp by issuing three n stamps in which the design of the fi beg to announce that they have just secured the "Greenfield" Collection formed by a Fellow of the Royal Philatelic Society, which contains only Classic Rarities up to 1876, and these in the finest possible condition.

$100,000 COLLECTION

Messrs. Frank Godden, Ltd.

It is impossible to enumerate here the many rare pieces in the collection, but suffice it to say that GREAT BRITAIN contains three V. R.'s, one unused, one used, and one with trial cancellation.

AUSTRIA: All the rarities in the Imperial Journal stamps and the rare colours of the Mercury Newspaper, the 6 kr. red of the latter being generally recognized as the rarest of European stamps.

HELIGOLAND: Complete used including the error.

GERMAN STATES are complete in magnificent condition with the greater rarities often duplicated, and in some instances three or four copies are included. ITALIAN STATES are much the same for instance, Tuscany, 1 soldo, one unused and four used, 60 crazie, 2 soldi red (2) and the 3 lira; Naples, three copies of the "blue cross" and a magnificent copy of the "Arms" cutting into three stamps with its margins.

ROUMANIA: Circulars 54, 81, and 102, all cut square, with fine margins; also 5 para black, 1858.

SPAIN: All the 2 reales and a fine used copy of the 1 real light blue. Madrid: Two of the 1 cuarto and three of the 3 cuartos, three of these being on the original letter; also a very fine lot of Philippines.

SWITZERLAND (several pages of the Cantonals, including two double Genevas, superb).

CEYLON is a country that appeals for there are, among a beautiful lot, no less than three copies of the 4d imperf.

CAPE OF GOOD HOPE: Woodblocks, twenty-seven copies. These include very rare colours and four errors. MAURITIUS: A fine array from the earliest state of the plate down; also a great show of the Greek borders and the Britannia type ARGENTINE imperfs. and all the BUENOS AIRES.

CANADA: Very fine indeed, including three copies of the 12 pence, one of them a record.

COLOMBIA and States complete.

THE NEW BRUNSWICKS, NEWFOUNDLAND, and NOVA SCOTIA are altogether beyond description, so mention is made only of these numbers in their order of rarity.

NEWFOUNDLAND: 1sh scarlet or orange-vermilion, ten copies. Ditto. 2d scarlet, six copies.

NEW BRUNSWICK: 1sh, three copies.

NOVA SCOTIA: 1sh, four copies.

WEST INDIAN are in duplicate or triplicate, and the same remarks apply to the whole of the AUSTRALIAN. NEW SOUTH WALES, for instance, there are three beautiful copies of the 8d Diadem and four of the 8d Laureated; also Sydney Views in pairs.

Want-lists will have careful attention in order of the date received issue will be reproduced, with appropriate inscriptions. There is a strong philatelic society in Copenhagen, and we think it has here an occasion for serious representations to the Danish Government. We tremble to think what will be the effect if every country is to commemorate the anniversary of its first stamp;—and if the first, why not the second and succeeding issues? We commend the idea to countries seeking new methods of wrecking their reputation for philatelic purity.

Remainders of the 30 öre, orange, and 40 öre, blue, have been surcharged for use as 20 öre stamps.

Egypt.—A correspondent states that a new stamp will be issued in connection with the Agricultural Exhibition, to be held in Cairo shortly. The stamp will depict a native plough and is expected to be a very handsome one. It will be printed in Cairo. In view of the fact that this is the third special issue now on the way, should not Egypt's claim to a place on the philatelic "black list" receive careful consideration?

France.—Lieut.-Colonel J. P. Law shows us a strip of four 30c, scarlet (Sower, Type 18), on vertically laid paper, which he bought at the Mentone P. O. in the spring of 1925. We have not previously heard of this variety and should be interested to know whether other readers have come across it.

Nejd.—Mr. A. Sempad sends us two series of postage stamps in definite designs and also one series of Postage Dues. We believe the stamps of Nejd will prove to be of proper standing, but will not formally list them in our Supplements until we have further information on certain points which are still obscure.

Peru.—Mr. Mervyn G. Palmer explains the use of the stamp overprinted "Plebiscito" as follows: During the Plebiscite held under U. S. auspices, to determine the future of the disputed provinces of Tacna and Arica, the Peruvians were to have their headquarters in Arica, but the Chileans made it so hot for them ashore that they had to go aboard the S. S. Ucayali, which was created a Government transport and so was entitled to a post office, the latter being under the G. P. O., Lima. The stamps used on the Ucayali were overprinted "Plebiscito," the whole issue being sent to that vessel, but there was nothing to prohibit their use at other Peruvian P. O.'s.

Mr. Palmer says nothing about the large pictorial stamps which also appear to have reference to this Plebiscite. They are the 5c, 10c, and 50c, with views of a sea coast and statue. We have seen one apparently postally used, sent us by Mr. E. K. Crews, and Mr. Rhys Jones has shown us others.

Portugal.—We are glad to hear from a reliable source that the promoters of the de Pombal issue are "tearing their hair" over its failure. There are millions of these stamps at the Mint, and no one will buy them. The trans-Atlantic flight issue is also dead. R. I. P. Meanwhile L'Echo states that an Independence series will appear at the end of this year.

Nyassa Co.—Mr. J. N. Marsden has drawn our attention to some of the stamps of this Company, S. G., Nos. 2 to 44 and 53 to 58, which have recently been appearing. They are more finely printed and the colours are of a different tone. Is it possible that these stamps have been reprinted?—Stanley Gibbons Monthly Journal.

STAMP FOR SESQUI-CENTENNIAL

By PHILIP H. WARD, JR.

Under date of April 20th the Postmaster General announced that he had just approved the die for a special 2c stamp to be issued in commemoration of the Sesquicentennial Exposition, which will be held in Philadelphia beginning June 1st of this year. The subject of the stamp will be the Liberty Bell and the variety will be placed on sale on May 10, 1926, at the post offices in Philadelphia, Boston and Washington, in addition to the Philatelic Agency, at which point stamp collectors will be supplied.

The new stamp will be printed in red, the same as our current 2c variety, and will be the size of the Special Delivery stamp. The words "SESQUICENTENNIAL EXPOSITION" appear across the top of the stamp in a straight line. Under these in a flat arch appears the words, "UNITED STATES POSTAGE". The arch is supported at either end by a curved scroll growing out of circular panels at either lower corner of the stamp with the numeral "2" in each corner. A panel connects these with the words, "TWO CENTS." Resting on the lower panel are four flat ornamental columns supporting in the middle a picture of the Liberty Bell, which swings from their tops. In either upper corner appears the dates, "1776-1926". All the other lettering on the stamp is white faced Roman.

The Post Office Department is making plans to order from the Bureau 300,000,000 of these varieties, which will be sent to all post offices throughout the country just as fast as production will permit.

At this writing, I am unable to state as to whether further denominations will be issued.

Air Mail Notes

The contract air mail service from St. Louis to Chicago and return was inaugurated in accordance with schedule on April 15th, the plane stopping enroute at Peoria and Springfield, Ill. Peoria, St. Louis, and Chicago, used the large postmarks peculiar to the contract air mail routes and similar to those that were first used at Detroit. Those that I have seen from these three cities have been printed in black.

The City of Springfield used a somewhat similar postmark of about the same size, but somewhat more ingenious. We find the airplane in flight with the markings reading as follows: "First Flight Inaugurating Contract Air Mail Chicago—St. Louis—Route, 4.30 P. M. April 15, 1926, Where Lincoln Lived—Springfield, Ill." The postmark is in magenta. All of the covers carried on this route to the several cities in transit have the backstamp of the receiving station, St. Louis and Chicago using the electric machine canceler, while Springfield used the magenta air mail postmark.

Since our last notes, the Los Angeles-Salt Lake City contract air mail route has been started, the initial flights being made on April 17th. I have received those coming from Los Angeles, but the covers going west from Salt Lake City have not as yet arrived in the east. The Los Angeles postmark for this special service consists of three concentric circles similar to that used heretofore by the contract air mail service, but this time the outside circle is but 1⅜" in diameter instead of 1⅞" as heretofore. The covers that have come to hand from Los Angeles over the transcontinental route are all postmarked with both the normal canceler and the contract air mail mark in magenta. I wish to thank Mr. George E. Virden for a first day cover.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Benjamin Delovage, I have received several clippings from the Oregon papers in reference to the inauguration of the contract air mail service between Pasco, Wash., and Elko, Nev., via Boise, Idaho. Quite an event was made out of the occasion and in the case of the mail from Spokane, it was carried in the old stage coach that was formerly used in carrying mail in the earlier days.

Covers carried from Elko north and which were temporarily delayed due to the fact that the pilot was forced to land, have now reached the east and I find that covers posted from Elko to points in transit bear both violet and red cancellations. Rubber stamp pads were used and it is quite likely that covers with black cancellations are also available. The air mail postmark is similar to the one described last week with the substitution of the name of Elko for Boise and Pasco.

Under date of April 14th, the Postmaster General announced that bids will be opened at the Post Office Department at noon on June 4th next for the proposed air mail route from Cleveland, Ohio, to Louisville, Ky., and return. In addition, the proposed route will serve the cities of Akron, Columbus, Dayton, and Cincinnati, Ohio, and the following tentative schedule has been arranged: Leave Cleveland, 3.00 A. M.; Leave Akron, 3.35 A. M.; Leave Columbus, 4.15 A. M.; Leave Dayton, 5.15 A. M.; Leave Cincinnati, 6.15 A. M.; Arrive Louisville, 7.30 A. M. The returning plane leaves Louisville at 6.00 in the evening and arrives at Cleveland at 12.05 A. M., a few minutes after midnight. The distance between the two extreme points is approximately 400 miles.

These contract air mail routes are being gradually established throughout the country and within a few years, there is no doubt but that all states will be covered with a network of airplane routes, which will link together every city of any importance.

"D" LINE APPROVALS

This series of approval selections containing second grade copies is always very popular because of the extremely low prices at which very creditable appearing copies can be picked out. Straight edge copies—unused, without gum—stamps thinned by removing poor hinges—slightly torn items and everything that is in any way damaged, no matter how slightly, go into these approvals. If you are not fussy about condition and want space fillers at bargain prices, apply for the "D" line. United States stamps only, of course.

Reference Is Required

from all who have not had approval credit with me within a year. The names and addresses of your bank and of two stamp dealers is the most satisfactory reference. Applicants under 21 years of age must be guaranteed by a parent or guardian, and the reference furnished in respect to such guarantor.

EXHIBITS AT COLLECTORS CLUB

Reported by CHARLES J. PHILLIPS.

On Wednesday, March 24th, Dr. C. W. Hennan was good enough to make a long journey down from Chicago in order to give us a display at the Collectors Club, New York City.

At the commencement of his remarks, Dr. Hennan explained that he could only show a portion of his early Dutch stamps as a considerable portion of the collection was away in London, being written up by Mr. Frank Godden ready for the Exhibition in October. However, the portions that he did show proved to be very interesting and kept members fully occupied for a couple of hours.

Dr. Hennan's remarks on relative rarity and on the under valuation of many of the rare items in the catalogues were found most interesting. Throughout the collection he showed us a large number of die proofs, essays and rejected designs, many dating from 1851, among these a block of 9 of the first 5c, of the original plate proof.

In the issued stamps he showed typical varieties of each plate of each value in pairs, singles and strips. In the perforated stamps of 1867 to 1871 he showed a wonderful lot of the different die varieties, perforations, etc., many on covers and with many varieties of rare perforations, among these the very rare 15c Die I, perforated 10½x10.

Dr. Hennan also drew our attention to a large number of very dangerous counterfeits, especially those coming from Switzerland and Paris, some of which were really very close imitations of originals, especially the large 10 Gulden. In this, as he pointed out, the best test is that the counterfeit is slightly shorter all round than the original.

In the Dutch Indies the interesting exhibit was covers dated from 1805 and used for 10 stivers. Covers were also shown of 1842 of unpaid and paid type. Probably the finest thing in the issued stamps that were shown was a 10c imperf. of 1864, a used strip of ten believed to be unique. Another fine piece was the 1865, 10c perforated, block of 9 used. All varieties of perforations in the later issues were shown in singles, pairs and blocks.

Dr. Hennan drew attention to the fact that in Scott's catalogue the 2c of 1876 in yellow or yellow-orange color, very close to the color of the 2½c, has been thrown out of the catalogue as they believe them to be bogus. He states, however, that he has correspondence from the Dutch Government certifying that these are absolutely genuine.

In the later issues, especially in the Provisionals, Dr. Hennan showed many errors, such as double and inverted surcharges and overprints and also a rare specimen set issued to Postal Delegates at Stockholm in 1924, and a specimen set on the Jubilee issue, which are stated to be exceptionally rare.

The stamps of Curacao and Surinam were also shown with many rare and uncatalogued varieties.

On Wednesday, April 7th, Mr. Hans Lagerloef at the Collectors Club, N. Y. City, gave a display of the stamps of Cuba, together with a very interesting talk on Cuba itself, which he had recently visited. At the commencement of his talk he told us that he had just come back from Sweden and he brought the special greetings of the Postmaster General to the Collectors Club, and gave us the good news that the Swedish Post Office had decided to make an exhibit in October at the Grand Central Palace and the Assistant Postmaster General of Sweden will come over personally for this purpose.

Mr. Lagerloef, who is so well known in Sweden, through his numerous and valuable donations to the Stockholm Postal Museum, informed us that the authorities in Sweden were anxious that this Museum should not go into the rut so often found in Government Departments. They had, therefore, formed an Association termed, the "Friends of the Postal Museum in Stockholm". In this Association there are only two Honorary Members, H. R. H., the Swedish Crown Prince, and Mr. Hans Lagerloef.

Mr. Lagerloef exhibited a large photograph of a design that has been made to be shown here in October, consisting of a very fine portrait of the former Postmaster General of Sweden, made entirely of Postage Stamps.

In speaking of the stamps of Cuba, Mr. Lagerloef drew attention to the fact that he thought there were more fakes used postally in the stamps of Cuba than in any other country. He said that thanks to men like General Goethals and Sergt. General Gorgas, Cuba had been made one of the healthiest places to live in and Havana had the lowest death rate of any City in Latin America.

Mr. Lagerloef then passed round four volumes of his large and important collection of Cuba. A special feature in this was the great number of essays and proofs of these stamps that he had been able to get together. Even specialists like Ferrars H. Tows stated that in this collection there were many such essays that he had never seen.

FIVE YEAR HONOR CLUB

George A. Hughes, Oakland, Calif.
George K. Parsons, N. Y. City.
L. D. Steefel, Minneapolis, Minn.
Dr. C. W. Wells, East Orange, N. J.
T. J. Eppes, Jacksonville, Fla.

On April 15 three applications for membership in the Honor Club reached us. One was from George A. Hughes, 610 Chetwood St., Oakland, Calif., a second from George K. Parsons, 1 W. 54th St., N. Y. City and the third from Lawrence D. Steefel, 1713 Delaware St., Minneapolis, Minn. We welcome all of these subscribers to membership in our Honor Club.

Just as we go to press two additional applications are received. One is from Dr. C. W. Wells, 556 Park Ave., East Orange, N. J., and the other from T. J. Eppes, Jacksonville, Fla. Mr. Eppes is proprietor of the Park Cafeteria, located at 205 E. Bay St. He had just renewed for one year and evidently had some qualms of conscience, as it was soon followed up with a remittance of $4 for four additional years. We would that other of our subscribers would be similarly affected.

NEW LIBERTY BELL STAMP

A new two cent stamp, the size of the special delivery, will be issued in Boston, Philadelphia and Washington on May 10th. It will have a picture of the Liberty Bell under the inscription "Sesqui-Centennial Exposition." A very attractive stamp.

I will send you a first day cover of each of the above named cities, with an unused block of four, for only $1.00.

Members of my First Day Cover club will receive the above without further notice to me. If you are not a member you are missing an opportunity. Send for application blank.

FINE CHANCES FOR PICKINGS

For the purpose of settling an estate we have instructions to disperse a very nice general collection. Our directions are to get a fair price for the collections but to "make it snappy." This, with a still larger collection we are now mounting, will make a quite exceptional opportunity for general collectors to fill in row after row of vacant spaces in the obsolete 19th century issues at large discounts from catalog quotations.

In the main, discounts on fine copies will average 50%, while good to fine copies will be priced as low at 75 and 80% below list. We could get more from the lot by taking more time for the disposal of the collection, but the object is to turn it into a reasonable price as soon as possible. So we shall offer our clients an opportunity to buy single copies and sets they need from approval selections at the prices they should bring at auction.

SOME COUNTRIES NOW READY

Following our usual custom, we are mounting these stamps by countries. Items cataloguing $5 each or more are mounted singly on slips; all others are mounted in approval books. These contain many fine 20th century as well as 19th century stamps. We notice any number of mint British Colonials of the Edwardian issues, up to the 5 Shilling values. Early Europeans are well represented, and there are some scarce post-war stamps of central Europe.

WANT LISTS ACCEPTED

We will check through your want lists if desired and submit items in stock. Or, tell us the country or countries you most want to see and we will send them complete as mounted. Trade references, please, if you are not on our mailing list. Nearly overlooked the U. S.! All regular issues of U. S. stamps are well represented and they fill several approval books. Prices are low enough to make the offerings particularly attractive. Please ask for these by issues.

No. 2 also has been seen with "OCT" and "NOV" in similar style. No. 3 are the initials of the assistant postmaster at that time, Mr. Dan Kellogg. No. 6 is found on a 3c Interior Dept. There are many "T" designs, one very similar to this being from Thomaston, Ct., in the '60's. If anyone knows the arrangement of the letters in No. 6, and what they may stand for, this information will of course please many of the Forum readers.

I recently picked up a booklet on "Penny Blacks Plated by F. Wadham." One has to do something when his pet stamps do not arrive, so pardon the following which may stray from our early U. S. colyum, and it may give you a new line of endeavor, which may be helpful. I take the liberty of borrowing a sentence "Tens of thousands have learned geography thro their stamp albums, thousands have been fired with ambition to see the world by the contemplation of the picturesque issues of far countries." Have you ever thought you'd like to see those pictured pagodas of China, or that everlasting Sphinx, or maybe a zebra in his native Nyassan home?

In 1911 I met a young lad who had just been transferred in the navy, and he had met up with a newly found buddie from an entirely different part of the U. S. In one of their preliminary get-together chats, he found that his pal had joined the navy for exactly the same reason he had—to see the world, and each confessed they were so inspired by seeing the odd sights of the world pictured on their stamps, for each was a stamp collector.

A collection of cancels on U. S. Department stamps has come in. Some of the "high spots" show odd cancels that I have never seen on our postage stamps at all. There are some twenty-five Kicking Mules. Two of them are "new" to me. One is a jet black fellow with spotted sides. I once saw another just like this one, and thought it "bad", tho this is said to be the real mule, and has all the earmarks (generous ones, too) of the original mule. The other that is unfamiliar is in form of a block of four 1c Wars, each hit by the mule, or a part thereof. This shows the last two letters of the town as "————AY", and the state does not show at all. The wording is enclosed in a double ring, same as Port Townsend used, and the mule is quite similar, tho has a more vicious eye possibly.

We have records of the KM's from Port Townsend, Jefferson Co., Wash., and from Goleta, Santa Barbara Co., Calif., yet no town with the name ending in "AY." Then there is the KM from Forbestown, Butte Co., and another from Susanville, Lassen Co., both California, as reported by Mr. Lyon. Who knows of any other towns with

COLLECTORS CLUB NEW QUARTERS

Early next month the Collectors Club, which is the centre of philatelic activity in this section of the country, will move into its new and what is expected to be permanent home at 51 West Forty-eighth Street. Founded thirty years ago by a small coterie of dealers and private collectors of that much-ridiculed hobby, postage stamp collecting, the organization has grown steadily and has been influential in educating the public to the view that postage stamps are as worthy of general interest and intensive study as the collecting of old books, autographs or fine paintings.

For several years the club has occupied a floor in the remodeled building at 120 West Forty-ninth Street. A few years ago steps were taken to raise a building fund. About $20,000 was raised among the members, and with this as a nucleus, supplemented by the purchase of bonds secured by the long leasehold values of the property and the ownership of the building by the club, the trustees took over the forty-seven-year lease on the Forty-eighth Street plot.

The fee to the land is owned by Columbia University, being a portion of the early Botanic Gardens associated with the activities of Dr. David Hosack. Several thousand dollars has been spent in remodeling the old residence, formerly the home of Mrs. Helen M. Hoyt. Ford, Butler & Oliver were the architects, and from their design a three-story extension has been constructed in front of the house out to the building line.

The ground floor has been arranged for a retail store. Three well-known stamp dealers have rented offices on the second floor, being Herman Toaspern, whose specialty is accumulating rarities for auction sales; George B. Sloane and Marshall Hancock. The rear of the third floor will be occupied by the J. C. Morgenthau Company, probably the largest auction stamp firm in this country. The firm has been in the Nassau Street postage stamp centre for many years. The uptown removal, with that of Mr. Sloane, who also has Nassau Street offices, indicates that the stamp dealers, like so many other trade interests, are showing an inclination to move to the uptown Forty-second Street area.

Another important stamp move which took place recently was the leasing for a long term by the Scott Stamp & Coin Company, the leading dealers in the United States, of the entire second floor of the new Brentano Building in Forty-seventh Street, near Fifth Avenue.

The Collectors Club will occupy for its general meeting room and offices the greater part of the third floor, and on the fourth floor ample provision has been made to house its philatelic library, which ranks among the most complete and valuable in the world, containing several thousand volumes and pamphlets. Each floor has fireproof vaults. An elevator has been installed and the new building will provide an attractive business and club addition to the Forty-eighth Street block between Fifth and Sixth Avenues, which has recently undergone a radical transformation from a select residential thoroughfare to a commercial block.

The Collectors Club at the present time has 624 members. Nearly 100 were added during the past year. Theodore E. Steinway is President. He held that office several years ago and succeeded, at the last annual meeting John N. Luff, the leading postage stamp expert in this country, who declined a re-election and was made an honorary Life Governor. Charles E. Curie is Vice President, J. Brace Chittenden, Secretary, and Harry M. Lewy, Treasurer.

The Board of Governors consists of Charles J. Phillips, Colonel J. Phil Benkard, Dr. Chittenden, Charles E. Curie, Charles M. Ams, Harry M. Lew K. M. Hall, Harry L. Lindquist an Joseph S. Rich. Alfred H. Lichtenstei one of the well-known students of ph lately in this country as well as a pron inent collector, is Chairman of the Boa of Trustees, the other members bei Julius C. Morgenthau and Preside Steinway.

The Collectors Club took the initiati in organizing the International Stam Exhibition, which will be held in t Grand Central Palace next October. T leading stamp experts from more th twenty foreign countries, including Japa will be among the judges and most of t prominent European collectors will b exhibitors.

The new building has a frontage o 21.6 feet on Forty-eight Street.—Ne York Times.

$11,000 WORTH OF UNITED STATES LOCAL STAMPS

Mr. H. C. Needham writes of these in "The Philatelic Gazette." "These stamps—the forerunners of all Government Issues—were of much more philatelic and historic interest than all others:—they were issued by the men who thought out and perfected the rules, regulations, appurtenances and conveniences later taken and assumed by different Governments."

I have just broken up a fine collection of these early U. S. historical stamps and arranged them in a series of my approval books as follows:—

STAMPS ON COVERS
Seven books of these, comprising stamps priced under $40.00 each, many superb copies beautifully tied on.

RARE STAMPS ON COVERS
Two books of real gems for advanced collectors, including great rarities of D. O. Blood & Co., Franklin's Dispatch, Brady, Briggs, City Express Post, Cummings, Frazer, Glen Haven, Hampton, Hinkley's, Russell, Smith's City Express, G. A. Mills, Williams, etc., etc.

STAMPS NOT ON COVERS
Eight books of these, including many rare and interesting varieties, all examined by experts and guaranteed originals.

N. B. These stamps are becoming great favorites, fill up your gaps before the new catalogue of Local Stamps is issued, as enormous advances in prices will be shown.

D-BITS:—

CHENECTADY, N. Y., has two stamp clubs, one for adults and another for boys. The Schenectady Stamp Club open to collectors over twenty-one, while the Junior Stamp Club makes a for the younger collectors. The former club meets every three weeks at the homes of the members. The president is F. Busch, 26 Turner Ave., and he will be glad to hear from interested parties. Joseph Stein, 128 3d Ave., would like to hear from the juniors.

A NOVEL collection of postage stamps is the property of Mrs. Josephine Farrell, Winthrop, Mass. She has mounted her stamps so that they decorate a set of wooden bedroom furniture. Thousands of stamps were used in making the striking designs, and the newspaper clipping sent in by J. N. Lawrence states that Henry Ford is on the trail of a furniture.

A GOSSIPY article on stamp collecting appeared in the Grand Rapids Press recently in the first column on the editorial page. It was entitled "Side Lights." The article does not possess enough new material for us to reprint it, but is doubtless a syndicated article. Thanks to George S. Boltwood.

HERMAN FOCKE very kindly sends us specimens of the current Malta issue bearing the overprint "Postage" in small letters in a horizontal line across the face of the stamp. The reason assigned for this provisional issue is the fact that the new set of stamps is about to be issued for revenue purposes. It is quite evident that the Maltese postal authorities are taking advantage of stamp collectors with the idea of procuring some freely cash.

THE FEMALE AND FILATELY

By R. D. MacGuffin.

The American husband is said to be the best on earth, the most adoring, most docile, most generous and most indulgent. We, the American husbands, are very sure that the American wife is the best on earth, the most beautiful, most loyal, most intelligent and most companionable. We all ought to be happy, the unmarried in anticipation and the married in realization. But we are not all happy. There's a fly that buzzes constantly around the honey jar and when it falls in there's a family jar, real, serious, tear-producing.

The fault lies entirely with the American husband. He is neglectful and a bum salesman. I can prove it and I am going to.

IF man had the superior intellect, women would appreciate stamps because man's superior intellect would be quite capable of selling philately to his better nine-tenths. We have taught them most everything. It used to be quite the thing for the dimpled darling to ask silly questions at the baseball game, but we learned that that was a pose; she knew more about the game than we did all the time. She knows football, golf, and every other sport. But when stamps are mentioned she gets out the old baby stare of twenty years ago.

It is serious. Just how serious I never knew till a few years ago I got an urge to do recruiting missionary work. Being a rampant theorist I hit upon the idea of selling philately through the sense of sight. "Stamps are sold through the eyes," said I. So I got up a really attractive set-book, stamps mounted on black coverboard and put some attractive sets in the storekeeper's window opposite a high school. Things happened right away. The boys swarmed. They cleaned out the stock the first week. That winter there were sold one hundred fifty-eight sets of one kind (Austria, 1908, to 2 K.), proving that there were at least one hundred fifty-eight boys in that locality who collected. There were undoubtedly more because not all would need that one set. But not one pretty little flapper bought one single solitary set. It was unanimous so far as the girls were concerned. One hundred percent thumbs down on stamps, was the attitude of the adored ones.

It is serious for this reason. When those boys walk to the altar and say, "Yes, I'm another victim", they think they're being funny, but they aren't. They are walking right into a battle, a stamp battle. She understands all about the money and time he spends on golf. When he pays his lodge dues, that's all right. His cigar money is taken for granted. But money for stamps and time for stamps, that's something else again. She can't see it at all.

I know men who dare not have their stamp mail sent to the house. It has to go to their places of business or to a post office box especially rented for stamp mail. One went so far as to tell me that if I sent any mail to his house that he would never see it, because it would be burned before ever he got home. He warned me he would not be responsible; if I forgot the loss would be mine. Is there anything frivolous about that? Or is it serious? Any man or group of men who fail to see the importance of selling the eternal feminine, well, they make a most expensive mistake, that's all. We, none of us are independent nor can we be. It is absolutely imperative that we entend ourselves to our utmost to sell philately to the feminine gender.

Of course it is a well known fact that no one understands women. But we can and do know a few things about them. Most of them appreciate the value of a dollar. All of them see to it that their husbands carry life insurance, which is as it should be. Here's our key, the selling stamps to our better halves. Convince her absolutely that stamps have value and increase in value faster than money out at interest, even beat compound interest. Convince her that there is no recreation that so safeguards her interests while at the same time satisfying your needs. Convince her that it is impossible to invest money to better advantage. Prove to her that you have the job of stamp investment down to an exact science. Women do not naturally take to stamps as men do, but they do take to dollars. Dollars are dignified and through them alone can stamps be made to appear dignified, to women especially.

Just how important this thing is is shown by figures. It is estimated that there are about 30,000 adult collectors in the United States and about one million boy collectors. That means that only one out of every thirty-three boys is able to continue collecting after he reaches maturity. What a terrific mortality! Do you think that all those casualties occurred without battles? What battles!

Surely it is worth our while to find out why only one out of every thirty-three young men continue to collect stamps after they reach maturity, and to apply a remedy. Personally I think I know the causes. The chief of them are three in number. First in importance is the lack of absolute undebatable knowledge concerning stamp values and the importance of stamps as money breeders. If this knowledge was widely disseminated boys would buy better stamps and be better able to convince others that they were business men when they accumulated wealth in the form of stamps. As it is, our boys collect stamps of the poorest investment value and by the time they get some real stamp sense they see what a mess they made of it in the past and conclude that they should lay off in the future. We can't afford to allow boys to lack for scientific knowledge concerning stamp values.

The second of the three causes lies in the lack of unanimity among old collectors concerning stamp values. There are too many prejudices freely expressed without any figures to back them. Boys get too much conflicting and unconvincing advice from old collectors.

The third of the reasons for such tremendous mortality among young collectors lies in the opposition from the feminine gender. When marriage comes stamps fly out at the window. This can be changed only by the presentation of facts that are overwhelmingly convincing; it surely is worth our best efforts this job of convincing our ladies. And what's more it will take our best efforts to do it. It can be done only with the dollar argument. No woman in her right senses is going to stand idly by and see her husband put money into stamps unless she knows absolutely that the money is better invested than it would be in any other way. The best is none too good for her and she must be shown.

It's our job to sell philately to the world, but especially to the eternal feminine. We have the best selling material with which to do it. All we need to do is to marshal our facts with the skill that any selling campaign requires. Let's do it.

GETS LETTER FROM HIMSELF

J. D. Barnes, 50 South Palouse Street, recently received a letter mailed by himself and addressed to himself. The letter was sent by air mail on April 6, to C. E. Severn of Severn-Wylie-Jewett Company of Chicago, with the request that it be mailed back to him. Twenty-five years ago Mr. Barnes sold to this company some "western franks," issued by an express company, and used years ago instead of stamps. The envelope in which Mr. Barnes' letter was sent was made in 1873. Mr. Barnes has a large number of early day souvenirs.—Walla Walla, Washington, Union.

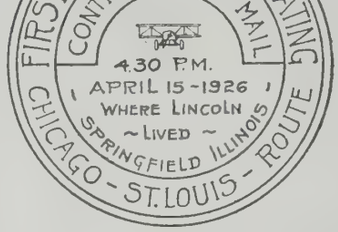
FIRST FLIGHT
CONTRACT AIR MAIL
Chicago - St. Louis Route
Inaugurated April 15

Considerable enterprise was displayed by the City of Springfield, Ill., in connection with the inaugurating of the first flight contract air-mail between Chicago and St. Louis, on April 15.

We have received from Albert E. Gorham, Washington, D. C., a cover bearing a Chicago sending postmark of 5.30 A. M., April 15, and upon the reverse side is the St. Louis receiving postmark of 10.30 A. M., the same day.

Raymond Bahr of Springfield, Ill., also sent us a letter by way of Chicago, the postmark bearing the hour of 4.30 P. M., from Springfield. The postmaster at Springfield sent out a circular soliciting patronage and informed his patrons that a special marking would be used and that the envelopes would be adorned with the picture of Abraham Lincoln. The two features are illustrated. In sending out the circular the postmaster said:—"Cancellation stamp designed by Springfield will be used for the first flight and never again. Say that you mailed some letters on the first flight."

The letter mailed by Mr. Bahr has no receiving postmark either at Chicago or New York. The letter reached Beverly Friday evening, April 16, a little more than forty-eight hours after leaving Springfield. There is as yet no airmail service between New York and Beverly.



MISCELLANY:—

WE are indebted to Albert E. Gorham, Joseph Vavra and William S. Bellows, M. D., for airmail covers in connection with the first flight inaugurating contract airmail between Los Angeles and Salt Lake City. Some things about these covers might be noted. They all bear upon the face a large violet marking indicating the nature of the flight and giving as the hour of posting 7.35 A. M., April 17. The Gorham cover bears a New York postmark on the reverse side of April 18, 12 P. M., showing that it took forty hours for the trip. The Bellows envelope does not show any receiving postmark. The Vavra cover bears a Huntington Beach, Cal., postmark of April 16, 5.30 P. M., and a New York receiving mark the same as the Gorham cover.

JOSEPH A. STEINMETZ submits for our perusal correspondence which he has initiated in connection with the Sesqui-Centennial Celebration at Philadelphia. He has been advised by the Director of the Department of Publicity that there will be a special U. S. issue for the occasion. Mr. Steinmetz in his letter to us regrets the delay that has been evidenced in shaping up the matter.

HOME NEWS and the Cherry Blossom are the names of two lists being sent out by the Home of the Postage Stamp. They are gotten up in a unique manner, and will be mailed free on request. The advertisement of this firm elsewhere in this issue is bound to attract attention.

THE New York Herald-Tribune for April 18th contained a full page article on stamps which was finely illustrated. The article was entitled "Paris Launched First Air Mail in 1870." The article was written by Harriette Ashbrook and it draws considerably upon information and co-operation furnished by Dr. Serge Avazon. Clipping from Charles H. Eglee, Jr.

WE are indebted to a number of subscribers for clippings received in connection with the issuance of the new 2c Sesqui-Centennial stamp. Lovers of first day covers will have at least three opportunities for adding varieties to their collections.

THE winners in the stamp essay contest, prizes for which are given by Major Guy W. A. Camp, and which has been conducted under auspices of a committee from The Philatelic Section, Maryland Academy of Sciences, are announced as follows: First prize, Harry Rudo, of the Baltimore City College; second prize, Bror Grondal, of the Baltimore Polytechnic Institute; third prize, Charles Gillan, 601 Loudon avenue. For the essay sent in by Rudolph Anthony, Villain, Jr., 1931 East Pratt street, the Philatelic Section, will give a prize. The prize winners will be given the awards at the meeting of The Philatelic Section at the Maryland Academy of Sciences, 105 West Franklin street, Baltimore, Friday night, April 23rd. The prizes are stamps; the subject of the essays was "How Stamp Collecting Helps Me In My Studies." The donor of the three leading prizes, Major Guy W. A. Camp, is chairman of the Board of Governors of the Society of Philatelic Americans, a national philatelic organization, which has thousands of members.

GEORGE A. GARDNER calls our attention to an interesting Massachusetts documentary stamp of 1755. The stamp is impressed in the paper, showing a codfish, much after the fashion of the seal of a notary public of today.

THE PRECANCEL REVIEW

F. W. ALLEN, Editor, 521 So. 4th Grand Forks, N. D.

The First Precancel—Perhaps of questions concerning precancelled stan that query as to what is the earl known variety, is more often asked t any other.

The Scott Specialized Catalog Wheeling, Va., on the 5c and 10c 1 Baltimore exists on the 5c 1847 in a cular overprint. These items have sketchy history and it is regrettable we know so little about them.

The "PAID" and "paid" cancellat on the 1c 1851 are a primitive type precancel. These are printed in lower case and capital letters. Whe both types occur on the same sheet separately is a fact unknown. Pairs both are in existence, and the Stand Precancel Catalog illustrates the lo case setting.

A second class of matter of interes the precancel collector is "covers" wh have been cancelled before mail through press work. The stamps w not "precancelled" in the general se of the word, for they were cance after being affixed to the envelopes, the important point is that the "ent was cancelled and then issued by postal authorities to the mailer, for insertion of mail matter. Cumberla Me., appears on the 1857 envelope, on buff, cancelled as follows: "CUM LAND, ME.—OCTOBER 22" in two lines tall block capitals, 4 mm. high, the line being 33 mm. long and the sec 25 mm. The envelope has a printed dress form as follows:

Superintending School Committe
.....
.....Co.
Maine

This item is listed in the Standard cancel Catalog at $25.00.

As an example of an adhesive prec celled on "entire," we may cite the known Glen Allen, Va. The practise this office was to overprint the sta with a large star and the upper half the envelope with a circular postma This is illustrated in the Standard cancel Catalog, and may be found many "cover" collections. A sim method was in vogue at Edella Fricks, Pa., early in the present centu Here the name and date were printed various type settings, across the sta and envelope, and lines were also prin above and below the impressions. Sm ville, N. J., is said to come with a c cellation similar to that applied at G Allen, but we have never seen such item.

Glastonbury precancelled the 3 c 1869, and 1 cent 1879, and 1882 wit large "G." These are priced at $20 $7.50, and $5.00 respectively in the Sta ard Precancel Catalog. It is stated t the manufacturers of Williams Shav Soap used the stamps. However, best these are of the class in which m of the early precancels fall, and can be considered in the quest for the fi real precancel of standard appearance

The many "bar" precancels form intensely interesting group for the s cialist, but bewilder the beginner. Th cannot be identified by any but the e pert and this detracts from their pop larity.

We consider the first real precancel be the 1 cent 1882 re-engraved preca celled BURLINGTON, Vt., in two lines small serif capitals, without lines or ba The overprint is generally poorly defin and reads vertically up. In the sa type which cancelled the 1882 stamp, find the 1 cent 1890 and 1894, both which are much commoner. The 1890 still to be found in quantity, but abo one copy in ten is legibly cancell The 1882 stamp is catalogued at $3.00 a a splendid buy at the price. It was fi used in September, 1887. Boston fo lowed soon after with the 1 cent 18 This stamp was used by the Perry-Mas Co. and thousands were employed to m out copies of The Youth's Companio Mr. F. L. Smith, the leading authority precancels during the early days, h stated that it was this precancel whi was the first to attract postmasters' a tention to the labor-saving device of pr cancelling stamps.

MALTA

Mr. R. Forbes-Bentley, Birchircara, Malta, writes us:—The following order by the Malta Government was issued on the 27th March.

"In view of the rumors there has been about overprinting stamps "GOZO", the extract of the following Government notice may be of interest to your readers.

"GOVERNMENT NOTICE No. 98

1. On and after the 1st April, 1926, the stamps affixed in accordance with the provisions of Ordinance VII of 1918 shall be revenue stamps issued by the Treasury, to be used for revenue purposes only.

2. Specially appropriated revenue stamps shall exclusively be used in the following cases, viz.:—

(a) The stamps affixed to registers in accordance with Articles 32 and 95 shall bear the word 'Registers'.

(b) The stamps affixed on instruments of purchase or sale of stocks and shares in accordance with Articles 59 and 60 shall bear the words 'Stocks and Shares'.

(c) The stamps affixed on applications or on tenders for leases, work or supplies presented to Government Departments in accordance with Article 90 shall bear the word 'Applications'.

(d) The stamps affixed on agreements, contracts or other instruments (including bills of sale and notorial acts), and on every judgment, decree or order of any Court or other lawful authority, whereby any immovable thing, ship or share in a ship is in any way transferred, or transfers of debts or other rights and in contracts of long lease contemplated in Articles 31, 57 and 58 shall bear the word 'Contracts'.

3. The above mentioned stamps will be obtainable at all Post Offices and at licensed stamp vendors.

4. The postage and revenue stamps in the hands of the public on the 31st March, 1926, may continue to be used for both postal and fiscal purposes."

FRENCH AMERICAN STAMP COMPANY

322 81ST STREET, BROOKLYN, N. Y.

HISTORIC PHILATELY FOR 1925

By KENT B. STILES.

The specialist in commemorative postage stamps will find it no small job to assemble even as many as 396 varieties issued in one year. Once he got them together he would find them representative of a fascinating list of events of past and modern times. Studying the backgrounds, he would read therein stories of war, commerce, geography, journalism, literature, invention, art, traffic, religion and a variety of other subjects. No other year has been more informative, from the viewpoint of the significance of postage stamps, than has 1925! Which is a statement supported by the following brief review:

In the United States appeared the Lexington-Concord and Norse-American sets—a nation's struggle for independence, and a voyage by Scandinavian settlers to a new land.

Afghanistan commemorated the seventh anniversary of independence.

Belgium remembered the passing of three-quarters of a century since the appearance of her initial postal adhesive.

Bolivia marked the passing of a hundred years since winning political freedom.

Brazil honored a journalist, Barbosa.

Congo recalled the valor of her colonial troops during the World War.

Czechoslovakia put her President's picture on stamps on his birthday.

Egypt advertised the holding of the International Geographical Congress in Cairo.

France let the world know that an arts exhibition was taking place in Paris.

Germany boosted with stamps her traffic exposition at Munich; and, with an eagle in the sky, distributed some propaganda adhesives to prove that "the watch on the Rhine" still continued.

Great Britain did philatelic advertising—the second year of the Empire exhibition at Wembley.

Hejaz marked the accession of a king, Ali.

Honduras inducted a new President into office and put his likeness on stamps.

Hungary did not forget a noted native novelist, Jokai.

Italy pictured her ruler's face—the twenty-fifth year after Victor had become king. And various Italian colonies philatelically celebrated the Holy Year—Cyrenica, Eritrea, Italian Somaliland and Tripolitania—as the mother country had done the previous year.

Japan was jubilant—and said so with stamps—because her royal couple had endured a quarter-century of wedded bliss.

Latvia paid recognition to her chief city, Libau.

Liechtenstein put a portrait of her ruler, Prince John, on stamps when he attained the ripe age of eighty-five years

Mozambique did or did not issue Delagoa Bay commemoratives, as the case may turn out to be.

Nedj's ruler, Ibn Saud, proclaimed through stamps his followers' right to worship at the Holy City.

New Zealand held a South Seas exhibition in Dunedin and advertised it philatelically.

Norway formally acquired new territory—the archipelago called Spitsbergen (or, in Norwegian, Svalbard)—and impressed the fact, through special stamps, on the peoples of Norway and Spitsbergen.

Portugal honored a novelist, Branco, and Pombal, a statesman, by putting their pictures on adhesives of speculative character; and remembered her "Comrades of the Great War" with a charity set equally unnecessary postally. And various Portuguese colonies—Angola, Azores, Cape Verde, Guinea, Macao, Madeira, Mozambique, Portuguese India, St. Thomas & Prince Edward, and Timor—were similarly active, while Portuguese India honored Vasco de Gama.

Russia remembered Lenin, Lomonossof and Popov by gracing special stamps with their likenesses.

Salvador paid philatelic tribute to her principal city, San Salvador.

Uruguay did likewise in connection with Montevideo, as well as marking her centenary with stamps and also celebrating the Battle of Urandi.—Scott's Monthly Journal.

IMPORTANCE OF PREPAYMENT OF PROPER POSTAGE ON AIR MAIL

Although short-paid air mail may, if it bears at least 8 cents postage, be rated with the deficiency and dispatched and the amount due collected upon its delivery, postmasters should nevertheless impress upon patrons that it is of the highest importance that the postage on such mail be fully prepaid in order to avoid the delay necessarily incident to the special treatment which must be given short-paid mail, both at the office of mailing and that of address, in connection with the rating of the matter and collecting the postage due.

In view of the variation in the rates of postage on air mail because of the establishment of contract air mail routes in addition to the Government-operated air mail service, special efforts should be made to inform patrons with respect to such rates and at the same time they should be encouraged to prepay the full amount of postage chargeable on air mail. As set forth in amended section 385, Postal Laws and Regulations, the rate on mail carried over the Government-operated air mail routes is 8 cents an ounce or fraction thereof for each air mail zone, except that on mail carried over the New York-Chicago night route the rate is 10 cents for each ounce or fraction of an ounce, while the rate on mail carried on contract air mail routes is 10 cents, 15 cents, or 20 cents an ounce or fraction thereof, according to the length of the particular route involved, with an additional charge of 5 cents an ounce or fraction thereof for each air mail zone the mail is transported on a Government-operated air mail route.

In connection with the foregoing postmasters should also advise patrons that air mail should be properly indorsed to indicate how it is to be sent. For example, a letter mailed at San Francisco addressed to Detroit intended for transmission all the way by air mail should be indorsed "Via air mail to Detroit" and prepaid at the rate of 20 cents an ounce or fraction thereof. If intended to be carried by air mail to Chicago only and thence by railroad, the letter should be indorsed "Via air mail to Chicago" and prepaid at the regular rate of 16 cents for each ounce or fraction of an ounce. An air mail letter originating at a place adjacent to or on a contract air mail route which would naturally be sent over such route for connection with a Government operated air mail route, but which the sender desires carried over the latter route only should be indorsed to that effect, as for instance in the case of a letter mailed at or near Detroit, "Via air mail from Chicago."

Letters indorsed merely "Via air mail" when addressed to or in the direction of places served by contract air mail routes in connection with Government-operated air mail routes will, if they bear at least 8 cents postage, be treated as intended for transmission over both routes and if not fully prepaid will be rated with postage due to cover the amount chargeable for their transportation over the combined Government operated and contract air mail routes. This should be given the widest possible publicity so that patrons may be informed as to the correct rates and the desirability of fully prepaying the same in order to prevent the delay entailed in handling short-paid matter. When there is doubt concerning the rating of air mail which is not indorsed to show how it is to be sent and there is sufficient time to ascertain the sender's wishes without delaying dispatch of the matter this should, of course, be done.

R. S. REGAR,
Third Assistant Postmaster General.

THE BI-MONTHLY JOURNAL

A house organ with an inimitable style and charm, published every two months. Each issue consists of from 32 to 48 pages, every one containing a formidable array of unusual offerings in medium and scarce sets, packets and special collections, dealers' stocks, single stamps, philatelic supplies, etc., etc.

Albert C. Munson, 412 Broadway, Houston, Texas, writes:

"I enjoy the Bi-Monthly as much as MEKEEL'S; there is no other paper, house organ, journal or circular of any kind wherein one can find such extraordinary good stock—and at such reasonable prices."

C. A. Ralston, 164 Vaughn St., Waterloo, Iowa, says:

"I am paying subscription charges for two large house organs, but would rather get along without both of them than to lose yours. If necessary, I know that I could pay a substantial subscription to the Bi-Monthly and save all of it on stamps offered in a single issue."

The Bi-Monthly Journal is a distinctive publication and absolutely free to patrons. You can't afford to be without it!

EDITORIAL.

The complaints by collectors that stamps have been removed from mail addressed to them have come to us in augmented number latterly. While a complete immunity from this form of filching may never be attained yet so numerous have been the protests of the kind recently that official action has been stirred again to stop this proceeding, which is so iniquitous from the philatelist's viewpoint. Our course has been to advise the indignant victims to register their protest with their postal officials, who are aware that Washington considers the practice of removal of stamps from matter in transit highly reprehensible. Again, the postmaster general shows a disposition to be helpful to collecting interests and under date of April 10th, he issued the following order: "Notwithstanding previous warnings against the removal of postage stamps from matter while in the mails, the practice has not been stopped. A number of instances have just come to attention where the stamps affixed to letters sent by air mail on first flights over contract routes, air mail, were removed, apparently by employees interested in philatelic work or who sell the stamps to philatelists. Thousands of letters are sent by air mail, particularly on first flights over new routes, merely in order to obtain the envelopes with attached stamps for their philatelic or historical value. The department desires to cooperate with persons interested in this work, not only because of the pleasure and satisfaction they get out of it, but for the reason that the business increases the postal revenues and is quite profitable. The unlawful removal of stamps by mail, whether foreign or domestic, and regardless of the manner in which the mail is sent, will not be tolerated. The penal statute, embodied in section 522, Postal Laws and Regulations, makes it an offense punishable by a fine or imprisonment or both, to remove postage stamps from mail. All instances coming to attention will be thoroughly investigated with the view to taking action against the guilty parties as will lead to the application of the penalty prescribed by law for such offense. The Practice Must be Stopped. Let all concerned cooperate in eliminating the abuse and thus maintain the integrity of the postal service."

The tone of the foregoing notice is direct and definite and shows that the department is determined to correct the abuse. Collectors who have been sufferers through the acts of a relatively few employees in the service should certify their cases to the authorities with the assurance that the complaints will be given full consideration. We know that there have been prosecutions of offenders and in one instance at least a fine was the result. The repeated warnings of the department are calculated to leave no basis for the claim of any culprit that he was not aware that he was proceeding unlawfully by his action in removing the stamps.

We have received from Mr. R. Forbes-Bentley, Birchircara, Malta, several orders by the Malta government, and concerning the new surcharges, he says: "The current stamps overprinted, April 1st, 'Postage,' in capital letters, issued this morning (April 1st) are not available in complete sets, (the 2 shilling and four pence values having become exhausted one hour after issue). The government notice which authorized the stamps follows: 'It is hereby notified that the stamps in current use bearing the design symbolical of Malta under the Responsible Government will be placed on sale, as from the 1st of April, 1926, overprinted with the word "POSTAGE." These stamps will be valid for postage purposes only'."

A very interesting communication has been received from Mr. S. Tanner Green, Quebec, Province of Quebec, which may be regarded as an authoritative announcement on the subject: "I notice in the Weekly of April 12th that you make reference to my article on dog-team post along the North Shore of the Gulf of St. Lawrence in winter time, which appeared in the Sunday New York Times. In regard to this, would say that there are not any 'franked envelopes' inasmuch as any envelope or cover, properly prepaid the ordinary rates, according to classification, can travel over this or any other regular mail route and there is no necessity whatsoever for any special cover to do so. Neither can the contractors or drivers have anything to say as regards the envelopes or covers of mail matter. They are under contract to carry matter in whatever closed bags handed them at the post offices at the termini or intermediate posts along their route; and, consequently, the envelopes to which you refer were merely special covers, privately prepared, as stated in my article, outside Official Post Office precincts. In other words, the design was printed on the official embossed envelopes, which were then mailed to or received from certain parties, just as could be done by designating on an envelope, in printing or otherwise, that it should travel by the S. S. Olympic or something of that kind. Thus, to make it plain, the blank embossed envelopes were sold in the ordinary way by the Post Office; after that they had the design printed on them and were used to send some letters to and fro along the coast and were, necessarily, date-stamped in transit, similarly to any other letter which was properly prepaid the legal rate of postage. Therefore, they were not 'franked envelopes' in any sense and only a few were used addressed as records from a region which is not frequented to any considerable extent in ordinary travel in the winter time. For your information, enclosed herewith is one of the envelopes in question, postmarks on which show the itinerary." We are pleased to have Mr. Green's explanation in order that these envelopes may be assigned to their proper place as having no "frank" significance, whatever. The envelope submitted for inspection shows that the postmark of place of origination is December 17, 1925, while on the reverse is a succession of postmarks, five in number, the last being Quebec, March 11, 1926. They indicate a graphic itinerary of an arduous trip, requiring almost three months to make.

The "Independence Stamp" will pave the way for the special issues that will mark the present year. The Centennial at Philadelphia in 1876 had its famous envelopes in its honor and it would be a churlish fellow who would deny the right to follow a precedent established fifty years ago. The preliminary reports have it that the special two cent stamp in commemoration of the sesqui-centennial celebration of the signing of the Declaration of Independence will be on sale May 10 at Washington, Philadelphia and Boston.

Mr. H. Bedford-Jones, Ann Arbor, Michigan, throws a monkey-wrench into the works and shows that the errant Djibutian is being unjustly stigmatized for pranks that were played in the past century. He refers to the "copyrighted despatch" mentioned in the "Far and Near" column, page 198, issue of April 12th: "In the Echo de la Timbrologie of last January was reprinted some news from its columns of January, 1896. An item told of how the Somali Coast natives got fined fifty francs, then sold the stamp used on their receipt to steamer passengers for sixty francs, clearing ten on the deal. All this was long ago—back in the days when there was a 50-franc stamp on the Somali Coast: to wit, thirty years ago. I dunno whether the joke is on the 'metropolitan press' you quote, or on you for quoting it, so take your choice!" Then, too, it was said that the stamps are fiscals when they are postage. It would be just as well for a few editors to hide their diminished heads and even the absence of an exclamation mark at the end of the paragraph does not absolve us. What gets us is that the New York paper (not the Times, by-the-way), protected its stuff in this instance with copyright; and did pay money for the untimely news? Or did some foreign correspondent in the back room fix up the story so, impressively?

Here is a stamp story, replete wit dramatic action that has a happy ending with punishment in store for the allege thief, even though a confederate is at liberty for the time being. We are in debted to the San Francisco Examiner o April 15th for the following:

"A book of stamps, valued at $4,50 passed between Ross O'Shaughnessy, San Francisco stamp dealer, 16 Gear Street, and Charles Beamish, a Los An geles collector, after a hectic hour wit police and warrant clerks yesterday, an ended amicably a lively dispute as t possession.

The stamps formed part of a $7,00 collection stolen from Beamish by saf crackers in Los Angeles some weeks ago For their theft one man, George Buckle is under arrest and a confederate a liberty after a daring leap from a Gear Street office window to the crowde street last Monday.

Yesterday, confronted by the owner o the stamps, Buckley said that one boo was in possession of O'Shaughnessy who on Monday by warning the police had caused his arrest. Detectives, calle by O'Shaughnessy were concealed in hi office, when the two men appeared t offer the stamp collections for sale.

Yesterday Beamish, the Los Angele collector who had been robbed, arrive with Los Angeles officers sent for Buck ley. He found only one book of th stamps that had been stolen. The other Buckley said, he had left at O'Shaugh nessy's office. There Beamish and de tectives found it and after some disput about a reward offered for its recover and threats of a warrant the stamp boo was returned to Beamish.

Today Buckley, charged with the rob bery of Beamish in Los Angeles, will b returned to that city for trial. With al his stamps back in his possession Beam ish will also return."

INTERNATIONAL PHILATELY

By FRANK L. COES.

The Worcester Stamp Club, following the precedent established in past years by the City Government, has taken up correspondence with the Worcestershire Philatelic Society of Worcester, England, offering the services of its members in securing for members of the English Society, who intend to visit the U. S. during the October Exhibition information, reservations, etc., for that period.

On the walls of the Worcester, Mass., City Hall, hang two suits of armour presented by the city of Worcester, England, which were worn in the battle of Worcester, during the Civil War, about 1651. Other communications between the two city governments have taken place in the past and the business organizations have also corresponded, as have the athletic (Soccer) organizations.

It remained for the Worcester Stamp Club to put its shoulder to the Rotating wheel, and offer suggestions for an itinerary thru New England, with a Worcester stop, as part of possible travel plans for the Worcestershire collectors.

It occurs to their committee that this might well be used as an idea in cementing the fraternal relations between other U. S. clubs and other similarly named clubs in Great Britain. The names of many of our eastern towns and counties are derived by direct transfer from those in Great Britain, and this little courtesy would greatly further our correspondence and friendship.

The Worcester Club also included a little gift, donated by various members, of samples of our more recent postage and commemorative issues, imperforate blocks, first flight covers and a N. Y.—Chi— first flight cover, together with the various air and special delivery and special handling stamps in blocks with numbers in most cases. Also a few older issues and a "Worcester, Mass" cover dated 1850.

The whole sending with the idea that New England from Boston to New York, was well worthy of attention as part of a most interesting and historical section of these United States, and suggesting the use of Boston as a port of entry or departure, and other travel details, which seemed most appropriate.

The attitude of collectors in this great country is too often self centered. We have much to learn, and our bonds with the only country in Europe using a language, which "any school boy can write and read" should be strengthened in every possible way.

Perhaps it is seemingly useless to suggest that the great Junior Philatelic Society of London has much which would be of value to youthful collectors, but this fact, coupled with their magnificent monthly paper, which is hampered by no inter club or society jealousy, and which is especially fitted for detailed specialization thru its illustrations and special articles, make this society and its membership very attractive. The J. P. S., too, is sending some member free to the Exhibition.

And just to be different, the Worcester Club is staging a contest of a similar nature, the first prize being a ticket to N. Y., and return, so that the winner can see the Exhibition at much less expense. Why not look up some English club you know of and do some reciprocity stuff, too?

BRITISH COLONIES

Your attention is again brought to the fact that I am breaking up a wonderful collection of 19th century British Colonies cataloging upward of $20,000.00. Practically 80% of those stamps listing under $50 are present with a substantial number of the rarer varieties. Prices generally are 40% discount, which is most reasonable when it is remembered that most of these are in superb condition. Want lists are invited. If you are looking for that "hard to locate" variety, it is most likely here.

New Revenue Variety

Mr. Allan P. Vestal has shown me a copy of the 2c strip Narcotic stamp in violet in imperforated condition. This is of the type II size, catalog number 3384. He also states that he has copies of the 1c imperforated of the same size, catalog number 3380. He informs us that the stamps will be fairly common as about five thousand of these are being used monthly by one of the middle western plants. In handling a part of their output, they use a machine which finishes the operation of packing by placing the Narcotic stamp as a seal to the bottle. This firm was unable to use the rouletted stamp normally turned out by the Department and arranged to purchase the 1c and 2c stamp in an imperforated and ungummed condition. They are cut apart on a machine paper knife in the printing plant of the establishment after being canceled.

Mr. Vestal learns that the 1c stamp has been cut and used singly and that the 2c stamp has been used both singly and in pairs. No other denominations have been obtained by this firm from the Department in this condition.

Mr. Edward Stern of the Economist Stamp Company advises that he has located a copy of the $3.00 Charter Party, No. 3884, with a distinct direct impression on the back, giving us a revenue printed on two sides. We have had such peculiarities in our postage stamps heretofore, but I believe this to be the first revenue noted.

New Newspaper Variety

Mr. E. N. Costales of the Scott Stamp & Coin Company has shown me a variety not seen heretofore, namely the 1865 10c blue green, first issue of newspaper stamp, with a distinct printing on the back, giving us a further variety similar to the revenue stamp previously described. This was found in a collection just purchased by this company.

New Provisional Envelopes

I have recently seen coming from a small New England post office two new oval varieties of the 1c envelope with 1½c overprint. These envelopes are die A and have been found in sufficient quantity to make them somewhat plentiful. They are certainly not to be confused, especially in the case of the buff variety with the rare die D, which was found some months back, and which is known in an exceedingly small quantity. From communications that I have seen some dealers seem to think that the common variety is the one that has heretofore sold as the scarce item.

Die A on buff, size 13, Wmk.15, H.B.

Canal Zone

I am advised by the Philatelic Agency located at Balboa Heights, Canal Zone, that they now have ready for distribution the 17c black with portrait of Wilson and the 20c carmine with the Golden Gate with the usual Canal Zone overprint. With these additions we now have fifteen stamps in the Canal Zone series.

BULGARIA. — From Whitfield King & Co. come a copy of the 50s in black, bearing a view of a Castle and the date "16 IV 1925."

DENMARK. — We have received from Mr. A. E. Pade and Mr. W. T. Wilson the following new provisionals: On the type of Scott's A16, 27ö red and black surcharged "7" over the former figures of value; 15ö violet surcharged "12" in like manner; on the 4ö Official of the 1915-20 issue "7 Ore" in two lines as in Scott's A19 with the overprint at top and bottom and sides; and the same surcharge on the 15ö blue Official in like manner. Mr. Pade gives the following information regarding these stamps, "These provisionals were required by a change in the postal card rates effecti April 1st last. The stamps appeared the 3rd inst and are to be followed several more. The whole official seri which were withdrawn on March 31 are to be used up in this manner. Ho ever in order that collectors of this cou try do not get too bad an idea of t stamp issuing activities of my old cou try I would like to print some remar of the Danish Postmaster General fr an interview published over there cently. The P. M. General said that regrets the necessity for all these n stamps, but it is caused by the readju ment of prices, which is going on as result of Denmark's exchange havi recently gone back to almost par, a co sequence of which is continued readju ment of postal rates, followed by chang of colors in order to comply with t World Postal Union regulations, etc. hopes, however, that the rates will back to a stable level by this fall wh it is expected to have a regular set stamps. Due to the increasing difficul in getting a sufficient number of differe colors it is planned to use the current l values type for values up to the 1 and to create an entirely new type f the values from the 10ö to 40ö, while t present type with the King's portrait w remain for the higher values.

EGYPT.—Mr. R. Roberts has shown a new 27m violet, Air Post stamp. T stamp is oblong in shape and in t centre pictures and Airplane in flig At the top to the left is "Royaume" wh to the right is "D'Egypte" and betwe is a panel bearing a native inscriptio On the left centre is "Milliemes", wh the right centre is the usual native cha acters. At the base is Poste Aerienn with the figures of value in the lower le corner and native figures in the low right corner.

FEDERATED MALAY STATES. — Mr. Roberts reports the appearance of a green postage due, script waterma sideways.

FRANCE.—Whitfield King & Co. ha shown us the 1fr 25c stamp in the Paste type in blue.

MONACO.—Mr. Henry Hooreman a Mr. R. Roberts have sent copies of t 45c slate and 75c olive green, both in t type of Scott's A13.

NIGERIA.—Mr. R. Roberts has sho us the 10sh green and carmine on e erald, script watermark, die 2.

PERSIA.—We have had submitted f chronicle by the Economist Stamp (the 1ch orange, and 2ch red lilac, of t 1924 design, with a surcharge in bla of the native lion and with the Crown the top. At the left is the wo "REGNE" with "19" just below. At t right is "PAHLAVI" with "25" below.

AN MARINO.—Onofri Commemora- are nearly ready. We are able to ish the following historical note by tesy of Commander Jamieson: An- Onofri, who lived during the latter of the eighteenth and early part of nineteenth centuries, held the office Captain Regent in San Marino no than seven times between the years and 1821. He was surnamed by his w-citizens "the Father of his Coun- and acted as spokesman when, in , Napoleon Bonaparte sent an envoy offer the Republic an extension of itory, the refusal of which had much o in later years with the continuance e independence of San Marino.

he stamps will contain Onofri's por- in the centre with the inscription 5 LIBERTAS 1925" across the top of stamp, below which is a curved band aining "REP. DI S. MARINO," round lower half of the portrait appears ANCOBOLLO PER L'IMTERNO" with the e "CENT. 50 CENT". It will be no- d that the essay from which we de- e the design is for the 50c value, h will not now be issued.—Philatelic azine.

PAIN.—Mr. Fred J. Melville contrib- to the Daily Telegraph the follow- further particulars of the projected d Cross" stamps foreshadowed in our e for December 5th:—

pain is planning an issue of Red s postage stamps which promises to of novel pictorial interest. The ps are to be of fifteen denominations, ix designs, some of which will be d in different colours overprinted the Spanish colonies. The stamps being plate-printed by Messrs. Water- & Sons, Limited, of London, and are examples of miniature engraving in glio. The subjects are from photo- hs of the Royal family, one design enting a new and handsome portrait he King of Spain; the Queen is de- d in two of the designs, one in Court norm, and the other in the uniform of a Cross nurse; a fourth design shows H.H. the Prince of the Asturias; a the Princesses Christina and Bea- ; while the sixth, intended for use he express-letter stamps, will show oup of the Royal family. The stamps be expected about the date of King lfonso's birthday in May next.—ip Collecting.

STAMP NEWS IN BRIEF

BRITISH EMPIRE.

Australian Commonwealth.—Mr. A. A. Rosenblum informs us that a new perforating machine may be put into use at any time, gauging 13x12½, the old machine being practically worn out. Yet another series for collectors of this popular country.

Canada.—Mr. H. Buckland sends us a cutting from the Toronto Globe announcing the early inauguration of a commercial and mail service by aeroplane, between Hudson and the mining area in the Red Lake district.

Fiji Islands.—Mr. D. de Mouncey notifies us that he recently obtained the 1s, emerald, Script, with watermark inverted. This was the last stamp of a sheet, the remainder being used on bills of lading by a business house. Our correspondent was fortunate in securing a corner stamp, with sufficient bottom margin to show the Plate No. 11.

Irish Free State.—Mr. Wm. Sayers writes, "Re Mr. J. Dixon's note, the collection of the 6d delivery fee is not discontinued. It is payable on all parcels from outside the Saorstat, except egg boxes returned to senders from persons outside the Saorstat."

Malta.—With reference to Capt. Jessop's article in the February number of the M. J., Mr. E. Weston states that the ½d War Tax was issued on 15th December, 1917, on which date he purchased a sheet. He also has a copy postmarked on that date.

Mr. R. S. Pateman states that the "no dot" variety of the ¼d on 2d occurs on the 4th stamp of the 4th row, bottom left-hand pane, probably in only one printing.

Mr. J. F. Darmanin reminds us that the new series, expected in April, will include new denominations, 1s6d and 3s, and that the highest value will be 10s. It will be interesting to see whether the £1 will be discontinued altogether, or if yet another printing of the £1 in the current type will be made.

With reference to a criticism in Messrs. Whitfield King's Bulletin of the proposal to overprint remainders of the current issue with the word "Gozo" (a wholly unnecessary procedure), an absurd comment has appeared in the Maltese Press, to the effect that the protest is made because the stamps are to be overprinted locally, and therefore the Maltese dealers will get the stamps before dealers in England, and thus reap the benefit of "a sure and rich harvest." We have no doubt that the stamps will be easily obtainable in England if they are ever issued, but the "rich harvest" will not be so "sure" if collectors treat these totally unnecessary stamps as they deserve, by leaving them severely alone.

Morocco Agencies.—A correspondent kindly shows us a copy of the 15c on 1½d, King George, with the second "c" of "MOROCCO" broken, and with a small horizontal line in the break. We do not know whether this minor variety is constant.

New Guinea.—Mr. A. A. Rosenblum states that the new stamps overprinted "O.S." are unobtainable unused, and that practically no used specimens are available in Australia.

New Zealand.—Messrs. Wilcox, Smith and Co. kindly show us two varieties of the 1d "Universal" with the lithographed "watermark," in one of which the watermark is uncolored, while in the other it is black. Both these varieties are scarce, particularly the uncolored watermark.

A new 1d stamp with the King's portrait is expected shortly, also the 2s and 5s with King's portrait.

A relative of the designer of the Georgian issue and the recent Exhibition stamps, points out that his name is H. Linley Richardson, not Lindley, as stated in our catalogue.

Space does not permit of reference to several other letters from N. Z. correspondents, to whom our best thanks are due.

Southern Rhodesia.—Mr. C. Rose-Innes shows us the ½d imperf. at left from left margin of pane, also a similar 1½d. The 6d he shows in two distinct shades, one bright and one dull.

S. W. Africa.—Mr. G. N. Beaulah shows us two shades of the 4d Triangular, one being considerably paler than the other.

Mr. H. Mallet-Veale shows us several varieties of the ½d wrapper, two having the overprint high or low, so that only "AFRICA" or "SOUTH WEST" falls on the stamp, while a third has the Dutch overprint as well as the English, so arranged that "AFRIKA" falls on the stamp above "SOUTH WEST." The fourth wrapper shows space between "I" and "C" of "AFRICA," and stop after the word.

OTHER COUNTRIES.

Abyssinia.—Mr. R. Joyce writes (with reference to the note in Gibbons Catalogue after the Postage Dues, stating that these were used as ordinary postage stamps in 1908): "Some of these were distributed by the Postal Union in 1909 as specimens of postage stamps in use, and as it was not customary to send out the Postage Due Stamps, the following, received by the N. Z. Post Office, must have been intended for ordinary postage purposes: S.G. No. D 11 (violet and blue overprints), D 15 (violet), and D 16, D 19 and D 21 (with blue overprints)."

Argentina.—The new commemorative series is not expected until July, writes Mr. H. G. Spanton.

Mr. A. H. Davis states that the new Centenary stamp listed this month will remain on sale both in Uruguay and the Argentine until the printing (two millions) is exhausted. We hardly imagine that our correspondent implies that this stamp will be available for postal use in Uruguay.

Belgium.—Mr. P. Massez states that the new Flood stamps have been printed as follows: 30c, 5,000,000; 1fr, 500,000 each. Mr. J. Ghilain confirms.

Messrs. Whitfield King state that one stamp on each sheet of 25 of the 1fr shows the error "BELGIQUE."

French Colonies (Middle Congo).—Messrs. Errington and Martin kindly show us the two top rows of a sheet of the current 2c, the top row being imperf. at top and sides, the machine having evidently been started one line too low. They found several sheets thus in an ordinary consignment from France.

The Tchad and Togo stamps without overprint, also sent us by the same informants, and listed this month, are of course identifiable owing to the fact that stamps overprinted for these Colonies are printed in special colors.

Japan.—Messrs. Yuasa and Co. show us a block of the current 3 sen, carmine, perforated by the new machine. The gauge is as before, but the holes are larger and absolutely clean-cut, and the centring is very accurate.

Jugo-Slavia.—Our correspondent "Viator" states that the following minor varieties have been noted in the De La Rue portrait series. 20 par.: one stamp in the sheet had the serif of "2" disjoined. 25 par. on 3 din.: one stamp has full stop after the Cyrillic "P" slightly above the line. 50 par. on 3 din.: one stamp has Cyrillic "P" rather less than 2½mm. high instead of 3mm.

The border pattern of the new Portrait stamps is derived from the famous Pirot carpets.

Liechtenstein.—We are informed that of the 300,000 sets printed of the Charity stamps listed in the December, 1925, M. J., the following quantities were officially burned recently: 10r, 108,897; 20r, 102,-953; 30r, 45,156.

Panama.—It is proposed that two special stamps should be issued in June, to commemorate the centenary of the First Pan-American Congress, held at Panama in 1826, and also to raise funds for a Pan-American university scheme. The stamps, if issued, will probably bear the portrait of Simon Bolivar, who convened the first Congress. (Revista Filatelica de Panama.)

Peru.—Mr. Manuel Buenaño states that a new 15c blue, with portrait of Marshal La Mar (type of 1925), will be issued shortly, for use on correspondence abroad,

NEW EDITIONS

20th Century International Albums

PART II

These albums are complete from Jan. 1, 1920, to include all stamps listed in the latest (1926) edition of Scott's Postage Stamp Catalogue. Because of the large number of stamps issued during this period these albums are about twice as large as the previous edition, and the loose leaf editions require double the number of binders in each instance, which explains the apparent increase in price of these editions.

The paper used is of a special, heavy quality, white stock especially adapted to the requirements of stamp mounting, and we highly recommend it to our patrons.

No. 3 Bound. 800 pages, 1 volume, printed on both sides of the paper. Brown Cloth, Gilt lettering, $6.00. Shipping weight 8 lbs.

No. 11 Loose Leaf. 800 pages, in 2 binders. Printed on one side of the paper. Pages with creased margin, $30.00. Shipping weight 26 lbs.

No. 11 Pages only, $22.00. Shipping weight 21 lbs.

No. 25 Loose Leaf. 800 pages in 4 binders, printed on one side of the paper. Pages with linen hinge, $50.00. Shipping weight 35 lbs.

No. 25 Pages only, $36.00. Shipping weight 22 lbs.

SUPPLEMENTARY PAGES

Those who own the previous edition of the Loose Leaf albums No. 11, or 25, may make them identical with this edition by the purchase of Supplementary Pages. These pages consist of all the added or changed pages which appear in the new edition.

ABOUT 700 PAGES

No. 11 Creased Margins .....$19.00. Sh. Wt. 20 lbs.
No. 25 Linen Hinge .....$30.00. Sh. Wt. 21 lbs.

Through an error in our office these albums were announced in a previous advertisement as now ready. Please note that the date of issue is June 1.

as a new tariff came into force in October last.

Portugal.—An effort is being made to get rid of the stocks of 1923 Air commemoratives by placing them on sale in Brazil. The price asked is about 9s per set.

San Marino.— Commendatore M. A. Jamieson shows us the proposed design of the new stamps shortly to be issued in honor of Antonio Onofri, "Father of his Country." The portrait is a remarkably handsome one, and the frame design is simple and tasteful. Prof. E. Federici, the designer of the Italian "Black Shirt" and Manzoni issues, is also responsible for the new San Marino design. The values to be issued are of 10, 20, 45 and 65c, and 1 and 2 lire.

Siam.—Owing to the death of the late King and the abandonment of the Siamese Exhibition, the Oriental Stamp Co. state that the Air stamps will not now be overprinted in this connection.

The same informants state that it is now definitely established that there was a return flight in connection with the Chandhaburi-Bangkok first experimental flight, and that this took place on February 26, 1919. Letters and cards, etc., were specially obliterated with the "Garuda" Air postmark cancellation, with similar receiving or arrival postmark.

Turkey. — Mr. Oswald W. Churchill kindly confirms the statement regarding the current issue of Turkey made by Lieut. D. M. J. Murray (Feb. M.J.).

The official Air Post service between Constantinople and Angora, and vice versa, was in operation for about two months, September and October, 1924, and not for a fortnight only, as stated. The rate for a letter was 10pi, half this sum going to the Turkish P.O. and the other half to the "Compagnie de Navigation Aérienne Franco-Roumaine," which was running the service. Mr. Churchill shows us two covers with the special postmarks in Turkish and French: "Postes Aériennes Stamboul" (19.10.24), and "Postes Aériennes Angora" (28.10.24).—Stanley Gibbons Monthly Journal.

LATEST INFORMATION REGARDING GOVERNMENT PRECANCELS

"So far the Department has furnished precanceled stamps in denominations of 1, 1½, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, and 10 cent. It is expected by July 1st of this year to add to this list 7, 8, and 9 cent stamps, completing the series up to the 10 cent denomination. The minimum order for precanceled stamps in sheets is 500,000 of a single denomination. In addition to sheet precanceled stamps, the department has furnished postmasters with precanceled stamps in coils in denominations of 1, 1½, 2 and 3 cent, the minimum order being 250,000 stamps. At the present time precanceled coiled issues are principally confined to 1½ and 2 cent."—Official statement of 3rd Ass't P. M. R. S. Regar.

The following is a list of post offices supplied with government printed precanceled stamps in sheets and coils.

It includes several towns that no varieties have as yet been chronicled.

REVENUE NOTES

By FRANK L. APPLEGATE.

The Report of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing for the Fiscal Year ending June 30, last, and which was so ably reported by Mr. Ward as far as the postage section is concerned is before me as I write and I find considerable of interest to collectors of revenue stamps in its pages. Table 7 gives the number of sheets and of stamps printed and delivered of each kind and series of revenue stamps, but does not give separate statistics for each denomination as is given for the postage stamps. The following table will be found interesting as showing in what quantities some of the current revenue stamps are being produced:

Documentary, Series 1917, all den. More than 12 million. Same overprinted Stock Transfer, more than 18 million. Same overprinted Future Delivery only 710 thousand.

Hence these three classes of documentaries stand in about the ratios of 120, 180 and 7. It is also interesting to note that the quantities of documentaries do not begin to compare with the postage stamps printed. The total 31 million documentaries compares roughly to the one postage denomination of 50 cents, while the 1 cent postage ran to over two billion and the 2 cent to seven and one-half billion. There were even more 11 cent postage stamps produced (39 million) than all the documentary stamps.

Three million and more of the one cent documentary stamps were overprinted for cigarette tubes. Thirty-four million playing card stamps of the Series of 1924 were produced and also two and a half million of the narcotic stamps of the current series, which isn't so many when divided among the various si and values.

Cordial and Wine stamps of the se of 1914 were delivered to the extent fifty thousand, and of the series of 1 half a million, while but thirteen thous of the "Book Wine stamps" ($20 a up) were reported.

I note that the $10 Consular Fee sta has been replaced with a nine dollar d under what authority I do not know, a that 300,000 of them were delivered, ing more than any other value except $2.50, and that a new series called F eign service Fee Stamps has come i use, consisting of $1, $2, $2½, $5 and and that about thirty million in all these were produced.

Eight million documentary and inter revenue stamps were produced for Philippines and nineteen million exc and 48 million cigarette stamps w made for Porto Rico.

I note some of the cigar and cigare stamps (U. S.) are printed on rot presses.

FROM THE RUBAIYAT OF OMAR T PHILATELIST

(With apologies to Fitzgerald, Le Gallie and old man Khayyam himself.)

By C. E. R.

Wake! For another Sun is rising clear
Above the bleak horizon, cold and drear,
And we can best this festal day enjoy
By fixing up our philatelic gear.

Now, the New Year reviving old desires,
The good collector to his Den retires,
And tries to figure out how he can buy
The stamps that each imperfect set requires.

Alike to those who "Generals" prepare,
And those who chase the pre-can. to its lai
Inexorable Fate speaks solemnly:
"You can't get ev'rything from ev'rywhere!

Some buy the picked Approvals, one by one
Some Packets, from all countries 'neath
Sun,
Some pin their faith to Want-lists, some Gifts,
And some attempt Collecting with a Gun.

Strange, is it not? That of the millions wh
The Phantom of the World Complete pursu
None have attained to that exalted end;
Except, perchance, a favored one or two.

I sent my Want-lists over Land and Sea,
Off'ring to ev'ryone religiously
Fifty Per Cent on prices Scott has set,
And bye and bye my Lists returned to me.

So have I learned, 'mid bitter woe and pain,
That no one from those Dealers can obtain
All items at one-half the Catalogue;
The Search has taught me that the Search vain!

I think there never lived so mean a Scamp
As he who stole the twenty cent blue Stam
From off my First-day Cover from Seychell
No punishment is fitting for that Tramp.

And while I view the current Set complete
Symmetrically placed on that white sheet,
News of the issue of the Seventeen
Comes, and I must the tedious work repeat.

And when I fall beneath the subtle Spell
Of that Collection which I love so well,
I often wonder what the Dealers buy
One-half so precious as the Things they sell

EST. 1891—35 YEARS "ON THE JOB."

COLLECTORS CLUB PHILATELIST

Of all the publications that compete for the favor of the seriously-minded collectors, the quarterly issued by the Collectors Club of New York, must be given the place of honor. It is an impressive production and with its many pages, each number makes a book, almost, of matter selected with an admirable sense of balance; the student realizes at once that a store of material of exceptional value is placed at his disposal. In the past, attention has been called to the brilliant work of the editor, Mr. H. L. Lindquist; and it is time that tribute again be paid him for his ability to surpass himself, as it were. In the April number, Mr. J. Murray Bartels contributes an enlightening article on New York Foreign Mail Cancellations, 1870-76, in which he classifies the cancellations that were used in New York, exclusively, on mail addressed to foreign countries; and three pages are needed for cuts of fifty-eight designs, so exhaustively is the subject considered. The author says that he does not pretend to cover the subject as a whole in this one instalment, but he certainly makes a brave showing in this new field. He says that all of these picturesque markings were supplanted in 1875 or 1876 by the barred ovals, containing the station number.

A cut of the new Exhibition advertising label is shown with the statue of Liberty as the dominant detail.

Mr. Charles J. Phillips reports the celebrated case, just decided in the courts, in London, of a Dutch collector, reputed to be of great wealth, who sought to recover insurance placed on his collection, from Lloyds, for about a quarter-million dollars. He alleged that his collection had been stolen from a Berlin hotel and that it was found later, stripped of its great rarities. Lloyds contested the validity of the claim and showed by experts that some of the stamps said to have been stolen could not exist in the form described by the loser, as, for instance, a strip of four, horizontally of the Mauritius post paid. This stamp was printed in sheets of twelve showing three horizontal and four vertical rows. Other philatelic inaccuracies were capitalized and the justice found for Lloyds, to the satisfaction of philatelic London, it seems.

Mr. Edward S. Knapp continues his Confederate researches and delves into the fascinating subject of Confederate States Express Posts; he describes the Cushing Pony Express, whose operation was suggested, probably by the real Pony Express. The labels used by Cushing to the number of four are pictured and they tell eloquently of the troublous times of the war, the text of the last one saying that the post was to be discontinued on the order of the post office department. Mr. Knapp deserves all credit for rescuing data of the kind in order that he may share the results of his application with all collectors.

Mr. Delf Norona contributes notes on the first issue of Ecuador and with the assistance of material available through the Chavez find in Peru and the co-operation of other collectors, he systematizes the study of plate arrangement, dates of issue, varieties, post offices, reprints, etc. The Ecuador imperforates are worth exploiting, as Mr. Norona says.

"Plating the 10c 1847" is continued by Mr. Elliott Perry in the usual intensive way and two plates show twenty-four positions. The stupendous task that Mr. Perry is mastering commands admiration and as a scientifice triumph is entitled to all praise.

A plate of unusual Confederate cancellations is a feature and the beautiful new club house is shown, with building plan, for which a bond issue of $60,000 has been made. A reproduction of the Lindenberg medal, awarded to Charles Lathrop Pack, is given obverse and reverse.

The discovery of the 10c Guam in type II by Mr. Herman Toaspern is announced and particulars as to both types of the 10c and one dollar are promised in the next issue. Mr. Ricketts reviews the works on stamps for the quarter ending April, 1926, and his findings authoritative, as always.

The editorials and the pages dev to club news and reports complete a n ber that about reaches the pinnacl philatelic excellence.

The bound book of 155 pages, Sta as an Investment, by R. D. MacG has just been received and will be viewed in the next issue.

WISE AND OTHERWISE:—

ANGEL Q. VALERA of Bangued, P. I., sends us a specimen copy of the Revista Filatelica Filipina, an interesting monthly publication of the Philippine Philatelic Association. The editor of this publication is Joaquin Ortiz and it is published at Manila. It is printed principally in English and a copy would no doubt be sent to any applicant. Mr. Valera informs us that in addition to this Association there is also the Abrenian Philatelic Club. Altogether there is a lively interest in stamp collecting throughout the island.

WE regret that we are compelled to announce the death of John T. Bottomley, M. D., 165 Beacon St., Boston, Mass. His death occurred some weeks ago and we are made acquainted with the fact by a notice coming from the estate to discontinue the sending of the WEEKLY. Dr. Bottomley was a longtime collector, and we would that we could insert a more extended notice of his philatelic activities.

THE MILLER CO., formerly of Chatham, N. Y., is now located at 360 Elderts Lane, Brooklyn, N. Y.

THE Keene (N. H.) Philatelic Society has sent in a subscription for the local Public Library. Robert T. Kingsbury, who is president of the Society, informs us that the meeting of April 13th was given over to a tribute to the memory of Thomas Jefferson, third President of the United States. Mr. Kingsbury traced the appearance of Jefferson's portrait on U. S. stamps and indicated twenty-seven major varieties bearing his picture.

WE have given considerable space to the Pasco-Elko airmail service recently instituted. E. J. Newcomer, Yakima, Wash., A. P. S. 6034, sends us a letter with description of the markings on both east-bound and west-bound mail, but much of it has already been used. We thank Mr. Newcomer for his courtesy.

ON April 8th the Technical High School, San Francisco, Cal., was visited by A. F. Merell and A. H. Wilhelm, president of the A. P. S. They both addressed the stamp club which has been organized there.

SAN FRANCISCO subscribers will find a complete stock of our books at the office of R. H. Mower, 12 Geary St. New York subscribers can avail themselves of this privilege at the office of the Philatelic Publishing Co., 82 Nassau St.

KENNAQUHAIR PHILATELIC SOCIETY.

(A correspondent of the "Philatelic Magazine" engages in a literary pleasantry that we feel disposed to pass on to our readers. He gives a burlesque report of an imaginary stamp club meeting in order to illustrate the unnecessary details that are frequently found in press reports. We may be pardoned the statement that the correspondents of the British stamp clubs are more guilty of this practise than those in the U. S. The newspaper gladly welcomes interesting reports of club meetings, but they should contain matter that is of general interest.—W. O. W.)

The one hundred and seventy-seventh monthly meeting of the society was held in Room No. 13, Mulligatawny Hall, Kingsway, on Friday, 1st April, 1926, at 7 p. m., when there were present 13 members and two visitors. The somewhat inclement weather doubtless prevented a larger gathering.

Owing to the absence through indisposition of Mr. Joshua Billings, the honorary President of the Society, the chair was taken by Mr. Artemus Ward, one of the honorary vice-presidents. Mr. Ward proposed that the honorary Secretary be instructed to write to Mr. Billings, expressing the sympathy of the assembled gathering with him and his dear wife and family in his present attack of measles, and the hope of all for his speedy restoration to health again. This was seconded by Mr. Samuel Slick, the honorary Treasurer of the Society, and, on being put to the meeting, it was carried unanimously.

The Chairman then further proposed the sending of a letter of condolence to Mr. Adam Tots, the honorary Auditor of the Society, on the loss he had sustained by the death of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Gorgon Griffin. This was also seconded by Mr. Slick, and duly carried.

The honorary Secretary then read the Minutes of the previous meeting, and they were approved, and duly signed by the Chairman. Mr. Ward then addressed the meeting at some length in a speech illustrated by many amusing anecdotes, after which he introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. Bret Harte, and explained how he had first met him and swopped stamps with him over forty years ago, when they were both boys, and related many instances of their early efforts in stamp collecting, at the conclusion of which he called upon Mr. Harte to give to the meeting his display of the stamps of Trichinopoly.

The display was a remarkable one, and complete up to date in all issues, both unused and used, in singles, pairs, strips, blocks, and even whole sheets, together with a fine range of postmarks and a lot of Trichinopolies used abroad. The collection was beautifully arranged on loose-leaf album pages and neatly written up by the well-known expert, Mr. G. Fodden, and several of those present expressed their admiration of the beautiful caligraphy.

Both the display and speaker's explanations were much appreciated by the meeting, and, at its conclusion, it was proposed by Mr. A. MacTavish, the honorary Exchange Packet Superintendent of the Society, that a very hearty vote of thanks be given to Mr. Harte. This was ably seconded by Mr. D. Llewellyn, the honorary Curator of the Society's collection of Forgeries, and on being put to the meeting by the Chairman, it was carried with acclamation.

The honorary Secretary announced that the next meeting would be held on the 1st May, when Mr. Cluny MacPherson of Greenock would give a display of the stamps of Caledonia.

Mr. J. Barrie proposed a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Ward for his occupancy of the Chair, and this was seconded by Mr. P. Pan, and carried unanimously. After the Chairman had suitably responded, the proceedings terminated.

Members who have not yet paid their subscriptions are requested to send same without delay to Mr. D. Slick, at 1 Dayton Road, Monkeyville, S.W. 36.

BANDIT LEAPS FROM WINDOW

The following story was taken from the San Francisco Examiner of April 12. We have no further information that we can add to the account. It will be interesting to learn whether the stamps offered for sale were a part of the Los Angeles robbery. Mr. O'Shaughnessy, who sends us this clipping, is a veteran dealer long and well known to our readers, and he informs us that it was a thrilling experience. We quote as follows:—

Diving headforemost from a second story window at Geary and Market Streets into the midst of the homebound crowds below in the rush hour late yesterday afternoon, one of two bandit suspects made his escape from three detectives who had him cornered.

His companion, handcuffed, tried the same trick, but was caught by his clothing after he had crashed through a pane of glass, and dragged back into the office of Ross O'Shaughnessy, 16 Geary Street, veteran stamp dealer, where he was arrested.

The spectacular escape of the first man, followed an instant later by the crash and shower of broken glass as his comrade tried to follow him, threw the crowds on Geary street into a furore, and a vast throng milled about the scene for the better part of an hour after the occurrence.

It was at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon that O'Shaughnessy, member of an international organization of stamp dealers, reported to the police that two suspicious men had tried to sell him a valuable stamp collection for $2,000.

He at once remembered, he said, that a robbery of a Los Angeles stamp dealer of $2,000 cash and a $7,000 collection had been reported to him through the channels of his organization only a short time ago. Suspicious, he asked the men to leave their names and addresses and to return later.

At 5.30 the men returned. In the hall outside three detectives watched them enter O'Shaughnessy's office. They were Detectives Bernard Riehl, Earl Roney and John Palmer. A moment later they followed the two suspects into the stamp collector's place and flashed their badges.

At once, one of the twain leaped across a counter, onto O'Shaughnessy's desk, and dived cleanly, head first, through the open upper half of the window that opened a story high onto Gearv street, a few feet from Market. Below were crowds of persons, waiting for street cars and hurrying in both directions along the street. Miraculously, the plunging fugitive struck no one, but landed flat on his back on the sidewalk. In an instant, witnesses reported, he picked himself up and ran limping up Geary Street and turned the corner into Grant Avenue.

In the meantime, the detectives had snapped the handcuffs on the man who gave his name as Buckley. As they started out the door in an attempt to catch the one who had leaped, Buckley tore loose from the officer, who held him, wriggled, with his hands caught behind him, across the counter, and sprang right through the double pane of glass that closed the lower half of the window. O'Shaughnessy and a detective grasped his clothing as he slipped through, and hauled him back, bleeding from cuts about the hands, arms and legs. He was rushed by auto to the hospital, where his wounds were treated.

LOOKING ROUND

The new 4d Triangular of the Union of South Africa has excited a good deal of interest. It was put on sale simultaneously at the Union offices in London and in South Africa, but I understand that no sheets were sent out to South Africa, the stamps being issued in packets of sixty already cut up. First supplies at the London office were in sheets, so that for a day or two blocks and pairs were obtainable from London dealers, but after this only the packets of singles could be bought, and before the end of January London supplies of these were also exhausted.

It is doubtful whether this unpractical stamp will be reprinted, and if it is not, blocks and pairs should be good. There will probably be enough singles to go round, though at the time of writing many dealers are reporting them "out of stock."

Another interesting stamp is the Cayman Islands War stamp, 1½d on 2½d, blue, S.G. No. 55. It was never intended to issue stamps with this type of surcharge, but a few sheets were sent out, one of which seems to have reached England among others with the normal surcharge, Type 17, where it was noted, the stamps coming on the market at about £1. After that there was a period when it was never seen, but lately it has been heard of in fair quantities, and cannot be worth anything like the S.G. Catalogue price of £6, which has now been cancelled.

Not many 8s Script Gibraltars have turned up, and as high as ten guineas has been paid for single specimens.

Attention should be paid to the Edwardian and Georgian stamps of Great Britain. Stocks are dwindling, and there is a marked scarcity of all but the normal shades in the Somerset House and Harrison printings of the Edwardians, and also in the early Georgians. In this connection it may be noted that used copies of undoubted Harrison and Somerset House Edwardians are not at all plentiful, and are worth looking for.

British collectors have been paying attention to modern French Colonials recently. Many of these have jumped rapidly in price, of late, and those who like a speculative market will find these issues of interest. Any hardening of the franc would help prices in this group, while there are still bargains to be picked up cheaply in England.

A sale of remainders in Finland will bring the prices of many of the modern items, unused, down very low. Some Russian stamps have also been included in this sale, while others are coming out through Roumania — presumably stocks captured during the war. The Finnish sale affects, among others, the 3 r 50 k, grey and black, on horizontally laid paper (S.G. 100), which will soon be offered very cheaply, while the 1 k to 1 r, 1908-12, are also likely to slump heavily. All the stamps mentioned are unused.

Irish are still in keen demand, and the shortage of several items in the biggest stocks presages further rises in the near future. A well-known specialist-dealer points out that it is hopeless to try to complete Irish at "half-catalogue," many items being, in his opinion, worth considerably over catalogue. — Stanley Gibbons Monthly Journal.

SSAU STAMP CO. 70 Nassau Street, NEW YORK CITY

Washington Philatelic News

By PHILIP H. WARD, JR.

Mention was made last week of the fact that the 2c Sesquicentennial stamp illustrating "Liberty Bell" would make its appearance on May 10th. I am informed that we are not to have a larger series, but this stamp alone will commemorate one of the greatest events in our history. It is unfortunate that the Philadelphia Committee having the stamps in charge should so delay in taking the matter up with Washington, that sufficient time was allowed to issue one stamp only. The Department is making up for the lack in number by distributing this stamp in large quantities. The first order will call for 300,000,000 and they will be sent to post offices throughout the country without special requisition from postmasters. I believe this to be one of the largest numbers ever ordered of any of our commemorative issues.

I am further informed that the new 7c rotary print, perforated 10, will make its appearance on or about the same time. If it is possible, the 8c and 9c will be placed on sale in Washington, around May 10th, but in the case of the latter two varieties, there may be a delay of a month or more. They will all be available from 1c to 10c inclusive before July 1st, at which time it is expected that the flat plate printings of the lower denominations will be discontinued.

Rev. Joseph Dreyer calls attention to the fact that Mr. Kelly, of Pennsylvania, has presented to the House of Representatives a resolution authorizing the Postmaster General to issue and design a special postage stamp in honor of Commodore Edward Preble, commander of the "Constitution" in the conflict with the Barbary pirates. This resolution was referred to the Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads.

Mr. Willis M. Pott advises that the following Lexington-Concord plates, which were made by the Department, have not been used, so that those endeavoring to collect the plate numbers of this issue will be unable to find these numbers:

1c—16817, 16818, 16819, 16820, 16922, 16923.
2c—16802, 16920, 16956, 17005, 17006, 16921.
5c—16918, 16919.

Air Mail Notes

Further covers from the first contract air mail flight from Los Angeles to Salt Lake City, which took place on April 17th, have come to hand. It is noted that stations on this flight are using not only the large type air mail postmark, which was first used at Detroit, but that they are now using a smaller type similar to the large one in everything but size, as well. Those coming from Los Angeles are in magenta, those from Las Vegas in black and those from Salt Lake City in magenta and violet. In addition I have been shown covers from the air mail field at Salt Lake City showing the field postmark in addition to the postmarks just described.

Rev. T. O. Perrin sends a booklet, which has been distributed in Dallas, describing the air mail service now covering the country and the list gives a minute detailed schedule of the time saved from practically every important city in the country to every other city. Some ingenious soul must have taken weeks to work it out. Mr. Perrin writes there has been some confusion in the minds of many about the terminus of the Chicago-Dallas route. Fort Worth worked hard to have its field accepted and Arlington, which is half way between Dallas and Fort Worth, tried to impress upon the Department the importance of adopting their site. The field that Dallas offered, however, together with the rail-

SOME QUERIES AND SUGGESTIONS

By Robert S. Gordon.

There always has been, and probably always will be, some criticism of the Scott Catalogue after its annual appearance. Which is eminently right and proper. A catalogue cannot be perfect, being the product of humans. Each criticism, if at all warranted, may help its approach toward this end, however. In which connection I'd like to ask for enlightenment on some points which have bothered me for some time.

In such countries as Aguera, French Soudan, Wallis & Futuna, and Somaliland Protectorate, to name but a few, used and unused are for the most part priced as equally valuable. Why? It would be interesting to have some statistics regarding the relative number of French Soudan stamps sold at Paris and the number actually sold over the counter and used at post offices in French Soudan. Having no such statistics at hand, I cannot speak with any authority; but judging by the numbers of unused stamps offered for sale and the scarcity of ads of used stamps, I should say the used were from five to six times as scarce as the unused. And this condition, I maintain, should be reflected by the Standard Catalogue. Continental pricelists are in general more accurate in this respect than the lists of American dealers, but even on the continent the difference in favor of the used stamps doesn't seem to me to be in anything like the actual ratio of their scarcity.

Take, for example, Brunei, a country in which I have always been particularly interested since I learned that there were but thirty white men and women in the country. The average dealer, even one who specializes in British Colonials, has a stock of Brunei consisting of not over twenty or twenty-five unused stamps. As for used ones — "No, we haven't any. Last month, now, we had four in stock. But there's not much call for 'em, anyhow." And you are faced with the problem of getting something that apparently doesn't exist in measurable quantities.

My particular problem has been to get together a collection of Brunei on entires. So far, however, I've spent mighty little money on it, with very little to show for what I have spent. Whether the entire population of Brunei is illiterate or whether people there converse with their friends in other parts of the world by telepathy, I don't know. It seems to me that thirty people should be able to turn out quite a few letters in the course of a year's time. Perhaps they do, but I'd like the names and addresses of the recipients. And yet Gibbons, who lists such things and ought to know, prices the 1d overprinted "Malaya Borneo" at two pence, unused, with no used—genuinely used—copies to be had at any price.

And have you tried recently to obtain any used Cape Juby stamps? Well, don't. Save your time. Whether or not the population of Cape Juby consists entirely of Moorish bandits seems to be a pertinent question. The letter writers of that locality are not prolific, to put it mildly.

Of course, I realize the fact that a great many of these stamps were issued for speculative and money-making purposes, with no regard for legitimate postal needs. But if they are going to be classed as postage stamps, and valued as such, why not give them their real value, based on scarcity and demand?

There is also to be taken into consideration, of course, the fact that if used stamps are priced higher than unused, some people are going to buy the unused, put them on envelopes, and have the envelopes sent to themselves by obliging postmasters. But why not? A prominent dealer of England has been doing just that for a number of years, and no one has questioned his way of doing things. In the long run, the number of stamps so used will be but a very small fraction of the total issued. Many people may take advantage of so increasing the apparent value of their stamps, but catalogue quotations can very well take care of that, when the time comes.

One more point, in regard to British Colonials particularly. Stamps of the Union of South Africa, current issue unused, are priced at approximately forty-five cents per shilling. Well and good. The stamps, incidentally, have been current since 1913. And yet stamps of the current issue of Ascension, for example, are priced at only five cents per shilling more. And they still have to see two years of service. Why such an equal valuation? It seems there is something sadly out of proportion. If there is any place harder to reach than the island of Ascension, I have yet to hear of it. You can't take a Cook's tour to the place. You have to hire a British battleship to reach it, or so arrange matters that you can be conveniently shipwrecked in the vicinity of the island.

Scott's policy of pricing current stamps at approximately twice face value may be a very convenient base to work from, but as an absolute ratio of scarcity, it seems to leave room for improvement. Would it not be feasible to price stamps just issued at considerably more than twice face, and reduce the value each year they were in service until the price was only slightly over face? Thus when a new issue came out unheralded, the prices of the old issue would reflect approximately the true value, and there would be no necessity for "jumping" prices on a recently obsolete issue.

DEATH OF A. H. PIKE

Several of our subscribers have sent us clippings dealing with the death of A. H. Pike, which occurred at Binghamton, N. Y., Tuesday evening, April 20. This news will come as a severe blow to his many friends who had become well acquainted with him through his interest in philatelic literature and particularly in metered mail. We have published a pamphlet written by Mr. Pike dealing with this class of mail.

Some day philately will realize the foundation work that Mr. Pike has laid in the attention and time given to this branch of collecting. He was a member of the A. P. S. He is survived by his wife, one daughter and his father, all of Binghamton. The Managing Editor, who has had a long acquaintanceship with Mr. Pike, bears testimony to his deep and abiding interest in philately and our hobby has lost a staunch advocate and loyal worker.

5c JOHN ERICSSON STAMP

On May 29th a monument to John Ericsson, the great Swedish engineer, the man who built the Monitor, will be unveiled in Washington.

In connection with that event, Uncle Sam is going to issue a new 5c commemorative stamp in memory of the man whose brain devised the "cheese box on a raft" that foreran all the ironclad warships.

Send me one dollar and I'll send you a first day cover of the above stamp, an unused block of four of same, and ten issues of my news circular, "Washington Stamp News." The May 1st issue announced the five new stamps to be issued in May.

UNITED STATES ISSUES 1870-1900

Dr. Wm. Evans, Editor,
313 E. Freemason St., Norfolk, Va.

(Any letter requiring a reply must have a self-addressed stamped envelope. No attention can be given matters that do not belong to the years indicated. What can you contribute of interest?)

Some time ago correspondents were requested to register postmarks between 1870 and 1877 bearing the year date. Only a few have responded, viz.: Messrs. E. A. Young, W. S. Eager, E. F. Bodurtha, A. F. Gamber, W. E. Whitnall, H. P. Atherton, and R. F. Molitor, and the conclusion is either that there is lack of interest, or lack of material. The list is given below, and if new items are reported they will be listed. It does not seem possible that this short list can be anywhere near complete:—

1870

Mystic, Conn.; North Andover Depot, Mass.; North Manchester, Conn.; Taberg; Taunton, Mass., green.

1871

Bell's Mills, Pa.; Oakham, Mass.; Taunton, Mass.; Unionville, Mo.; Wellesley, Mass.; Wilton, Me.; West Hampton, Mass.

1872

Chestnut Hill, Mass.; Tux Chase, Phila.; Grantville, Mass.; Putney, N. Y.; Taunton, Mass.

1873

Auburndale, Mass.; Grantville, Mass.; Lincoln, Vt.; Ludlow, Vt.; Taunton, Mass.

1874

Ashley Falls, Mass.; Milford, N. H., blue; So. Framingham, Mass.; White Hall, Pa.; Taunton, Mass.

1875

Auburndale, Mass.; Bangor, Mich., purple; Bellfort, L. I. (Long Island, N. Y.); Ely, Vt.; New Saybrook, Conn.; Newton Highlands, Mass.; North Grosvenor Dale, Conn.; Taunton, Mass.; Tylerville, Conn.; Washington Depot, Conn.; West Haven, Conn.

1876

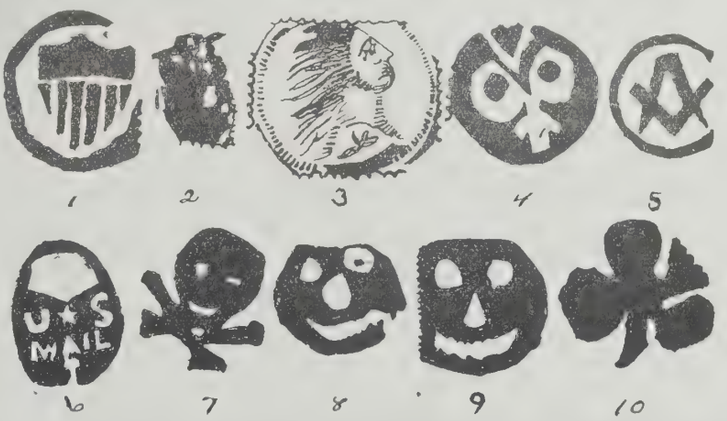
Auburndale, Mass., magenta; Boston, Mass.; Charlestown, Mass, red; Grantville Cor's, Mass.; Hill, N. H.; Jonestown, Miss.; Luana, Clayton Co., Iowa; Maple Plain, Minn., purple; Meridian, N. Y., blue; Mount Lebanon, N. Y.; Oxford, Me.; Woodland, Fla.

1877

Bath, N. Y.; Boston, Mass.; Canton, Ohio; Colchester, Conn.; Frewsburg, N. Y., blue; Hill, N. H.; Ilion, N. Y.; Lancaster, Mass.; Leverett, Mass.; Northhampton, Mass.; Northport, Suffolk Co., N. Y.; Sewanee, Tenn.; Schenectady, N. Y.; Tylerville, Conn.; Westville, Conn.

The color is black in all instances not otherwise noted.

Mr. Samuel Bennett sends an item which is exasperating. A vertical pair of 3c re-engraved which he terms "blind perf." In the space between the stamps on the right side there are four little circular marks made by the perforating machine, though not one of the little disks of paper is gone, and on the left side there are two less distinct marks. Why couldn't the pesky thing have kept off the paper entirely and so have produced a pair imperf. between? In reality that's what it is though the marks are there to show that the work was at least started, and just enough of it done to spoil a new variety, for I suppose we could hardly expect to list a pair half imperf. between and hope that it could reach the dignity of a place in the catalogue.



The cancellations on the 2c red brown of 1883 are so standardized that anything out of the ordinary is seldom seen. Dr. H. A. Robinson has sent some of these which were mentioned not long ago. Numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6, will show you what they are, and numbers 7, 8 and 9 are some others on the same stamp sent by Mr. W. J. Michels, who also sent a skull and cross bones in green. The last must be really rare. And the

ON THE CONTRARY

I've just finished reading Mr. MacGuffin's article on "How shall we sell Philately" and I want to vote No on his suggestion as strongly as I can, altho I'll try to follow his suggestion and keep "an open and receptive mind." I wish I had time to write a complete statement of the case as I see it, but I can only scribble a hasty outline. There are two main objections to his proposition. The first is—It isn't so. I've bought and sold stamps for about 18 years and while I've made good money on certain particular lots, taken as a whole, the amount I've made, counting in the cash value of my present collection and not placing any value on the amount of time I've used, is very little. This is the experience of many personal friends also. If I had put the money I've spent on stamps since 1908 in the savings bank, I'd be very much better off today financially—but I wouldn't have had anything like as much fun. (And I must add that if I hadn't spent it on stamps, most of it would have gone for less desirable things!) I feel sure that the only men who make any appreciable profit from stamps today are those who give a very large proportion of their time to the business of it and to whom collecting is no longer merely a hobby. The average amateur makes a lucky strike now and then, but on the whole the monetary return is insignificant. One of my acquaintances was lured into collecting by this argument of easy money and after two or three years tried to cash in. He lost hundreds of dollars and is pretty sore on stamp collecting still.

The second argument against Mr. MacGuffin's plan is that—It won't work. That is to say not nearly so many men of ability and character are swayed by the argument of easy money as he seems to think. Of course we all love to make a good profit and if the amount is big enough, most people respond to the financial argument. But from my experience among my personal friends, I should say that the average man doesn't care about making a little money out of his hobby or recreation. That is the one thing where the monetary return is secondary—it's the fun, the entertainment that he wants from that. So I am inclined to think Mr. MacGuffin's plan, so far as it brought any recruits to stamp-collecting, would be apt to bring those of the least desirable type.

NEW YORK EXHIBITION, OCT. 16-23

Rules and Regulations Governing Allotment and Use of Booths or Stalls

Arrangement—Space for 47 booths has been provided, as shown on the diagram of the exhibition floor. The minimum space to be rented is 100 sq. ft. Any exhibitor may take space not exceeding 400 sq. ft. Space shall not be sublet without consent of the Exhibition Committee.

Character of Exhibits—All exhibits shown in booths shall be appropriate to a philatelic exhibition and shall be subject to the approval of the Exhibition Committee.

Booth Equipment—The equipment of each booth furnished by the management includes floor covering, railings, back wall and sign. The back wall consists of fibre board and will be 8 ft. high to the bottom of the sign, giving 8 ft. of clear wall space. The back walls will be gray panels divided with dark gray wood strips; all hand rails will be dark gray.

Exhibitors planning decorations, shelves, cases, and counters in addition to the equipment furnished by the management can arrange for them through the Manhattan Exposition Construction Corp., Grand Central Palace, New York, which is prepared to handle any extra work at minimum cost.

The sign designated at the back of the booth is furnished by the management; lettering will be done in dark green and in block letters on an ecru (cream) ground. All signs will be at back of booths.

Exhibitors may bring their own furniture and rugs to place in their booth if they desire.

Allotment of Booths—Choice of locations for booths will be disposed of to the highest bidder at auction on May 25, 1926, at 6 p. m., at the Collectors Club. The successful bidder of each choice is entitled to designate the booth or booths desired, and subsequent choices will be disposed of by auction in the same manner until all the allotted booth space has been sold. The amount paid for choice of booth is in addition to the rental. Foreign and out-of-town exhibitors unable to attend this auction should designate a New York representative to handle their bids.

Booth Rental—The rental for booths or stalls will be $200.00 for the duration of the Exhibition; one-half payable on application, balance by September 1st. Premium payment ten days after the sale. Make checks payable to Theo. E. Steinway, Treasurer.

Mail your application and check for first payment promptly to Chas. M. Ams, Sec'y, 101 Park Ave., New York, N. Y.

HOME AND ABROAD:—

CARDS have been received announcing the marriage of Theodore Champion, Paris, France, and Miss Marguerite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roesgen-Loidet of Geneva, Switzerland. The WEEKLY extends congratulations and in these congratulations a large number of American dealers and collectors will unite.

A NEW stamp publication is at hand. It is called The Aero Field. This magazine is published by Francis J. Field, Sutton Coldfield, England. A sample copy will be sent upon request.

THE Philatelic Congress for Great Britain will meet at Liverpool, June 14-18, and an excellent program has been prepared. Business sessions will be held every forenoon and we notice such interesting items upon the program as a visit to Chester, one to the Liverpool post office, a theatre party, a lantern lecture, a banquet and a visit to Port Sunlight Model Village and Art Gallery. This program is as fine a one as we have ever noted in connection with a convention of philatelists.

A CLIPPING from Francis T. Laney states that on Dominion Day Canada will return to 2c postage.

OVER thirty stamp collectors of Albany and vicinity organized the Fort Orange Stamp Club on April 23. The club will meet Tuesday evenings at the Albany Y. M. C. A. Building. Collectors over eighteen years are eligible. The club will probably become a member of the A. P. S. Chester J. Moore, Delmar, N. Y., is president; C. S. Graham, Albany, vice-president; E. A. Bauer, Menands, N. Y., treasurer; Theo. Horton, Jr., Albany, secretary and Eliot Ryder, Troy, director. For information write Mr. Moore.

N. R. HOOVER sends us a clipping from Praeger's Postal Digest in which attention is called to the unlawful removal of stamps from mail by postal employes. Postmaster General New says that this practise "will not be tolerated."

MEMBERS of the S. P. A. are invited to nominate the most beautiful stamp issued between July 1, 1925 and July 1, 1926. Indicate your choice to A. E. Hussey, M. D., 3457 Dury Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio, and the entries will be considered by a jury of artists and an award made at the S. P. A. convention in Cincinnati. The promoters of this contest will present a gold medal, contributed by a member of the Cincinnati Collectors Club, to the designer of the most artistic stamp.

$11,000 WORTH OF UNITED STATES LOCAL STAMPS

Mr. H. C. Needham writes of these in "The Philatelic Gazette." "These stamps—the forerunners of all Government Issues—were of much more philatelic and historic interest than all others:—they were issued by the men who thought out and perfected the rules, regulations, appurtenances and conveniences later taken and assumed by different Governments."

I have just broken up a fine collection of these early U. S. historical stamps and arranged them in a series of my approval books as follows:—

STAMPS ON COVERS
Seven books of these, comprising stamps priced under $40.00 each, many superb copies beautifully tied on.

RARE STAMPS ON COVERS
Two books of real gems for advanced collectors, including great rarities of D. O. Blood & Co., Franklin's Dispatch, Brady, Briggs, City Express Post, Cummings, Frazer, Glen Haven, Hampton, Hinkley's, Russell, Smith's City Express, G. A. Mills, Williams, etc., etc.

STAMPS NOT ON COVERS
Eight books of these, including many rare and interesting varieties, all examined by experts and guaranteed originals.

N. B. These stamps are becoming great favorites, fill up your gaps before the new catalogue of Local Stamps is issued, as enormous advances in prices will be shown.

STAMPS AS AN INVESTME is the title of a book of 155 pages, cl bound, on the subject nearest to every lector's heart. It goes into the subject haustively. It tells exactly what perc age of increase in value the stamps of e major stamp issuing country have m in the three important periods of time
It tells the following:
1. Which countries' stamps have b the best investment in the past. (You tell at a glance whether any country have in mind has been a better "buy" any other major country and how m better.)
2. Which stamps are the best investm now and will be so long as certain cle stated conditions continue to exist. U Foreign? 19th? 20th? Which countri Why? All these things are definitely swered with plenty of statistical pr and even more convincing, with unq tionable rules of applied economics.
3. Whether common stamps have b and still are a better investment than rarer items and if better how much be
4. Whether 19th century stamps b been and are a better investment than century stamps and why.
5. Whether stamps issued prior to are a better investment than those of period 1880-1900 and the period 1901- It gives figures showing past performa of enough countries to arrive at a def incontestable conclusion.
6. Whether British Colonials are a g "buy," how good and which ones, or 20th, are the better and how much be
7. What of New Europe stamps? lines future probabilities based on law supply and demand, as that law ap specifically to philately.
8. A general rule for the guidance of man who likes to make his stamp mo breed to its utmost possibility while h having the fun of following his hobby
9. Whether stamps are a good inv ment as compared with other prac means of making money breed, and good.

MATCH WRAPPERS

By Christopher West.

V. R. POWELL.

Ic Black.

This design measures 28x57mm, including the single line colored border. A heavy band of color shaped like the shell for a modern rifle or cannon stands point upward with a colorless circle at the point and at each lower corner. Each of these circles contains a five-pointed star in color. The band is inscribed in colorless capitals at the upper left INTERNAL and at the upper right REVENUE, at the lower left TELEGRAPH, at the lower right MATCHES and at the bottom PROPRIETARY. In the center are two men; one standing is holding a lighted match and the other seated is lighting a cigar or pipe. In the triangular space above this charming domestic scene is a large shaded numeral I crossed by ONE CENT in shaded colorless letters, the triangle being filled out with shaded scroll work. The space below the smokers contains the following inscription in three lines of colored letters: Manufactured By—V. R. POWELL,—TROY, N. Y. The triangular area in the upper corners of the stamp outside the "shell" contains shaded scroll work on which is inscribed in color at the left "U" and at the right "S", both letters being placed diagonally.

The whole is a poor conception poorly executed and interesting chiefly for its crudeness. It was produced by the American Phototype Company of New York and occurs on two varieties of paper, one printed in the middle of a sheet of thin yellowish tissue paper measuring about 4 inches by 6. The stamp was properly a match wrapper and probably it was intended for use in this way. Many specimens, however, consist only of the printed design—the remainder of the wrapper having been cut away. It is barely possible that some of these so cut to shape were used as adhesive stamps in that condition. The other variety of paper is medium thick and white and evidence as to whether it was intended for use as a wrapper or as an adhesive stamp is lacking. Perhaps one half dozen specimens are known and all of these are cut close to the design, making it impossible for anyone to know whether they were originally intended for use as a wrapper or not.

The die proof was approved by Commissioner Lewis, May 6, 1865. The wrapper probably went out of use a few months later and the following document may explain why its life was so short.

"Assessor's Office
No. 59 State St. 14th Dist. N. Y.
City & County of Albany
Albany, Augt. 18th, 1865
Hon. William A. Dart,
Dist. Atty for——Dist. of New York.
Potsdam, N. Y.

You will please commence suit against Van R. Powell of Troy, N. Y., manufacturer of matches, in violating sec. 156 of the Act of June 1864, as amended by the Act of March 3, 1865, in not so affixing the stamp on the bunch of matches so as to effectually destroy the same. The sample enclosed indicates that it is a private stamp and is simply wrapped around the bunch of matches without any intention of having the same cancelled. I will send you a bunch of matches, or rather package, if you desire. Mr. Robert Harris is the complainant in the case. The probability is that the stamp is an unauthorized one. I have sent sample to Washington and will know the fact in a few days. See sec. 155.

Very respectfully,
Jno. G. Treadwell,
Assessor 14th Dist. N. Y."

(On reverse)
"U. S. v. Van R. Powell
Suspended by order of court."

Pinned to this document was a copy of the Powell wrapper, entire, on thin yellowish tissue paper. It was somewhat stained and creased and appeared to have been taken from a package of matches.

Then follows a break in the story.

For perhaps forty years little or nothing is heard of the Powell wrapper. But those who care to search their files of Mekeel's Weekly between 1900 and 1910 will find therein the story of how the Powell wrapper almost came to life again in a most surprising way. The gist of the story is that H. F. Colman, of Washington, learned that a room in Powell's home in Troy was papered with Powell wrappers, and departed hastily for Troy with the gleam in his eye which every stamp hunter knows so well. He arrived at the Powell home and found the story was perfectly true, but all the stamps were absolutely worthless—the room had been papered many times and although the stamps were still there, and probably are there even yet, it would be impossible to get one of them off in condition for any stamp collector to want it.

The writer regrets that he does not know the final termination of the suit against Powell but may be permitted to offer the suggestion that the suit was indefinitely suspended on condition Powell stop using them on his packages of matches; and Powell, being a thrifty soul, used them to paper a room in his home. At the present catalog price for the complete Powell wrapper, that house in Troy would certainly be a valuable residence and for its size, the room with the match-stamp-wrapper-wall-paper is possibly one of the most expensive rooms in all the world.

In 1888 Sterling priced the variety on white tissue paper at $15.00 and on buff tissue paper at $10.00. From 1894 to 1898 the Scott price on the wrapper was $50.00. In 1900-1901 $75.00 was quoted. Since 1902 the uncut wrapper has been priced $150.00 while the cut to shape price was $40.00 in 1902 to 1909, and has been $25.00 since 1910.

The complete wrapper on buff tissue is but little, if any, scarcer than the cut to shape variety on the thick white paper.

See article on the Powell adhesive stamp.

JOHN PHILLIPS, JR.

Federal Reserve Station, Kansas City, M

EDITORIAL.

Do not forget that the Honorable Ernest R. Ackerman has introduced a bill in Congress, amending paragraph 1671 of Schedule 15, Title II, of the Tariff Act of 1922, placing United States stamps on a parity with foreign stamps, by eliminating the duty imposed on United States stamps reimported into this country. The purpose of this bill is to remove a burdensome restriction that confronts exhibitors from abroad at the New York Exhibition. The bill for which support is solicited is to be referred to as House Bill 9159 and knowing that their cause is righteous, collectors should not hesitate to engage the interest of their senators and congressman in favor of the bill.

From Mr. John G. Kunz, Miranda, Oriente, Cuba, the following communication has been received: "In the issue of April 5th, you ask for information regarding the lady whose picture appears on the 35c stamp of Salvador. I give you a translation of a letter received by the editor of Adelante (the official journal of the Club de Intercambio de Cuba), from the director-general of Posts of Salvador and published in the January, 1926, of Adelante. 'Republica de El Salvador, Direcion General de Correos, San Salvador, June 10, 1925. . . . In answer to your letter of May, 1925, in which you ask for information regarding the 'Salvadoreña' beauty appearing on our 35c postage stamp and on the 6c stamped envelope, which have attracted your attention, we have the pleasure to copy a letter from the Minister of the Interior, which we received today: '9038. Referring to your note No. 1618 of June 1st, in regard to the letter received from the Revista Filatelica Adelante, asking for information about the young lady whose picture appears on the 35c stamp and 6c envelope, Señorita Tula Serra Morazan, of high esteem in Central America, who also occupied the Presidency of this Republic: because she belongs to a distinguished family of this capitol and because she won the beauty contest held last year by the daily paper, El Dia. The picture of the Señorita Serra Morazan is placed between two bearing branches of coffee as a medium of propaganda in foreign countries—these last our principal agricultural product. These are the details which, if you so desire it, you can give to the editors of the mentioned magazine. Very truly yours, R. Schonemberg. (Minister of the Interior).' Hoping that the details given in the enclosed letter satisfy your desires, I remain, Yours truly, J. R. Uriarte, Director General of Posts." As Mr. Kunz says the romance of the stamp suffers by the frank admission that its portraiture is intended to serve a decidedly utilitarian purpose.

A reader, Mr. Robert Schirmer, sends an interesting budget of news from Paris, France, and we quote his description of the present-day stamp Bourse, as the subject is perennially green, as it were: "An interesting feature of Paris stamp life is the open air Bourse, as you know. This stamp market is held on Thursdays, Sundays and all legal holidays. It lasts from about 2 P. M. until dark and is held at the corner of the Avenue Gabriel and the Avenue Marigny beneath the lovely trees, which are a part of the band of park that extends on both sides of the famous Avenue Champs-Elysées. There are from 100 to 1,000 people there in the course of an afternoon, depending on the weather. Much of the stuff sold is pure junk, but on the other hand there takes place some genuine swapping and selling of valuable things. No American visiting Paris should fail to go there. As for real bargains! If you have time and a knowledge of French, Paris is the place to buy even since the franc has been depreciating. I, myself, in two years' residence here have made a cracker-jack specialized collection of French and English colonials, both of the twentieth century only. When I say that high values, Edwards (5 sh. to 1 pound) retail at from 40 to 75% discount, merely because of the rate of dollar exchange, you will have a fair idea of what can be done if you are on the spot at the right time." Mr. Schirmer encloses in his letter, clippings from the Figaro, a newspaper that from any point of view is one of the most important of the French dailies. Twice a week, on Thursdays and Sundays, it publishes the department "La Philatélie" and the paper actually conducts a philatelic service which supplies the newer issues at quoted prices. Display ads are a feature of the page and from time to time dealers insert large ads just as they would in any strictly philatelic paper, thereby bringing collecting prominently to the attention of the several hundreds of thousands readers of the Figaro. With Mr. Fred. J. Melville doing superb work in the Daily Telegraph, London and the New York Times attending intelligently to stamp news in this country, we have a powerful trinity of newspapers that recognizes the news value of philately.

Some weeks ago, what was referred to as a fugitive item, caught our eye and the remarks made in this column on its suggestions showed that it was dismissed with a lightness that, in view of fuller understanding, must be reconsidered. From the president of the Suburban Stamp and Curio Club, Boston, Massachusetts, Mr. Frederick O. Ahlund, we have had the following correction: "Permit me to correct an erroneous impression given Mr. Vogel in the editorial on Page 178. One can readily understand the meaning conveyed by the remarks, 'how much is fact,' 'run over to the White House,' 'autograph before or after looking,' 'reverse english,' etc. The sender of the article evidently used snap judgment and the mere mention of a half million stamps called for inquiry rather than contempt. Mr. Vogel is a member of our club and the collection referred to has been exhibited in various cities and also before this Club. It is one volume of about 14 in. by 18 in. and about 2 in. in thickness. Very few stamps are entire. Each sheet is laid out in design entirely of stamps, that have been cut with scissors and pasted in with a perfection of design and color blending. The center of the page contains photos of scenes, presidents, rulers, etc. Some pages are decidedly beautiful, worked out in garlands and wreaths of flowers in natural colors, made from these stamp pieces and one has to look in vain for imperfection. It is in the making of these pages that the half million stamps were required. When it was in Washington, the President viewed the book and autographed it. Mr. Vogel does not call t book a stamp collection, but a book stamp designs." This explanation sets right and it is fair that the former o servations based on incomplete know edge be renounced and recantation made with a full realization of the i terest of the work that Mr. Vogel h done so competently.

As a matter of record, the followir notice of the forthcoming commemor tive stamp as received from the post o fice department is given space in entirety:

"Postmaster General New today a nounced the approval of a model for special 2-cent stamp to be issued in co memoration of the Sesquicentennial E position to be held at Philadelphia, Pen sylvania, this year. The subject of t stamp will be the Liberty Bell, and w be first offered for sale on May 10, 192 at the post offices at Philadelphia, Bosto Washington, D. C., and at the Philatel Agency of the Post Office Departmer This special 2-cent stamp will be print in the regular 2-cent red color.

The new stamp is of the size of t special delivery stamp, 1 44/100x81/1 inches. The words "Sesquicentennial E position" appear across the top of t stamp in a straight line. Under the in a flat arch appear the words "Unit States Postage." This arch is support at either end by a curved scroll, growi out of circular panels at either low corner of the stamp with the numeral in each corner. A panel connects the with the words "Two Cents." Restin on the lower panel are four flat orn mental columns supporting in the midd a picture of the Liberty Bell, whi swings from their tops. In either upp corner under the words "Sesquicentenni Exposition appear the dates "1776-1926 All the other lettering on the stamp white faced Roman.

Plans have been made to authorize a issue of 300,000,000 of these stamp which will be sent to all post offices i the country as fast as production wi permit after May 10."

REPRODUCTION OF STAMPS IN COLORS

We regret very much that an advertisement inadvertently appeared in our issue of April 26, which offered for sale pictorial post cards with reproductions of sets of stamps in colors. The manufacture and sale of these reproductions is prohibited in the United States, and it naturally follows that it is unlawful to advertise them. Our breach of the law was wholly unintentional and we have notified the firm of the circumstances and given instructions that no orders from the United States should be filled.

OUR REVIEW

We have a really remarkable book under notice, in "Stamps as an Investment," by R. D. MacGuffin, a cloth bound volume of 155 pages; and at the outset it is to be said that we have an admiration for the manner in which he has formulated his data and presents his case. Mr. MacGuffin does not timorously skirt along the borders of his subject, but wades right in and speaks unequivocally and with emphasis. He is modern, indeed, in his treatment of the theme and he contends that the progress of philately depends on the quality that resolves itself into the best talking point in a salesman-like presentation to the public. Here he makes his argument that the interest of outsiders is best attracted by the money-making possibilities of stamps. He dismisses the customary list of advantages of collecting as immaterial and colorless in comparison with the dominating note of financial gain through investment in stamps. He offers a strong case as an analyst and in a way, a philosopher who has studied popular reactions. Mr. MacGuffin first wishes to confirm philatelists in their belief in financial accretion through stamp investment and this done, he says that they are in a position to convince others that stamps are a money-making vehicle as well as an artistic pursuit. The writer buckles to his task after showing that compound interest is impractical and does not enter into the calculations. Basing his premises on the stand that each nationality likes its own stamps best and those of its immediate neighbors as next best, Mr. MacGuffin fortifies his position by a consideration of the angles that enter into the equation. He concludes that European stamps afford the best outlook: "European stamps have been in the past, are now, and give promise of being in the future, the best investment because of the conditions of demand, purchasing power and supply." Then, the author deals with the countries of Europe; South and Central America; North America; Asia, Colonials, 19th vs. 20th Century and New Europe, bringing to bear in favor of his words, the great percentages of increase, tabulated by comparative values, past and present.

The summary is particularly interesting and proves the merit of stamps in an investing sense; the comparisons are such as to impress even the close follower of stamps in all their aspects; and it must be said that Mr. MacGuffin extends his confidence to the reader. While he does not go explicitly into the question of marketing the stamps by the investor, he believes that the collector who is acute enough to buy stamps carefully has the necessary selling intelligence when occasion arises.

The book is most interesting as it reflects philately in the advanced way that accords with the prevailing dollar and cents idea, in which Mr. MacGuffin says that we are all concerned. It will be read with respect for the evident thought that entered into its composition and the impression conveyed is that the author is so imbued with the belief that favorable money returns will follow judicious investment in stamps that he is impelled to share his faith with all. Too, he feels that he is promoting a means that may be used to increase general interest in stamp collecting. The volume is one to read and to ponder and Mr. MacGuffin becomes the exponent of a school that must gain converts through a thoughtful examination of his copyrighted book. Price $1.50 postpaid. Publisher: R. D. MacGuffin, Narberth, Pa.

As indicating the growth of interest in the stamps of China, The Philatelic Bulletin, a bi-monthly, which is the official journal of the Chinese Philatelic Society, recently organized, is presenting an exhaustive study of the stamps of China, by that earnest student, Mr. M. D. Chow, who is the possessor of one of the greatest collections of Chinese issues known to philately. The illustrations accompanying Mr. Chow's are profuse and of particular value as some of them are colored. While the magazine makes a specialty of China, the contents are given in English as well as Chinese and we hail the publication because of its own solid merits and as an example of Oriental philatelic enterprise and progress, as well.

Superbly illustrated auction sale catalogues have been received from Galvez of Madrid, Spain; Heinrich Kohler, Berlin, and Ernest Saner, Berne, Switzerland. Many pages of stamp illustrations are shown in each and the plates are worth preserving as representations of stamps of superior kind.

THE BI-MONTHLY JOURNAL

A house organ with an inimitable style and charm, published every two months. Each issue consists of from 32 to 48 pages, every one containing a formidable array of unusual offerings in medium and scarce sets, packets and special collections, dealers' stocks, single stamps, philatelic supplies, etc., etc.

Albert C. Munson, 412 Broadway, Houston, Texas, writes:
"I enjoy the Bi-Monthly as much as MEKEEL'S; there is no other paper, house organ, journal or circular of any kind wherein one can find such extraordinary good stock—and at such reasonable prices."

C. A. Ralston, 164 Vaughn St., Waterloo, Iowa, says:
"I am paying subscription charges for two large house organs, but would rather get along without both of them than to lose yours. If necessary, I know that I could pay a substantial subscription to the Bi-Monthly and save all of it on stamps offered in a single issue."

The Bi-Monthly Journal is a distinctive publication and absolutely free to patrons. You can't afford to be without it!

Announcement

Mr. Clement S. Ernst of 1014 3rd Ave., Seattle, Wash., has purchased the stamp business which I have conducted the last few years and consolidated it with his own fine stock of stamps.

This gives Mr. Ernst an opportunity to supply approvals that will contain stamps not often seen on the general run of approvals and to also fill want lists more complete than you usually have them filled.

He also has a large and varied line of packets and I gladly refer my old customers to Mr. Ernst with the satisfaction of knowing that you will receive the same courteous and prompt treatment you always received at my hands and in addition a much larger line of stamps than I had to offer. [44*

U. S. SPLITS ON ENTIRE COVER

Necessity, so we are told, is the mother of invention, and the postmasters under different circumstances from the time of our first issue have found it advisable and in many cases necessary to bi-sect our postage stamps and use them for a fraction of their face value. While I do not recall a single instance where the Department has ever specifically authorized such use, nevertheless, in order to meet the requirements of the local office, this has often been necessary, especially in the early days in California when the delivery of stamps from the east was slow, with the demand substantial.

Right at present, I can offer the following on entire cover in unusually fine condition:

1851—One-third of 3c used as 1c with three 3c making a 10c rate—from Worthington Collection, unique $450.00
1851—12c "Steamship" cancellation covering cut 300.00
1851—12c "San Francisco" postmark covering cut 200.00
1851—1c, 3c with split 12c "U. S. Express Mail", New York postmark, unique, from Chase Collection 325.00
1862—2c Jackson split with pair of 10c 1861, making 21c rate to Switzerland, rare used abroad 160.00
1862—2c Jackson, lower horizontal half used with 2c black to make 3c rate, possibly unique 125.00
1869—3c right two-thirds, making 2c rate on Virginia tax report.. 280.00
1922—A half of 1c used with 1c envelope making 1½c rate, Toms River Provisional 7.50

Any of the above, as well as other equally interesting and rare covers, will be gladly submitted on approval to responsible collectors.

road connections, decided the Department to select this point as a terminus. On May 8th the air plane, "Miss Dallas," will be christened and General Patrick, Commander of the U. S. Air Service, will be on hand. On May 12th the mail service will be inaugurated and details relative to this flight have already been given in this column.

AZORES.—The 96c red and 2.40E light green, noted under Portugal, have been surcharged in the usual manner for use in this colony. Copies have been received from Whitfield King & Co.

BELGIUM.—New series.—We are indebted to M. Victor Gisquière for the following exclusive information. The Belgian Govt. has just installed at Malines some new machines from the U. S. A., so that they can print their own stamps. For the time being the machines are in charge of American workmen. The first stamps to be printed will be the new series, already foretold in the "P.M." of November 14th last. It is still uncertain as to the number of values which will be issued, and no particulars are yet available as to the designs, for which the king gave four sittings, although there will probably be more than one. The first value to be issued will be the 5frs, as the current stamp is sold out.—Philatelic Magazine.

CANADA.—New Air Mail Service and Label.—An interesting vignette has just appeared for use on the new Rouyn Goldfield air mail service. It is sanctioned by the Post Office Department. The inscription, printed in red on a yellow groundwork, reads: "Jack V. Elliott Air Service. First Red Lake Aerial Mail, 1926." No denomination of value is shown, but the face value is 25c. It is perforated and gummed, and was produced in panes of eight, in two horizontal rows of four.—FRANCIS J. FIELD.—Philatelic Magazine.

CZECHOSLOVAKIA.—Whitfield King & Co. report the following new items for this country: 15h red, perf. surcharged "30 Doplatit" and also "40 Doplatit", both in blue; 50h dark blue and 50h dull violet have both been overprinted "60 Doplatit" and the 400h purple and the 1000h violet have been surcharged "100 Doplatit". These four are imperforate. Also the 5h, 5h on 2h and 10h special delivery stamps have been surcharged "Noviny."

DENMARK.—Mr. A. E. Pade advises that he has received the following new surcharges: 7 ore on 1 ore orange Official, No. 317; 7 ore on 3 ore grey, Official, No. 319, and 7 ore on 10 ore green, No. 326, same type as the previous surcharged Officials and all with black overprint.

EGYPT.—Whitfield King & Co. advise that they have received a new 50 piastres stamp with the three-quarter portrait of King Fuad I. The stamp is of large size and purple on white paper. These stamps were issued on March 26th last, the birthday of King Fuad.

GERMANY.—We have received from Whitfield King & Co. a copy of a new 5pf green airpost stamp. In the centre is shown a large bird with outstretched wings. In each corner is a small rosette while at the top and bottom is the denomination of value and on the left side "Deutsche" and on the right "Luftpost". Our correspondent also adds that the following other values of the same design are on sale: 10pf red, 20pf blue, 50pf orange-brown, 1 mark black and pink, 2 marks black and blue and 3 marks black and olive green.

INDIA.—Mr. R. Roberts calls our attention to the latest service provisionals. This time the 6a King Edward "On H.M.S." stamp has been overprinted "One Anna" in black. Mr. Roberts further informs us that these were issued to meet the demand for the one anna service stamp pending the new issue of stamps being printed by the Indian Government. It is anticipated that other surplus stock may be used up in this way.

IRISH FREE STATE.—Delivery Fee Stamps.—In turning up back issues of the philatelic press I cannot find mention of the Irish Special Delivery Fee Label, writes Mr. W. Ward, which has evidently been missed, although it is undoubtedly a postage stamp as it represents a Delivery Fee collectible on parcels. At first a 6d postage due stamp had to be fixed but that was done away with and the label alone represented 6d. They are now obsolete and appear to be scarce. The design is very similar to many of the British Railway Letter stamps with the description in English and Erse.—Philatelic Magazine.

ITALIAN SOMALILAND.—Whitfield King & Co. write that they have received the following Italian Parcel Post Stamps with the overprint "Somalia Italiana": red, 5c brown, 10c blue, 20c black, red, 50c orange, 1 lira mauve, 2 lira green, 3 lira yellow, 4 lira grey; black surcharge, 10 lira grey, 12 lira red brown, 15 lira olive and 20 lira lilac.

JUGOSLAVIA.—The Bulletin Mensuel chronicle a 50pa in brown, type similar to the 1924 issue but with the print toward the right.

LUXEMBURG.—Whitfield King & Co. have shown us the 5c lilac in the type of Scott's A9 and also the stamp has been surcharged "Official" in the usual manner.

MALTA.—Mr. R. Roberts and the Metropolitan Stamp Co. send for chronicle the new issue of stamps recently placed on sale in this colony. The pence denominations are small format King's head type, of a new design. The perfs are 14½x14. The shilling denominations are of larger size pictorial designs, engraved and perf. 12½. All are printed by Waterlow & Sons, Ltd., of London. The colors and values are ½p brown, 4p red, 4½p yellow buff and violet, 1sh black, Malta harbor; 1sh6p green and black, Publius design; 2sh purple and black, Notabile design; 2sh6p red and black, Gozo Boat design; 3sh green and black, Statue design. We have also been shown by the same correspondent the ¼p brown, ½p green, 1p violet, 1½p brown orange, 2p turquoise and bright 2½p ultramarine, 3p black and yellow, 4p blue and yellow, 6p olive and violet, 9p indigo and sepia, 2sh brown and blue, 2sh6p purple and black, 5sh orange and blue and 10sh slate grey and brown on the 1922 issue overprinted "Postage" in serif capitals.

Mr. R. Roberts sends us the latest printings of several denominations of stamps of this colony that are quite different in color than previous printings. They are the ½p deep brown, 1p deep purple, 1½p bright orange, and 2½p bright ultramarine and deep orange, unsurcharged.

MONACO.—M. Victor Gisquière informs us that the stock of a one franc stamp which was to have been issued shortly has been returned to Paris to be surcharged 1.25 fcs.—Philatelic Magazine.

RUSSIA.—Whitfield King & Co. write ing under date of April 7th last ad that they have received 1 rouble bro 2r dark purple, 3r dark green, all w the portrait of Lenin and similar in and design to the 5 and 10 roubles sta issued last year.

LOOKING ROUND

By MARQUETTE

ccording to a summary published in t's Monthly Journal, the number of stamps issued in 1925 was about less than in 1924, the total being 1538. table shows a steady decline since "peak" post-war year of 1920, when varieties were listed. "Surcharges" v a decline to 636 from the 1924 of 750, and we are surprised to find Charity stamps are down from 79 6. Scott's are going to list these as ni-postals" in future, by the way. memorative stamps make a new rec-with a total of 415, for which Portu-must be largely to blame. It should noted that the 1925 record is hardly plete as yet, as items from distant tries had not arrived.

alking of Portugal, the promoters of Trans-Atlantic air flight issue, having d to dispose of the remainders in ugal, are now trying to sell them in il, where the flight terminated. I not think they will have very much ess.

ie current issue of Malta should be pleted early, as the new issue will be before long. Greece and Turkey new issues in preparation, and the ent issue of the latter with its various ings will well repay a little study.

ie early issues of Guatemala down to t 1901 are becoming harder and er to get and should prove a sound stment. The lithographed "quetzal" of 1886 is particularly good.

awaii is another country which is oving, as there is a keen American and. Well-centered copies or fine in the middle issues are worth hav-. There is also a steady enquiry for ti, and now that this once prolific try has mended its ways (it has only d five new stamps since 1920) its erous provisionals will doubtless rise alue. Some of them are far rarer catalogue quotations indicate.

ts of the more modern Ecuador Offi- have been freely offered lately. Ap-ntly remainders of these and a few he postage stamps and postal fiscals come on the market.—Stanley Gib-Monthly Journal.

MODERN SPIRIT IN STAMP DESIGN

By S. COLDICOTT.

Recent years have witnessed a great outpouring of new ideas in many fields, and the tendency to break away from tradition is as visible in the pages of the stamp albums as elsewhere. The need for strong simplified drawing, the value of bold blocks of colour, and the needlessness and ugliness of elaborate ornamentation, once so prevalent, are being realised as never before.

Sound craftsmanship rather than originality is the distinguishing feature of British work, and among the issues of Great Britain and the Empire the Wembley Exhibition stamps alone show to any considerable extent the influence of a new spirit in design. Despite their rather lukewarm reception by collectors, possibly accounted for by doubts of their genuine need, these stamps have a boldness and effectiveness hitherto sadly lacking in our issues. One has but to compare the current 1½d with its big Wembley brother — what a poor weak thing it looks beside it—to realise the advance made.

Our stamp designers on the whole have displayed a characteristically English preference for slow progress as opposed to fundamental change, and it is in Central Europe that the modern spirit has shown its greatest vitality and has produced its finest work. Boldness of conception and originality of design are its keynotes, and beauty too of its kind. Among the issues of Austria, Fiume, Germany, Holland, Poland, Russia, and Sweden, the working of the new leaven is very noticeable, and their productions may be taken as representative of their class.

Austria has not been too successful in her efforts at modernism. The 1925 issue is perhaps the most novel and striking; but Fiume's stamp artists have consistently produced beautiful and original work, and one can but regret that the taint of speculation hangs round so much of it. Germany struck a new note in its 1921-22 Labour series, which have much to commend them, and the same can be said of Bavaria's final issue, the high mark values with their graceful rhythmic pattern being especially fine. In recent years Holland has been indefatigable in trying out new ideas. Some of its productions are bizarre in the extreme, but it has to its credit one of the finest modern designs yet seen. The Queen's Head type of the Jubilee series is a masterpiece of the new school and compensates for many a "Lion in a Basket." Poland in its early days produced some highly original stamps, of which the mark values of the 1919 issue are probably the best, whilst the Constitution Commemoratives are certainly the most striking; latterly, however, she has been content with more orthodox designs.

From the ruthless manner in which the Soviet authorities scrapped the lumber, or otherwise, of the past one would expect to find the most daring and advanced ideas represented on the postage stamps of the U. S. S. R., but on examination one's expectations are only partially fulfilled. Yet good work there is, and typical of the best are the capitalist-dragon slayer of 1921, the Agricultural Exhibition stamps of 1923, and the Lenin Mausoleum type of 1925.

Sweden since 1920 has whole-heartedly adopted "new-art" ideas for its stamps, and has evolved a distinctive Scandinavian school. If the öre values of the U. P. U. Congress and Anniversary Commemoratives are almost childishly crude, yet who can deny a certain naive charm all their own?

In both North and South America the influence of what one may term the American Bank-note Co. school, with its weakness for unlovely scrollwork, is very noticeable, and few designs of a modern tendency have been produced. What few there are, of which the Sarandi and Olympic "Victory" issue are typical examples, are obviously of European inspiration, and no distinctively modern American designs exist unless one excepts the startlingly novel stamps just issued by Bolivia.

Air-post stamps form a little group of their own, and here designers with no traditions behind them have much good and original work to show. The bold angular drawing of the 1923 Swiss issue makes it among the most distinctive in this field, and in sharpest contrast is the "Winged Woman" type, beautiful alike in conception and execution. Also worthy of mention among others are the "Crane and 'Plane" type of Austria's new issue, the 1921 Danzig stamps and the recent Danish issue—most pleasing these latter. On the other hand, the current "Flugpost" stamps of Germany are disappointingly dull.

The readiness with which the less happy productions of the new school are ridiculed prompts one to ask whether collectors are sufficiently appreciative of the tireless search of Continental stamp designers after new ideas—new motifs. These artists refuse to be hampered by traditional ideas of stamp design and are unwearied in devising new means of expression. Who shall say that our albums have not gained greatly in interest and diversity by these new ventures in design? It is neither fair nor expedient to judge a craftsman by his poorest work, and if we point the finger of scorn at the weird and bizarre efforts of certain nations, they can effectively retort with a reference to the uninspired mediocrity of the current low value Georgians with which we are presumably satisfied.—Stanley Gibbons Monthly Journal.

BARGAINS IN RARE XIX CENTURY FOREIGN

We list below a number of scarce and desirable stamps, at prices which we believe will prove most attractive. All stamps are nice clean and attractive copies; no badly damaged are included.

As we can only list a very small fraction of our stock, we would be very pleased to receive a list of your wants, including the cheaper stamps, which we will do our best to fill.

STAMPS AND STAMP LITERATURE

(We clip the following article from "Philatelic Gossip" as a trite observation upon a situation which has been much deplored in all the years of philately. It is too true that collectors are little interested in the literature of our hobby. Very frequently collectors who should own a Standard Catalog write us for the valuation of stamps, and we feel compelled to make the suggestion that no one can afford to collect stamps without a guide of some kind. It is also true that this Dictionary offered at $1.00, which is below cost price, should have an abundant sale.—W. O. W.)

Collectors who are interested in Scandinavia will gladly welcome a new specialized list of Danish Cancellations on the issues to 1879. A comparative list has long been needed, and Chas. K. Phillips is to be congratulated on having produced it. The principal reason for the popularity which this little book is bound to enjoy is the fact that prices are given for all numeral cancellations. This is okeh, but we wish that collectors would look at their stamps a bit more and at the advance in catalog prices a bit less. The fact is, most collectors are not much interested in their stamps merely as stamps, not in America, anyway.

This is amply proven by the sad fact that another monumental philatelic work, the Dictionary by Poole and Wylie, has been reduced in price twice in order to induce collectors to buy it, and the present amount asked for the book is undoubtedly less than the cost of publication.

This is a condition of affairs which is nothing less than disgraceful: every lector who makes any pretence of k ing anything about stamps needs the atelic dictionary. If you don't believ the writer offers to bet a nice block U. S., listing $5 or more, that there one person who reads this column can answer the following questions hand, without consulting said diction which of course answers all of them

State the meaning of each of the lowing expressions, all found on pos stamps:

1. "Suscipere et finire." Where fou
2. Dr. Thebussem.
3. Tunguragua.
4. D. P.
5. "Centenario da Abertura." W found?
6. "Koe Otua Mo Toga Ko H Tofia." Where found?

That's enough — you're sunk on one! Some non-philatelic friend is li to ask you what it means one of t days, and you'll have to back up a on that thread-bare argument that st collecting is educational.

Remember, in the above contest you to be the judge and the jury, and if can answer the above questions offh without consulting either the dictionar the original magazine draft of it, writer will schenk you a nice block U. S. But it will not be necessary to an extra carrier on to deliver the e mail!

Spend a dollar and get a diction of philately. You won't be able to sp that particular dollar for stamps but y get twenty dollars' worth of informat and you will always have the book ha to extract more! If the dictionary only included a list of values of the v ous fancy cancellations on the 3c gr it would now be selling at two or t times the published price, with a sec edition being prepared.

There is another philatelic diction but it is in German, and it cost a lot n money, and you won't be able to rea anyway. These are the only two philatelic encyclopaedias, and it w take a lot of cold yellow gold to sepa the writer from these two books if could not replace them. So separate y self from the American dollar and sp it for the American philatelic diction and begin giving yourself an Amer education. You wouldn't buy an unless you knew something about ca anyway, you wouldn't buy your sec auto without learning something. look at the thousands of stamps you h purchased: how much do you re know about any of them, except you bought them? That doesn't n necessarily, that you own them. Ac ownership only transpires when ac knowledge goes with it.

LUCK

By IVAN NEWTON.

Matthew Bennett believed he was hot on the trail of a big "find." Visions of bundles of letters, yellow with age, hidden in musty hair-covered trunks, flashed through his mind as he climbed out of his car in front of the old colonial Calhoun home.

During the past year he had added many choice items to his collection as the result of a combination of opportunity and resourcefulness. Business had kept him in a section of the South that is still graced with homes of the earlier families, and Matthew made it a point to become acquainted with this aristocracy with the idea of gaining, sooner or later, full access to alluring attics. The Calhoun home was one of the oldest in that part of the state. Generation after generation had lived there.

Matthew had met the Calhouns the week before, and he learned at that time that they were all leaving for the seashore on the following day except Gwinnett Calhoun. Experience had taught Matthew that the privilege of ransacking an attic is more easily secured from a man than from a woman. So he had chosen this particular afternoon for his quest.

Gwinnett Calhoun was sixty—or was it eighty? One could not easily tell. Erect. Snow-white hair. Granite-gray mustache and goatee set in a ruddy—almost red, complexion. He was sitting on the veranda in his favorite wicker chair in front of the massive white doorway when Matthew drove up. A little black boy bearing a tray in outstretched arms disappeared around the side veranda. Calhoun arose and with alert step advanced to greet his visitor.

"Mighty glad to see you, Mr. Bennett, but the folks are all away. Take that chair over there. I believe it is cooler out here than in the house."

Matthew seated himself comfortably.

"Do you expect to join Mrs. Calhoun at the seashore this summer?"

"Yes indeed. Just as soon as I can get away. It's lonesome here, but I've been busy with my roses. Sort of a hobby, you know." Then smilingly, "My wife says I think more of my roses than I do of her. Have you a hobby Mr. Bennett?"

What an opportunity for Matthew!

"Yes, Mr. Calhoun, I have a hobby, too. My hobby is collecting postage stamps, especially old stamps such as may be found on old letters in almost any attic. No doubt you have here, somewhere, a lot of forgotten correspondence that—"

"Speaking of old stamps" interrupted Calhoun, "reminds me that we ran across a package of old stamps that had never been used, while cleaning out the attic not long ago, and finding those stamps brought back to my mind an incident in my grandfather's life, and a story that I often heard him relate when I was a young man. Would you like to hear the story, Mr. Bennett?"

"I certainly would," answered Matthew eagerly. "Stories of significant incidents in the lives of the old Southern families have always held a special attraction for me."

Calhoun shifted his position to the other side of the big chair and began—

"It happened while grandfather Calhoun was postmaster at Jonesboro. I don't know exactly when it was, but it must have been long before the war between the States. The post office was a small frame building located about where Tuggle's Shoe Store now stands. One Saturday afternoon grandfather received a supply of postage stamps from Washington. The post was late that day due to heavy rains that made the roads well-nigh impassable. The few letters that came on the mail were quickly handed out to awaiting patrons and the supply of stamps locked up in the small iron safe. Grandfather then closed the office and went to supper, taking with him the post office scissors which needed sharpening—"

"Scissors?" inquired Matthew.

"Yes, scissors. They were used in those days for cutting stamps apart."

Matthew began humming softly to himself and beating a rat-a-tat-tat with

NEW EDITIONS

20th Century International Albums

PART II

These albums are complete from Jan. 1, 1920, to include all stamps listed in the latest (1926) edition of Scott's Postage Stamp Catalogue. Because of the large number of stamps issued during this period these albums are about twice as large as the previous edition, and the loose leaf editions require double the number of binders in each instance, which explains the apparent increase in price of these editions.

The paper used is of a special, heavy quality, white stock especially adapted to the requirements of stamp mounting, and we highly recommend it to our patrons.

No. 3 Bound. 800 pages, 1 volume, printed on both sides of the paper. Brown Cloth, Gilt lettering, $6.00. Shipping weight 8 lbs.

No. 11 Loose Leaf. 800 pages, in 2 binders. Printed on one side of the paper. Pages with creased margin, $30.00. Shipping weight 26 lbs.

No. 11 Pages only, $22.00. Shipping weight 21 lbs.

No. 25 Loose Leaf. 800 pages in 4 binders, printed on one side of the paper. Pages with linen hinge, $50.00. Shipping weight 35 lbs.

No. 25 Pages only, $36.00. Shipping weight 22 lbs.

SUPPLEMENTARY PAGES

Those who own the previous edition of the Loose Leaf albums No. 11, or 25, may make them identical with this edition by the purchase of Supplementary Pages. These pages consist of all the added or changed pages which appear in the new edition.

ABOUT 700 PAGES

No. 11 Creased Margins .....$19.00. Sh. Wt. 20 lbs.
No. 25 Linen Hinge .....$30.00. Sh. Wt. 21 lbs.

Through an error in our office these albums were announced in a previous advertisement as now ready. Please note that the date of issue is June 1.

the tips of his fingers on the arms of his chair.

Calhoun continued, "It seems that there had been a distressing shortage of stamps at the post office for some time. After supper that night grandfather went back to town and made it known in the principal stores, where the news would spread, that on Monday morning stamps could again be secured at the post office. But Jonesboro was still to be without stamps, for, when the post office was opened Monday morning the door of the safe was wide open and the stamps gone. Searching parties were quickly formed and the country scoured for miles around, but no trace of the robbers could be found. . . . This is not boring you is it Mr. Bennett?"

By this time Matthew was hanging on the arms of his chair as for dear life. Relaxing, he settled back naturally once more and urged Calhoun to go ahead.

"Well, as I said before, no trace of the stolen stamps could be found. About a year after the robbery occurred grandfather was forced to give up his appointment as postmaster in order that his entire attention could be given to some new development on the plantation. The years rolled by and the robbery was forgotten, until, strange as it may seem, the stamps were found, but I don't think grandfather ever told anyone outside of the family about finding them."

Here Calhoun paused as if undecided whether to complete the details of his story or bring it to an end, but Matthew's eager face prompted him to continue.

"It was during the latter part of the war when the stamps were found. Grandfather was inspecting a vacant negro cabin in the servants' row back of the house when he noticed an accumulation of left-behind articles on some boards that had been placed across the rafters at one end of the lone room. The stuff had no business there, so he dislodged one end of the boards with his cane and the whole thing came down with a crash. There was an old spinning wheel, a broken chair and a box which fell to pieces on its impact with the floor. It had contained mostly old rags. Grandfather was raking through this rubbish with his cane when he found the stolen stamps. How the package got there is a mystery to this day. It had never been opened although the heavy wrapper had come apart around the edges. He did not take the trouble to return the stamps to the postoffice for the reason that federal postage stamps were not valid for postage in the South at that time. But he kept them and they came to light a few weeks ago when we were cleaning out an old desk that had been stored away in the attic for years. . . . That is all of the story Mr. Bennett. To me, the most interesting part of it is the accidental recovery of the stamps in the old negro cabin so long after they were stolen."

Matthew was dazed. "Here" he thought, "is the greatest find in the annals of philately. A block of four of any stamp that 'had to be cut apart with scissors' was a happy find, but a whole sheet—whew! Possibly a hundred sheets—Good Lord!

"And you found those same stamps?" he asked excitedly, unable to hold his restraint any longer. "What did they look like? Where are the stamps? Let me see them!"

"I will show you," answered Calhoun, taking a black leather pocket-book from an inside pocket and fishing from its contants a folded bit of paper that was brown-spotted with years. "This is a corner torn from one of the sheets of stamps," he explained as he handed it to Matthew.

Matthew unfolded the paper tenderly. It showed the corner stamp and part of three surrounding five-cent 1847's!

"I tore it off to keep as a relic when we destroyed the stamps along with the other stuff found in the old desk."

A JUMBLE:—

WE have received from Grady M. Vaughn a clipping from the New York Sun. It is a rather lengthy article covering recent issues in a readable manner.

FRANK F. WILLS, St. Johns, Nfld., has favored us with a report of the Postal Department of Newfoundland for the year ending June 30, 1925. Hearty thanks.

THROUGH the kindness of Paul V. Carpenter the WEEKLY has received a first flight air-mail cover Jacksonville to Miami. It bears a Jacksonville marking of 9.30 A. M., April 1, and a Miami receiving marking of 4.30 P. M., the same day. This mail service is proving to be very popular.

THE Greece 5dr, Scott's 675, postage due, has been replaced by a new stamp of the same type also lithographed, but in light grey-blue. News from P. I. Drossos.

ONE of Louisville's mail carriers was recently arrested for removing an airplane stamp from a letter that he was delivering. John A. Renneisen sends us this clipping.

DR. CARROLL CHASE

A BRIEF SKETCH OF ONE OF THE FOREMOST OF AMERICAN PHILATELISTS

By CHARLES J. PHILLIPS

Carroll Chase, M. D., who has accepted an appointment as a New York Exhibition Judge of Awards, was born September 18, 1878, at Windham, N. Y. His parents moved to New York City when he was six months old and he there resided until one year ago when he moved to France. Since graduating in medicine he has practiced his profession specializing in radium therapy. He was, with his father, one of the pioneers in that line in America. A fellow of the American Radium Society and a collector of literature on radium and radium therapy, having perhaps one of the finest collections in English and French that has been made and this collection being his second hobby.

Dr. Chase went to France soon after the outbreak of the war and was one of the few Americans, who became a commissioned officer in the regular French army. He kept this commission until March, 1919, and was given the decoration of Chevalier of the Legion of Honor by the French Government for his war services.

He became interested in stamps at an early age as a general collector in a very modest way. A little later became interested more particularly in U. S. stamps, but did no serious work with them until 1908, at which time he began a specialized collection of the 3c U. S. 1851-57 issue. Within the next few years he increased the scope of his collection to include all of the 1847, 1851 and 1857 issues. Within the past few years he has disposed of all of his stamps excepting the 3c value of the 1851-57 issue. Of these he has a collection probably unique as to size and scope. He has paid particular attention to plating having completed twelve of the thirteen imperforate plates and having made much progress with the 13th. This is one of the greatest (and possibly the greatest) plating problems ever solved and this collection will be shown at the coming Exhibition.

Dr. Chase was one of the original group of men named for the Roll of Distinguished Philatelists. Is a fellow of the Royal Philatelic Society of London, and a member of the American Philatelic Society, having served two terms as president—1920-1922. Is also a member of various other philatelic and medical societies.

He has written many articles both on philatelic subjects and along professional lines. The principal one among the former is his article on the 3c, 1851-57 U. S. issue, which has been running serially for more than three years in the American Philatelist, and which will later be published in book form.

Bargains in Cancellations

I have been working considerably of late upon a lot of odd and colored cancellations that I have been laying away for several years.

I find many distinct red, blue, purple and other colored cancellations and many nice odd designs that are not quite up to the mark of "good" copies but which are nevertheless fine examples of such cancellations.

I am making up special selections of these (U. S. only, of course) to submit on approval to those who have had approval lots from me within the past two years, or who furnish the names and addresses of their bank and of two stamp dealers from whom they have recently had credit. Minors must be guaranteed by a parent or guardian, and the reference furnished in respect to the guarantor.

THE MALTA PROVISIONALS

By G. V. Stewart.

Scarcely a year has elapsed since the advent of the sensational type set postage dues, and now comes an entirely new set of provisionals, viz., the current P. & R. stamps (1922 design) overprinted with the word POSTAGE in small serifed capitals. These were authorised by a Government Notice (No. 99) dated 27th March, and were put into circulation April 1st. The 4d and 5s values were sold out one hour after issue, and during the day other values became exhausted.

If the supplies on hand were completely used up, a number of these Postage overprints will be very scarce stamps, although it must be remembered that a large portion of the issue was taken up by dealers and speculators, and may be kept off the market as a means of inflating prices. The 2½d blue and 3d black on yellow were included among the stamps overprinted, and as these were issued only last February, unoverprinted copies may show a rapid appreciation. The new pictorials were issued as soon as the overprinted stamps were sold out. It is rumoured that a further printing is to be made of the £1 (current type), as this duty will not be included in the new set.

A special series of stamps for revenue purposes only has also been authorized, but to date no further information re. this issue is at hand. There is the possibility that a supply of the P. & R. stamps has been utilized for this purpose, which is not at all improbable, as I have seen at least one value (the 1d, if I remember rightly) of the old K. E. series overprinted with the word Revenue.

BOSTON-NEW YORK AIR MAIL JULY 1

Washington, May 1—The air mail between Boston and New York by the Colonial Airways will open about July 1, according to an informal prediction by Postmaster General New following receipt today of a telegram from officers of that company. Unexpected obstacles have prevented an earlier date start. One was the difficulty in completing arrangements for the handling of the express business. The other is the lack of a satisfactory landing field in New York. To use the terminus of the Government air mail in New Jersey, the Boston planes would have to travel over Manhattan. Efforts are now being made to get a landing place north or east of Manhattan, and it is believed one will be found in the next few weeks.

"The Boston-New York line is one of the most important in the country," declared Postmaster General New. "We want it operated safely and sanely, and we prefer that the company take all the time necessary to perfect its arrangements. Experience in other parts of the country has shown that it is best not to make a premature beginning of an air mail service. One of the troubles with aviation in this country is that we have tried to do things before we were ready."
—Boston Transcript.

OUR EYE:—

Our readers will recall that the Iron City Stamp Co. has been an advertiser with us in recent years. B. J. Dattner, who was connected with that firm, is now advertising with us again and will be found regularly in our columns in the future.

We are indebted to George C. Ladd, editor and business manager of the Evening Journal, Vineland, N. J., for a subscription to the Weekly for the Vineland Public Library.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found the advertisement of Arthur Barger & Co. We are glad to announce that Mr. Barger is able to be about once more, and evidently he proposes to go right after business again. He was in the hospital for several weeks with an attack of pneumonia.

Willard J. Reed had an interesting article in a recent issue of the Pittsburgh Press. It deals with the commemorative issues of the U. S. from the Columbians of 1893, down to the Norse-Americans.

On March 11-12-13, a New Zealand Congress and Philatelic Exhibition was held at Dunedin, N. Z. Wilcox, Smith & Co. advise us that it was a huge success in every way. There were over 7,000 visitors. The committee of arrangements, headed by J. McAra, president of the Dunedin Society, made adequate provisions for this most successful exhibition.

Over forty years in Nassau St., is the record of Burger & Co., the veteran New York City dealer. The advertisement elsewhere in this issue tells the story. The Managing Editor made a rush trip to New York on a recent Saturday, and found the two members of the firm on duty at 90 Nassau St., full of pep and optimism.

Hereafter the Cortlandt Stamp Co. will be located at 337 Gates Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y. H. C. Meyer is the enterprising proprietor of this firm.

If any of our subscribers know the address of W. H. Scott or the U. S. Stamp & Coin Co., formerly at New Brunswick, N. J., will they please communicate with C. C. Corbett, 730 Clayton St., Lansing, Mich.? According to Mr. Corbett, Scott has been located in Boston since he was in New Brunswick, but communications are now returned marked "Left City. No forwarding address." The Weekly will be glad to publish any information available concerning this party in order to protect the trade.

The P. O. Department advises us that a new 5c commemorative stamp will be issued around June 1 in connection with the unveiling at Washington, D. C., of the memorial erected in honor of John Ericcson, inventor and builder of the "Monitor." We are also informed that the 7, 8 and 9c of the current series will appear from the rotary press, perforated 10x10.

5c JOHN ERICSSON STAMP

On May 29th a monument to John Ericsson, the great Swedish engineer, the man who built the Monitor, will be unveiled in Washington.

In connection with that event, Uncle Sam is going to issue a new 5c commemorative stamp in memory of the man whose brain devised the "cheese box on a raft" that foreran all the ironclad warships.

Send me one dollar and I'll send you a first day cover of the above stamp, an unused block of four of same, and ten issues of my news circular, "Washington Stamp News." The May 1st issue announced the five new stamps to be issued in May.

C. E. NICKLES, 3009 Rodman St., WASHINGTON, D. C.

FOREIGN RATES IN THE 1860's

Not the least fascinating side line to philately is the collecting of covers showing with U. S. stamps the postal rates to foreign countries during different periods and in bottoms of different registrations. The oddest combinations are found in the period between 1860 and 1870. We have many others, but quote here covers bearing stamps of the 1861 issue only.

57c rate to China. This series of covers is principally franked with the combination of 3c, 24c and 30c. Nice sound covers subject to minor weaknesses of centering and cancellation, each $12.50

33c rate to Liberia. Strip of 3 of the 3c plus 24c. This cover is pencancelled, but otherwise in nice condition $10.00

10c rate to Germany. These covers franked with pairs of 5c black brown. Fresh, fine covers, bearing the red "New York, Paid All, Direct" in addition to other postmarks $10.00

10c rate to Guatemala. Each with a single copy of the 10c 1861, No. 68. Nice clean covers, stamps not well centered $1.50

12c rate to England, red "U. S. PACKET" postmark, franked with 10c No. 68 and 2c No. 73, canc. blue targets. Very nice $6.50

The same rate, franked with 12c No. 69, v. fine $5.00

24c rate to England, with pair of No. 69. A fresh cover with 2 red postmarks, N. Y. and London. Stamps off center $7.50

15c rate to France, Germany or Italy. Many interesting postmarks. Franked with 15c Lincoln, with or without grille. Fine centering, $6.50. Ordinary copies $3.00

No matter what phase of cover collecting interests you, whether before stamps, patriotics, railroads, locals, specialized 3c '51s or 3c greens, we have something of interest to you. Approvals gladly, but please remember trade references if unknown to us.

9.	Star in Circle	3c 1861	?	Red	S. C. Rogers
10.	Star and Crescent	6c Cont'l	Jacksonville, Ill.	Black	E. Perry

This group is composed of stars, with various frames and accompanying satellites. They range from the '61's down to the Columbians. There are a few on the 3c '51's; but they must be rather scarce on '47's as none have come in to date. The '57's have some very pretty ones, some solid, others with letters between the points, and the shape of the star in outline only. As but ten are shown, it hardly gives a start of what we have in the star shapes.

No. 2 is very beautiful, in fact one of the neatest cancels that I ever saw. No. 5 also is neat and cleanly hit. No. 7 is found on many stamps along in the '80's, and no doubt some reader will write in the name of this town, or several towns more likely.

There are many types of the Star and Crescent, No. 3 shows one with a variety, the star having an open center, which is rather unusual. No. 6 is found with a double crescent.

Rev. H. J. Koester has sent in a very beautiful cover bearing a 3c 1851 in the rich mulberry shade in use around 1857. The pmk. is bright blue—the odd part being that inside this pmk. is a double date being very clear, "APR 30," and "MAY 1." Two pmks. of different dates, one being for correction, are nothing very unusual; but when the date alone is changed in the one pmk. it is quite unusual.

Mr. Wm. H. Semsrott sends an Express Mail cancel on a pre-stamp cover with large block above pmk., and apparently this block was affixed to the pmk., as both are in the same red color. Perhaps only one town had a pmk. that showed this big block above the pmk., and the letter has been removed from this cover, so the town must be guessed at, it being some smaller town most likely, on the regular mail route.

A 3c 1857 shows at left a column of printing boxed in by a thin wavy line. The heading reads "NATIONAL TEMPERANCE ENVELOPE", below which we have "What ardent spirits have done in ten years in the U. S." As this is quite an early set of statistics, the date of pmk. being 1859, will quote a bit therefrom:

"1. It has cost the nation a direct expense of $600,000,000. 2. It has cost the nation an indirect expense of $600,000,000. 3. It has destroyed 300,000 lives. 4. It has sent 100,000 children to the poor house. 5. It has consigned at least 150,000 persons to jails and penitentiaries. 6. It has made at least 1,000 maniacs. 7. It has instigated to the commission of 1,500 murders. 8. It has caused 2,000 persons to commit suicide. 9. It has burned, or otherwise destroyed property to the amount of 10,000,000 of dollars. 10. It has made 200,000 widows, and 1,000,000 of orphan children.—HON. EDWARD EVERETT."

This printed cover is undoubtedly another of the Evils of Intemperance campaign covers, the other having the drawing, which occupies the entire face of the cover. Both are on similar color of paper, a brownish shade not unlike Kraft paper of today. They are unusual.

GRENADA, 1922

By HARRY E. HUBER.

At the 7th Congress of the Universal Postal Union, formally opened on the 1st October, 1920, in the Senate House, at Madrid, Spain, radical changes were approved relating to the interchange of mails between members of the Union. Maximum rates for postage on international mail were fixed, and providing these were not exceeded, each country was permitted to set its own rates. The revised conditions and agreements approved November 30, 1920, were effective as from Jan. 1, 1922.

Britain's penny postage with the Colonies, instituted on Christmas Day, 1898, was abandoned on June 1, 1918, for a 1½d rate. Two years later, on June 1, 1920, this gave way to a rate of 2d for the first ounce, and 1d for subsequent ounces, only to suffer a further change on June 13, 1921, when the rate for "subsequent ounces" was made 1½d. Post cards, inland, Empire and foreign, were then raised to 1½d, and the foreign letter rate from 2½d to 3d for the first ounce, and 1½d for each succeeding ounce. (The 2½d rate was restored May 14, 1923.)

These rates were followed by the most part by Grenada in the Regulations, made by the Governor in Council on November 28, 1921, "to come into force on the 1st day of December, 1921".

Post Office Ordinance
(Chapter 29.)

REGULATIONS with respect to rates of postage, advice of delivery of registered articles, and insurance of letters.

Under the authority of Section twenty-one of the Post Office Ordinance, the following regulations are hereby made by the Governor in Council:—

1.—Postage on Correspondence to Foreign Countries.

The postage to be prepaid on correspondence posted in Grenada for places beyond the limits of the Colony, except to the United Kingdom and British Possessions generally, shall be as follows:—

(1) On letters—3d for the first ounce, and 1½d for each succeeding ounce or fraction thereof; Provided that this paragraph shall not apply to the United States of America.

(2) On post cards—1½d each.

(3) On printed papers and books—½d for 2 ounces, Literature for the blind, ½d per pound.

(4) On commercial papers—3d for the first 12 ounces, and ½d per two ounces thereafter.

(5) On samples—1d for the first 4 ounces, and ½d per 2 ounces thereafter.

(6) Registration Fee—3d.

A Great Collection of Early Uruguay Stamps

In pursuance of my plan to build up a stock of the classic issues of America, I have the pleasure to announce the purchase of the famous collection of early Uruguay stamps formed by Mr. Gerald Curtis including the 1856 to 1867 issues only.

Mr. Curtis has always been fascinated with the study of stamps that could be plated and all these I have now purchased are plated and every stamp numbered showing its true position.

The collection was contained in five large volumes which I have now broken up into a number of my approval books which I can send to serious collectors on demand. The following are a few of the more interesting items contained in it.

1856, Diligencia, 60c blue, 9 unused, 2 on covers, and one of the very rare second type.
1856, Diligencia, 80c green, 22 unused.
1856, Diligencia, 1r vermilion, 33 unused.
1858, 120c blue, 7 copies.
1858, 180c green, 16 copies.
1858, 240c vermilion, 31 copies.
1859, thin figures. This is an exceedingly fine lot of singles, pairs and strips, used and unused, 197 copies in all.
1860, thick numerals. Fine lot with all the shades and varieties, 165 copies.
In the 1868 issue, there are two reconstructed sheets of the 5c blue, all unused, mostly built up from large blocks and strips. Also one reconstructed sheet of used.
Of the scarce 5c ultramarine, there are about 30 copies with all the errors and several unused.
In the 10c green, imperf., Pane of 50, reconstructed unused and used. Several other panes partly reconstructed.
The 15c imperf., reconstructed pane of 35.
The 20c imperf., reconstructed pane of 50.
In this issue there are many transfer errors where a wrong number has been inserted in the make-up.
The same applies to the perforated issues of 1866-1868, which are exceedingly strong unused and used.
I recommend the above issues as a sound investment and most interesting subjects for further study and research work.

—The regulations made on the 19th of December, 1921, are hereby rescinded.

Made by the Governor in Council this 15th day of December, 1921.

Sgd. TERENCE COMISSIONG,
Clerk to the Executive Council."

The new rates necessitated a revision of the color scheme, and the first of these changes, the 3d blue (instead of purple on yellow) appeared in January, 1922. The Postage & Revenue series not containing a stamp of 1½d value, this was requisitioned, and printed in red, the color prescribed by the Universal Postal Union, for the stamp denoting the foreign post card rate. The 1d was then changed from red to brown, and gray introduced for the 2½d. These three varieties, i.e., dull brown, 1½d red, and 2½d gray, were issued at St. George's, June 27, 1922.

The new rates on correspondence and parcels making stamps of additional denominations necessary, 5d, 9d and 3s stamps were requisitioned, received in November, and issued December 27, 1922. The stamps were printed from the D. L. R. 1912, Postage & Revenue keyplate, in sheets of 120 stamps, 2 panes of 60, side by side, separated by a narrow gutter with a marginal line (double for the 1½d and single for other values) surrounding each pane. Plate number 3 appears twice in the lower margin only under the 2nd and 5th stamps of the left and right panes, respectively, the upper margin being devoid of plate number marking. Script CA watermarked paper was used for all values, the higher values (5d and above) being chalk surfaced, and the perforation is comb 14. The sheets of 120 were cut into panes of 60 before dispatch to the Colony.

The D. L. R. 1912—Postage & Revenue design consists of a large head of King George V, on a horizontally lined ground, within a pearled oval, surmounted by a Crown. At the sides of the oval is conventional foliate ornamentation, and at the foot on either side, in small horizontal labels, in colorless lettering, is "Postage" and "Revenue". Duty plates add the denomination (in colored numerals and letters in the upper corners), and GRENADA (in colored block caps on a straight colorless label) at the bottom.

The 5d value was very useful, representing as it did the combined letter and registration rate to the British Empire and the U. S. A. The choice of colors (gray violet and olive green) was not very wise, differing from the 6d (violet and red violet) only in the color of the numerals of value in the upper corners and the Colony's name at the foot.

EDITORIAL.

Allusions have been made recently in this column to an impending commemorative issue that was receiving no preliminary notice and concerning which no announcements had been made; and now we are in a position to divulge information that we were not allowed to release heretofore. The stamp that will be issued to celebrate the unveiling of the memorial erected in honor of John Ericcson, inventor and builder of the "Monitor" will be of large size and of the denomination of five cents. The dedication of the memorial is set for May 29th. Credit for the decision to issue a stamp in honor of Ericcson must be given to Congressman Carl R. Chindblom, of the tenth Illinois district as his representations impressed the department so favorably that the stamp will soon be available. However, the originator of the idea of a stamp issue in this connection is a collector who is on or working with the committee that has in charge preparations for fitting ceremonies to mark the tribute to Ericcson.

In the circular distributed by the Philatelic Agency at Washington, dated May 1, 1926, the Philadelphia stamp and the Ericcson issue are described as being in sheets of fifty stamps each. These stamps will not be issued imperforate and this remark applies to the new rotary press, 7, 8 and 9 cent stamps, perforated 10, which are now ready and will be ranged 100 stamps to the sheet, as usual. A special order form is to be used in specifying these five new stamps.

We are glad that it was only recently that we took a plebiscite on the question of special issues with the result that no decided bias could be determined against them, when they were weighed in the light of their virtues. At the same time, objections were made by substantial philatelic citizens that almost counteracted the arguments of the proponents of the commemorative issue. We shall not be under the necessity of reviving any discussion on the question of the propriety of special issues from the philatelic point of view and we make this remark here in consequence of the receipt of a number of letters voicing different opinions on the subject of commemorative stamps. However such is the moderation of the authorities in the range of denominations of such issues that even the most indignant of protestants does not accuse the department of exploiting collectors in the name of philately.

It is not too early in the year to speak of the convention of the American Philatelic Society at New York in October, 1926. The International Exhibition and the convention are two great attractions that are offered for the price of one as the ballyhoo man would have it. New York, as the philatelic capital of America, is a lodestar for collectors under ordinary conditions and when several features are added to the regular bill, the attendance should be such as to show the world that in numbers alone, philatelists are a force to be reckoned with. The New York committee on arrangements is working hard to provide diversions of a character in keeping with the general idea of enjoyment and plans are being laid on a broad basis. It would be ironical, indeed, if the attendance at the convention were not such as to meet the expectations of those in charge of preparations. The opportunity presented at New York is one of a philatelic lifetime and we believe that the members of the American Philatelic Society will descend on the city in full philatelic panoply.

From Mr. Anoir Mariam Khan, Baghdad, Iraq, we have received the following particulars of the new Persian issues: "I am enclosing a block of four of the new Persian stamps. They are surcharged with the lion and words, 'Regne de Pahlavi, 1925' and the Persian date, '25 ATHR 1304' or 5 December, 1925. Although the stamps were surcharged on December 5, 1925, they were not placed on sale until March 1, 1926; and they will continue in use through April 29, 1926. On the 30th of April, 1926, the coronation stamps will be on sale at the post offices only for that day, as on May 1, 1926, a new issue will be out with the portrait of the new Shah. The set of six stamps, revenues, surcharged, 'Post. Persian Govt. Pahlavi,' or Temporary Government in gilt letters was limited to two thousand sets and half of these was distributed as souvenirs to Persian officials. I hope to have all the particulars of the new stamps for your readers soon." The surcharge enclosed by our correspondent was on the 3 ch. of the 1924 set with portrait of Ahmad Shah.

There are several editorial writers on important daily newspapers in this country who are animated with true philatelic spirit, judging from examples of their work that reach us through the courtesy of correspondents. Mr. Ben Delovage has sent in an editorial that graced the columns of the Portland Oregonian of April 28th, "Folk Lore on Stamps" that is about as striking a combination of philosophy and philately as we have ever seen. On a former occasion, we have had reason to congratulate probably this same writer on the good old Oregonian for his intelligent grasp on a subject that is somewhat baffling to the minds of the ablest non-philatelic writers; and now, we again make our devoirs to one whose witching pen weaves the spell of philately so completely. Readers will agree that "Folk Lore on Stamps" is the philatelic essay at its best; and elsewhere, room should be made for it.

According to an Associated Press despatch from London, the British home office is advocating hobbies for children with wayward tendencies on the theory that boys and girls who have a recreation of the kind rarely stray from the paths of rectitude. Here is trained testimony to bear on the rationality of collecting and parents should be impressed by it. Collecting makes a home body of its follower for a good part of the time and men as well as boys are improved, in all probability, by any interest that makes them stick to their own firesides. However, as Mr. MacGuffin has said, collectors should stifle any tendency to recognize an inferiority complex; rather, instead of being apologetic for being a collector, one should expect the outsider to give explanations why he is not one.

Our friend, M. T. Dome, otherwise R. L. Hustis, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, has been so busy attending to his duties on the Recruiting Committee of the American Philatelic Society that he has been compelled to give our readers the cold shoulder, but we predict that he will soon join our circus again. He says: "I thought that you might like to look at the enclosed block of twelve unused Great Britain, No. 5, two pence blue that turned up a day or two ago in an old desk of a friend of mine. It was brought to the United States in 1848, when his father came from Ireland, near Dublin, and w tucked away with his old letters. Not bad a find, what?" Here is the block big as life, with its original gum, i horizontal rows of six, the first row w corner letters, GA to GF, inclusive a the next row, HA to HF, inclusi This is a pick-up that is worth makin to speak mildly; and a block of the k is a pretty thing, especially in the e of the specialist. The dead loss that w sustained by the one who brought t stamps has materialized into a hands profit for "M.T."

1799 to 1816 U. S. Revenues

They are die stamped on bills, receipts, documents, etc., and often referred to as "U. S. Stamped Paper." 19 scarce lots of these will be included in Sale 275. Also a splendid lot of U. S. Postage on ORIGINAL COVERS, other fine U. S., British, Portuguese, etc. Explicit catalogs of my Auction Sales are "FREE" on request. It pays to buy at Auction at your own price. I am still looking for that application of the American Philatelic Society, the only "One Big Society" for stamps in the World. If you don't think so, ask Doc, he knows. Even the Hot Stove League will admit it.

REVENUE NOTES

By Frank L. Applegate, Medford, Ore.

Some auction prices on current high values:—Fine copies of the $30.00 unsurcharged according to auction records have declined from $8.00 in 1922 (B. L. D., Aug.), to $2.00. (Rotnem April, 1926), which is but natural considering the steady use during intervening years. The $60.00 has held up better recorded prices ranging from $7.25 to $9.25 during the past five years. Sales prices for the $100.00 have ranged from $4.30 to $8.50, but have no real late quotations. The $500 started with Wolsieffer in Feb., 1922, at $56.00 and got down to $21.00 at Seebohm's sale in May, '23, and back to $25.00 at Mozian's sale in October of the same year, since which I have no more recent quotations. The highest price brought by the $1,000 as far as my records go is one of $46.50 brought at Drew's sale in March, 1922; and the lowest price I have recorded was at B. L. Voorhees' sale in Jan., 1923, when it brought but $13.75. Perhaps this was due to the season of the year for in Nov., 1924, one brought $22.00 at a sale of Bartels.

If 50% more of the Stock Transfer stamps are used as the unsurcharged documentary as seems to be the case, it we may judge from the Bureau report, then we would expect them to sell for rather less than the documentaries, which supposition is hardly borne out by the records. I have no late dope on sales of the $30.00 and $60.00, but a fine copy of the $50.00 of which evidently there are none unsurcharged brought $29.00 at Wolsieffer's last sale. While the $100.00 has gone as low as $2.60 (V. M., Oct., 1923.) The $500.00 I have no record of less than $28.00 nor of the $1,000.00 less than $21.50.

On the other hand as the Future Delivery provisionals being printed total up to only about six per cent of the documentaries we would expect them to bring much more than the corresponding denominations of the unsurcharged stamps, which assumption does not tally with auction records either. While the $30.00 has gone as low as $8.80 (B. L. D. July, '23), one sold in Wolsieffer's sale this month for $21.00. The $50.00 evidently the commonest one in the set has ranged more than once lower than seven dollars while the $60.00 has ranged from $10.25 to $24.00. The $500 started with Drew's Aug., '22, sale at $131.00 and at Wolsieffer's last sale a fine copy brought but $18.00, and a copy of the $1,000.00 only fifty cents more. This is about the average price for the latter value, but $28.00 was the lowest previous price I had recorded on the $500.00. The prices quoted above are all on stamps described as uncut.

Other Denominations of Revenue Stamps Used in the United States.—In my notes of April 19, I accounted for 90 different denominations of U. S. Revenue stamps. I will now consider other denominations, those of the State revenue stamps. State revenue stamps as I have previously noted are of three general classes: Documentary, Excise and Inspection. Taking as a basis for the State Documentaries those of California, the state most conspicuous in this connection, and which was the pioneer in this field, we find forty-four values as follows:—3¾, 4, 5, 7½, 8, 10, 12½, 15, 20, 25, 30, 40, 50, 60, 70, 80c, $1.00, 1.25, 1.40, 1.50, 2.00, 2.50, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 10, 14, 15, 19, 20, 28, 30, 38, 40, 45, 56, 90, 100, 175, 200, and 400.

Nevada was the first state to add anything to this list which she did in 1865, when she issued a 2c stamp with others making 45. Although as stated before eleven states have issued documentary stamps it was not until 1911 that another addition was made to this list, when New York issued her set of 14 denominations of "Secured Debt" stamps adding six new ones, the 1c, the 75c, the $3.75, the $7.50, the $25.00 and the $50.00, thus making fifty-one denominations of documentary state revenues, thirteen of which are not included in our list of 90 denominations of U. S. revenue stamps These are:—$1.40, 3.75, 7, 8, 14, 19, 28, 38, 45, 56, 90, 175, 400.

Now the Excise tax list is even more complicated, and is full of surprising new fractionals. Outside of an excise stamp tax placed on liquors in New York state in 1903 (10c) and a similar tax requiring a 50c and $1 stamp in 1920, the Excise stamp tax is a new departure in state taxation for all the rest have been issued during the past five years. Iowa gave us the first cigarette tax in 1921 calling for but five low denominations, which are all duplicated in value by the set of "Business License" stamps issued May 1, 1923, by South Carolina. This set ran to 30 values as follows:—21/64c, 24/64c, 27/64c, 30/64c, ½c, 36/64c, 39/64c, 42/64c, 48/64c, 54/64c, 60/64c, 1c, 1¼c, 1½c, 1 7/32c, 1¾c, 2c, 2¾c, 3c, 4c, 5c, 6c, 7c, 8c, 10c, 12½c, 15c, 20c, 25c and 30c to which since has been added a 40c making thirty-one, or with the 50c and $1 New York liquor thirty-three. No other state made any addition to this list until Aug. 1, 1924, when Arkansas gave us in her set of cigarette and cigar stamps a 4⅓c, an 18¾c and a 37½c making 36. Last year Tennessee put out her complicated set of tobacco stamps giving us the new values 2/10c, 6/10c, 8/10c, 1 7/10c, 2 2/10c, and 2 5/10c and North Dakota the further unique denominations of 1⅜c, 1⅝c, and 2¼c, making a total of forty-five denominations of Excise stamps, thirty-one being new to our state revenue list, making 82, and 22, the 2/10, 21/64, 27/64, 30/64, 36/64, 6/10, 39/64, 42/64, 8/10, 54/64, 60/64, 1⅛, 1⅓, 1 7/32, 1⅜, 1 7/10, 1⅝, 2 2/10, 2¼, 2⅜, and 4⅓ being new to our U. S. list, making 125. In my next paper I will consider the State Inspection stamps which add even more odd denominations.

Beautiful WAR BABY For Adoption

Most Complete, Highest Grade, Superb O. G. Condition
Created by the most horrible condition crank alive, who used to say "Cat. price be hanged, I want that rare Siberia, Thrace, etc., and I am here to pay for it. I know it's undercatalogued, but I also know that I won't see that stamp again until the price is 1000 per cent higher."
He was right, some of the stamps cat. only $5 to $50.00 have disappeared entirely. Nobody sees them and nobody has them, but he was smart enough to make up the most wonderful collection of COUNTRIES CREATED BY WAR ONLY, incl. wonderful array of errors.

19TH CENTURY
BRITISH COLONIALS

In glancing over the choice 19th century collection of British Colonials which I am now breaking up, I note quite a few items in fine mint condition such as the following:

Bechuanaland 1887, £1, ₴21	$15.00
Br. Cent. Africa 1897, £1, ₴51	9.00
Br. East Africa 1898, 50R, ₴109	45.00

Zululand 1892, 5sh, ₴11	21.00
Zululand 1894, £5, ₴23	75.00

In addition, I can furnish practically 80% of the other varieties cataloging up to $50.00 with a good number of the rarer pieces. There is but one stamp of a kind, so that "First come—first served."

UNITED STATES

The larger majority of our collectors are desirous of obtaining a good sound copy of the stamp rather than pay a substantial price for a piece described as perfection. I offer the following United States in good condition, not damaged, but lightly canceled and in better condition than found in the majority of collections. If you are not satisfied, they may be returned.

1847, 10c black, ₴29	(Cat. $30.00)	17.50
1851, 12c black, ₴36	(Cat. $10.00)	5.00

Ericcson Memorial Stamp

In a circular sent out by the Department under date of May 1st, announcement is made of the fact that they contemplate issuing a 5c postage stamp in honor of John Ericcson, the inventor and builder of the famous "Monitor" of Civil War fame. This stamp will be the size of the current Special Delivery variety, but will be in an upright position, that is, with the longer dimension vertically. It is to be printed in blue—possibly the shade of the 14c rather than the 5c and while the die proof has not as yet been approved, sketches have been considered and it is announced that the stamp will make its appearance on May 29th. It will be first placed on sale in New York, Chicago, Minneapolis, and Washington, as well as at the Philatelic Agency, where stamp collectors will be supplied. No doubt supplies will be sent to the other larger offices, especially to the districts strongly populated with those of Swedish descent.

A statue of Ericcson is to be unveiled in Washington on May 29th, at a location near the Lincoln Memorial. This statue showing Ericcson seated, with female figures in the background, is used as the subject of the stamp. The statue is the work of the famous sculptor, J. E. Fraser, who is the artist responsible for the famous "End of the Trail", as well as "Alexander Hamilton", first Secretary of the Treasury, now reposing in front of the Treasury Department.

The stamp will be surrounded by a white border with the American shield in the upper left corner and the shield of Sweden in the upper right. These shields are connected by a panel in which we find in white Gothic letters, "U. S. Postage." The statue reposes on a base upon which Ericcson's name appears, as well as the dates of his birth and death, 1803-1889. The value of the stamp appears at the bottom.

Fifteen million of these stamps have been ordered from the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. The variety will be printed in sheets of two hundred, which in turn will be perforated and cut into post office panes of fifty stamps each. As is the case with the other emissions of the current series, the stamp will be perforated 11 and printed upon unwatermarked paper.

Air Mail Notes

Mr. Caskey Settle kindly sends a clipping relative to delivery of rural mail in Memphis via airplane. While the clipping is not dated, I assume that it was early in April that mail was delivered on route No. 2 by Wayne Wagner. Recent snows had so blocked the roads that rural carriers were unable to traverse all of their routes. With the permission of H. H. Jones, postmaster, Mr. Wagner secured the service of L. R. Briggs and his airplane and delivered his mail in this manner.

The mail was tied in packages, three or four families being taken care of by each package, and these were dropped near the residence of someone who lived convenient to all. As the patrons were notified in advance by telephone, they were out awaiting the arrival of the plane. Only papers and letters were taken and no parcel post was delivered in this manner due to the possibility of damage.

Mr. Ben Delovage sends clippings from the Portland, Ore., papers relative to the city leasing certain ground for airplane landings. They are exceedingly anxious for this city to be a stopping point on the Seattle-Los Angeles route, and they seem to be much agitated as to whether the city will be selected or not.

The subject is of such interest that it is given a first page position with the heading across the full top of the page.

In the Postal Bulletin for May 1st, the Department outlines all of the air mail services now in effect and gives the proposed schedule of those that they hope to put into effect in short order. The same bulletin illustrates a map of the country showing the territory covered by the different routes.

Sesquicentennial Stamp

The Philatelic Agency announces that they contemplate holding up orders for the 2c Sesquicentennial stamp until such a time as the Ericcson variety is available, in order to prevent duplication of work. Patrons are requested to order the new stamps about to appear, separately, rather than in combination with other varieties.

We wish to thank Messrs. Ronald Tiedemann, S. Hyman and Charles Metz for information of interest.

ALBANIA.—Whitfield King & Co. have submitted for note four values of a new Postage Due set. At the top is "Republika" and at the bottom "Shqiptare" with the figures of value in the centre within a circle. The background is the usual double eagle. Beneath the figures of value is "Qind. Ar" in red. The colors and values are 10q blue, 20q green, 30q red brown and 50q brown.

BULGARIA.—Regarding the 50s reported last week the Metropolitan Stamp Co. adds that the central picture is that of the St. Nedelia Cathedral, which was stroyed by the communists on Apri 1925. Under the ruins of this cathe were dug up about 200 victims, women and children.

COLOMBIAN REPUBLIC.—The Econo Stamp Co. have sent a copy of th green, provisional stamp, same desig we noted for the 4c in our issue No.

DENMARK.—We have received Mr. A. E. Pade, Whitfield King & and the Economist Stamp Co. copie the 8ö grey, No. 150, with the figure surcharged in blue over the former fi of value. Mr. Pade also adds that 5ö Official, No. 321, has been surcha for use as 7ö and also the 20ö Official, 324, has been overprinted with the value. There is still a rumor that possibly may be a 20ö on 25ö, No. The numbers of the 7 on 5ö are a 60,000 while the 7 on 20ö are 110,00

LIECHTENSTEIN.—Whitfield King & report a 20rp in brown red type of Sc A28.

MALTA.—Regarding the proposa overprint the current stamps "Gozo" G. V. Stewart writes that he is infor that this has been abandoned. The manent new set will be issued as as the present overprinted stamps finished.

MONACO.—Mr. Newell Tune inform that the new 85c is expected very sh and that the 30c light blue postage stamp has been issued.

WITZERLAND.—Whitfield King & Co. shown us two new values in the ent postage due series. They are 15c and 40c, colors same as before.

OUTH WEST AFRICA. — Mr. Roberts shown us some new types in the Post-Due stamps of this country. The 2p on unwatermarked paper and the ith West" measures 16½mm in th and 9½mm between "South West" "Africa". The 3p is now appearing the watermarked Union of South ca. The 5p on the Transvaal stamp the "South West" 16mm in length 12mm between the two lines of harge.

RUGUAY.—Another value of Air Post ps has been issued, the 25c mauve, design and size as the set of three d a few weeks since. Whitfield & Co. send a copy for chronicle.

THE BI-MONTHLY JOURNAL

A house organ with an inimitable style and charm, published every two months. Each issue consists of from 32 to 48 pages, every one containing a formidable array of unusual offerings in medium and scarce sets, packets and special collections, dealers' stocks, single stamps, philatelic supplies, etc., etc.

Albert C. Munson, 412 Broadway, Houston, Texas, writes:

"I enjoy the Bi-Monthly as much as MEKEEL'S; there is no other paper, house organ, journal or circular of any kind wherein one can find such extraordinary good stock—and at such reasonable prices."

C. A. Ralston, 164 Vaughn St., Waterloo, Iowa, says:

"I am paying subscription charges for two large house organs, but would rather get along without both of them than to lose yours. If necessary, I know that I could pay a substantial subscription to the Bi-Monthly and save all of it on stamps offered in a single issue."

The Bi-Monthly Journal is a distinctive publication and absolutely free to patrons. You can't afford to be without it!

WHERE AND WHEN:—

THE latest in philatelic journalism is the Philatelic Owl, published by Callahan & Jacob, 424 W. First St., Marion, Ind. It has four pages approximately the size of the WEEKLY. It is published monthly at 25c per year and a copy can no doubt be had upon request.

THE color of the 4c China postage stamp has been changed from gray to bronze green. The new stamp will not be put on sale until the stock of the gray has been exhausted.

OWING to a sudden illness in the family of G. F. Rapkin, Mr. Rapkin was unable to make his advertised business trip to the United States. His son, G. Cameron Rapkin, took his place a week later, but was unable to include Chicago and the western cities in his itinerary.

THE annual convention of the United Stamp Societies will be held at Hackensack, N. J., on Monday, May 31. The Waldorf will be the hotel headquarters, and the convention will be called to order at 10.30 A. M., at the State Street School. We are indebted to Elmer L. Clark for convention program and anyone at all interested should address Mr. Clark at Lynn, Mass. Information as to train service, New York hotels, etc., will be furnished by Dr. H. E. Crocker, 356 Park St., Hackensack, N. J., chairman of the convention committee.

IT is impossible for us to chronicle all the varieties of cancellations that may be found upon air mail covers. The Elko-Pasco flight was particularly productive of cancellations. We thank the several readers who have sent us additional particulars, which we are unable to chronicle for lack of space.

"I BEG to advise you of the death of Johnson G. Bingham, which occurred at his home near McGraw, N. Y., April 28, 1926. Mr. Bingham's age was 80 years. He was prominent as a collector and dealer in postage stamps a generation, or it might be more nearly accurate to say two generations, ago. He was also interested in coins and old newspapers."—WALTER S. BULL.

PITTSBURGH has a very active stamp club with Justus M. Stahn as a leading booster. On June 1 the club will have a banquet at the Hotel Henry with added entertainment attractions. We thank Willard J. Reed for this information.

W. A. SEAGER of the Nanking Philatelic Society calls our attention to a change being made in the paper and gum of Chinese stamps. The newer issue is printed on heavy paper, the gum is white, and the shade in the 1c of which samples are submitted is slightly darker. The 4c and 50c have also appeared on the new paper, and as the color of the 4c is about to be changed, copies of that value on the new paper should prove of value.

"STAMP BUSINESS IN SUMMER"

A very fine issue of H. E. Harris & Co.'s Bi-Monthly Journal is at hand. It is exceptionally well printed and very completely illustrated. The book is a great miscellany in the range of its contents. Stamps are offered in every conceivable manner, and a very fine line of philatelic supplies in the nature of albums, etc., is included. The book runs to just 100 pages and with a handsome cover it makes a contribution to the trade that the publishers may well feel proud of. For a copy address 535 Commonwealth Ave., Boston 17, Massachusetts.

We think enough of the book to reprint an article which bears the caption that we have given this review:—

"The approach of summer seems to be the signal for a certain number of near-sighted stamp dealers to cancel their advertising, cease buying and crawl indolently within their shells, with an exawait the return of the fall and winter seasons. New business is not sought, nor old trade properly taken care of. Collectors who have the misfortune to patronize this type of dealer are effectually discouraged from pursuing the hobby during the warm months because of lack of attention of the dealer and his inability (because of curtailed buying) to submit fresh stock on approval.

In direct contrast to the practice of this well meaning, though misguided, element pression of resigned melancholia, to of the trade, we are issuing—right in the face of the summer season—the largest and most expensive Journal in our history. Furthermore, large stocks of desirable stamps, when available, are being promptly bought up, while many hundreds of dollars have been appropriated for an aggressive summer advertising campaign in the various philatelic publications.

We are doing this because our books for the past few years have shown a steadily increasing volume of sales during June, July and August. Last year these three months showed larger cash receipts than any other period of the year. Such a record may seem incomprehensible to those dealers who are in the habit of "slowing up" at this time of the year. In reality it is a very natural condition!

Stamp collecting is a hobby and a recreation. Now, the fall and winter are seasons of great activity in the commercial world; it is most decidedly not a period of much recreation for the average man, whose attention is invariably taken up with business matters to such an extent that he has very little time left for indulgence in philatelic pleasures.

With the coming of the warm months, general business begins to slow up. Summer, for the tired business man, is distinctly the season for relaxation and pleasure. The purest form of recreation to the true collector, young or old, is the time he spends with his stamps. And having this leisure at his disposal, he most assuredly will—if properly encouraged and treated by his favorite dealer—devote a goodly part of it to philatelic pursuits. This applies not only to the older collector, but also to the irrepressible junior, who is out of school for three whole months, with plenty of time on his hands and an extra amount of spending money in his pockets.

By presenting, in this issue of the Bi-Monthly, attractive inducements in the form of lowered prices and interesting bargains, we expect to retain the active interest and patronage of every one of our customers during the coming warm weather. We anticipate another record-breaking summer season this year; and we know that any dealer who will put a degree of intelligent, whole-hearted effort into an active summer campaign will find himself well rewarded."

SUBSCRIPTION RENEWALS

Some of our subscribers need to know our rule regarding discontinuances. We discontinue all subscriptions in arrears promptly the second issue of each month. This means that your subscription should be renewed prior to expiration. The expiration number can be ascertained by consulting your wrapper. No free copies of the WEEKLY are sent out and this rule is as fixed as the laws of the M. and P. Our older subscribers understand our rule and the newer subscribers should get acquainted with it.

ADLETS

Minimum two lines.

RATE.—30c per line, cash in advance. No display allowed. Six words (32 letters) to the line, including address. We offer 50 lines for $12.50, where cash is paid in advance. This space can be used at such times and in such quantities as may be desired.

This column is for the use of our patrons who desire only a few lines of space. If you want to buy, sell, exchange, it is without doubt the best advertising medium in the world. It is impossible to guarantee advertisers in this department, and patrons must satisfy themselves as to the reliability of the parties with whom they desire to engage in business relations.

KEDAH EASY TO COMPLETE

By R. F. HEALY.

To complete a country has always been the wish of most collectors. The ultra-scientific philatelist will insist that the postal issues of a country, with their almost endless list of varieties and shades, are never complete, but here we are referring to the collector who is satisfied with the standard types to tell the postal story of the land of his choice.

There was a time when the solitary example of Poland's brief career as a stamp issuing State and the quaint label of Wadhwan were recommended to the enthusiast who was eager to show a country "complete," but the Polish stamp of 1860 was not to be had for the mere asking, and the other lonely emission was but a local and its acquisition carried but little weight. The collector of today has a wider field to choose from, and there are quite a number of foreign countries and British Colonies which it is comparatively easy to complete.

Countries which come under this heading might be described as small countries, and the ideal small country is the one which lends itself to expansion. A good example of a British Colony is Kedah, and the issues of this independent Malay State have the additional advantage of being amongst the most picturesque stamps in use. Since entering the field as a stamp issuing State in 1912, Kedah has issued three permanent series of stamps and a provisional emission of two values, and to complete these is not by any means a great undertaking. Should the collector desire to expand the collection, this can be done without troubling about any of those minor varieties which are none too popular with the average collector.

Although a stamp issuing country for only 14 years, the postal story of Kedah goes back for a considerable period prior to the appearance of the first issue, and there is much of interest about this portion of Malaya generally of which the collector has heard but little.

Kedah, Keddah, or Quedah—Muang-Sai in Siamese—made its bow to the philatelic world in 1909, the State having been transferred to the British Crown on July 15th of that year, and from which date the stamps of the Federated Malay States were placed in circulation. As a tributary State of the Kingdom of Siam, the stamps of that country had been used in Kedah, and these may be identified by the cancellations. This is briefly the postal story of Kedah prior to the introduction of the permanent series in 1912.

It is interesting to recall that Kedah was the first Malay State to have associations with Great Britain. This was through the medium of an East Indian firm of merchants, and at a time when the East India Company was looking for a new settlement in the Peninsula. The Company might have had the State in 1771, when Danish and Dutch influence was gaining ground, but again nothing was done, and the opportunity slipped by. The island of Pulo Penang was leased to the H. E. I. Co. in 1786, and this was apparently their choice of a trading post in these regions.

The country itself lies on the West Coast of the Malay Peninsula, separated from Perak by the Krian River, and includes the island of Langkawi and others of minor importance, the largest being Pulau Tuba. The island of Terutan, just north of Langkawi, was once a part of Kedah, but was ceded to Siam in 1909. The mainland is 105 miles long and 65 miles in breadth, the total area being some 3,648 square miles. North Kedah is divided into five districts—Kota Star, the Langkawi Islands, Kubang Pasu, Padang Trap and Yen. The four districts comprising South Kedah are Kula Muda, Baling, Kulim, and Bandar Bahru. Alor Star, the capital, is situated seven miles up the Kedah River, and has a population of 1,200—Malays, Chinese, Siamese and Indians.

Perlis is really a separate State, under an independent Raj., the present ruler being the great grandson of Said Husin, the first Raj. Kangar is the capital, and although the State still remains much apart from Kedah proper there has no definite intention on the part of powers that be to effect a complete s ration. Perlis was included in the Tr of 1909, but from time to time there rumours that there is to be a dis issue of stamps for this State.

The Siamese first occupied Kedal 1821, and divided it into four pa Setul, Kubang Pasu, Perlis and Ke Prior to this Kedah had never been erned by Siam, the State being somet tributary, sometimes not. The East dia Company offered no opposition t laying waste and subsequent occup of the country in 1821, and by 1826 Siamese were a power in the Penin Twelve years later, under the leade of the ex-Raj of Kedah, the State wrested from Siam, an enterprise w the H.E.I.Co. chose to describe a piratical expedition. There may been some pirates amongst the ex-R followers, but it would appear to be wrong to describe the affair as a p raid. The ex-Raj returned again in and assumed the rule of the fourth pa Kedah. An expensive court at Alor brought affairs to a crisis in 1904, a large loan was granted by Siam. really meant that Kedah was a Stat pawn, the pledge being redeemed Great Britain on 10th March, 1909 H. 1328 in the Muhammadan Calend

This very brief account of Kedah fore the name became included in Catalogue may prove of assistance w arranging the stamps of this little S It will readily be seen that although issues are not by any means numer a collection of the stamps of Kedah be easily expanded to include the sta of Siam and the Federated Malay S which were in daily use before the r lar issue made its appearance. For reason Kedah is an ideal country for collector to experiment with, and c into actual practice the principles of structive philately.—The World's Philatelist.

SPECIAL COLLECTIONS

BRITISH COLONIALS, UNITED STATES, NINETEENTH CENTURY, ETC.

All over the world we are known to be large cash buyers for good collections. Our resources, familiarity with the markets—and the added fact that we are wholesale dealers—enable us to purchase at exceptionally low prices.

We believe implicitly the old teaching about the "nimble penny"; and in selling, our prices are based on one factor alone: actual cost, to which is added a uniformly modest profit.

Consistent adherence to this wise principle results in larger sales for us and in enviable investment opportunities for our customers.

The following collections have lately been acquired, and are offered intact, exactly as received. Adequate descriptions are rather difficult in this limited space. However, we will gladly send any of these collections on three days' *approval to responsible persons, no obligation to purchase being incurred. We believe this offer is more convincing, as an evidence of exceptional value represented, than a book full of descriptions.

(*Cash with order—with privilege of return—will receive the preference, of course.)

We shall have many other offerings of a most attractive nature this year. If you are a buyer of good collections—as a hobby or from the standpoint of profits —let us hear from you!

CANADA

This collection is resplendent with minor varieties, oddities, cancellations and shades.

There are ten copies of the popular 3 pence Beaver showing flaw in paper, thick paper, ribbed paper, etc. Superb copy of No. 5 (cat. $35); two copies of No. 7 (cat. $45) both the thin and thick paper; three copies of No. 8; one copy (close) of No. 9. There is an entire page of the one-cent rose 1859; also pages of No. 15 (used and unused), No. 16 and No. 19, all showing shades, etc.

The 1868 issue is highly specialized, with laid paper, watermarked varieties, etc., all in good condition. The maple leaf and Jubilee issues are well represented, both in used and unused specimens. Also three superb copies of the scarce 8c blue registration. Very few of the Georges. Exactly 562 stamps cataloguing about $1,100.00.

A gem for the specialist! Only $367.50

GREAT BRITAIN

Specialized Collection of Early Issues

Five hundred "earlies", a good number of which are on cover. There are several pages of the 1p black, No. 2, in singles, pairs, on and off cover. Beautiful pair and strip of the 2p No. 3 (cat. $5). Unusual covers of No. 4 tied on showing numerals in Maltese Cross; also many pages of pairs and strips and blocks, some showing scarce postmarks. Nos. 5, 11, 15 well represented and specialized. Fine lot of mint varieties with plate numbers and some English covers used to the colonies: Victoria, Australia, Hong Kong, India, etc., showing interesting cancellations.

An altogether fine lot, which will be thoroughly appreciated by the specialist. Most all of the items are exceptional and at auction would probably bring over catalogue. Price $288.00

8,000 BLOCKS OF FOUR

32,000 Stamps, Cataloguing $6,000.00

The collecting of blocks has—as any auction catalogue will show—grown enormously in philatelic favor. Particularly choice items bring anywhere from five to twenty-five times the price of singles.

This comprehensive collection is the finest of its type that we have ever been able to obtain. It is compiled in eight large volumes, five of which contain miscellaneous foreign blocks of four, while two volumes consist exclusively of French Colonials and one volume of British Colonials.

There are about eight thousand different blocks of four (32,000 stamps), mostly mint, and cataloguing slightly under $6,000.00.

To the connoisseur and student of philately, the collection, with its countless pages of beautiful items, will prove an inspiring sight and a worthwhile treasure. Price $950.00

VICTORIA

Over two hundred stamps, all numbered according to Gibbons, with shades and other minor varieties.

Among others, a mint copy of No. 71 ($9); used copy of No. 69 ($5); Superb specimen of Gibbons No. 229; unused Scott's No. 78 ($10); No. 119 ($11); No. 99 ($12.50); and so on.

The 1864-70 issues (single and double lined numeral watermarks) are liberally represented.

All in all, a splendid lot, of which the catalogue value is nearly $350.00. Our Price $89.50

15,000 MINT VARIETIES

$6,288.55 Catalogue Value in Superb Mint Stamps!

You cannot help but be enthusiastic over this extraordinary collection, which positively tops the list for beauty, quality and supreme value.

The collection is mounted in sixty-four books, as follows:

Nos. 1 to 19:	Europe only, Catalogue Value	$2,712.77
Nos. 20 to 31:	French Cols. only, Catalogue Value	1,394.72
Nos. 32 to 39:	British Cols. only, Catalogue Value	506.99
Nos. 40 to 49:	German, Italian and Portuguese Cols., Catalogue Value	461.17
Nos. 50 to 64:	South and Central America, Asia, Africa, Australia, etc.	1,212.90
	Total Catalogue Value	$6,288.55

Attention is called to the strong showing of French Colonials, many of which, according to authoritative reports, are due in the near future for substantial price increases.

The boundless array of handsome stamps—every one a fine, mint specimen—is impressive even to the veteran dealer or philatelist; and we can perhaps be pardoned for adding that this collection is the very finest, bar none, which has come our way in many a moon.

It is worth every cent of two thousand dollars and our pledged adherence to a cost-plus policy represents a tremendous saving for the party who has the ready cash to invest.

Price Extraordinary—Only $1195.00!

AUSTRALIA

Western Australia: 2 copies of No. 1; three of No. 2 (cat. $60); six of No. 3; fair copy of No. 5; two of No. 4 ($75); 3 mint copies each of Nos. 29, 31 and 32.

New South Wales: A few excellent early issues.

New Zealand: 3 copies of No. 11 ($10); No. 21 used and unused; fair copies of Nos. 22, 22a, 33 unused ($50), 37 ($50), etc.

All told, exactly 156 scarce and desirable "classics" cataloguing approximately $1000.00.

Price $275.00

AFRICA

The earlies of Cape of Good Hope, Natal, Transvaal and New Republic.

The first page contains a fair copy of No. 2 Cape triangle and four fine specimens of No. 13. Also an exceptional cover with pair and single of No. 13 tied on.

In Natal is a guaranteed copy of No. 1 (cat. $40); 2 copies of No. 8; 3 singles and pair of $9; 3 of No. 9a; fine mint copy of No. 50, etc.

Transvaal has some nice earlies such as No. 4 ($10), Nos. 33 and 34 ($5); Nos. 15 and 18.

A fine lot of 141 stamps cataloguing around $400.00.

Net $89.50

BRITISH GUIANA

110 stamps of the early issues up to 1900. Some fine items, including nice looking copy of No. 6, 1c 1852 (slight repair at top left; rare stamp in any condition), cataloguing $175.00; 2 copies of No. 9 ($25); 2 of No. 22 ($10); 2 of No. 18, 1c pink ($22.50).

An exceptional offering, catalogue value of which will exceed $600.00.

Only $150.00

INDIA

A collection of 135 stamps confined chiefly to the early issues, in pairs and strips.

There is a fine strip of three of No. 4 (cat. $10.50); No. 6 both on and off of cover; Nos. 29 and 30; pair of No. 9 on cover. Many other interesting pieces, including the first aerial post cover of India—a flown cover sent from Allahabad to Simula, dated Feb. 18, 1911.

This collection, cataloguing $385.00 and containing many items worth full catalogue and over, is offered intact for

Only $175.00

MAURITIUS

This valuable collection contains 125 stamps, the outstanding of which are:

2p 1859, No. 14c, cat. $40.00; superb copy.

1p 1859, No. 16, cat. $150.00; close margins, but solid.

5s 1859, No. 19, cat. $10.00; two copies with "paid" cancellations.

Also Nos. 10, 20, 30, 31 and many others, used and unused, up to 1902.

Catalogue value $475.00.

Net Special $130.00

MEXICO

464 stamps of this increasingly popular country.

There are two copies of No. 1; two of No. 2; four of Nos. 3 and 4, showing shades; No. 5 (cat. $20); two of No. 6; three of Nos. 7 and 8; Nos. 9, 10, 19, 19c, 20, 22 etc.

A good lot for the dealer, or for a specialist in shades, cancellations, and district names.

Catalogue value over $425.00.

Average condition very good.

Special $97.50

THE "PEAK" COLLECTION

6080 Choice Stamps—mainly British Colonials

This is an unusual collection in that it runs almost entirely to the elusive, hard-to-get varieties, while the thousands of cheap, easily-obtained stamps are mostly missing!

It is mounted in five volumes, as follows:

I. British Colonials. Antigua, mint through the two shillings; plenty of mint Brunei; two pages of 1910 Rhodesia, and many other outstanding items of a similar nature.

II. Great Britain issues of 1901-2 specialized, including mint and used blocks, pairs, strips; mint Papua; pages of Straits Settlements, Malay, Kedah, etc.; Trinidad, Zanzibar.

III. Some attractive British North America and a fair assortment of Queensland, South Australia, Tasmania and Victoria.

IV. Early Great Britain such as the £1, No. 124 ($10); early Bahamas, Bermuda, British Guiana, Cape Good Hope, Gibraltar and Hong Kong.

V. Foreign: Argentina, China commemoratives, French Colonials, Norway, Switzerland, Philippines and a few other popular countries.

There are exactly 6080 stamps (a few duplicates) most of which are unused British Colonials. Condition is exceptionally good — the catalogue value over $1,800.00.

A collection of this character and quality needs no description. And the customer who doesn't feel that he has obtained a sterling investment can have his money back for the asking!

NEW EDITIONS

20th Century International Albums

PART II

These albums are complete from Jan. 1, 1920, to include all stamps listed in the latest (1926) edition of Scott's Postage Stamp Catalogue. Because of the large number of stamps issued during this period these albums are about twice as large as the previous edition, and the loose leaf editions require double the number of binders in each instance, which explains the apparent increase in price of these editions.

The paper used is of a special, heavy quality, white stock especially adapted to the requirements of stamp mounting, and we highly recommend it to our patrons.

No. 3 Bound. 800 pages, 1 volume, printed on both sides of the paper. Brown Cloth, Gilt lettering, $6.00. Shipping weight 8 lbs.

No. 11 Loose Leaf. 800 pages, in 2 binders. Printed on one side of the paper. Pages with creased margin, $30.00. Shipping weight 26 lbs.

No. 11 Pages only, $22.00. Shipping weight 21 lbs.

No. 25 Loose Leaf. 800 pages in 4 binders, printed on one side of the paper. Pages with linen hinge, $50.00. Shipping weight 35 lbs.

No. 25 Pages only, $36.00. Shipping weight 22 lbs.

SUPPLEMENTARY PAGES

Those who own the previous edition of the Loose Leaf albums No. 11, or 25, may make them identical with this edition by the purchase of Supplementary Pages. These pages consist of all the added or changed pages which appear in the new edition.

FORUM

Dr. R. W. Payne has shown me a 3c reddish brown normal shade of the 3c 1861 adhesive with a vertical line extending smack down thru the center or nearly the center, of the stamp. This has the appearance of a cracked plate. I have hunted thru many thousands of this stamp for plate varieties, the best that turned up being a few minor shifts, for that "THREB" affair is not much to rave over. Now here is a real bona-fide variety, that is, if someone can produce its duplicate. It looks as tho there should be others.

On a red Liberty Post Card is a very neatly cut Shield from Girard, Kansas. It is of a generous size, and attached to the pmk. apparently. The top of this shield is solid, while the bottom is outlined, with six vertical bars inside the frame.

A very fine Patriotic cover has just arrived, the device being that barefoot young lady with the sheaf of wheat in her right arm, left extended northeast, and balancing on left foot on a globe, her patriotic dress being blue with stars, and red bands. It is a beautiful cover, and is sent from "San Francisco Cal Jul 13, 1861" to Boston, the stamp being a fine 10c '57 Type II. The colors of the dress, and the green (instead of dull red) of the stamp, are decidedly pretty as a combination, on a pure white envelope.

Another Patriotic shows a colored man applying the brush to one of a pair of high boots,—turning slightly from the mahogany bureau on which he has the boot (!), he says "By golly Massa Butler, I like dis better dan workin' in de field for old Sesesh massa." Have never seen that one before. It's a dandy drawing; but the bureau is out of luck, for I don't think they wore O'Sullivans in those days.

If anyone has any really curious or pretty "Patriotics", I believe that they would make interesting reading to the Forum folks. Why not mention a few?

STRAY ENDS

Mr. S. Newbury, Chicago, writes from Auckland, New Zealand, to say that he is enjoying his stay in that colony to the utmost.

Major Henry of Philadelphia was billed to show his British West Indies, twentieth century, at the Collectors Club, New York, on May 5th; and at the final meeting and exhibition in the old home, Congressman Ackerman will have a section of his early Great Britain on original covers, as well as examples of British used abroad.

Mr. Joseph Vavra, the dahlia grower of Huntington Beach, California, has sent an envelope from Sassenheim, Holland, and says of the cancellation on the stamps: "You will note that our familiar slogan, 'Say It With Flowers' has been adopted by our Dutch friends in a rather effective advertising campaign."

We are pleased to learn from the latest number of the Stamp Hunter that our fellow invalid, Mr. W. W. MacLaren, Cleveland, is out of the woods, after a seven weeks' siege.

Recently, Mr. Henry Lacks, secretary-treasurer of the St. Louis Stamp Collectors Society, was a welcome visitor to Chicago in the wake of Mr. Diamant.

James Mantzoros is a young Chicagoan who is untiring in his efforts to encourage the interest of the juniors in stamp collecting, and he is succeeding in obtaining no little publicity for his cause in the various newspapers that have pages for the younger folks. Mr. Mantzoros is trying to secure a meeting-place in the down-town district for meetings on Sunday afternoons, in order that a central point may meet the convenience of young collectors from the different sections of the city.

Mr. H. R. Jansen, Topeka, Kansas, sends a two cent of 1890 on the envelope, with a perforation that is not like that of any of its mates, as he says. It appears to be a cross between a roulette and a perforation.

The Fox News Reel recently showed an interesting picture of the Paris Stamp Bourse in action.

A beautiful lot of rarities is pictured in a section of the pretentious auction catalogue of a sale to be held by N. V. Hekker's Postzegelhandel, Amsterdam, Holland, on June 1 and 2, 1926. This sale will be an event of importance and included in it are some U. S. that catch the eye.

On May 10, 1926, the postmaster general announced that bids would be opened for furnishing approximately 200,000,000 envelopes for the use of the departments and establishments of the government. On April 23rd, bids were opened for supplying 140,000,000 envelopes for the use of the postal service alone.

Some time ago, the Chicago Daily News ran a column article telling of the preparations of the philatelic internationale in Moscow for exhibiting at the forthcoming New York Exhibition.

THE COLLECTING OF PRECANCELS

BY FREDERICK W. ALLEN

Precancel collecting has been reduced to a system of specialization, a fact which is not startling when we consider the multitudinous varieties, which confront the beginner. It is most interesting to consider those special lines, which have appealed to various individuals. The dealer is able to view the hobby in all its various aspects, by his attention to the wants and desires of his clientele, far better than the mere collector even though the latter has a wide correspondence. The striking points, as noticed by the dealer, should be a matter for consideration by the precancel fraternity as they indicate accurately the tendencies toward which the hobby is moving. A review of this character will serve to post the collector on the best lines for pleasure and profit. There has been too much darkness surrounding the true facts, and I personally feel the collector entitled to every consideration.

General Collecting

The past two years has seen the passing of this form. The utter impossibility of keeping up with the new issues led Dr. Mitchell to break up his wonderful collection, which embraced the important precancel collections formed during the early days of the hobby, e.g., the collections of F. L. Smith, C. F. Eagle, S. M. Schoemann, J. B. Solomon, Chester Myers, and others. First the hand-stamped precancels were sold, and soon the balance will be dispersed, including the Parcel Posts, which are practically complete. The W. H. Field collection is now first in importance as a general accumulation, but maintaining it has proven too difficult a task for its owner, who is at present specializing along certain lines. We have other large general collections and their owners are constantly adding to them, but not as zealously as before. One prominent collector sold all, but his regular issues from 1917 to date, and centers his attention upon these alone. This I deem a very sensible procedure.

1898 and 1902 Series

There continues to be a brisk demand for these stamps, which are the "classics". The dated issues will always be popular and sell without difficulty. There are plenty of some stamps from such cities as Danbury, Chicago, Ft. Wayne, Boston, Lynn, Buffalo, Minneapolis, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus, Dayton, Philadelphia and Milwaukee on the market at low prices, but nearly all are of the 1 cent denomination. Anything, outside of Chicago, above this value is worthwhile.

1908-10 Series

I always liked the 8c, 10c, 15c, and of course the 13c, 50c and $1 of this issue for nearly all are scarce. A special collection of these varieties is to be recommended as an investment and source of pleasure. However no one with limited means should attempt their collection as the stamps, after the first dozen or so, are expensive.

1912 Series, Perf. 12

These I consider better property than the perf. 10's, but they have little appeal, when the only difference is in the perforation. After all the precancel collector is principally interested in cancellations, not perforations, and I think too much stress has been laid on the latter.

1914 Series, Perf. 10

I believe these stamps to be priced out of proportion to their demand. Perhaps the relative scarcity is indicated by the catalog figures, but most collectors do not care for them.

1917 Series, Perf. 11

There is not the attractiveness to be found here, that is shown in the current set, but the better varieties sell quickly. Many are still current and in the case where a city has recently precancelled with a new plate, the old series stamps are bound to be good. The Minneapolis new type was used for the old 11, 12, 13, 15 and 30 cent stamps. All are obsolete except the first two. The 30c is probably the scarcest, with the 15c following. The Offset Printings on the 1c, 2c and 3c, as a specialized group, are collected by a few. The 1c gray green is especially recommended for consideration. The Rotary Press Printings on the 1 cent are unpopular and it would be folly to declare that they are desirable varieties, which merit special attention.

1923 Series, Perf. 11

The current set is beautiful and an attractive general collection is possible at a small expenditure. It is to be recommended, with the suggestion that perforations be ignored, and Bureau Printings, and Coil precancels, excluded from the general array.

Bureau Prints

There is more "kick" to the square inch in this branch than in any other. It is especially adapted to the beginner as there is little to mystify or confuse. Most of the stamps are cheap, but there are already some worth a dollar apiece, that were considered of small value six months ago. A special catalog has been issued by the Gossip Printery, which will be indispensable as a guide. It is to be found advertised elsewhere in this issue. If the present postal rates continue, and there is every indication that they shall, there will be a rise in value of the 1c and 2c stamps, for it is reported that the Bureau is finding little demand for precancellation of these two denominations. At present we do not think it fair to boom these two stamps until their scarcity has been definitely established. There is no paucity of them on the present market.

Coil Precancels

Ask Mr. Albert Jones of Wabash, Ind., about this as a special group for collection, and you will find that he will highly recommend it. When casting about for a specialty, he decided to go in for precancelled coils, and has not regretted it. For a field that has not been worked to death, we present it for attention. Mr. Walter Plant, 36 "R" Street, N. E., Washington, D. C., has a large stock and collection, and possesses expert knowledge of all the various issues.

Commemoratives

If we had no precancelled commemorative stamps, I think the hobby would be better off. The really rare stamps are spoiled by the unnecessary issues, but still they will always be in great demand because of their special interest and, as a rule, beauty. I wish to except the 3c Victory and Harding from the latter attribution. I shall review the commemoratives, from the Columbian issue to date, in order to clearly outline the general standing and relative importance of each in relation to the precancel hobby.

(1.) Columbian, 1893—Chicago in the handstamped type are to be had. Some were legitimately used and some made to order. The 4c with the New York staggered roller type, was reprinted in 1925, but the genuine stamp catalogued at $6.00 can be told by the cancellation. This should be submitted for expert opinion, as well as the Alaska-Yukon 2c which was also reprinted for sale to collectors. The 1c Paris, Ill., is the rarest of Columbian Issue precancels and a most worthy item. There are some Columbians with "bar" precancellations and these are good property, if the city of origin is definitely established. The 1c, 2c and 4c Milwaukee are of this class and easily identified. All Techny, Ill., on the 1c and 2c were made for collectors.

(2.) Trans-Mississippi—Very little to fear in precancels of this series. The Minneapolis 1c in Type I is one of the best precancels in existence. Chicago handstamps, when verified, are also good.

(3.) Pan-American, 1901—Minneapolis, St. Paul, Aurora, Ill., and others are to be had, but are very scarce. The Plymouth, N. H., varieties are authentic, even though precancelled twenty years after date of issue. It seems that this was stock that had remained for years in some of the N. E. post offices, which was called in by the Plymouth office and a portion precancelled, during 1922.

(4.) Louisiana Purchase, 1904—The few cities commonly met with on this issue are Akron, Cincinnati, Danbury, Harrisburg, and Philadelphia. It is a good series for collection, but difficult of completion. There are few "weedy" varieties, notably the Oak Lane, Pa., fakes, and some Philadelphia and Westgrove monstrosities, in the form of cancellations from the two cities on the same stamp.

(5.) Alaska-Yukon, Lincoln Memorial, and Hudson-Fulton, 1909—We have quite a bad lot here, that are overpriced and of speculative status. Little can be said in favor of the Benton Harbor, Mich., varieties, those from Bayonne, N. J., and certain New England towns in Vermont and New Hampshire.

(6.) Panama-Pacific, 1914—San Francisco used a vast number, and the market value of the 1c and 2c is still low. The 5c and 10c are becoming appreciated, and the 10c yellow is a very good item. In time these shall become of some value. The total number of cities which precancelled this issue is not large, but quite a number of varieties are to be gotten together, and form an interesting collection.

(7.) Victory, 1919—I consider them a poor investment at present prices.

(8.) Pilgrim, 1920—An unattractive series, but half catalog should be a safe price to pay for most of the varieties.

(9.) Hugenot-Walloon, Lexington-Concord, 1924-25—We have never boosted these and cannot do so now.

(10.) Norse-American, 1925—Two pretty and popular stamps, but there are few really legitimate precancellations thereon. A list of those we believe best would only excite controversy. The cheapest set of all is Duluth as a great number of these were used and salvaged.

(11.) Future Commemorative Issues—Collectors should insist on stamps that can be given a clean bill of health, and strive to suppress unnecessary emissions.

Parcel Post, 1912

During the short life of this issue, there was a great amount of precancelling and a large collection can be formed of these varieties. It is my opinion that these issues are a sterling investment.

Special Deliveries, 1908-25

Some one ought to step to the front and announce himself as a specialist in these stamps. There is no important collection of them, as far as I have been able to ascertain, and there are enough varieties to form an interesting array. The Registry stamp of 1911 could be included in it, and also the Special Handling.

Postage Dues, 1879-1926

I do not hestitate in stating that this is a class of precancels in little demand. True, the ½c has shown a bit of action, but the others are dead as far as salability is concerned. They are not pleasing to the eye, as there is a dead monotony of color, and I can see no future for them.

Blocks and Pairs

Blocks of four are in little demand, although special items of such values as the ½c, 1½c, 13c, etc., sell well. Any collection built on generous lines will look better with blocks scattered throughout.

There is no call for pairs, except when they show an error in spelling or printing, or a "tete beche" effect in relation to the overprint.

UNITED STATES ISSUES 1870-1900

Dr. Wm. Evans, Editor,
313 E. Freemason St., Norfolk, Va.

(Any letter requiring a reply must have a self-addressed stamped envelope. No attention can be given matters that do not belong to the years indicated. What can you contribute of interest?)

A few weeks ago you were shown some forms of the obliterators used in 1876, perhaps patriotically. Here are a few new ones, and some of the same character used in other years. Mr. Gilbert M. Burr contributed all of these except Nos. 4 and 9, which were sent by Mr. K. N. Woodward. No. 3 is in purple and was used at Curwinsville, Pa., and Nos. 6 and 7 were used at Osceola Mills, Pa. These and the others are all in black and on 3c green stamps. Two or three are quite similar to some of the former illustrations, but a little comparison dis-closes differences. How much more interesting they would all be if the place of their use were known! If any one can tell us, from duplicates, where any of them were used, the information will be most welcome.

Mr. H. M. Konwiser sends what seems to be an unusual combination. It is a 6c War Dept. on soft paper and a 10c War on hard paper. It is addressed to Nebraska City, Neb., forwarded to Salt Lake City, Utah, reforwarded to Omaha, Neb., and then returned to writer as evidenced by about 15 pointing hands so labelled. It was registered and the stamps are pen-cancelled, as was quite the regular thing on registered letters in that period. The only postmark is that of Nebraska City, July 7, 1880. The rate is unusual, 16 cents, and must indicate that the letter was a double one, with the registration fee of ten cents added. Who has other covers, Dept. or otherwise, showing this rate?

Department stamps were used in one period and I'm sure many of us would be interested in anything out of the ordinary along this line, so if anyone has covers or cancellations, or double transfers, or double papers, etc., send them along. And if anyone is afraid of an avalanche of petitions beseeching him to sell or swap his treasures say the word and I'll not divulge anything except the existence of the treasure.

Of course there are no special cancellations for Department stamps. They were canceled by the obliterators in use at the time. Some of them are not picked up every day even on the postage stamps and are found only "once in a blue moon" on Departments. So let us in on the "blue moon" things.

Mr. Konwiser also sent a current Treasury Department envelope registered with "Return Receipt Requested" written upon it, and a 3c stamp to pay for the return receipt, just as you and I have to pay for ours. I'm quite surprised at that, for I had been of the opinion that all official mail went free, with all the frills included at the same rate.

Here's an item: Block of three 7c Continental, with a 3c green where the fourth seven was torn out, on a piece, all four lightly cancelled with a black target 24c rate, and I'm glad the Postmaster had no 24c stamps, for he or his customer created something much nicer to pay the

TURKS ISLANDS POST CARDS

By Harry E. Huber.

On January 1, 1881, the Turks & Caicos Islands joined the Universal Postal Union, and the new rates, which then became effective, are notified in a notice from the Commissioner's Office, dated December 16, 1880, and printed in The Royal Standard and Gazette of December 18, 1880.

"Commissioner's Office.
Grand Turk, 16th December, 1880.

It is hereby notified for public information that these Islands have been admitted into the Postal Union, and that such entry will take effect on the 1st of January next; and that from that date the rates of postage on correspondence from these Islands to places within the Postal Union (with the exception of that for Union countries in the East beyond Suez, upon which a small additional rate is charged) are as follows:—

Letters—4d per ½ ounce.
Newspapers—1d per 4 oz.
Printed papers and patterns—1d per 2 oz.

Signed, W. J. Anderson,
Acting Commissioner."

As stamps of only three denominations, 1d, 6d and 1s had been issued, it became necessary to provide immediately additional values, ½d, 2½d and 4d by means of surcharge. Instead of making ½d stamps out of 1d, 2½d out of 6d, and 4d out of 1s stamps, a quantity of each was surcharged ½d, 2½d and 4d. The Acting Commissioner's Notice of 16th December, 1880, does not explain the need for ½d and 2½d stamps, but a Post Office Notice of July 25, 1881, gives the new rates in greater detail.

"Post Office Notice.

The Turks & Caicos Islands joined the Postal Union on the first of January, 1881, and the following rates of postage are published for general information:

Letters—4d per ½ ounce.
Post Cards—1½d each.
Reply ditto—3d each.
Newspapers—1d each if under 4 oz.
Books and other printed matter (except newspapers)—1d per 2 oz.
Commercial papers — the same as for printed papers, but a minimum charge of 2½d.

Signed, J. C. Crisson,
Postmaster.

Post Office, Turks Islands.
25th July, 1881."

Post cards being necessary, a 1½d card was received and issued about July, 1881, but reply cards, not until almost four years later. This was the first postal stationery issued by these Islands. This card, 1½d light brown, on medium light buff card, measures 121x87mm. The stamp in the upper right corner is of the conventional keyplate type then being used for other Colonies,—a diademed profile of Queen Victoria to the left on a ground of horizontal lines, within an octagon, with straight labels at the top and bottom, inscribed "Turks Islands" and "Penny Halfpenny" respectively. At the sides is a vertical row of small colorless lozenges, and in the spandrels are colorless floriate ornaments. To the left of the stamp are four lines of letter press — "Union Postale Universelle— Turks Islands (Iles de Turc)—POST (Royal Arms) CARD—The address only to be written on this side."

The reply cards are larger in size, 139x88mm, but with the stamp and letter press the same, except that in the lower left corner of the message card there are four lines reading "The annexed card is intended—for the answer. —(La carte ci-jointe est destinee—a la reponse)." The reply card has the word "Reply" in Roman caps beneath the line "The address", etc.

On July 1, 1892, further reductions in postage rates took place, the post card rate being lowered from 1½d to 1d. Both the 1d single and reply cards were surcharged locally in black with a large "1d" and three horizontal lines cancelling the old value.

"Government Notice.

Reduction in Postal Rates from Turks Islands to all outside destinations.

Notice is hereby given that on and after the 1st of July, ensuing, the rates of postage from Turks Islands to all places will be as under:—

For letters—2½d per ½ ounce.
For post cards—1d each.
For reply post cards—2d each.
For newspapers, books, printed papers, commercial papers, patterns and samples—½d per 2 oz. with the Postal Union proviso of a minimum payment of 2½d for a packet of commercial papers, and of 1d for a packet of patterns or samples.
Fee for registration of any of the above named articles, 2d.
Fee for an acknowledgment of the livery of a registered article, 2½d.

By Order,
Signed, J. C. Crisson,
Postmaste

Grand Turk, June 6, 1892."

In the following year permanent carmine, single and double cards, 1 88mm, were issued. The letter p is the same as before, but the stamp diademed head of Queen Victoria to left upon a ground of solid color, closed within a circle. Labels at the and bottom are inscribed "Turks LANDS," and the value, "One Penn respectively, in colorless block letters.

A Great Collection of Early Uruguay Stamps

In pursuance of my plan to build up a stock of the classic issues of America, I have the pleasure to announce the purchase of the famous collection of early Uruguay stamps formed by Mr. Gerald Curtis including the 1856 to 1867 issues only.

Mr. Curtis has always been fascinated with the study of stamps that could be plated and all these I have now purchased are plated and every stamp numbered showing its true position.

The collection was contained in five large volumes which I have now broken up into a number of my approval books which I can send to serious collectors on demand. The following are a few of the more interesting items contained in it.

1856, Diligencia, 60c blue, 9 unused, 2 on covers, and one of the very rare second type.
1856, Diligencia, 80c green, 22 unused.
1856, Diligencia, 1r vermilion, 33 unused.
1858, 120c blue, 7 copies.
1858, 180c green, 16 copies.
1858, 240c vermilion, 31 copies.
1859, thin figures. This is an exceedingly fine lot of singles, pairs and strips, used and unused, 197 copies in all.
1860, thick numerals. Fine lot with all the shades and varieties, 165 copies.
In the 1868 issue, there are two reconstructed sheets of the 5c blue, all unused, mostly built up from large blocks and strips. Also one reconstructed sheet of used.
Of the scarce 5c ultramarine, there are about 30 copies with all the errors and several unused.
In the 10c green, imperf., Pane of 50, reconstructed unused and used. Several other panes partly reconstructed.
The 15c imperf., reconstructed pane of 35.
The 20c imperf., reconstructed pane of 50.
In this issue there are many transfer errors where a wrong number has been inserted in the make-up.
The same applies to the perforated issues of 1866-1868, which are exceedingly strong unused and used.
I recommend the above issues as a sound investment and most interesting subjects for further study and research work.

FOLK LORE ON STAMPS

ne announcement that the Austrian rnment will issue a series of postage ps engraved with characters and es from the Teutonic epic poem, the elungenlied," must be of keen in- t to all philatelists. This being true issue should prove most profitable, a considerable proportion of the in- printings undoubtedly will be sold ollectors, who will be intrigued by novelty of the themes and the artistic romantic merits of a series that cele- es not the present, nor any historical acter or allegorical depiction, but the ns and fables of a people.

postage stamp may be beautiful and essed of strong esthetic appeal, but in country and many others it usually orms to the conventional in subject design, and departs therefrom only special occasion. Certain of the h American countries employ historic ies in the decoration of their postage, the philatelist knows well the con- with which he looks upon those imens, that are not yet rare, but are ously beautiful.

ne poetic cycle, the "Nibelungenlied," all but lost to the Germanic peoples, in whose modern art it has been splendidly effective, as in the operas of Wagner. But for the fine sense of values of the Swiss scholar, Professor Bodmer, who discovered the manuscript in a monastic library, in 1757, the noble collection of myth and legend might have been lost forever. For three centuries it had been forgotten, as of little worth, and the opinion of its monkish custodians was that it comprised a series of valueless tales for children. Nevertheless, it was a rich mine of sublime tragedy, and it has yielded freely to the enrichment of modern art and literature.

The poetic version in English, entitled, "Sigurd the Volsung," is the translation by William Morris, who would seem to have caught the spirit of the original, for certainly the lines have a song and sweep comparable in simplicity and effectiveness to the Norse sagas.

Afar o'er the heath men see it, but no man draweth nigher,
For the garth that goeth about it is naught but the roaring fire,
A white wall waving aloft; and no window nor wicket is there,
Whereby the shielded earl folk or the sons of merchants may fare;
But few things from me are hidden, and I know in that hall of gold
Sits Brynhild, white as a wild swan where the foamless seas are rolled.

So unconsidered a trifle as the postage stamp offers a medium whereby history and legend, those indispensables of patriotism, may be brought home to a people. Defeat and partition, the whittling down of an empire, have not availed to stifle the poetic spirit of the Austrian people, as the Nibelungenlied postage issue will attest. There may be the matter of thrift, as well, for the stamps, as has been said, will be much sought by philatelists. But thrift alone cannot account for the concept, and thrift alone would be but a sorry explanation of an admirable project.—Portland Oregonian, Editorial.

ODDS AND ENDS:—

WE are indebted to Cecil F. Blogg for two clippings. One is from the Classmate for May and the article is entitled "Romance in our Mail Service". It is a good article and well illustrated.

THE Beaver Stamp Society of Portland, Oregon, is actively engaged in philatelic endeavor. The president of this society is Dr. Ed. Hirstel and meetings are held the third Tuesday of each month in the Oregon Building. A. H. Lomax is in charge of the publicity. Nearby collectors should consult either of the above parties.

WE have received a card from A. O. Tittman dated Avignon, France. He is doing Europe pretty thoroughly.

THE Ridgewood Stamp Club of Brooklyn, N. Y., recently celebrated its first anniversary. 150 members and friends were present. The president of the organization is M. Rosenblatt, and the secretary is Henry W. Boede. The club quarters are at 657 Fairview Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

THE Exposition at Philadelphia has been fortunate in securing an advertising cancellation. It reads in five lines: — "Sesqui-Centennial Exposition— Philadelphia, June 1—Dec. 1, 1926".

WE have received a subscription from the Staten Island Museum, St. George, S. I., N. Y. We thank John M. Sheridan for the same.

IF any of our subscribers know the address of Ernest Buchan please card a line to Robert E. B. Roe, 612 W. 112 St., N. Y. City. Mr. Roe will appreciate the courtesy.

THERE appeared in a recent number of the Christian Science Monitor an article on the new triangular stamps for the Union of South Africa which occupied nearly a column of this well known newspaper. Thanks to Stanley Hosmer for the clipping.

SEVERAL stamp clubs will soon be on the map in California, thanks to Roy A. Hohberger of Burlingame. He has Redwood City with twenty-five members to his credit and San Mateo and Burlingame are also good prospects. He would appreciate correspondence with those who are interested in promoting stamp club projects.

WALTER B. GOULD, 292 Hammond St., Bangor, Me., has on hand a large amount of philatelic literature. The assortment is varied and he has issued a mimeograph list which he will be glad to send to interested parties. The literature lover will find this a bargain sale.

AUCTION DEPARTMENT [47

EDITORIAL.

The two cent sesquicentennial issue was issued, according to schedule, on May 10th; and we thank Mr. Philip H. Ward, Jr., Philadelphia, and Mr. Luis B. Garcia, publisher of the Latin American Exchange, for copies of the new stamp. The historical significance of this commemorative issue is fully expressed by the design of the stamp, which shows the Liberty Bell to the life. A specimen of this kind is meaningful, indeed, and its legend should inculcate a feeling of patriotism in the breast of the beholder. Philadelphia, the home of the first commemorative issue, as the Centennial envelopes may be termed, deserves the glory carried by the specimen now under notice and collectors will welcome it, irrespective of any feeling that they may have on the subject of special issues, ordinarily. The details of the workmanship of the stamp are handled fittingly so as to produce a whole that carries a message that stirs the American heart.

The story of the origin of the new five cent Ericsson stamp is one of interest and shows that in this instance a broad foundation was laid before the fact was accomplished. Over ten years ago, a committee started work on the proposal to honor John Ericsson and in August, 1916, congress appropriated the sum of $35,000 to apply on the erection of a monument or memorial to Captain John Ericsson, whose name is perpetuated by his invention of the "Monitor." This amount was not sufficient to satisfy the ambitions of the projectors of the plan and so the committee on the Washington Memorial to Captain John Ericsson raised an additional sum of $35,000, making a total of $60,000. The post office department has embodied a description of the monument, which is to be the central design of the stamp, in a recent circular announcing the issue of the stamp. As supplementing this information, the following explanation of the design, as furnished by the committee that has been mentioned, is given: "The monument proper is composed from the assumption that an inventor's greatness comes through a compelling combination of metal attributes. In the case of Ericsson—Vision, Adventure and Labor are used as symbols of his mentality. The figure of vision is that of an inspired woman. Adventure is the Viking. Labor is represented by an Iron-Molder. All the ornament connected with the monument is Scandinavian. The group is placed on a pavement composed from the Mariner's compass, to be made of colored granite. The figure of Ericsson is in the foreground and is smaller than the symbolic figures. The symbolic figures have been placed against the Norse tree of life, 'Ygdrasil.' The lettering forms a decorative border around the top of the pedestal. The pedestal is unique in construction, being formed of solid blocks of granite. The whole monument is to be done in a warm tone of fine grained granite, except possibly the figure of Ericsson, which may be cast in bronze. It is necessary to make rather a large monument, for the reason that the circle to be filled is 150 feet across. The full height of the monument will be approximately 20 feet."

Last summer, Mr. K. A. Wallquist, a Chicago collector, suggested to the Committee on the Ericsson Memorial that it would be appropriate to mark the ceremonies of unveiling by a special stamp issue. The interest of Congressman Chindblom of the Tenth Illinois district was enlisted and through his intelligent prosecution of the idea, the issue of the stamp resulted. It is possible that there will be a consequence of this action of our post office department that will be manifested in an unusual and graceful manner; and on this phase, we soon hope to be able to say something definite.

The announcement of the death of Arche N. Pike, Binghamton, New York, made in this paper two weeks ago, was read with feelings of sorrow by many a philatelist, as Mr. Pike, indefatigable as a correspondent, was in touch by letter with many collectors, even other than those interested in the kindred lines to which Mr. Pike devoted so much attention. Pondering over the philatelic circumstances of his life, a realization comes that he labored with a conviction born of the greatest faith to place certain side-lines of philately in what to him was their proper perspective. His zealous determination to bring into the sunshine the literature of philately and the postal markings employed on mail matter gained him the respect and in some instances, the co-operation of those who were somewhat dubious of the fulfilment of the ambitious plans of Mr. Pike. It is a source of gratification that almost at any given time there are workers in our cause whose unselfishness is such as to cause the more material-minded of us to blush; and even though they may be too forward-looking, the sincerity of their beliefs evokes our praise. The many hours that Mr. Pike spent in indexing and in otherwise promoting the studies in which he was so deeply interested will never be known, but he has enshrined himself in the memory of many through his dedication of self to his pursuit. Mrs. Pike informs us that Mr. Pike passed away about 9.30 P. M., after working late at his office and says that the coroner thinks that neuritis, from which Mr. Pike suffered for years, finally reached his heart. To Mrs. Pike our condolences are offered; and she may know that her husband's name will remain long on the tablets of philately.

Mr. G. E. Hale, Buckley, Illinois, bent on providing a suitable album for his needs as a collector of U. S. stamps is arranging to publish a loose-leaf album, which will provide places for first trip covers as well as adhesives. He will furnish a service that will place sheets for the newcomers in stamps in the hands of collectors with little delay, according to his plans. Pages are to be issued weekly and additional pages as occasion demands. A single stamp will have a page and a feature will be made of official and historical information based on the stamp; and this is a particular that must be viewed with commendation. At first, the idea is to cultivate the field from 1900 to date, but later, the earlier issues are booked for notice.

The death of Milton L. Strauss, Chicago, through a fall from a window of a high story in his residential hotel caused regret among those collectors who had come in contact with him while he was active in the pursuit of stamps. Mr. Strauss was much attached to U. S. stamps some time ago, and gave them the deep attention that he devoted to any subject in which he became interested. At different times, he was on the eve of developing into a collector of importance and negotiated for large properties, but his health was such that he was forced to relinquish his philatelic ambitions. His death was untimely and he will be remembered for the enthusiasm that he brought to bear on his collection when he could indulge his urge to stamps. Mr. Strauss was a man of means who had retired from business.

DEATH OF THEODORE HORTON, JR.

It is with sincere regret that we a nounce the death of a very promisi philatelist in the person of Theodo Horton, Jr., of Albany, N. Y. Chest J. Moore, president of the Fort Oran Stamp Club of that city sends us an a preciative notice of Mr. Horton's a tivities, with a clipping from t Knickerbocker Press.

Mr. Horton had since 1922 formed fine specialized collection of U. S. stam and had come to be recognized as authority on its major varieties. La fall he entered his specialized collecti of the 3c 1851 imperf. in the Montre Exhibition and was awarded first pri for the same.

It had been Mr. Horton's intention enter his collection of U. S. coil stam at the coming International Exhibiti He had a nearly complete collection a intended later to have printed in pamphl form his study of these interesting issu

Mr. Horton was only twenty-two yea of age, was a careful and discriminati collector, and a collector with the tr instinct. Philately in general and A bany in particular has suffered a gre loss in his passing. April 23 he w elected secretary of the Fort Oran Stamp Club, which had been organiz largely through his efforts.

The following is a part of a lengt notice which appeared in the Press:— has made a hit. On request of many friends to affix the stamp and mail in addressed envelopes they provided on day of issue I did so to the tune of 788 (from 1 to 100) and, believe me, it was some job, singles, pairs, strips, blocks of 4, corner guide line blocks, plate number blocks, etc., etc. I can imagine what the Philatelic Agency at Washington had on hand. To change the monotony I sent several hundred to personal friends with combinations of 1876 Centennial Envelopes, Columbian Envelopes and stamps, Grant Letter sheets and many combinations and no 2 were alike. MINT SETS CHARITY--SWEET--CHARITY MINT SETS

WHAT A GRAND AND GLORIOUS FEELING YOU USED TO HAVE WHEN YOU WENT TO ONE OF THOSE WONDERFUL SUPPERS THE GOOD WOMEN OF YOUR TOWN USED TO GET UP TO BRING IN THE SHEKELS TO BUY A NEW CHURCH CARPET, OR TO REDECORATE THE GRANGE HALL. THEY GAVE YOU CHICKEN-PIE AND BISCUIT, MASHED POTATO, JELLY AND PICKLES, SALAD AND CAKE, PIE AND COFFEE AND A FEW EXTRAS, ALL FOR 75c, — SECOND HELPS, TOO. IT DID MAKE ONE FEEL SO VIRTUOUS TO HELP THE GOOD CAUSES ALONG, AND IT WAS SOME SUPPER, TOO. WISH WE COULD BE CHARITABLE TONIGHT INSTEAD OF TRYING TO JUGGLE A BILL-OF-FARE TO MAKE IT FIT OUR POCKET-BOOK AS WELL AS OUR APPETITE. "SIDE-LINES" IN PHILATELY

EDWIN B. HILL, Ysleta, Texas.

For J. H. E.

The general collector—and all old-time devotees of Philatelia are included in that category—here and there has inclination and opportunity to indulge in what is familiarly known as "side-lines." It may be that his tastes are bookish. If he cherishes his Sarawak, he will no doubt add the "Life" and also the "Letters" of the first Rajah, James Brooke—delightful reading both—supplemental to the stamps of that interesting country. Further, he may possess an autograph letter of Rajah Brooke,—even as I. And if he is numismatically inclined, one of the common coins of Sarawak will tend to strengthen his interest.

The philatelic library is likewise of moment to the student, and as a side-line it is to be encouraged. The collector can find added pleasure in the study of his stamps when he is further enlightened through reference to the handbook or to the occasional paper dealing with his favorite country. If a paper, it can be extracted from the magazine whose columns it has enriched, and attached to an album-leaf near the stamps it illumines.

My collecting days date back a half-century. Both stamps and coins interested me then, and they interest me now. Recently, through the columns of the WEEKLY, I sought to get in touch with collectors of the cents of the United States, 1793 to 1857. The responses were not numerous, but it was disclosed that readers of the WEEKLY were interested in the subject. With some it was a side-line. Two or three wished to dispose of their coins in order to devote all their attention to stamps. Others displayed lasting interest, and declared they wished neither to sell nor to trade.

Altogether, the spirit appealed. My interest increased. I acquired a set of the cents, together with many varieties, but, alas! the rare dates,—1793, 1799, 1804—are lacking. But what of that? Some day, when the gods are good, they will repose amongst my treasures. Meantime, there is opportunity for study and for recreation. Uncatalogued varieties have disclosed themselves. It is fascinating indeed to discover new things to reward one's search. Minor varieties in profusion, all unnoted in catalogues, come back from memory's store-house. Here is the cracked die,—there the faint "strike" which made its particular variety—how the years sweep away!

I would not have every philatelist a numismatist as well. I would ask the older generation to renew allegiance,—the younger to respond to the call if it is urgent, but not otherwise.

One each of the types of coinage should suffice, perhaps. Our regular United States issues of postage stamps were put forth in 1847. The large cent of that date is not rare,—not even scarce. Then followed issues of stamps in 1851, and 1857. Cents of these dates are easily acquired.

The civil war "tokens" and "store-cards," which passed current in lieu of cents, may be used as adjunct to cancellations, 1861-1867. Hundreds of varieties were minted, many of them symbolic,—square-and-compass, three-links, etc. These, or others with firm names and town, would add interest to any collection of covers of the '60's.

There is scarcely a stamp-issuing country whose coins are not accessible in some form. British North America, next to the United States, is a favorite with the majority of collectors in the States. A coin representative of each Province—where coins were issued—has more than passing interest.

Do not let us lose interest in the old gods. Wherever there are things to be collected, there will be collectors. He who is designated "general collector" is passing. His successor, the specialist, is already with us. The excessive output of stamps is wholly responsible for this condition of affairs.

"I find amongst my acquaintance few of the old-school 'general' collectors," said a well-known philatelist to me recently. "I know only one man who collects everything," he added.

"I also know him, and one other," I said. "Both are of an earlier generation. We general collectors, alas! are of those who are passing." He acquiesced, regretfully. We parted. Then the genesis of the foregoing paper-suggestive came as solace. Perhaps some other "general collector" may decide to follow the numismatic, philatelic, and bibliographic suggestions outlined. That will be the reward the writer desires above all rewards.

The issue of 1869 would be illuminated with the small cent,—and so on up to date. A single dollar would cover the expense of all this. If one cared to show the coinage, both silver and copper, the expense would be increased. But for the average collector of average stamps in average condition with a purse below the adjective, copper would suffice.

I have no wish to be dictatorial. My thought is mainly suggestive. Each to his liking. I would have the collector, seeking new worlds, to dream this suggestion into reality.

THE BI-MONTHLY JOURNAL

A house organ with an inimitable style and charm, published every two months. Each issue consists of from 32 to 48 pages, every one containing a formidable array of unusual offerings in medium and scarce sets, packets and special collections, dealers' stocks, single stamps, philatelic supplies, etc., etc.

Albert C. Munson, 412 Broadway, Houston, Texas, writes:
"I enjoy the Bi-Monthly as much as MEKEEL'S; there is no other paper, house organ, journal or circular of any kind wherein one can find such extraordinary good stock—and at such reasonable prices."

C. A. Ralston, 164 Vaughn St., Waterloo, Iowa, says:
"I am paying subscription charges for two large house organs, but would rather get along without both of them than to lose yours. If necessary, I know that I could pay a substantial subscription to the Bi-Monthly and save all of it on stamps offered in a single issue."

The Bi-Monthly Journal is a distinctive publication and absolutely free to patrons. You can't afford to be without it!

19TH CENTURY
BRITISH COLONIALS

In glancing over the choice 19th century collection of British Colonials which I am now breaking up, I note quite a few items in fine mint condition such as the following:

Bechuanaland 1887, £1, #21 .....$15.00
Br. Cent. Africa 1897, £1, #51 ..... 9.00
Br. East Africa 1898, 50R, #109 ..... 45.00

Zululand 1892, 5sh, #11 ..... 21.00
Zululand 1894, £5, #23 ..... 75.00

In addition, I can furnish practically 80% of the other varieties cataloging up to $50.00 with a good number of the rarer pieces. There is but one stamp of a kind, so that "First come—first served."

UNITED STATES

The larger majority of our collectors are desirous of obtaining a good sound copy of the stamp rather than pay a substantial price for a piece described as perfection. I offer the following United States in good condition, not damaged, but lightly canceled and in better condition than found in the majority of collections. If you are not satisfied, they may be returned.

1847, 10c black, #29 .....(Cat. $30.00) 17.50
1851, 12c black, #36 .....(Cat. $10.00) 5.00

2c Sesquicentennial Exposition Commemorative

The 2c red issued to commemorate the 150th anniversary of the "Signing of the Declaration of Independence" was placed on sale in accordance with schedule on Monday, May 10th, in Philadelphia, Boston and Washington. The same has been previously described in detail and I might state is of pleasing appearance. The Liberty Bell properly supported is the main feature of the design and I believe this shows the large replica of the original bell, which will appear at the Sesquicentennial Exposition, rather than the actual bell itself. There was a very extensive sale of this variety in Philadelphia, and several business houses took advantage of the first day to send out numerous circular letters in which the attention of their clients was called to the new stamp. Forty plates in all have been made up to the time of the issuing of the stamps, bearing numbers 18540 to 18547 inclusive and numbers 18552 to 18583 inclusive. The finished stamps that have come to my attention are all from the first eight plates although by the time these notes appear in print, copies from the other plates will without doubt be available.

Mr. P. M. Wolsieffer kindly remembered me by sending one of the Centennial envelopes of 1876 posted with an additional 2c Liberty Bell, giving us the stamps of the 100th and 150th anniversary on the same cover.

Lieut. Com. W. A. Corley mails a cover from the "U. S. S. Concord," which is now at the Philadelphia Navy Yard. This is the first first day cover that has come to my attention with a battleship cancellation.

Mr. G. F. Schell sends copies of this stamp posted on the first day from Braintree, and South Braintree, suburbs of Boston.

The Postal Bulletin of May 8th makes announcement of the fact that there will be a special post office at the Sesquicentennial Exposition, which opens in Philadelphia on June 1st next. The First Assistant Postmaster General, John H. Bartlett, makes the announcement in the following order:

"The Post Office Department will have a model post office at the Sesquicentennial International Exposition, which is to be held at Philadelphia, Pa., June 1 to December 1, 1926. The office will be furnished with standard post office equipment, and mechanical conveyors and labor-saving devices will be in operation to show modern methods of handling mail in the larger post offices.

There will be a visitors' gallery ove looking the workroom, where the vario mailing operations and devices in u will be explained by attendants. Lette may be mailed direct from this galle and their handling observed.

Mail will be delivered over the exp sition grounds by letter carriers, a all the usual postal facilities will be pr vided for the accommodation of visito and those connected with the expositi There will be windows for general d livery, the sale of stamps, registry, post savings, and money order business, a for the mailing and delivery of parc post. A number of lock boxes will installed and available for renting.

This post office will be operated as station of the Philadelphia post offi and will be known officially as t 'Model Post Office, Sesquicentennial I ternational Exposition, Philadelphia, P

Postmasters are requested to give pu licity through news items in their loc papers to the provision being made f general delivery service at the model po office for the accommodation of visito at the exposition.

Persons attending the exposition shou have their mail addressed in care their hotel or lodging house, or in ca of general delivery, Model Post Offi Philadelphia, Pa."

TURKEY

ISSUES OF 1913 TO 1923 ONLY

310 Varieties, Cataloguing $220.00

This collection starts off with the attractive 1913 set, Nos. 254, etc., and continues in an exhaustive manner through the succeeding years right down to 1923.

Some idea of the value of the collection can be formed when it is known that the following numbers, among many others, will be found: Nos. 278-84 complete; Nos. 314b, 315a, 457-9, 486, 534, 932a, 1187 ($17.50); 1223-5 ($15); 1478-80 ($26), etc., etc.

The War Issues, so intensely interesting to every serious philatelist, are surprisingly well represented. These stamps are not at all plentiful and hardly a dealer in America can supply them.

The entire collection consists of 310 different stamps, cataloguing over $220.00!

The price ..... again proves that a dollar spent with Harrisco does double and treble its normal duty.

Only $42.50!

l Committee of Congress Plans Rate Cut nouncement is made from Washing-nder date of May 10th that a ma-report filed with the Senate on day by the Special Joint Sub-Com-e of Congress on postal rates makes mendations for a number of com-ively minor changes in postal rates. chief of these changes as recom-ed are that the rates on private l cards be reduced to 1c, that a e reply or C. O. D. postal card n be established, that rates on tran-second-class matter be reduced that a modification of the special ing charges on parcel post matter be . All of these changes seem to be cordance with the recommendation Postmaster General, which we out-in this column some weeks back. report of this committee leaves for leration in the next session of ress the most important of the l rate problems which confront it. es not attempt to deal fully with rd-class, third-class and fourth-class It is expected that the question general revision of these rates will er until the 70th Congress, which in 1927. The committee claims hey do not have sufficient data on at the present time to warrant their g further recommendations.

postage on that letter, though it's not at all likely that they realized it. Has some one a similar piece, or is this unique?

Here is another 7c on a front of a cover postmarked Orange, Tex., and addressed to Beaumont, Tex. That's a rate which I am unable to fathom. The stamp is a National printing. The only reason I can think of for its use is that it was a double letter on which the postage was 6c, and the Postmaster got hold of the wrong denomination by mistake and so shortchanged himself a copper. That's probably the wrong reason, but it will be a good excuse for some one to come forward with a better one.

Seven cent stamps on covers are not exactly common, and about all that have come my way were on foreign mail. The above is the only instance I recall of one by itself on a domestic cover. It could have been used in combination with other values to make up a higher rate on heavy letters, but its use alone is puzzling, unless it was done by mistake. If some one has an explanation it will be cordially welcomed.

Combinations of 7c stamps with others, or their use in any unusual way would be most interesting to all of us. The same is true of other values of these issues, such as the 12c, 15c, and the higher values. Combinations of these with earlier or later issues are always of interest. Who will give us a description of some of these combinations — with the 1869 issue?

THE COLLECTING OF TRANSFERS

Our readers will learn with surprise of the publication of a substantial cloth-bound book of 306 pages entitled "Notes on the Collection of Transfers." It is by Frank Folupa, from the press of Dorrance & Co., Philadelphia, and the price is $2.00.

The author has treated his subject in a very comprehensive manner. Indeed, it is a marvel that he has been able to give us so much information in regard to the collecting of street car transfers. He tells us that he has over 1,600 different varieties and has published this book to stimulate an interest in this branch of collecting.

The titles of some of the chapters will indicate the scope of the work:—"Transfers in General", "Transfer Privileges", "Transfer Forms", "Dating of Transfers", "Transfer Time Limits", "Half Day on Transfers", "Routes", "Conditions of Place", "Standard Types", and "Coloring of Transfers".

A section of the book is devoted to instructing the collector in the science of arranging his transfers, and the scope is indicated in the titles of several other chapters:—"Arrangement of Collection", "Local Exploration", "Indexing the Collection" and "Transfer Hunting Opportunities". If anyone has the least interest in railway transfers, this book will stimulate that interest, and we heartily commend it as a remarkable treatment of a little-known hobby.

West Virginia—Grim.

Washington—Johnson, A. A.; N comer.
Wisconsin—Krause.
Wyoming—Kringel.

It is not unlikely that I have sligh some fine collections, with which I not have intimate knowledge. There no outstanding collections, within knowledge, of the following states:

Alabama	Nevada
Connecticut	New Mexico.
Florida	New York
Maryland	Oklahoma
Massachusetts	Rhode Island
Mississippi	Utah
New Hampshire	Vermont

From this it will be seen that there still an opportunity to choose a state has not been exhaustively worked.

SPECIALIZED CITY COLLECTIONS

I am prone to believe that here lies base for some important collections of future. Already there are several n ble collections formed of a single c issues, as follows:

Boston—Wheeler, Howard S.
Chicago—Raff, Fred; Crapser, Cha
Philadelphia—Krippner, L. L.

Why not some more? For consid tion I suggest:

Cincinnati	Rochester
Cleveland	Milwaukee
New York	Minneapolis
San Francisco	St. Paul
Buffalo

SINGLE DENOMINATION COLLECTIO

Personally the sameness of a st would tend to make my interest w but thank heaven we are not all alik our fancies. There are no doubt m large collections of the ½c and 1½c know of specialized collections of 8c, 10c, 11c, 12c, 20c, 25c, 30c and do stamps. Also of the 1c current is Notable collections have been formed the 13c apple green, the leading one ing the famous collection formed Haller and purchased by Engel. Albert Appel of Sanderson, Texas, has a fine collection of this stamp. A Gamber is far and above any collecto the 14c as he has scoured the country this stamp since it was first issued. also has one of the largest collection the 2c Harding. The Mees collectio admitted to be about the finest t along this line. There are many h two cent Harding collections bes these, and especially deserving of m tion are those owned by the follow Holly, Engel, Kunderd, Stillings, Saunders. F. E. Gellerman, of Cloq Minn., possesses the largest and t complete representation of the 30 current issue precancels, extant.

ODDITIES AND ERRORS

FROM VARIOUS SOURCES:—

WE are greatly obliged to the many subscribers who have sent in identically the same clippings regarding the Sesquicentennial issue. If we fail to give individual credit it must not be imagined that we do not appreciate the fine courtesies rendered. First day covers are gratefully acknowledged from:—Philip H. Ward, Jr., Eugene Klein, P. M. Wolsieffer, D. Bradford Damon, B. J. Dattner, Samuel Gittis, Milton P. Lyons, Jr., Edward J. Rife, and Herbert H. Griffin of Philadelphia, Pa.; C. R. Voigt, Concord, Mass.; Robert O. Briggs, Orange, Mass., and Athol, Mass.; Leon A. Thompson, Cambridge, Mass.; Malcolm H. Ganser, Norristown, Pa.; David D. Cressman, Sellersville, Pa., James H. Baxter, Chester, Pa., and Herbert L. Shatz. Sesqui covers with May 11 cancellations were received from several other subscribers. Unused copies of the stamp have been received from several sources.

ACCORDING to the Philadelphia Public Ledger of Monday, May 10, one million of the Sesqui stamps were sold by noon-time, and a further order for five million has been made on Washington. The newspaper especially mentions a cover which passed through the mail with postage paid by the Sesqui, a 2c Lincoln, a 1c Trans-Mississippi, 2c Pan-American and 5c 1893 Columbian envelope. This was one mailed the WEEKLY by P. M. Wolsieffer.

ELSEWHERE in this issue will be found the advertisement of James H. Baxter in which he offers the Sesqui first day cover from Chester, Pa. Upon the envelope is printed a fine illustration of the Liberty Bell with supplementary reading matter, making a cover of beauty.

COLLECTORS who are interested in cancellations will be pleased to know about the colored transparent celluloids recently advertised by E. J. S. Halvorsen, of Salem, Mass. These celluloids are rectangular pieces 2x3 inches, in green, olive green, dark blue, brown, dark brown, carmine and wine red. To a marked degree they obliterate the color of the stamp upon which the cancellation occurs, so that the latter is easily discernible. Where there has been a good deal of guesswork and eye-strain, these celluloids show postmarks, cancellations, etc., without a doubt.

"SO far as I can ascertain there are only two persons on U. S. stamps who are pictured in uniform. These are Taylor and Sherman. Other countries are rich in gilt lace as compared with the United States."—A. M. LAZIER.

WE have received from Sigmund Weiser a specimen of a new 4c Colombian stamp. It is of the same design of the 10c picture of Santander, but the shade of color is a darker blue. Mr. Weiser suggests that this regular issue will be welcome in putting an end to the provisional 4c stamps used during the last few months.

THE Allentown, Pa., Philatelic Club held its third annual banquet on May 8, at the Hotel Allen. Rev. John B. Stout gave a history of the Liberty Bell and the signing of the Declaration of Independence in connection with the new 2c Sesqui-Centennial stamp. Capt. A. E. Carpenter of Philadelphia displayed a collection of British and French Colonials. W. W. MacLaren of the Cleveland Press exhibited two volumes of covers. Werner O. Staeb, Rutherford, N. J., and E. T. Parker of Bethlehem, Pa., were present as guests. The officers of the Club are:—W. I. Schwarz, president; Charles A. Reber, vice-president; Elmer Forsblom, secretary; and H. J. Fister, treasurer. The Club is Branch No. 50 of the A. P. S.

A. F. MERELL advises us that his stamp talks over the radio in San Francisco are going strongly. Recently Prof. Koch of Galileo High School, L. J. Muller and W. F. Benedict, Sec. to Mayor Ross, have been on the program with him. Mr. Merell is probably doing the finest publicity work that the year has produced.

TO DEALERS ONLY

or semidealers or just plain speculators:—

I am now prepared to supply current British Colonials, as I import them, at 10% over $4.88 to the pound plus postage. They may not be of necessity a new issue, they are what the Postmaster has on hand when my money gets there. I have now out $13,900.00, in two months I shall have $20,000.00 out.

During all the long years I ran Stanley Gibbons, Inc., I had no use for the philatelic sharpshooter or original gum fiend and when I sold that respectable concern I retired to live in the South of France. I got there. I didn't like the towns, didn't like the cigars, didn't like the food and only kept myself alive by taking doses of very fine champagne at 70 cents per bottle.

To reputable first class dealers trying to keep the landlord smiling I am prepared to supply (no ifs and no ands):—

12 copies all values ½d to 1s inclusive
6 copies all values 2s to 5s inclusive
4 copies all values 10s and 20s inclusive nothing less.

You will receive supplies as I receive them and to make sure those who ante into the deuces wild stud don't pay for those who forget to do so, let say a cheque for $50.00 in advance against shipments, renewable immediately when exhausted.

I don't guarantee centering, I send what I get. I don't give the bank back a quarter because it wasn't minted this year. I guarantee gum, that peculiarly sticky substance, Collectors in their enthusiasm pay some Ten Thousand Dollars a pint for. Let me hear from all the serious dealers trying to keep a stock of Current Colonials.

Yes, Buddy, I know the £1 is only $4.86, but exchange dealers charge 4.88 for Bank Notes and a Postmaster in Polynesia wants the real thing not a draft.

STRAY ENDS

The Springfield, Illinois, post office issues the Postmark monthly and we congratulate the postmaster, W. H. Conkling, on the interesting and enterprising manner in which he establishes a contact between his office and men and the public. As a promoter of interest in air mail service, he deserves a seat at the head of the class.

The second edition of the program of the International Philatelic Exhibition at New York is out; and we now have a fuller revelation of the great scope and magnitude of the undertaking. In the latest scheme of exhibits, provision is made for air mail stamps. No doubt a copy of the new program could be had by addressing: Charles M. Ams, secretary, 101 Park Avenue, New York City.

The following reference to the Mozambique Company, that all-powerful but somewhat mysterious corporation, judging from the little information available concerning it, is taken from an interview in the New York Times:

"A corporation named the Mozambique Company has a fifty year lease, granted in 1891, for about 60,000 square miles of land. The Mozambique holdings include the port of Beira, where great docks are being built as proof of the growing importance of the territory. The corporation has complete and dictatorial powers. It may draft native labor. Its official employees become local magistrates and judges. It maintains prisons and disciplinary barracks. Natives charged with evasion of the labor laws go before its administration to be judged. There is no court of appeal. In 1924 the Mozambique Company collected $750,000 in taxes from the natives."

Kansas City, Mo., was properly agog with interest in the Chicago-Dallas first flight and a newspaper says that air postmarks are a great lure for collectors. The following account will interest readers:

"Stamp collectors, professionally known as philatelists, are busy these days buying air mail stamps. They are getting ready to collect cancellation imprints when the first air mail leaves here May 12.

And to make the imprints more valuable, William E. Morton, postmaster, has suggested a change in the design.

The imprint as it now is approved by the postal department consists of two circles. The legends say:

> First Flight Inaugurating Contract Air Mail, Kansas City, Mo., (hour) May 12, 1926. Chicago-Dallas route.

Mr. Morton has suggested to the Chamber of Commerce the use of a heart of America insignia. The post office department already has supplied cancelling stamps with the other design and will not pay for a change, but Mr. Morton said it probably would be permitted if paid for elsewhere. A request mailed today or tomorrow to Washington could be approved by telegram Monday, allowing plenty of time to make new cancellation stamps for use on Kansas City's first air mail May 12.

If this is done, it will give Kansas City air mail a doubly unique value. Stamp collectors already are arranging to get hundreds of the stamps for the sake of the one distinction of a first-day air mail imprint.

John F. Hall, stamp clerk at the post office, reports many demands for stamps with "teeth on all edges." Collectors sometimes ask him to rip one stamp out of the center of a sheet. Why? They want stamps about which the perforations leaves an equal border of white space on all four edges. All philatelists shun the "straight edge" like sin. They buy no stamps from the side of a sheet.

One investor is addressing letters to himself at general delivery in all towns on the air route, with returns to his Kansas City address. His failure to call for his mail at these towns will require postmasters to return them here.

Another is sending several letters to every town routed, explained th wanted the extra cancellation mark trading purposes."

A WINDSOR ERROR

By H. Bedford-Jones.

In looking through a batch of air mail envelopes just returned to me from the coast, I have come upon two of particular interest, and a few others of less importance. The two, however, are probably unique.

From time to time, getting odd Canadian stamps more interesting upon an air mail cover than as mint, I have had envelopes mailed in Windsor, Ontario, with U. S. air stamps in the left corner, marked for air transmission from Detroit to Los Angeles. Two of these were mailed on the evening of March 7th last. They went on to Detroit next day, and bear backstamp and face stamp of March 8th; beyond the rubber-stamp marking "Via Air Mail" they bear no other stamp than the Windsor cancellation, Los Angeles not having applied any receiving mark. As they reached the addressee promptly and were returned to me by the end of March—how could the Windsor cancellation bear the date of "11 P.M. APR 7"?

Knowing nothing of cancelling machines—this bears a "slogan" flag as well as the date circle—I cannot tell whether they are susceptible of errors. These two envelopes, however, were mailed on March 7th, as I can, if necessary, prove on oath; I can also obtain sworn statements that they were received in Los Angeles and returned to me before the end of March. This, to dispel any idea that they were doubly mailed, although it would be shown by the cancellations. Plainly, the Windsor machine had the right church but the wrong pew — the right date, but the wrong month! It would be interesting to know whether anyone else has made the same discovery.

Obviously, the long 10c air stamp created much confusion among postal employees. A number of envelopes mailed in Detroit, to go from Chicago to Los Angeles by air, part way, were taken for special deliveries and stamped "Fee claimed, etc.," although the Los Angeles backstamp here shows that they went by air. Again, covers mailed in China, with U. S. stamps to pay for air service from San Francisco east, got the air service as the back stamp shows—but the air mail stamps remained uncancelled!

Most interesting of all these lesser freaks, perhaps, are a number of covers sent from England, to go by air from New York to Chicago. To the British employees, "air mail" meant only British air mail. So, if a cover had less than sixpence in English stamps, despite the U. S. Air Mail stamps and markings opposite, it was labeled "Insufficiently Paid For Transmission By Air Mail," and a postage due put on, and the U. S. stamps promptly cancelled to boot. The receiving authorities in New York, probably used to the British opinion of Americans, very kindly sent on the letters by Night Air Mail, and said so. Again, one envelope bearing a 3d Victoria of 1873, had absolutely befuddled clerks. One clerk made penciled markings around the stamp and applied a postage due, then somebody told him that a British stamp was always good for postage, so he scratched out the postage due, cancelled the American air stamps, and let it go at that. And the 3d came through uncanceled, the U. S. stamps bore both London and New York cancellations, and the Chicago backstamp showed it was a flown cover!

FAR AND NEAR:—

THE Washington (Pa.) Reporter of May 11 contained a first page article on the new Sesqui stamp. It was written by Charles L. Hall. He says: — "Tell your readers how easy this is done. I merely called at the office of the newspaper with a new cover and a few minutes with the City Editor did the trick. We have grand opportunities for press notices, and how few make use of them."

DOWN in El Paso there has been organized the J. Delano Bartlett Branch of the A. P. S. Mr. Bartlett is president, H. T. Anderson, vice-president, and A. P. Myers, secretary. The club has fourteen members. El Paso has about fifty adult collectors and is very much alive in philately.

WE have previously noted the Ohlman auction to be held August 10 at the S. P. A. Cincinnati convention. The finest item will be a 30c 1869, inverted flags, cat. $2,000. There is also a block of four 90c 1861 and many other choice items, including a genuine Hawker flown cover. One of latter recently brought $350 in a Harmer London sale.

DURING the past week the Garfield-Perry Stamp Club of Cleveland held its second annual junior stamp contest and exhibition in the Cleveland Public Library, and it will continue until June 5. There will be some fine exhibits by members of the Garfield-Perry Stamp Club. President Langdon is positive that the interest this year will be much greater than last year, when the attendance was 2500. This item of news was submitted by P. A. Finlayson of the publicity committee. We regret that an extended notice submitted was not received in time for our issue of May 24.

A SUBSCRIBER writes us as follows: —"It would be a great convenience if you carried an alphabetical list of advertisers. Then if a person wanted to get a Liberian stamp he could turn to the index and know what dealer to write." Such an index would not be practicable. If we had only Liberia to cover we could no doubt get by, but the field is altogether too large for us to attempt the kind of index suggested. We hardly feel that an index of advertisers is really necessary.

IN our account of the organizing of a new stamp club in Albany, N. Y., we neglected to mention the fact that Mrs. Robert L. Banks was elected Honorary President. Mrs. Banks is one of our old subscribers, having been a collector for over forty years. Many of her finest stamps were purchased from Howard K. Sanderson, who will be remembered as one of the leading dealers twenty years ago.

WE have received from Herman W. Boers a copy of the 1926 Year Book of the Michigan Stamp Club. It is a handy little book. It includes the membership list, constitution and by-laws, a history of the club, list of officers since organization, rules of the auction department and other matter of interest.

HARK YE, PATRIOTS

Here's a cover of unique interest. Franked with the new 2c Sesqui-Centennial stamp and the current 1c, 2c, 3c, and 9c, and flown by air mail to Cheyenne, Wyoming. It shows the Liberty Bell, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, and the three men who did most to found and preserve our country. This combination on the red, white and blue striped envelope makes a cover of unusual attractiveness for any collection.

This cover and ten issues of my circular giving latest news about new U. S. stamps and new air mail routes for only $1.00.

UNITED STATES "EDUCATORS"

For those who are not certain of their classifications of 19th Century U. S. stamps (and that means nine collectors out of every ten) we have made up this series of packets and approval booklets, in which every stamp has its correct catalog number.

Packet A.—30 varieties of U. S. postage only, all classified, including every issue from 1851 to 1890 inclusive, only $2.00

Packet B.—20 varieties of the hard-to-place Bank Note issues each one numbered according to Scott's catalog, 1871 to 1890 .....$1.00

"Educator" Approvals contain almost all regularly issued stamps of the United States from 1847 to 1900. No stamp priced more than $5, most of them at big discounts from catalog prices. Sent only against references or deposit. [H

You must have some of these cancellations or some almost like them. Numbers 1 and 5 are outbound Foreign Mail cancels applied in N. Y. City P. O., and there are many of these circular forms on the Bank Note issues going abroad. Some are applied in red, and give fine color effects on the beautiful printings of these issues, the stamps being large, and the cancels even larger, a pair cleanly hit will give you something that is extremely beautiful, tho hard to find when centered all round as to stamps and cancel.

No. 3, a five-sided figure, makes a fine cancel. There are many similar forms, one in blue having a colorless letter in each point, reading "Union" is very neat. Some of these five-sided affairs come from Mittineague, Mass., a town noted for its high grade paper.

Nos. 7 and 10 look rather ordinary here, tho they are very effective on these 15c yellow and orange stamps, as the cleanly struck little thin black lines are a startling change from the regulation smudgy effects one usually finds on a 15c B. N. stamp. No. 8 is clean cut too, and looks just about right on a 3c green.

No. 6 occurs "Under Two Flags" so to say, for after serving on the U. S. 1857's, it ran over onto the 5c green lithos of the Confederate States, and this permits a collector to mount these two stamps side by side in amity if he is fortunate enough to find both of them. You who collect both U. S. and C. S. stamps, why not make a page in your album showing a stamp of each country with the same obliteration? It will not be a very crowded page, let's see. Tuscaloosa, Raleigh, N. C., with its 7 bar grid, and Canton, Mi., are the principal ones you will find as far as the obliterators go; but many used the same postmarking smacker, and you can fill up your page with these. Most of the C. S. A. stamps were hit by postmarks rather than by obliterators.

From Mr. F. L. White comes a remarkable cancellation, it being a face looking east on a 1c 1869. It was used in Waterbury, Ct., and while it resembles no picture celebrities of my recollection, it might be called nevertheless a "striking" likeness.

Here is a celebrity tho, on a cover bearing a 3c 1851, used in 1856 to judge by its appearances. This cover bears two "stamps", at left is the regulation 3c stamp pmkd. "Mt. Vernon, O.", while at the top right where the stamp normally comes, is a black "stamp", of the same general size as the 3c stamp, bearing the head of John C. Fremont, the first Republican candidate for President. The sender's sentiment is shown by three small drawings: at top left is a playing card with five pips (am calling them pips as I've forgotten if they are clubs, spades, or what they are), at lower left the playing card shows three pips, at lower right is a deuce, and reading up we find at top right the ace—Fremont. 'Tis a nicely conceived campaign cover, even if this ace did lose the trick.

On a large lot of 3c 1861's the following unusual cancels were seen: Ultramarine PAID inside a circle with stars above and rays below, with similar cancels in black; FREE in large blue letters; 5 point star with open center in green; cut cork octagon in green; 5 point star with small 5 point star in center in blue; similar star with two ring target in center; "Stockbridge, Mass" in orange; and a shield showing in the bottom the word Falls.

The above are some of the less common cancels in this lot. There were many others, and the best of these are now traced and filed in the archives to be reproduced at my leisure, whatever that means.

Cancellations are still coming my way, sometimes it will be a few, or only one;

SPRINGFIELD CLUB MEETS

The last regular meeting of the Springfield (Mass.) Stamp Club was made particularly interesting by the Exhibition of the remarkable collection of the stamps of N.S.W. shown by Mr. Theodore E. Steinway. When a single copy of the first issue of this country is annexed to some local collection there is a general rush to see what it actually looks like; but the cancellation is generally so opaque that the color of the stamp may be guessed as either the "blue one" or the "red one."

As the soft copper plates showed wear in their early stages of use, they were soon recut, some plates having two recuttings. Among the varieties were mentioned "Pick and Shovel omitted," also "Whip omitted."

The Queen Laureated was shown in all shades and colors, and then right on down through the whole 19th Century range, though one could tell that the owner's interest centered mostly on the early issues, rather than the watermarks and multi-punched perfs that abound in that country, as well as in all Australians.

The exhibit was varied by covers, blocks, strips and pairs. Then just to show how these plates were made up, platings were shown of many of the values in their entirety, and some nearly completed, oftentimes in two or three shades.

One item (Scott No. 31), the 1 shilling in mint block of four showed the Queen's heads on this beautiful pale red background, standing out like cameos. One of the most beautiful platings was the Red and Blue Registry stamp, the uniformity of coloring being such that it looked like a mint sheet just from the Post Office, though each stamp had seen postal duty.

Mr. Toaspern showed his collection of Heligoland. He said a few words about the various phases of these stamps, and his collection was much appreciated.

This meeting was graced by five members of the Hot Stove League, the other three members being Elliott Perry, Harry Konwiser and E. P. Radford, who sponsored the party. All in all it was an unusual gathering—full of pep and comedy, with of course a solid background of philately in her highest moments — a theme carrying solidly throughout the entire evening.

ANTHONY TROLLOPE'S STAMP STORY

By FRANK E. ROBBINS

I am always interested to find references to philatelic subjects in things I read casually, so that when happening upon Anthony Trollope's novel, "John Caldigate," recently, I found it bristling with matters concerning stamps and their use, and postal customs, it seemed quite an event. In fact, the episode to which I refer is one of the central ones of the novel.

It may be recalled that Trollope was from 1841 to 1867 in the British postal service, so that he should know whereof he speaks. His duties were in the nature of a traveling inspectorship of rural deliveries in Ireland, Wales, and England, and he was sent on official errands to other countries on one or two occasions. Some of the best of his novels were written before he left the post office. It is rather strange, therefore, to find that in "John Caldigate" he makes several errors in details on which almost any general collector could correct him.

The novel was written in 1879, and Trollope had visited Australia in 1871, publishing a book about his travels in 1873. The hero, John Caldigate, having accumulated a few debts at Cambridge and being decidedly in his father's bad graces, seeks his fortune in the gold fields of New South Wales. On the voyage out he makes the acquaintance of an adventuress, Mrs. Euphemia Smith, and later, in the frontier life of the mining camps, he becomes decidedly entangled with the lady. He returns to England, however, with a fortune, wins back his father's confidence, marries the girl he had always loved, and settles down as a country squire. Very soon, however, he receives a letter from Mrs. Smith, who is associated with an old mining partner of his, named Crinkett, demanding that he return to them a portion of the money which they had paid him for his share in a mine, which had formerly been profitable but had very soon petered out. As an alternative she threatens him with a suit for bigamy, alleging that they were married in Australia. The story goes on to tell how Mrs. Smith and Crinkett appear in England, the trial takes place, and Caldigate is at first convicted and then on further evidence pardoned.

The philatelic part of the story comes in the account of the trial and the subsequent investigations. An important part of the evidence offered is a letter produced by Mrs. Smith "addressed in John Caldigate's handwriting to "Mrs. Caldigate, Ahalala, Nobble', which letter had been dated inside from Sydney, and which envelope bore the Sydney post mark." It was claimed that this constituted an admission of the marriage; but Caldigate, though he admitted writing both address and letter, said that the letter had not been sent in the envelope, and that the address had been a mere piece of pleasantry.

The defense called in two postal employees from the London office as expert witnesses, Bagwax and Curlydo At the trial they pointed out, first, the receiving mark of the Nobble office was absent, and, second, that Sydney post mark was too clear cut have been produced in the ordinary tine and shuffled about with other let which would inevitably have blurred They could not deny, however, that up-country postmaster might have lessly omitted the receiving stamp, or by extraordinary good luck the might have escaped smudging. He the testimony did not convince the ju Bagwax, however, was an enthusi His specialty was post marks, and a the trial he continued the study or case with all the enthusiasm of a devo convinced that fraud existed and tha could be shown. He assembled a la number of Sydney covers of all dates compare with the one which figured the trial, which was dated May 10, t He finds one dated May 7 and anot May 13, and in all 18 with various d in May (one would think, by the w that in a lot of this number, all from month, there would have been a few m covers between the 6th and the 13t Examination with a glass will not sh a single one of these that is exactly the cancellation of the Caldigate let and though he is forced to admit the Sydney office may have emplo more than one canceller he becomes c vinced that the post mark in question fraudulently affixed after the t claimed, and, moreover, he manages infect Sir John Joram, the barrister, the defense, with some of his own thusiasm. He shows Sir John that e in the clearest of the genuine post ma there is a little smudging. "If yo follow with your eye," he says, "the cular line which makes up the round the post mark, you'll find a dent on outside bar." (Was the post mark, th a double circle?) Further, though t were all intended to be of the same tern, the circle has gradually beco smaller: "the Caldigate impression i little, very little—ever so little—sma than any of the May, '73." In spite all this evidence, Sir John thinks B wax should go to Sydney to investig and especially to examine the book at post office in which they keep daily pressions of all cancellations used.

But Bagwax gets another idea, wh makes the trip unnecessary. He expla it thus to his friend Curlydown: "Y see that postage stamp? Does it not you anything particular? Look agai

"I see that they obliterate out th with a kind of star."

"That has nothing to do with it."

"The bunch of hair at the back of head isn't quite like our bunch of hair

"Just the same; taken from the sa die."

"The little holes for dividing stamps are bigger."

"It isn't that."

"Then what is it?"

"There are letters at every corner."

A Great Collection of Early Uruguay Stamps

In pursuance of my plan to build up a stock of the classic issues of America, I have the pleasure to announce the purchase of the famous collection of early Uruguay stamps formed by Mr. Gerald Curtis including the 1856 to 1867 issues only.

Mr. Curtis has always been fascinated with the study of stamps that could be plated and all these I have now purchased are plated and every stamp numbered showing its true position.

The collection was contained in five large volumes which I have now broken up into a number of my approval books which I can send to serious collectors on demand. The following are a few of the more interesting items contained in it.

1856, Diligencia, 60c blue, 9 unused, 2 on covers, and one of the very rare second type.
1856, Diligencia, 80c green, 22 unused.
1856, Diligencia, 1r vermilion, 33 unused.
1858, 120c blue, 7 copies.
1858, 180c green, 16 copies.
1858, 240c vermilion, 31 copies.
1859, thin figures. This is an exceedingly fine lot of singles, pairs and strips, used and unused, 197 copies in all.
1860, thick numerals. Fine lot with all the shades and varieties, 165 copies.
In the 1868 issue, there are two reconstructed sheets of the 5c blue, all unused, mostly built up from large blocks and strips. Also one reconstructed sheet of used.
Of the scarce 5c ultramarine, there are about 30 copies with all the errors and several unused.
In the 10c green, imperf., Pane of 50, reconstructed unused and used. Several other panes partly reconstructed.
The 15c imperf., reconstructed pane of 35.
The 20c imperf., reconstructed pane of 50.
In this issue there are many transfer errors where a wrong number has been inserted in the make-up.
The same applies to the perforated issues of 1866-1868, which are exceedingly strong unused and used.
I recommend the above issues as a sound investment and most interesting subjects for further study and research work.

CHICAGO-DALLAS FIRST FLIGHT

The Chicago-Dallas route was opened May 12 and we have before us no fewer than eight covers with varied markings. Albert E. Gorham sends a first flight Chicago to Dallas, 5.30 A. M., May 12, large circular marking, and upon the reverse is a Dallas receiving cancellation May 12, 6 P. M. Three other covers sent by Mr. Gorham are noted as follows: (1) May 12 Dallas to Chicago regulation 8 P. M. marking, and without receiving cancellation at the Chicago end; (2) First flight Kansas City to Chicago, May 12, 1.45 P. M., with large airmail cancellation, but no Chicago receiving mark on reverse side; (3) Wichita to Chicago, with large marking 11.30 A. M. for posting and Chicago receiving mark on reverse side, May 12, 12 P. M.

All of these covers give proof of airmail service with the exception of the Dallas to Chicago, which does not have the regulation large airmail cancellation.

Charles W. Jones sends us a Chicago-Dallas cover postmarked Kansas City, May 12, 1.45 P. M., and on the reverse side a New York receiving mark of May 13, 10.30 A. M. J. E. Guest sends us a Dallas-Chicago First Flight showing airmail departure 7 A. M., May 12, but minus Chicago receiving date.

K. Pathe sends us a Dallas-Chicago First Flight, which duplicates the one above described from J. E. Guest. J. Klopus submits a Kansas City which duplicates the Jones cover.

We Are Now Breaking Up The Collection of
UNITED STATES
5 and 10 Cents 1847
FORMED BY Mr. A. W. Filstrup

The Collection, one of the finest of this group, contains 428 of the 5 cents and 264 of the 10 cents. There are many pairs and strips of both values and 2 blocks of four of the 5 cents. One of the special features is the wonderful array of cancellations.

Prices are in accordance with present market conditions, which may seem rather high to the average collector. Interested collectors should write at once for further particulars.

the New South Wales issues had no letters in the corners, and it is rather general information that the letters in the corners of the English stamps had nothing to do with the year of manufacture. The head of Queen Victoria, to be sure, was much alike on both types, though the frames are very different.

If the good Homer nods I suppose an ex-postal inspector (and a very good novelist) may be allowed to make a mistake about stamps. But I didn't expect to find Anthony Trollope writing that New South Wales used a stamp of Great Britain in 1873.

FROM THE RUBAIYAT OF OMAR THE PHILATELIST

(By C. E. R.)

As the brief Winter twilight faded clear
To close the opening Day of this New Year,
I sat before my desk, surrounded by The Bits of Paper that I hold so dear.

And as I dreamed of Happiness to be
When I should own some precious Rarity,
I heard the Stamps within the Book converse
In many Tones, like mere Humanity.

Said one: "Although I bear an honored Face,
"And Service gave, by sticking in one Place,
"Behold how careless Man rewarded me,
"With black Obliteration's harsh Disgrace!"

Another said: "Methinks our Lot is blest,
"That we by one who loves are possessed,
"Who have our obvious Destiny fulfilled,
"Our Duty done, and now in Honor rest."

A Seebeck spake: "My lot is most unkind,
"Who suffer Scorn because by Fraud designed;
"Yet mine the Lure that draws Beginners on
"To fill the gaps, and keep the Ranks aligned."

And then a One Cent Stamp said earnestly,
"A Place within the Scheme of Things have we,
"As well as that Five Dollar haughty one,
"Without our help no Set complete can be."

"Aye, Brother," spake an Invert. "Even so
"My Place, like Thine, was erst among the Low
"Until the Error that has made my Worth
"Was found, and I up to the Heights did go."

"O loved of Fortune!" bitterly then spake
A Sixty Filler Stamp of Soviet make;
"Men sneer because my Forehead is askew.
"What! Did the Hand of the Engraver shake?"

"Have Hope, O Friend," another said. "I stand
"The lone Survivor of a numerous Band;
"And Thou, as I, may'st yet become so Rare
"That Men shall honor Thee throughout the Land!"

And as I woke, and drew from out a Nook
Some new Approvals over which to look,
Methought they murmured happily, "O Brothers,
"Here come more Friends to join us in the Book!"

STRAY ITEMS:—

ACCORDING to the Dallas News, J. E. Guest received 579 letters on the first airplane carrying mail into Dallas. These were sent him by members of the A. P. S. for the most part, in order to obtain first day covers.

WE have received from the Inter Exchange Club of Cuba a copy of the new "A B C of Stamp Collecting." It is a Spanish translation of the well known book by Fred J. Melville, president of the Junior Philatelic Society of London. The Spanish text is by J. D. Sague. This is a handsome book of 170 pages, freely illustrated, and may be obtained for $1 by addressing Mrs. Juana Diaz, Cristo, Oriente, Cuba. The book is a marked bit of enterprise and we earnestly urge all of our readers who are acquainted with Spanish to secure a copy of the book.

M. J. FENSTER, the well known New York City dealer, is leaving for a trip abroad which will include Egypt and Palestine. Communications sent to his address, 706 Riverside Drive, N. Y. City, will be forwarded.

IT is with a sad heart that I inform you that our beloved associate and fellow-collector, August Von Voecklin, passed away on Saturday, May 8. He was a great exponent of stamp specializing and British Colonials, U. S. and Canada, with a few other countries, were his favorites. He was a member of the Tacoma Philatelic Society. His death comes as a great blow and he leaves a large gap in the Society. His son, August Von Voecklin, Jr., is also a member of the Tacoma Society." — MARSHALL MILLER, Tacoma, Wash.

THE Utica Stamp Club, Branch 66 A. P. S., held its sixth annual banquet on Monday, May 10. There were two classes of exhibits. The first prize in the first group, $12.50, was won by Floyd Harrington with a specialized collection of Austria first issue. The first prize in the second group was won by H. R. Hunt and the second by Carlton B. Jones, prizes in both instances being subscriptions to stamp papers. The president of the Utica Club is Floyd Harrington and the secretary-treasurer is W. J. B. Williams. The club meets in the Arcade Bldg. the second and fourth Mondays of each month.

EDITORIAL.

Philately is hale and hearty these days and shows no signs of lassitude even though the summer is coming on; and this year, there will be no slack season that will be comparable to the one that descends ordinarily on collecting during the months of hot weather. The New York Exhibition next October will bridge the chasm between seasons and preparations for the big event will make the next five months very active ones. That general interest in philately is running high just now is proved by the volume of inquiries and comments coming to hand, as when collectors will take the time to ask questions and to express their opinions on abstract subjects, they have stamps much in mind. It is one thing to be interested in stamps themselves but when collectors attend as well to the suggestions of stamps, augmented attention is being given philately. Here we have a sort of introductory to a paragraph taken from the letter of one of the largest publishers in this country, from whom we have the privilege of hearing occasionally and who has endeared himself to us by promising us a job on one of his publications if the WEEKLY ever went up the spout! He says: "You have spoken of the provincialism of philately and the way in which to emerge from that condition. Has it ever occurred to you that the stamp papers that in themselves are the best exponents of philately are doing nothing to enlist the interest of those who are not confirmed philatelists? The scientific article does not attract them and they have the feeling that they are not within the inspired circle of collecting, when they examine the purely philatelic publication. If the outsider is to be considered a prospect, he must be aimed at by reading matter that will strike his fancy; and I notice that your paper has the inclination to recognize the fact."

Some weeks ago, we read in the editorial column of the Pathfinder of Washington, a reference to "Auntie Leadbetter" of Alexandria, Virginia, who found an Alexandria provisional which she sold for eight thousand dollars; and the editor 'finished his paragraph with the injunction: "But now we don't want you to hunt up a lot of old postage stamps and write to us to ask how much they are worth and where you can sell them. There is no market for old stamps such as there is for oil or potatoes; valuable ones are very rare and it is a big job to find a purchaser." This somewhat unconventional treatment of the subject did not have a tendency to make one feel that the story was unassailable but now further particulars have come through the newspaper press. The New York Herald and Tribune of May 14th, confirms the discovery of another Alexandria, which was acquired from the finder by Mr. Percy W. Fuller of Baltimore, who made the sale of the stamp for $8,000. Here is the story as succinctly told by the newspaper: "The letter which was folded and sealed but had no envelope, was mailed to Edward S. Leadbeater, then seven years old, while he was visiting friends at Parkin's Mill, near Winchester, Va. He kept it and took it home with him to Alexandria. It had no value beyond the fact that it was one of the first letters that he ever received but for life it was preserved, along with other papers of material and sentimental value. This spring his widow went through all the old papers, determined to throw away the more worthless among them. Reading the letter, she saw mentioned the name of a friend of her husband's who is still alive. Thinking that the eighty-year-old message would have some interest for this friend, she showed it to him and he told her the stamp might be worth a few dollars to a collector. Mrs. Leadbeater hardly believed that it would have any value to anybody but allowed friends to get in touch with Mr. Fuller." The stamp was canceled at Alexandria on August 25, 1846, and "Mr. Fuller has unstamped letters which were mailed at Alexandria both a few days before and a few days after the one bearing the now highly valuable stamp, indicating that the issue was short-lived." While it is said in the newspaper account that this is the third copy known, we believe that it is the fourth; and though it is known that the tenure of use of the stamp was limited, it would be surprising if it were used for only a few days. As collectors know, the stamp was typeset and is known on both buff and bluish papers.

That collectors are not all of one mind on the question of stamp investment is indicated by the receipt of several letters of dissent to the proposition that stamps will bring many happy returns. The experienced correspondent, Mr. Benedict Prieth, Avon-by-the-Sea, New Jersey, says: "I fully agree with the views of Mr. Hubert Lyman Clark as set forth in your issue of May 10th. I have been an importer of Bermuda stamps these many years but 'nary' a penny of profit have my activities netted me. The Bermudians look to me to buy their used stamps and I do not wish to disappoint them. Why? Well, it's a long story which some day, when I am in the mood, I'll tell you all about. Buying and selling Bermuda stamps is my hobby. It keeps me busy and I am ever in hopes that one of the rare old postmaster's provisionals will bob up. Maybe it will some day. Quien sabe?"

The New York "Times" says that both Byrd and Amundsen carried batches of mail on their polar flights. We infer from the account that a package of one hundred letters was carried by each commander; and each letter in Byrd's machine was stamped with the 24c airplane, U. S., while the Norge's letters each bore a special stamp issued by Norway, that was sold in blocks of five for the equivalent of 72 cents. "The Norwegian stamp is of particular interest to collectors. It is vividly colored, showing a polar bear on an ice floe, gazing up at an airplane." Mention is made that "an East Orange stamp collector" made the arrangements for the carriage of letters several months ago and that the "100 letters on the Norge were dispatched by post from Svallard, Norway, to King's Bay and at that point turned over to Lincoln Ellsworth." The paper makes the justifiable statement that these souvenir letters will be in much demand by stamp collectors and others.

The Norsk Luftseiladsforenings, Oslo, Norway, says that Norway celebrated the Amundsen-Ellsworth pole flight in 1925 by the issue of seven stamps which are catalogued by Senf, and others, the project having been under the auspices of the Norwegian Aero Club. The following circular has now been received: "As you will remember, the Norwegian post office occasioned by Roald Amundsen's North Pole expedition issued on April 1st, 1925, a set of postal stamps comprising seven different values. These stamps, commonly known as the North Pole Stamps, were printed in very small issues, of which 60,000 sets were placed on sale at the Post Offices in Norway at their face values, while we bought the remainder. The Post Offices were completely sold out the first day. It is now our desire to sell the stamps in our possession, of which we beg to give a list below . . . Our fixed price is Norwegian kr. 1.60 per set for unused mint stamps, and the stamps will be sold by us to dealers only." Further references are made and the stamps are said to have the same value used or unused. The number of stamps of each denomination issued ranges from 202,700 to 569,700 stamps and on an average about one-third of the stamps have been sold by the post office and the present holders of the stamps. It will be remembered that when news of this issue was given last year there was no little criticism of the manner in which the stamps were handled and it is evident that the stamps now offered will not be received with enthusiasm by many collectors. Here we have the polar bear looking at the airplane and the stamps of this set and our catalog says that these stamps are not needed in the postal service.

TURKS & CAICOS ISLANDS, 1925

By Harry E. Huber.

On April 1, 1922, by a Post Office Notice of March 24, 1922, the international post card rate was raised from 1d to 1½d, and although the Crown type stamps were then being prepared (issued November 20, 1922), this denomination was not included in the series. Post cards have not been stocked at Grand Turk for many years.

In June, 1925, a 1½d stamp was ordered from the Crown Agents, with a further supply of 3d, 4d and 2s. These were received at Grand Turk by the Clyde-Santo Domingo steamer "Iroquois", October 22nd, and issued on November 24th (1½d and 2s), and December 10, 1925 (3d and 4d) respectively.

The 3d blue differs only slightly in shade from the original printing, and the 4d is red on lemon instead of on pale yellow. The 2s originally, red on green Roman CA watermarked, perforated 14 single line, is now on script CA green, and comb perforated 14. Green script CA was first used for the 10s of St. Kitts-Nevis Tercentenary series issued Jan. 2, 1923.

The 1½d red was printed in sheets of 120, undivided, on script CA watermarked paper, with the name of the printers, "Thomas De La Rue & Company, Limited, London", in minute caps, in the lower margin, under the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th stamps. The plates of the other denominations of the series were not so marked. The design is identical with the other denominations of the series, i.e., head of King George V. (Cayman Islands type) within an arched band (at the bases of which are Turks head cacti) lettered "Turks & Caicos Islands." Placed horizontally in each of the upper corners is the Imperial Crown, and in the two lower corners, the denomination is expressed in colored figures and letters on a plain ground. At the foot is "Postage" with a six pointed star either side, and below this "Three Half Pence" in thin colorless caps.

The stamp design while more pleasing than that of the 1913 series, is not nearly so effective as that of the Cayman Islands, owing to the duplication of so many details. There are two Crowns, the value appears in words once and figures twice, and the Turks head cacti is duplicated. Had the name of the Islands been placed in two horizontal lines at the top, and the King's head in an oval with crown, off center to the right, the other necessary details could have been worked into the design without overcrowding.

1925.—King George (Cayman Islands type). Line engraved and recess printed by De La Rue & Co., Ltd., London. Watermarked multiple Crown and script CA. Perforated comb 14.

1½d red. (Nov. 24, 1925.)
4d red on lemon. (Dec. 10, 1925.)
2s red on emerald green. (Nov. 24, 1925.)

PHILADELPHIA LUNCHEON CLUB

Usual Attendants: Dengler, Klein, McCollum, Steinmetz, Wolsieffer and out of town guests.

Time: 12 o'clock noon, Wednesday, May 12.

Stamp investments were mentioned which naturally led to a discussion of various recent publications on the subject, such as R. D. MacGuffin's new book entitled "Stamps as an Investment." The book has undoubtedly created interest and considerable comment. It is full of valuable statistics and good humor. At the very beginning of the book we read of the little boy whose answer in every adversity is sweetness and light.

It would appear that all do not coincide with Mr. MacGuffin's views, and it is not at all surprising that we find the first critic to be a specialist who buys enthusiastically and without any regard to investment. A specialist's purchase after all is for the gratification of the purchaser with the full knowledge of the fact that when he sells, his market is limited to specialists in a particular line. One of the diners mentioned an actual experience of a well known collector who is plating Sydney Views. When he had the plate nearly completed, lacking possibly a dozen stamps, his anxiety to complete the plate was so great that he would pay any price or accept any kind of a specimen regardless of condition so it would fill the space. Later when this collection was sold at auction he certainly could not figure it an investment.

The consensus of opinion is that the book is worth reading.

Considerable excitement about the Malta "Postage" provisionals. Four of the diners clubbed together to order them direct from Malta, where speculation runs highest. Quotations by various dealers are being compared and the discrepancy found appalling. Quotations for the commoner varieties ranged from 5% over face to 50 cents a shilling. The 4d, 1s, 2s and 2s6d are apparently the good ones. Nobody knows how good. Figures at present are lacking.

Discussion to be continued 12 o'clock Wednesday, May 19.

Fine Mounted Stock For General Collectors -- On Approval

I have some 10,000 selected U. S. and Foreign, on approval sheets, marked with Scott's numbers and prices, which I want to send to serious collectors. Of many stamps, a dozen or more specimens are offered—for shades, cancels, etc. Numerous pairs, strips and blocks are included, also some mint sets. No precancels, not many New Europe, and no trash—just stamps that should be in any average collection.

U. S. CIVIL WAR REVENUE ERROR
25c Blue and Black, Unperforated

Just exactly sixteen copies of the Second Issue 25c blue and black Civil War Revenue in unperforated condition were recently located on old stock certificates of the Southwestern Market Company of Philadelphia. These were all used around April of 1872 and were located among dozens of the normal perforated copies. The margins are so wide that it would be physically impossible to trim a perforated copy and they have been seen by some of our best posted students, and all pronounce them as a real error. We know that the sewing machine perforated copies of this issue were privately made from the unperforated stamp but heretofore, we have not seen the unperforated variety.

Several of these copies are available at a price of $10.00 each. When ten copies are gone, the price on the balance is subject to an advance. Every stamp is guaranteed to be as represented.

Am in the market to buy anything fine in the way of Civil War Revenues, especially mint copies, single rarities including the inverts and unusual pieces in the way of pairs, strips and blocks. I only desire the early issues and not those of recent years.

Dallas-Chicago Air Mail Service Established

In accordance with previous announcement in this column, the air mail service between Dallas and Chicago was established on May 12th. The amount of mail to be carried was so large that it was necessary to have two planes go forward from each point. Considerable attention was given the inauguration at both cities and the Rev. T. O. Perrin, who kindly sends a first day cover, also sends a clipping from the Dallas Morning News in which first page notice is given to the subject.

Dallas used the normal first type of contract air mail postmark and in addition an outline of the State of Texas, showing Dallas located by means of a star, the postmark reading, "Dallas—The City of the Hour." All of the markings that I have seen are in a dark green, the same color being used both for the outline State postmark as well as the air mail contract route marking.

Mr. J. E. Guest and Mr. Erwin Strasser kindly favor us with letters from Dallas.

Fort Worth, the second town covered by the service coming north, used a purple ink in applying the air mail postmark and Mr. Claude W. Parker favors us with a cover from this point. Rev. Joseph Dreyer, S. N., sends a cover which escaped the air mail postmark but is most interesting as the town cancellation shows that it left Fort Worth on May 12th at 7.00 A. M. and is backstamped in New York May 13—11.30 A. M., showing that it came via air.

The third landing field from Dallas is Oklahoma City, and we wish to thank Messrs. Thomas P. Martin and J. William Harmon for covers from here. Oklahoma City used a magenta ink in cancelling their letters and one peculiarity about the communication sent us by Mr. Harmon is that it not only has the New York backstamp found on most of the mail coming east, but in addition is backstamped from Cleveland. Evidently this was put into the wrong bag through error. Mr. Martin uses an ingenious envelope wherein we are fully informed by a notation on the back as to the postage from Oklahoma City to several of the larger centers and advises as to the time communications should be mailed. There is in addition a purple marking, which may have been applied at the post office or may have been privately applied, reading within a double line square, "Make Your Letters Fly." Kansas City made use of the regular large type contract air mail postmark printed in black. This they applied to the envelope and canceled the stamp by means of the regular canceler. Moline used a similar postmark with magenta ink for canceling both the stamp and marking the envelope. Wichita, Kansas, made similar use of their postmark but used violet ink. All of the covers that I have seen from this trip are backstamped by the receiving office.

Mr. Maurice Caraway kindly sends clippings with Chicago, Kansas City and Dallas headings, relative to this initial flight.

Air Mail Notes

Under date of May 12th, the Postmaster General announced that service on contract air mail route No. 9 from Chicago, Ill., by way of Milwaukee and La Crosse, Wisconsin, to St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minn., will be inaugurated on June 7th. When this route is in operation we are told it will afford a fourteen-hour service by air mail between New York and the "Twin Cities." This schedule will connect with the over-night service between New York and Chicago. Mail leaving New York at 8.00 P. M. will reach St. Paul and Minneapolis before noon of the second day.

It is now contemplated that in time the Department will turn over the transcontinental air mail service to some private concern and have all air mail carried under contract, just the same as the railroads handle the mail today. At the present time, I understand it is a losing proposition for the contractors but they contemplate making their money on express deliveries. At least one of the larger firms is now working out a plan with one of the larger express companies to co-operate with them in this respect.

Regular Stamps Used for Collecting Postage Due

Mention has been previously made in this column as to the use of regular postage stamps in connection with the collection of postage due. It has been found that in the case of smaller cities, such procedure is not uncommon. Rev. Joseph Dreyer, S. N., has just submitted a cover showing postage due in amount of 6c collected by means of a 5c Roosevelt and a 1c Franklin at Union, La. The stamps are tied to the cover by means of the usual postmark and the cover in addition is marked, "For return to sender, postage due 6c."

Post Office Seal Oddity

Mr. Howard C. Buttermore has submitted for inspection one of the type set blue post office seals reading, "U. S. Post Office Official Seal—Opened By Mistake by—," wherein we find a direct impression on the back as well as on the front.

It is suggested that collectors examine their stamps carefully, for during the last few months three new varieties printed on the back have come to our attention, one being a Revenue, one a Newspaper stamp and in this case, a Post Office se

We wish to thank Dr. Jason Sam Parker, Messrs. J. C. Harrigan, C. Hohenstein and R. H. Langdon for formation of interest.

New Revenue Stamp

I have just learned from a responsi source that the 80c carmine rose, Doc mentary stamp, overprinted "Future D livery" in two lines has been located, which the surcharge is 2mm. apart, sim lar to the 1c variety, Scott's No. 4289.

DENMARK.—A correspondent sends a copy of the Politiken, a newspaper pu lished in Copenhagen, containing so interesting particulars concerning t provisional 7 öre stamps which were sued on April 1st to meet an alterati in the rate of postage on postcards. T new 7 öre stamps not being ready, stoc of obsolete stamps remaining on ha were surcharged. The ordinary stam so overprinted were the 8 öre grey a 27 öre red and grey, and in addition these, the 1, 3, 4, 5, 10, 15 and 20 official stamps of 1915 were surcharg "Danmark Postfrim 7 öre." The 7 on 7 on 4 and 7 on 15 öre appear to be fai plentiful, but the others are scarce, esp cially the 7 on 5 öre, which are selling Copenhagen at the equivalent of abo 5sh each. In addition to these a furth provisional has appeared, 12 on 15 ordinary stamps. The newspaper abo referred to states that complete sets the nine stamps of 7 öre could only obtained at the Stamp Exhibition he held at the Central Post Office at t price of Kr.1.25 including eight pictor postcards. Only 300 sets were sold ea day, and only one set allowed to ea visitor. A photograph is shown of t queue of several hundred people outsi the Post Office round three sides of t square in front of the building.—Whi field King & Co.'s Bulletin.

EGYPT.—Mr. R. Roberts sends chronicle a new 50p purple stamp w the following description:

Three-quarter length portrait of Ki Fuad, military uniform, in ornamen frame. Label "Royaume d'Egypte" the top in French, and a label at the b tom containing the figure of value English and in Arabic, an Arabic inscri tion in the centre.

These appear to have been perpetrat by some photogravure process, althou of a flashy appearance the work does n improve on close examination, the wh stamp having rather the appearance a cigarette card.

It is a very large type 29mmx53mm.

This printing can hardly be reco mended for security. The wmk. is th crescent and star multiple, but they a in clusters of three with spacing betwe so that there are on an average alw four complete clusters and a few o ones falling on each stamp.

FRANCE.—Mr. R. Roberts reports t appearance of the 2fr Taxe, in brig violet, in the usual Postage Due type.

COLLECTING IN THE TROPICS

By C. L. HARTE-LOVELACE.

I have many years' experience of collecting stamps in the Malay Peninsula, where the most humid atmosphere possible prevails, together with a heat in the shade of from 75° to 85° Fahr.

Unused mint stamps present the greatest difficulty; these should be kept in an air-tight steel trunk and only taken out between sunrise and sunset.

I used the ordinary japanned steel uniform cases, and kept mint sheets packed on top of each other without interleaving paper for several years without a trace of sticking. The receptacle itself must not be opened at night.

For temporary use have ordinary tins with closefitting lids; biscuit tins will do, and more especially if the stamps are put in a smaller tin, which is itself enclosed in a larger. I found this scheme as good as the uniform cases.

If mint stamps have stuck, try heating them back and front before a radiant heat like an oil lamp, taking care, of course, not to scorch. When the stamp and attached paper begin to warp, lay them on a flat surface and try to insert a flat metal surface, such as the point of a spade-ended pair of tweezers, between the stamp and the paper at some point; it can generally be done, at any rate, at the top of the stamp close to the hinge, or even under the hinge itself, I mean separating the hinge from the paper, not from the stamp. Then work the tweezer about gently, the important thing being to keep the stamp flat with the finger, while the paper takes the necessary curve, for two plane surfaces cannot enclose the tweezer point. It is really easier to have the stamp face downwards, but you then run a great risk of rubbing the mint surface. This will almost always detach the two in the case of British Colonials; if still obstinate, and especially if the gum is of the variety used on United States stamps, old Portuguese Colonials, etc., then you must detach with moisture. Wet a piece of blotting-paper, put it in a small flat tin, put the stamp and attached paper on it, face upwards, of course, close the tin, and in from a minute to a quarter of an hour you can detach the stamp with the loss of practically no gum. The time varies with the porosity and thickness of the attached paper. Lay the stamp on its face for the gum to dry hard (this will only happen in the daytime), and then, if desired, you can burnish the gummed surface to its pristine beauty by rubbing carefully with the flat polished surface of the tweezers, but mind they are not rusty!

Mint stamps must never be handled except with tweezers or almost certainly mildew spots will develop and no air-tight trunks will prevent this. It is necessary also to mount them on unhandled paper of good quality. Poor paper rots away very quickly and imparts a brownish tinge to the stamp which some specialists call "toned paper."

It is, of course, impossible not to touch stamps with the fingers in practice, so before you take them out, wash your fingers and dry them, rubbing the tips well with the towel. Although the tips look clean, they will almost certainly have collected imperceptible dust, including mildew spores.

In the case of used stamps not so much care is necessary as few of them have the brilliant surface of mint stamps, unless they have been postmarked to order.

To remove used stamps from paper, use a saturated solution of alum, and float the stamps face upwards on top; experience only will tell you when they are ready, but if the stamps are in fugitive colours you must not wait too long, in spite of the alum. Have a dry towel by you and repeatedly clean your fingers from all traces of gum and moisture, as it is best when detaching to hold the paper with the tweezers and the stamp between the finger and thumb.

If you have large quantities of stamps to separate, engraved stamps may be safely soaked in quantities, stirring them about; plunge your hands in when they are ready, and slide them off the paper, taking the paper away and leaving the stamps in the water. When all have been cleaned, change the water and leave the stamps in for another five minutes. If the water is not then discoloured the stamps can be taken out and dried en masse; they will separate themselves when dry unless the gum has decomposed and consequently not dissolved in the water.

It is best to separate the red stamps, however, as most red inks are fugitive to some extent, and if a red stamp is dried against another some colour will almost certainly be transferred.

Whatever you do, never use salt in your soaking water, as I have seen recommended; your stamps will never dry, and the colour, if the least fugitive, will be ruined. Alum is absolutely safe, and with it a chance spot of water on fugitive green can be wiped off immediately without harm to the stamp, though it is quite otherwise if you only use plain water.—Stanley Gibbons Monthly Journal.

DR. SHADMAN'S DAILY COUNSEL

Questions to the S. C. M. from readers, lovelorn or otherwise, will occasionally be answered by Dr. Shadman, the celebrated authority, President of the United League for Careless Advice.

I've got thirty-five simoleons saved up to buy me some nice stamps whenever opportunity offers itself. My wife has discovered it, and is raising cain with me to buy her a new hat. What, oh what shall I do?

Go to an auction sale, buy a couple of good combination lots. Then find a milliner who collects stamps and start exchanging with him. You are a dumb-bell if you cannot make a swap with him by which you can get him (or her) to throw in a bonnet for the wife. Then you'll have stamps and the wife her hat.

Is it true that you oppose military training in colleges to fit young men for the Officers' Reserve Corps, and that no one is allowed to differ from your opinion?

There should not be such a thing. To train men for war means more wars. More wars mean more stamps. I am still short quite a lot of those issued up to now, and they should wait with the next war and the subsequent inevitable partition of countries and many new stamp issues, till I catch up.

My mother-in-law does not like my stamp collecting. Although my wife never says anything, the old woman gives me fits every time I sit down at the table after supper with the old album and approval sheets. Is there any way to ease her off me a bit?

Be a man and assert yourself and your authority. Go buy twenty pounds of mission mixture, preferably one that has plenty of foreign cigar bands and so forth, in it; take the stuff home with you and after supper just walk up and dump it all on the table. If the mother-in-law objects, sweep an armful onto the floor and ask her what the deuce she is going to do about it.

I found a very rare stamp, priced at only a few cents, in a society circuit book the other day. I feel sure that someone must have substituted it. However, I bought it, and my conscience is troubling me ever since. Should I return it to the Sales Supt.?

Are you trying to kid me?

A dealer sent me a nice lot of approvals. After getting them, we moved to another city, and he can't find me now. I need money and want to sell them. What should I get for them?

Three years in Sing Sing.

Some years ago a European dealer sent me a lot of junk on approval, unsolicited. I returned it at the time. Now a P. O. Inspector calls on me and wants to know what I am going to do about it, as this foreigner has made a complaint that he did not get his stamps back. Can you advise me?

Ask him to furnish you with two affidavits on Form XX 1697, also to fill out form ZP 999, giving the zone rates on postal cards to China, together with the ports of departure, and a comparative table of rates on fresh eggs and watermelons.—The Stamp Collectors Magazine.

THE BI-MONTHLY JOURNAL

A house organ with an inimitable style and charm, published every two months. Each issue consists of from 32 to 48 pages, every one containing a formidable array of unusual offerings in medium and scarce sets, packets and special collections, dealers' stocks, single stamps, philatelic supplies, etc., etc.

Albert C. Munson, 412 Broadway, Houston, Texas, writes:

"I enjoy the Bi-Monthly as much as MEKEEL'S; there is no other paper, house organ, journal or circular of any kind wherein one can find such extraordinary good stock—and at such reasonable prices."

C. A. Ralston, 164 Vaughn St., Waterloo, Iowa, says:

"I am paying subscription charges for two large house organs, but would rather get along without both of them than to lose yours. If necessary, I know that I could pay a substantial subscription to the Bi-Monthly and save all of it on stamps offered in a single issue."

The Bi-Monthly Journal is a distinctive publication and absolutely free to patrons. You can't afford to be without it!

STAMP COLLECTION
Care of MEKEEL'S WEEKLY STAMP NEWS, Beverly, Ma

IN BRIEF:

Old Everett True, the choleric chap created by the artist Condo evidently has little patience with stamp collectors. In a recent strip, the first picture shows a collector button-holing Everett and saying that he wants to show some rare stamps that he got recently, "as you know stamp collecting is my hobby and these—." The old boy bellows "Whoa, hobby, whoa!" and prances off with equine stride; and adds, "Giddap there! ! !" while the collector can only murmur, "Giddap," with two exclamation marks.

The enterprise of Mr. P. M. Wolsieffer takes a clever turn, indeed, when he sends out a centennial envelope, 1876, stamped with one of the new Liberty Bells, 1926. He thus bridges fifty years, commemoratively speaking, and places in the hands of some of his friends a souvenir that is worth keeping.

The Capital City Philatelic Society of Harrisburg, Pa., has planned to hold an exhibition during the last week in May in the Harrisburg Public Library and some time ago 237 entries had been received. This organization is an alert one and is making philately a household word in Pennsylvania's capital.

Some time ago, Mr. C. D. Millar of Norwood, Ohio, asked which of the two cent stamps used plate numbers 11686 and 12298, respectively; and our records do not divulge the information. Will some reader help us, in behalf of our correspondent?

In connection with an offer of ten dollars for a card or envelope flown from Sheepshead Bay, New York, to Pasadena, Cal., in 1911, the Pasadena Star-News says: "Many Pasadenans, no doubt, remember the day when the airplane named 'Vin Fiz' made its arrival here, November 5, 1911. The plane was piloted by Calbraith P. Rodgers, and carried a number of letters from New York addressed to prominent persons in California. The letters were franked with a 25-cent stamp with the notation: 'Rodgers Aerial Post'—'Vin Fiz Flyers.'

Aviator Rodgers was later killed by the fall of his plane and his funeral took place in Pasadena. Prior to the fatal fall his plane fell at Compton, on November 11, while the aviator was attempting to fly from Pasadena to Long Beach."

Service on contract air mail route No. 9 from Chicago, by way of Milwaukee and La Crosse, Wisconsin, to St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minn., will begin June 7th. This route will afford a fourte hour connection between New York the Twin Cities.

The Delaware Stamp Club is the society in this country to offer a meda competition at the New York Exhibi and it is expected that the example of organization will be copied by many ot societies. Thus far, it is known that awards will be offered.

The New York Times contained a s ited account of the arrival in New Y of the first air mail from Texas by of the Dallas route. The first day's ceipts on this flight amounted to $8.411 and in this connection it is known stamp collectors got in their work.

The Springfield, Mass., Philatelic S ety, on the evening of May 14th, me the home of Mr. E. R. Radford and joyed as a special feature the talk on issues of New South Wales, as well the stamps of Mr. Theodore E. Steinw president of the Collectors Club of N York. Though a keen general collec Mr. Steinway is an expert on the stan of New South Wales. Too, the Spri field collectors were treated to a view the Heligoland collection belonging Mr. Herman Toaspern, who was in tendance, and told of his stamps, wh took a prize at the recent Canadian ex bition. As representatives of the Stove League, that distinctive coterie fame, Messrs. Radford, Steinway, To pern, Perry and Konwiser, the public promoter, professional and amateur, w present. Mr. Konwiser expounded u the forthcoming A. P. S. convention said that he expected a solid delegat from Springfield.

A program, subject to change, doubt, detailing the entertainment will be provided for those who attend American Philatelic Society convent next October has been issued, and a reading it, one is convinced that the c mittee has been working to good effec

20,000 Varieties for $449.00

This collection, one of our "best sellers" to dealers and collectors who want the finest, contains twenty thousand all different stamps, in good condition and neatly mounted in twenty large books.

Having been assembled according to the Yvert catalogue, several hundred varieties not listed by Scott will be found, but the percentage is so small that we feel the outstanding excellence of the collection as a whole is not affected in any way.

The exact catalogue value has not been computed, but will probably total more than $2,500, with some of the stamps cataloguing up to several dollars each.

The collection is guaranteed to be of as good if not better value than those of the same size offered by firms in this country and abroad at prices ranging from $600 to $1,000; it is sold on the understanding that the purchaser may have ten days in which to make an examination and that the full purchase price will be refunded if he is not highly satisfied.

Just One Collection of 20,000 Varieties in Stock at the Special Price of

Only $449.00!

SPECIAL

25,000 Varieties Mounted

An Exceptional Offering at $845.00

Words cannot do justice to the aristocratic and thoroughbred appearance of this excellent assembling, nor to the fineness and quality of the stamps contained therein. It may be easy enough to get together 25,000 stamps of a kind, including a lot of unlisted varieties, but it's a different matter to obtain a collection of the same number of standard varieties only, all in good condition, and containing a surprisingly large number of the scarcer stamps cataloguing up to $10 each or more.

We will back the quality of this collection against all competiton, and the best proof of our sincerity lies in the fact that we are willing to submit the collection on approval to any responsible person who will make a cash deposit or submit satisfactory references.

The collection is mounted in several large books. All countries of the world are represented, 20th century and new issues are quite strong, but the older issues are by no means neglected, and British and French Colonials, South and Central America, etc., are very plentiful. All in all, a most attractive buy for the party—either collector or dealer—who has the money to spare on the assurance that real investment value is present!

Only $845.00!

STAMP NEWS IN BRIEF

BRITISH EMPIRE

Forthcoming Issues.—From the latest issue of the Crown Agents' Bulletin we learn that the following novelties are on order, or already sent out to the places concerned, and may therefore be looked for in future. Bahamas: 1s, Script wmk. Hong Kong: $3, Script. Nyasaland: 4d, Script. Sierra Leone: 5s and 10s, Script. Straits: 2c reverts to green; 6c becomes red; $5 Script. Fed. Malay States: 2c becomes green; 4c, orange; 6c, red. Kedah: 4c becomes violet. New values: 6c, red; 12c, black and blue; 35c, plum. Zanzibar: 1c to 75c in new design.

Bahamas.—The Royal Gazette and Colonist Daily, kindly sent by a reader, notes the discovery locally by Mr. E. J. Bell of the 1s CC with watermark inverted. Possibly this is already known to specialists in this country.

Bechuanaland. — The South African Philatelist is informed that the 2½d, 3d, 4d, 6d, and 1s, with the current type of watermark have already been overprinted for use here.

Grenada. — Messrs. Whitfield King & Co. state that they have the 1s, black on emerald, Script, with wmk. inverted. They also show us two shades of the 2d Script, the first printing being in yellow and the second in yellow-orange. Both are from Plate 3.

India.—Charkhari.—Mr. Jno. Godinho confirms our opinion that the pen-and-ink surcharges recently referred to should be treated with suspicion. He can get no satisfactory information about them from the local authorities.

Irish Free State.—Mr. J. Dixon writes: "Your correspondent, Mr. Sayers, has misunderstood my note on Irish Postage Dues. (Feb. M. J.) I did not say that the delivery fee of 6d on Parcels had been discontinued. I said that the use of the 6d Postage Due stamp in its collection had been discontinued by official instructions issued on 1st November last."

Jamaica.—Several readers have shown us recently copies of the 1s King George, black and green, with centre in a dull purple, instead of black. They are used copies and do not show any traces of changing. Has any specialist an unused copy of this, or any information as to its authenticity?

Malta. — Instead of overprinting the current issue with the word "GOZO" which would have been quite unnecessary, the authorities have issued separate Revenue stamps, and have limited the stamps hitherto current for postage and revenue to postal use only, by overprinting them with the word "POSTAGE." This seems to be a legitimate operation, though, with the new issue ready for sale, one wishes that the overprinting might have been avoided. The 4d and 2s stamps with the "POSTAGE" overprint were sold out within a few hours, so that we may expect more Maltese excitement among speculators in the near future. Probably by the time these lines appear in print the whole of the "POSTAGE" issue will be obsolete, as the new set has been issued. The surface-printed low values are weak, but the engraved pictorials are attractive.

Mr. R. Forbes-Bentley shows us two shades of the 2½d blue, without overprint, one being a distinctly milky blue.

Montserrat.—Writing to a reader, Mr. Gerald V. Stewart, the P. M. of Montserrat, states that the Federal Postmaster has told him that Montserrat ¼d stamps should never have been imported, and that no further requisitions were to be forwarded. In going through the records, however, the P.M. found an Order in Council authorizing the issue of this value. He will not be requisitioning for any for some time, as he has a stock of Leeward Islands ¼d on hand.

New Zealand.—Miss M. H. Aitken and Mr. H. Nee kindly send us cuttings relative to the new portrait stamps. These are to be of the denominations of 1d, 2s, and 3s only. Their production is well in hand.

Dr. A. E. Hussey, Dury Av., Cincinnati, O.

Messrs. G. A. Higlett and P. C. Nyberg inform us of the discovery of the 5d, blue, imperf. According to the latter, three sheets were found, in each of which the five top rows were imperf.

South-West Africa.—Mr. H. Mallet-Veale states that overprint Type 6 ("South West," 16 or 16½mm.) now comes in dull and in shiny ink. In the former, all values are known to him, except the 6d and £1, and in the latter all except the 3d, 5s and £1.

Union of South Africa.—Our Publishers show us an envelope received in the course of business which bears a 4d Triangular which appears to be rouletted. We have heard nothing of this as an official issue. Probably it is of private origin.

Other Countries

Afghanistan.—Faquir Hussain Zahid points out that although the new stamps listed this month were issued for the 8th anniversary of independence, they bear date of the 7th anniversary, presumably because the die of the previous anniversary issue was again used.

The same informant states that the town of Mazar-i-Sharif has again had recourse to the use of fiscal stamps for postal use, and shows us an orange stamp so used. We noted the previous use of fiscal stamps at this town some months ago. The latest use of them was due to hostilities on the adjacent Russian border.

Another novelty is the 10 paisa, Type 55, small size, with an oval handstamp (? cancellation), consisting of a rayed device with the Persian characters for "5th year of independence." This is said to have been applied on February 5th, 1923, and to be very scarce.

Our correspondent also shows us stamps of the last-mentioned type with an oval cancellation of uncoloured characters on a black ground, which is applied to ordinary stamps, affixed to letters in indication of postage due on correspondence from India not bearing the necessary Afghan stamps.

Bolivia.—Professor A. Posnansky, the protagonist of the Tihuanacu issue, cabled us under date 10th January that the stamps in question were issued on that day. A letter dated February 3rd, which enclosed a copy of a decree authorizing the issue of the stamps and the sending of the necessary specimen copies to Berne, was, however, franked with stamps of the ordinary Arms type.

Chili.—Mr. L. H. Conall draws our attention to the existence of the current 10c portrait type, with a dot in the centre of the corner stars. We find both varieties in our Publishers' stock, but do not know whether they indicate separate plates.

Costa Rica.—Señor G. Noriega states that the recent provisionals were issued in quantities of 100,000 each. He also encloses a copy of a decree which orders that any stamps withdrawn from circulation in future shall be burned, and not disposed of for philatelic purposes.

Czecho-Slovakia.—Mr. Karel Kaplanek sends us a cutting forecasting the issue of Postage Dues formed by surcharging the large allegorical type (S.G. Type 13). The Jubilee portrait set of 1923 is to be overprinted on the occasion of the eighth meeting of the Czecho-Slovakian "sokols" (gymnastic clubs). New values of 1.20, 1.50, and 2.50kr are being prepared, in a pictorial type.

Danzig.—Another tuberculosis issue is in preparation.

Denmark.—The flood of provisionals from this country are in the nature of stop-gaps, as a new series of stamps from 10 to 40 öre is to be issued in October, says Mr. Svend Ramsing, owing to the difficulty of finding enough different colours for the values required, with only two types in use. The new series will consist of the present "figure" type for values under 10 öre, with a new design for values from 10 to 40 öre, and King's heads, as at present, for the higher values. One advantage of the new provisionals is that they will probably use up all remainders now on hand.

Egypt.—The new 50pi portrait stamp is one of the best we have seen for some time. The size of the stamp lends itself admirably to the three-quarter length treatment of King Fuad's likeness, and the frame is dignified and unostentatious. As the stamp is printed on the old "Star and Crescent" paper, we assume that it is the work of the London contractors and not of the new Egyptian press.

Germany.—What has happened to the unfortunate German eagle? We know that its recent history has not been altogether rosy, but the skinny object on the new Air stamps is provocative of laughter rather than pity. A closer examination solves the mystery. The unfortunate bird has been caught by the artist in the middle of an attempt to transform itself into the dove of peace. He might have waited until the process had been completed.

Grand Lebanon.—French journals state that the current pictorial issue is to be overprinted "Secours aux Réfugiés" and sold at a premium in aid of sufferers from the recent Druse invasions.

Hungary.—Stamps in the new "pengo" currency are expected very shortly.

Japan.—Mr. Takaharu Takamatsu states that used sets of the Crown Prince's Wedding series (withdrawn from issue owing to the earthquake) have now been seen. Apparently some of these were put on sale in the Japanese Pacific Islands before the order cancelling the issue was received.

Monaco.—Der Briefmarken Sammler states that the attention of the Prince of Monaco has been drawn to the fact that his country has been brought into philatelic disrepute by the limited issues of the past few years and by the speculation resulting therefrom. He is taking strong steps to ensure that future issues shall be made in sufficient quantity to obviate speculative action. Perhaps he will also issue instructions that the postal clerks of the Principality shall not report stamps as "out of stock" at the counter, with a hint that they may be obtained at the back door on payment of a premium. —Stanley Gibbons Monthly Journal.

but very often a whole school of them will float in. I have often wished that the whole lot could be reproduced on one sheet of paper. There must be well over a thousand right now, and if my patience holds good, you'll have them all to look at, and your chances are pretty good to see them, for I have about caught up with all outstanding selections to date.

This is the tenth lot, figuring ten to a lot, you've seen about 100, which is actually less than one-tenth of what are on hand here now. More anon.

U. S. ARROWS AND GUIDE LINES

By JOHN J. SPENCER.

The Arrow and Guide Line varieties of our United States stamps are a by-product of the much despised straight edge.

Like many by-products from other wastes, they will sooner or later be found more valuable than the (at present) more desirable, perfectly centered, fully perforated specimens from the same sheet.

At best, in most cases, but one arrow of a particular arrow variety is to be found for each sheet of stamps that was printed; and of the "corner stamps," i. e., stamps showing the guide line on both the side and top or bottom of the same stamp, but one is possible from each sheet of two hundred or four hundred that was printed. What then will become the probable value of these comparatively few copies, should many of our collectors turn specialist on this little considered side line of our hobby?

Here is a field yielding from four varieties in the Bank Note emissions to sixteen varieties of each subject in many of the Bureau issues. Leaving out the special printings, watermark differences, variations of shades, coil stamps and booklets, and considering only the regular honest to goodness issues, together with their affiliated dues and officials, we find there are no less than 3275 possible varieties. To these may be added 348 guide line varieties of the coil stamp and no less than 184 guide line varieties of the single booklet stamp. A total of upwards of 3800 varieties to be salvaged from this straight edge dump of philately.

Truly, here is a hobby for not only Kids and Kings but for the Kommons as well. Having completed your collection of United States as far as possible and longing for other fields of philatelic interest, it is unnecessary to turn abroad and take up penny blacks, Norwegian number ones, Canada cancellations or any of the other present day fads, for we have one of the main attractions waiting right here at home. Much pleasure and profit awaits you as this is a field comparatively new which will well repay your efforts in it.

You old-timers who time and again have gone thru your life's accumulation of duplicates, digging out the cracked plates, shifted dies and the various examples of postal employees vagaries in cancellations, until you have concluded that nothing but junk remains, should now again take up the quest and unearth the wealth you have heretofore failed to recognize.

Reopen your duplicates of 1869 and seek the arrow varieties; there should be at least six of these in every three hundred. When you have completed your quest and have duplicates to spare, communicate with me for an exchange, as I am still lacking some varieties of this series. The Bank Note issues should be easier, there being many more of them printed, so it is possible to recover at least one arrow in each one hundred stamps. Then coming along down to the Bureau emissions, many more stamps were required and used, necessitating larger plates with more subjects and the use of an increased number of guide line characters on each plate.

For many years these varieties were overlooked and neglected and it was sometime after that I first stumbled on the great opportunities offered in this field of philatelic endeavor, before I ran onto two or three others pioneering in this new wilderness. Singularly it was in old England that I found the one most advanced in this new side line. It is with pleasure that I refer to W. E. Whitnall, Birkenhead, England, for, together we have untangled many seeming complications. He has been a great help in making my findings what they are and he it was who suggested the diagram I will later offer in this article as a standard for reference. Judging from his want list, I conclude he must have the most complete collection of nineteenth century guide line varieties in existence.

Judge Doughty of Colorado, another pioneer in the collection of these despised straight edges, shows an enviable accumulation. He is so imbued with their fascination that he recently took a trip across the State of Michigan to compare collections and swap duplicates with me. For an instance as to what can still be accomplished in this side line, one well known collector, in about five years, has secured a major portion of the Bureau emissions from junk that he has picked up.

WEEKLY readers who have access to a file of the American Philatelist, will find an article of mine on U. S. Arrows and Guide Lines in No. 16—Vol. 31—May 15, 1918, which has always seemed to me to have been ahead of its time. It has been with no little interest that I have from time to time recently read in the philatelic press, letters from several collectors relative to the straight edge stamp. Now that these same straight edge stamps are causing others to sit up and take notice and hoping that more publicity may help remove the opprobrium placed on this unjustly maligned stamp, I am again emboldened to take up this subject and embrace this opportunity offered by the editor to place before the WEEKLY's readers the findings of one who has made arrows and guide lines a particular hobby for nearly a score of years.

My field of endeavor is confined entirely to straight edge varieties bearing a character on the margin of the separated individual stamp. Short guide lines for the division of sheets of stamps into panes are to be found on the plates of our early issues but the arrow or trident had been but little used by the engraver when preparing stamp plates prior to the stamps of the 1869 series.

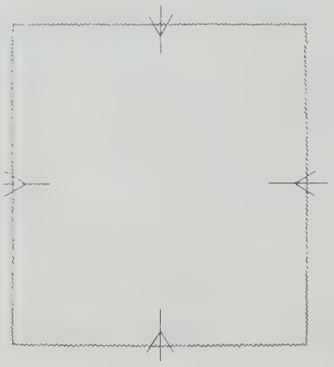
With the appearance of the 1869 series the arrow came into general use and it is with this issue that my particular interest begins, the guide lines on the previous issues having been so ably covered in the work by Dr. Carroll Chase.

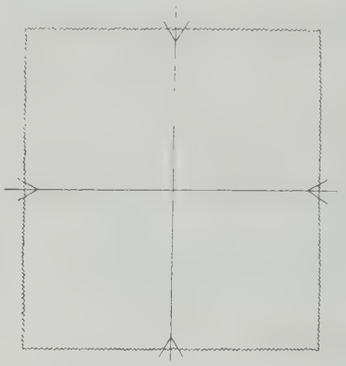
Beginning with the series of 1869 and up to the present day the arrow as a guide for division has been generally engraved on plates of stamps, the printed sheets of which were to be divided into smaller, more convenient sizes, before issuing for sale. No arrows having been engraved on the smaller plates, the printed sheets of which, required no division later.



Arrows were alone used as guides on sheets of stamps issued during and through the period of printing by the various bank note companies, and for a short time prior to December 4, 1895, after the Bureau of Printing and Engraving took over the printing contract. The arrow was usually so located on the plate that the point projected inside the perforated sheet and was just about in alignment with the edge of the outer row of stamps.

During the 1869 issue and for several years following, stamp plates were mostly composed of 200 and 300 subjects, the printed sheets from which were divided into panes of 100 and 150 stamps respectively, by cutting vertically through the marginal arrows, giving the unperforated "straight edge" sides. The vertical arrows from these plates will be found at either the top or bottom of the straight unperforated side of the stamp and the horizontal arrow when used, on the perforated top or bottom of the stamp. Later, when the larger plates bearing 400 subjects were prepared, the division into panes of 100 was made by cutting through both the vertical and horizontal arrows, giving unperforated straight edge tops or bottoms and sides. The vertical arrows from these plates will be found on stamps having straight edge sides and the horizontal arrows on the stamps having either the straight edge top or bottom.

When the sheets were properly divided, a half arrow would appear on the corner of each of the two adjacent stamps. More often this division was hastily performed with the result that the larger portion of an arrow is found upon one stamp and but a fragment was left to adorn its companion.



Sheets printed from plates, printed by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, after December 5, 1895, and until the appearance of the Panama-American series, bore the usual marginal arrow in the same relative position as formerly, but now connected by a guide line entirely through the sheet of stamps.

When the sheets were properly divided, a half arrow with attached guide lines would appear on a side, or top or bottom of each of the two adjacent stamps, but here again the work was not always carefully done, with the result that the cut came more often on one side or the other of the guide line and one pane would show the colored guide line and the arrow, while its companion would show barely a trace, if any at all. After the cutting of the sheet, where the vertical and horizontal guide line fell upon the same pane, one marginal stamp would be found enclosed on one side and a top or bottom by this colored guide line angle, giving us what we now call a "corner stamp," the rarest of the guide line varieties.

UNITED STATES "EDUCATORS"

For those who are not certain of their classifications of 19th Century U. S. stamps (and that means nine collectors out of every ten) we have made up this series of packets and approval booklets, in which every stamp has its correct catalog number.
Packet A.—30 varieties of U. S. postage only, all classified, including every issue from 1851 to 1890 inclusive, only $2.00
Packet B.—20 varieties of the hard-to-place Bank Note issues each one numbered according to Scott's catalog, 1871 to 1890 ..... $1.00
"Educator" Approvals contain almost all regularly issued stamps of the United States from 1847 to 1900. No stamp priced more than $5, most of them at big discounts from catalog prices. Sent only against references or deposit. [H

UNITED STATES ISSUES 1870-1900

DR. WM. EVANS, Editor,
313 E. Freemason St., Norfolk, Va.

These illustrations are in continuation and conclusion of those shown in the last notes. Mr. Gilbert M. Burr has supplied all of these except Nos. 3 and 10. No. 3 is from Mr. K. N. Woodward and No. 10 belongs to the writer. No. 3 is in blue, but all the others are black. All except No. 5 are on 3c green stamps. That exception is on a 2c green. Must have been in use a long time.

In going over this whole subject we find that the places known to have used these cancellations are very few. Mr. Fennel has given us some other specimens in American Philatelist, but only a very few towns are mentioned as having used them. If any of you can tell us anything about them we shall be glad to have the information. Also if anyone can send new specimens we shall be glad to have them.

Something happened to the numbers of the illustrations in the issue of May 10th. The top row received the numbers that should have been given to the bottom row. Therefore Nos. 1, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 are Dr. Robinson's, and 2, 3, 4 Mr. Michel's, and 5 Mr. Hustis', and it's No. 4 that Mr. Michels would be glad to have a name for. Please govern yourselves accordingly.

Mr. R. J. Tarpy has sent a lot of stamped envelopes, and they are interesting. I've never been able to determine why so many of us shy away from stamped envelopes as if they were plague infected, but a lot of us do. When it comes to cancellations, they are certainly as attractive on one of these as on a cover adorned by an adhesive, and there are a few cancellations which it has never been my fortune to see on an adhesive. In the lot sent by Mr. Tarpy were these: a 2c vermilion brown, Rockbridge, Ill., with the octagonal M. O. B. stamp used instead of the regular postmark.

Millstadt, Ill., with a 34mm double circle postmark, and a solid star in a circle on 2c brown.

Sipe Springs, Tex., P. K. Stamey, P. M., the 2c brown stamp canceled by a seven bar grid.

Pine Level, Alabama, with a double outer circle, and an inner circle around the date, canceled by a ten bar grid in purple.

Crested Butte, Colo., without a circle around the town name.

Roscoe, St. Clair Co., Mo., with a notched oval postmark 37x25mm.

Sikestown, Mo., Jno. A. Huckeby, P. M., with an oval postmark 41x28mm. The date is in one line with scrolls above and below it, and a leaflike ornament at each end.

Greenway, Ark., Billie B. Biffle, P. M., in a 27mm double circle, and for an obliterator a solid star in a circle. Purple. That P. M. certainly was the possessor of an alliterative name.

Saint Johns, Illinois, and Neligh, Neb., both canceled with a star in a circle, the first one purple.

Richland, Ills., with a purple maltese cross on the 3c green stamp, a very attractive combination.

Richland, Mo., in bright red, but the stamp uncanceled.

Clarksville, Johnson Co., Ark., around the top of a 28mm circle, at the bottom of which is 5 p. m. The date is in three lines in the center surrounded by a 17mm circle. A most unusual form of postmark.

Gaudy, Utah, in letters 4mm high, in a 32mm circle. The date is in a single line across the center.

Carthage, Mo., has for an obliterator the open letters E J in a round black block. Presumably the initials of the Postmaster.

Hendrickson, Mo., Jun 5, 1880. Correct T. F. Estes, P. M., in purple in an oval 43x26mm.

That seems to be a pretty attractive lot of covers even though stamped envelopes. The dies of the stamps and the knives of the envelopes were unheeded. Frankly I couldn't figure them out if I tried and I didn't try. The cancellations were the important thing here and the rest of the details were mere incidentals.

And aren't we folks who collect cancellations too particular sometimes? If we find a nice clearly impressed clean cut cancellation oughtn't that to be the ideal thing for our collection even though the stamp is off center, or has a perforation missing from the lower left corner? It's not so hard to understand why a stamp should be centered and perfect to please a fastidious collector, but just why he should insist upon having a perfect cancellation on a perfect stamp isn't quite so readily perceived, and the fellow who does insist upon that brand of perfection is certainly going to have some spaces unfilled, and miss some mighty nice cancellations. I practice what I preach. When a clearly impressed complete cancellation that is at all scarce or unusual come my way, even though the stamp is off center, it sticks, until a better one comes along, and sometimes it's a long long, time before that occurs—and sometimes it doesn't occur.

MARKET IN MODERN COLONIALS

Rhodesia.—Some interesting letters have reached me on the subject of recent notes under the above heading. In one of these a correspondent takes exception to the application of the term "fine used" to the postmarked Rhodesian remainders, characterising this as "false and misleading." I am merely taking things as they are, and many thousands of these remainders have been advertised and sold on this description, not only in this country, but abroad. The buyer should always satisfy himself as to the cancellation and some constructive help from our friend would be welcome to enable the ordinary collector to differentiate between the cancellation applied in London, and that from the same postmarking stamp applied in the Colony in the normal course.

For every specialist who can differentiate there are a hundred general collectors who buy these remainders because they appear cheap, and the statement made that the prices of genuinely used copies, say of the 1910 high values, has been lowered thereby can be substantiated by references to the latest auction prices of these varieties.

This is only to be expected when we consider the many thousands of these stamps that have been sold to collectors who would otherwise have had to wait for mint or the somewhat elusive genuine postally-used copies, and which has naturally reduced the demand for these. I must therefore reject our friend's suggestion that the genuinely used of the 1905 and 1910 issues are still "worth" more than mint, as "worth" can only be judged by what they actually are fetching, which is less, there may be fewer existing, but that is a different story.

Togo.—Another correspondent considers I was hard on the 1sh Togo olive back in suggesting that it is not worth its new catalogue price of 30sh. It is pointed out that it has recently been offered as a special bargain at 25sh, and even £2 (before its catalogue valuation appeared). There is no doubt it is a fairly scarce item mint (used copies are commoner) but £1 seems a sufficient quotation for the present. For those who think otherwise and are willing to back their opinions, there remains the alternative of buying up all the copies that are offered for less! This method has worked well with certain other stamps of recent origin!

Turks and Caicos Is.—Another question propounded relates to the number issued of the 1sh Turks Is. script wmk. old design. I believe the number was about 4000, of which it is probable the majority were sold in London by the Crown Agents. This explains why it was for long so much cheaper here than anywhere else, and the fact of used copies being so rare. It also accounts the fact of it being for some time obtainable at a small percentage over value, whilst the Barbados 1sh (small type) which was issued in large quantities (6000) was hardly ever obtainable in London at similar rates. In later instance, none were sold by Crown Agents in London, and specators got hold of the local supply, so the British dealers were hardly able get their normal supplies. Some of t have recently been coming on the ma and the prices for this Barbados st is a little easier, a few having fet about 11sh each at auction. It certa forms a good argument in favour of plies sufficient to meet the British largest) demand being held back by Crown Agents. No hardship is the inflicted on a small colony, as the gen postal demand for the higher value usually slight.

Tonga Provisionals.—The Tongan visionals, owing to the Postmaster re ing to fill foreign orders, were very cessfully cornered by speculators. S little parcels of most values have rece been appearing, but the 2d on 1sh appears to be in the hands of the s ulators. The number printed is give 6180, certainly small but relatively c parable with the Nyasaland ½d surcha "N.F." (9,950 stated printed), whic at the moment a much cheaper sta Many will remember, however, that some time after this was issued, it equally successfully cornered and it selling in 1918-20 at about 7s6d. it can be bought for 6d! When the supply was released by the speculat the bottom fell out of the market. interest in it fell away.

Gibraltar.—A correspondent asks the numbers printed of the Gibraltar script. According to figures in a temporary, the total sold to dealers the public was 1051, the bulk of the pr ing being burnt. One hears that

New Approval Books for the Summer Season

I have just remade a large number of my approval books and have included a fine lot of early issues from various collections and auction lots that I have bought during the winter season. The following new books are now available and I should be glad to send same to collectors who desire fine old stamps at reasonable prices.

ARGENTINE REPUBLIC

Issues 1858-1867.—Remarkably strong in the very fine Rivadavia issues, both imperf. and perf. The 5c are divided into six different printings. The 1862-1864 issue is also a fine lot, with some scarce varieties.

BRAZIL

Issues of 1843-1866.—Remarkably strong in the Bull's Eyes.

UNITED STATES OFFICIAL STAMPS

I have made up 8 new books of these, including duplicates from the large collection I have been forming during the past three years. These consist of unused and used, the latter with many rare cancellations, and prices will be found to average about half catalog.

1861-1868 Issue, 3c rose.—I have 4 books of these, all cancelled, including many rare varieties.

Patriotic Envelopes.—I have 6 books of these, all used and with a number of scarce varieties.

Confederate States.—About 25 new books have been arranged. First, a series of the general issues on covers, and, secondly, a series of unused and used stamps not on covers. I can send fine books of any of these issues (except the 10c outer line). My books of the small stamps 2c, 5c, 10c, and 20c, are arranged to show all varieties of die, paper and shade, in singles and in blocks, at very reasonable prices.

CANADA

About 25 books are now ready of all issues from 1851-1882 and a few books of modern issues. I can send selections of any issue either unused or used or scarce varieties of cancellation, also a very fine selection of stamps on cover.

HONG KONG

Four new books have been arranged, very strong in early issues and with a large number of interesting cancellations.

LABUAN

Two new books, chiefly of early issues, only, before the speculation set in.

INDIA FEUDATORY STATES

I have two books of stamps from Chamba to Patiala surcharged on India stamps and including a number of scarce varieties priced at very reasonable rates.

STRAITS SETTLEMENTS

Four new books have been made up, including the Straits Settlements themselves and all the States with a number of rare and interesting errors.

INDIA

Five new books are now ready, including a remarkably fine selection of the early issues, with a number of rare blocks and pairs of the 1854-1855 issues and a fine selection of the rare large Service stamps of 1866.

COLOMBIAN STATES

Five new books have been made up of the early issues of the Colombian Republic and all the various States. Only the old worth while stamps are included. None of the modern rubbish.

PORTUGUESE COLONIES

Three books of these have been made up, including a good lot of the early issues in the Azores and Madeira and a choice lot of the early types of Portuguese India.

PHILIPPINE ISLANDS

Three new books, including a fine lot of the first issue and a number of scarce Provisionals.

FRENCH COLONIES

I have 9 new books of these, from Anjouan to Tahati. No issues later than 1890 and many rare early Provisionals, including two of the first issue of Reunion.

GERMAN STATES

I have just broken up a very important collection of German States unused and used, including many of the great rarities such as Saxony 1851, a pair of the rare error ½ng blue, 3pf red, three copies unused and a pair used on cover, and fine lots of Brunswick, Wurtemberg, Bremen, etc. I have also a series of cheap books of the old German States.

SERVIA

Three new books of the early issues have been arranged, including a grand lot of the first issue, all of which are plated.

about 300 were sold for normal postal purposes, the bulk of the thousand coming here for New Issue Services, etc. These figures are even lower than the famous Malta 10sh Mult. CA, where the total sold was about 1400. Quite a few of the Gibraltar 8sh seem to be on the British market at the moment, but when these are cleared, one can only expect to see a substantial further rise in the value of this stamp, and if the figures given are correct it may one day overtake the Maltese rarity.

There was a special reason why the Malta stamp went up more slowly in price—taking 2 or 3 years to reach the £10 level. This was because it was uncertain for some time whether it would be reissued or not, when the 10sh stamp of the old design (CC) was exhausted.

Gambia.—The 4d and 1sh Gambia current type old wmk. are worth acquiring, now they are obsolete used copies are scarce in particular, and there always seems to be rather more demand for used stamps from here than for other West African Colonies—partly, doubtless, because so few are used!

Nearly all recent issues of Gambia are worth holding. Of low values the scarcest is the 1½d small type script watermark; it will not be surprising if this is increased in price in the next catalogue. Most values of this set are on the upgrade, the highest value being the best of all.

Blue Scripts.—The position in regard to the 2½d blue and other scripts is very interesting and should be closely watched. Some like the 2½d St. Lucia blue will get commoner and cheaper on reissue, the difference between printings will probably be small. But what has happened to the 2½d orange stamp of this Colony? Its life has been short and it is a variety that may easily turn out very good. Buy it now.

Another 2½d stamp that may turn out good and is worth holding for a rise is the 2½d grey of Grenada, in fact, all Grenada scripts in the old colours up to 1sh are likely to show a substantial increase.

The Mauritius provisionals are worth picking up now. The 3c on 4c being the best, as only about £100 face value of this stamp were issued.—Philatelic Magazine.

HERE AND THERE:—

WE are indebted to F. E. Wilson, who is well known to the stamp trade from his association in business with his father W. T. Wilson at Birmingham, England, for a remembrance from Bruges, Belgium. It consists of a handsome booklet of detachable postcards showing the scenes attendant upon the "Procession du St. Sang," which is no doubt an annual feast day celebration of this ancient city. Thanks for the courtesy.

J. WILL HARMON urges that mailers of first day covers take pains to enclose in all envelopes either a card or stiff piece of paper the approximate size of the envelopes. They should also be sealed. Where covers contain no enclosures the cancelling machine is likely to do damage.

PAUL KOHL, Chemnitz, announces the theft of a valuable stamp collection of Prof. Dr. Schafer, Meissen, Germany. It consisted of a large specialized collection of Mexico, strong in early issues. There was also a large lot of covers. We cannot take the space to enumerate the particulars as given us, but if anyone has offered him anything unusual in the way of Mexican stamps this notice will serve as a warning. Dr. Schafer asks "all the world" to assist him in recovering his collection.

"I NOTICE your news item in regard to pictures on U. S. stamps where uniforms are shown. Is it not true that Washington's portrait on the 90c stamps of the issues of 1860 and 1861 is in uniform?"—ALBERT H. HALL.

J. C. BOGAN of the Philatelic Bats informs us that Panama is to commemorate the first centenary of Bolivar and a set of new stamps ranging from ½c to 50c will soon be issued and placed in circulation for sixty days. The numbers to be issued range all the way from 250,000 for the ½c value to 15,000 of the 50c. There will be twelve values in the set.

OUR old subscriber G. E. Fountain, 318 W. 88 St., N. Y. City, has a file of the WEEKLY from 1894 also some Scott catalogs that he will donate to any club desiring the same. The only condition is that the papers, etc., shall be called for.

MINT U. S. BLOCKS OF FOUR
I am breaking up a superb lot of U. S. blocks of four, mint, and exceptionally well centered, a few of 19th Cent. but mostly 20th Cent. blocks, of rarer var., those listing at $1.50 to $20 per block, and scarce, too, in such fine condition. The lot contains no duplicates, so don't delay if interested.
In 19th Cent. blocks I have 1869 2c, 1888 30c, several of Columbian issue, several of Trans.-Miss. issue, etc. I know these fine blocks are a good investment at present prices, as few seem to be on the market.
Large stock old issue of U. S. and B. N. A. also in stock, single stamps, both used and unused.

THE Top Notch Magazine for May contains a whimsical sort of stamp story under the caption, "The Hitless Slugger". The hero is Bill Eggers, an amateur Babe Ruth who has taken a terrible slump in his batting average. On the sidelines he is a stamp collector, but rather ashamed of his hobby. There enters upon the scene Walt Kelcey who furnished the pep in the form of a Mauritius stamp which Bill eagerly wanted. It was made the subject of a bet and the next day Bill recovered from his hitless streak with "a pair of circuit wallops, a brace of singles, and a smacking two-bagger". This on five trips to the plate when he had faced two southpaws and one righthander. If this notice does not sell Top Notch for May to our baseball philatelists no other inducement can be offered. Thanks to Edward Lockwood for the clipping.

EDITORIAL.

The post office department has distributed a circular telling that a model post office, "equipped with the most up-to-date labor-saving devices and standard furniture and equipment," will be a feature of the Post Office Department's exhibit at the Philadelphia Sesqui-centennial Exposition, June to December, 1926. The following paragraph will catch the eye of collectors: "Twenty-four frames will contain die proofs and originals of the United States postage stamps and stamped paper that have been in use since the dawn of the postal establishment." As usual, the department shows commendable enterprise in taking advantage of an opportunity to acquaint the public with its workings and its wares, as the postal issues may be called.

Our Washington correspondent, whose timely information has been appreciated by readers on different occasions, intimates that the department will have its hands full if it gives heed to the representations of all the congressmen who may feel inclined to ask that special issues be prepared in honor of persons and events in which they are interested in behalf of constituents. He expresses the opinion that the department will not be carried away by the number or insistence of the solicitors and that good judgment will remain in the saddle. This is well and we trust that a golden mean will be observed.

It must be admitted that while many collectors welcome the commemorative issues, there are others who view them with disquiet and are really regretful that there seems to be a loosening of the bars in this connection. Our view is a philosophical one, we hope, and recognizing that a stamp is an admirable vehicle for the expression of remembrance, honor or distinction, it follows that it may be used fittingly on proper occasion. However, if the idea is abused and made common, there will be a slackening of philatelic interest in such issues and the effect then on philately as a whole will not be inspiriting. There is one factor that must compel the tolerance of the critical collector, however, and that is embraced in the moderation of the number and denominations that enter into recent special issues; and the most captious commentator may not justly ascribe any commercial motive to the output of these stamps.

From our faithful correspondent, Mr. T. Russell Hungerford, Washington, we have the following contribution telling of an interesting alliance of biblical history and philately: "Another Churchman has been honored by having his picture placed on a postage stamp. This time it is Publius, who is mentioned in connection with the shipwreck of St. Paul on the island of Malta, in the Book of Acts, 28:7, 8. The stamp is the one shilling six pence denomination, recently issued, and is of striking design. It bears the Latin inscription, S. Publius Primus Episcopus Melitae, A. D. LVIII, meaning First Bishop of Malta, A. D. 58. St. Paul refers to Publius as 'the chief man of the island, who received us and lodged us three days courteously.' He was the chief Roman officer at that time and is said to have been converted by Paul's teaching or preaching, and afterwards to have become the first bishop of Malta. There is a church dedicated to his memory at Floriana, just outside the walls of Valetta. The Scriptural reference also states that the father of Publius was sick with fever and that St. Paul healed him." Mr. Hungerford adds: "I spent several hours at the Library of Congress, trying to get a line on S. Publius, but found only one slight reference to him. Just what the lion behind his robes signifies, I have not ascertained." Speaking of Valetta, the capital of Malta, which was taken by the British in 1801, a writer in a contemporary erroneously fixes the derivation of the name. Valetta comes from the name of John Parisot de la Valette, a Grand Master of the Knights of St. John, and the city was for some time the chief seat of the Knights of St. John of Jerusalem.

Mr. R. McP. Cabeen, Chicago, in the course of an article on the early postal history of Chicago, which was read at a meeting of the Chicago Philatelic Society and later published in the WEEKLY, said that in 1866 there were a good number of railway postal cars in operation. Reference to Mr. Cabeen's article evidently was made in the New York Times and not long ago, a woman historian, who is much interested in the origin of the railway mail service, wrote to Mr. Cabeen for particulars as to the burial places of the inventors of the postal car, as adopted for use in this country. From Mr. Cabeen's answer, we take the following paragraphs: "The railway postal car was invented by George B. Armstrong and his partner, George S. Banks, and was first tried out on the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad in 1864. In 1865 there were 1,041 miles equipped with railway postal cars using 54 clerks, 22,000 miles of railway carrying mail without special sorting clerks. By 1867 there were 4,435 miles, 160 clerks covering 18 routes. Both Mr. Armstrong and Mr. Banks are buried in Rose Hill, one of Chicago's oldest cemeteries, and marking Mr. Armstrong's grave is a bronze slab, describing in detail the history of his invention. Mr. Banks has a more elaborate monument, which shows, in a group of statuary, a stone tree and a railway car entering a tunnel. In the article in the New York Times, no definite time was given as to when the first R. M. S. car was tried out. I simply stated that by 1866 a certain number of cars were in operation."

From Mr. P. J. Drossos, Athens, Greece, we have received the Messolongi, 1826-1926, centenary stamp. Mr. Drossos writes: "The denomination is 25 lepta and the design depicts Victory lamenting over the tomb of the fallen warriors or heroes and it is the only denomination that has appeared. The quantity issued is not known, but the stamp is available for inland and foreign postage. The one and two drs., that were to be put in use, have been so badly printed by Messrs. Aspictis Bros. of Corfu that they have been retired and are not to be issued at all." Messolongi is a hallowed name to the Greeks, because of its association with the victory gained by them there and its consecration as the burial place of Lord Byron.

A reader is anxious to obtain particulars concerning the establishment of the United States postal agency at Shanghai, China. Further than to refer him to the post office bill of 1869 or 1870, that created the agency and provided for a resident manager, we could not give him official information. We feel safe in saying in answer to one of his questions that this agency postmark is not to be found on letters bearing any of the 1869 issue, but only on letters with subsequent issues.

The subject of mail agents on ocean steamers is one that will have attention, as covers receive more intensive study and for a thorough understanding of the question, recourse will have to be had to the old postal laws and regulations and all references to this angle of the postal service will have to be collated. The agents on the mail steamers were well paid, relatively speaking, and appoi ments to the positions were warmly co peted for and, no doubt, if one were investigate into the service, a reada reward would follow.

ON AND OFF

Mr. Max Golding, president of Chicago Philatelic Society, resigned fr office at a recent meeting of the soci because of the increasing frequency absence from the city on business tr A resolution of thanks was passed the members extolling Mr. Golding his earnest work in behalf of the ganization and his resignation as pr dent was accepted with regret.

One of the Chicago radio stations invited stamp collectors to give talks their pursuit, the directress of the tion saying that while in Boston, she stituted the feature of philatelic courses with success.

According to the announcement, a c tract air mail route between Cheye Wyoming, and Pueblo, Colorado, will gin operations on May 31st of this y The route will make connections w the government's transcontinental route in both directions.

From Dr. C. W. Hennan, Chicago, have received early copies of the n sets from Suriname and Curacao; val 3, 5, 10 and 15c Suriname and 3, 5, and 20c Curacao.

The following news is taken from columns of one of the San Franci dailies: "Suit for a reward of $ claimed by Ross O'Shaughnessy, sta dealer, 16 Geary St., who caused recovery of a stolen stamp collect valued at $7,000, was filed in the Super Court yesterday against Bertram W. Poole and Charles Beamish, Los Ange Suit is brought in the name of Willi G. Wilson, to whom O'Shaughne assigned his claim. The complaint based on a notice published by Poole stamp dealer, that included the statem 'Owner offers $500 reward.' The co plainant says that Beamish was the disclosed owner. Two men tried to the stolen stamp collection to O'Shau nessy on April 12. He notified the po who captured one man. The other lea through a window."

A newspaper says that the new Libe Bell stamp should be "welcomed not al by stamp collectors but by the public well, in these days when iconoclasts trying to shatter traditions of the ea days of our country."

GEORGIAN COLOURED PAPERS

By Lt.-Col. L. J. WORTHINGTON.

I think the solution of the cataloguing of coloured papers difficulty lies in treating Gibbons catalogue as being, as accurately as may be possible, a record of the actual essential main changes in the coloured papers for the guidance of the keen general collector of single non-marginal specimens, and not for the specialist, who will have plate-number pieces to guide him into further elaboration.

Such cataloguing would be sufficiently covered by the divisions:—

1.—(a) Yellow, (b) white back, (c) lemon, (d) buff, (e) pale yellow.
2.—(a) Green, (b) blue-green, olive back, (c) emerald surface, (d) emerald back.
3.—Blue.
4.—Red.

Single specimens can hardly be further sub-divided with any degree of accuracy without elaborating into marginal pairs.

Regarding the "yellow" paper, which, as Mr. Iremonger states, was first issued in 1912, with re-issues in 1914 and 1916, the 1912 can be called "true yellow" (except for climatic changes to which I refer below); the 1914 re-issue is known as "chrome-speckled yellow," small red particles from imperfect mixing of the colouring ingredients occurring on the backs of about 30 per cent of the stamps on each sheet, but otherwise practically indistinguishable from the original 1912 paper; the 1916 re-issue has a distinct lemon tinge in it, though I think that it would be a mistake for the Catalogue to treat this paper as being other than "yellow."

A little confusion is bound to occur, which must be left to take care of itself, e.g., Cayman Islands, S.G. 45. Although chronicle has been made of this stamp from plate No. 5, I have never seen it, and, assuming that it does not so exist, S.G. 45 must refer to the printing issued in March, 1920 (in which case the date in the Catalogue is incorrect). Such March, 1920, issue was from plate No. 8, and came on both pale and deep lemon-yellow papers (shades of the back), and also on buff, followed in December, 1920, by pale yellow. The true lemon paper with plate No. 1 was current until about 1919.

Therefore, though for the specialist S.G. 45 is lemon-yellow, yet I hold that "yellow" remains its correct catalogue description. Consistency in the Catalogue is a well-nigh unattainable ideal, but, if this simplification is to be adopted, as I think it must, Malta, S.G. 87 and 88, should not be differentiated. No. 88 does not exist on true lemon; certainly two shades of yellow paper occur, one with a slight lemon tinge, which is difficult enough to distinguish, even in marginal pieces. The difference in Catalogue quotation is out of all reason, and only causes a fictitious hoisting of prices, unless the 1916-20 lemon-yellow paper is to be recognised throughout—and Malta 5s is a stamp which shows the difference as little as any.

I have suggested above that "buff" should be used instead of "orange-buff" in the Catalogue. The buff paper can, at least, be divided into orange-buff and yellow-buff, but I feel that "buff" is quite sufficient a sub-division for the Catalogue. The buff, and olive-backed green, papers were, during their currency, generally described as "experimental," but this is too much of a present use of the word for a catalogue, and "new yellow paper" for the pale yellow is much more so. The 1916 re-issue of yellow was at the time also referred to as "new yellow paper"!

There were similar variations in the green paper, both climatic and actual, and occasionally the surface was nearly blue, while the backs varied from bright blue, through grey-blue, to greenish blue, but here again these varieties should be disregarded in the Catalogue until the issue of the distinctive olive-backs.

Only a minor change of shade occurred in the red paper, though it is probable that this was not due to any change in the manufacture of the paper itself.

The muddy yellow paper of recent sales of the Gilbert and Ellice 4d and 5s, plate No. 1, has been referred to. It is quite correct that these are on quite an early yellow paper, and that the change is only climatic. British Solomon Islands 4d similarly can be found in muddy yellow, and also with a highly glazed back, giving it a distinctly lemon appearance, but this appears to be due to pressure between tissues. These again should be ignored by the Catalogue.

Plate numbers and dates of despatch to the Colony are the criterion, whereas dates of issue are quite unreliable; it often happens that a particular variety is held in stock for several years before issue.

My opinion is that the Catalogue should remain in its semi-simplified lines to this extent, but that it should be specifically accurate and be revised, quite as much as the older issues, by specialists, who have the requisite knowledge, and that, for example, if a stamp were printed on a yellow paper (not the true lemon) prior to the introduction of the buff paper it should be catalogued as "yellow," whatever its appearance or similarity to the real buff or pale yellow.

"If a collector has a stamp on pale yellow paper, he will want it listing as such whatever . . ." is, no doubt, true, but is a tendency which should, in the interests of accuracy, be discouraged.

The voluminous shade and minor varieties to which so much prominence is given in the Catalogue of older issues,

THE BI-MONTHLY JOURNAL
A house organ with an inimitable style and charm, published every two months. Each issue consists of from 32 to 48 pages, every one containing a formidable array of unusual offerings in medium and scarce sets, packets and special collections, dealers' stocks, single stamps, philatelic supplies, etc., etc.
Albert C. Munson, 412 Broadway, Houston, Texas, writes:
"I enjoy the Bi-Monthly as much as MEKEEL'S; there is no other paper, house organ, journal or circular of any kind wherein one can find such extraordinary good stock—and at such reasonable prices."
C. A. Ralston, 164 Vaughn St., Waterloo, Iowa, says:
"I am paying subscription charges for two large house organs, but would rather get along without both of them than to lose yours. If necessary, I know that I could pay a substantial subscription to the Bi-Monthly and save all of it on stamps offered in a single issue."
The Bi-Monthly Journal is a distinctive publication and absolutely free to patrons. You can't afford to be without it!

U. S. CIVIL WAR REVENUE ERROR

25c Blue and Black, Unperforated

Just exactly sixteen copies of the Second Issue 25c blue and black Civil War Revenue in unperforated condition were recently located on old stock certificates of the Southwestern Market Company of Philadelphia. These were all used around April of 1872 and were located among dozens of the normal perforated copies. The margins are so wide that it would be physically impossible to trim a perforated copy and they have been seen by some of our best posted students, and all pronounce them as a real error. We know that the sewing machine perforated copies of this issue were privately made from the unperforated stamp but heretofore, we have not seen the unperforated variety.

Several of these copies are available at a price of $10.00 each. When ten copies are gone, the price on the balance is subject to an advance. Every stamp is guaranteed to be as represented.

Am in the market to buy anything fine in the way of Civil War Revenues, especially mint copies, single rarities including the inverts and unusual pieces in the way of pairs, strips and blocks. I only desire the early issues and not those of recent years.

Sesqui-Centennial Postal Exhibit

The Information Service of the Post Office Department announces for release on May 24th that one of the many interesting features of the Post Office Department's exhibit at the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia from June to December will be the installation of a model post office on the exposition grounds. This post office will be equipped throughout with the most up-to-date labor-saving devices and standard furniture and equipment.

All forms of postal service will be shown, including sales of stamps, money orders, parcel post, postal savings, general delivery and lock boxes. Periodical collections throughout the grounds will also be provided, as well as deliveries to each and every exhibit. A substantial and commodious gallery will overlook the entire working space in order that visitors may have a full and clear view of the work room and cages in which these various branches of the service transact their business.

Two lecturers will be assigned to duty on the platform to explain to visitors the various operations carried on below and to offer suggestions as to the proper use of the facilities afforded by the postal service. Mail chutes will be provided from the visitors' gallery so that a visitor can drop a letter or postal card into the chute and trace its travel to the pouch or he can address a letter to himself and follow it until it reaches the general delivery window and go there and get it. In other words, the service will be such that one can mail a picnic basket by parcel post after breakfast and receive it by noon-day.

An electrically driven panoramic representation of an airplane carrying the mail across the continent over the government operated route from New York to San Francisco will form one of the interesting exhibits of the Department. In addition, a model airplane, samples of the different types of lights used in the illuminated airway on the transcontinental route, and other miscellaneous exhibits relating to the Air Mail Service, will be provided for visitors to the Exposition.

Then there will be a standard all-steel sixty-foot railway postal car exhibited. The interior of the car will be equipped with all the modern racks, pouches, sacks and several tons of imitation letter, paper and parcel post mail, so that a faithful reproduction will be made of the working conditions in a railway post office. The mail car will also be equipped with a crane for taking mail sacks on the run and two railway postal clerks will be detailed to demonstrate the operation of its make-up.

ECHOSLOVAKIA. — Whitfield King &
have shown us the following stamps

3c Carmine (Error) Envelope
UNUSED, SCOTT'S U. S. NO. 2662A
20 times as scarce as the 5c Carmine (Error) Postage Stamp. [1steM
Postpaid.....$1.00
W. SCHWEDE, 107 Columbia St., SEATTLE, WASH.

of the design of Scott's A8, surcharged with new values and "Doplatit" for use as postage due: 50h on 100h, 60h on 100 and 100h on 600h.

DENMARK.—Mr. A. E. Pade informs us there has appeared a final 7ö stamp. It is of the type of Nos. 149-151 and is yellow green in color. Mr. Pade further advises that of the recently reported 7ö provisionals a sheet has been found in the City of Roedcz of the 7ö on 20ö with double surcharge. A new value is to be added to the Air Mail set very soon. It will probably be a 15ö stamp.

FINLAND.—Whitfield King & Co. send copies of the 40p green and the 3m pale blue and black, watermarked Multiple Swastika.

GREECE.—Whitfield King & Co. chronicle the 5 drachma postage due, in grey-blue.

ITALY. — The Economist Stamp Co. advise that the 20c brown pneumatic post stamp has been issued in the same design as before.

MONACO. — Whitfield King & Co. call our attention to the fact that the 1fr blue, that was chronicled last week as surcharged for use as Fr.1.25, has not as yet been issued without the surcharge.

OLTRE GIUBA. — The Economist Stamp Co. have shown us the 70c red and the 2L50c special delivery stamps of Italy with the surcharge "Oltre Giuba" in black.

POLAND. — The Economist Stamp Co. have sent for chronicle a 1gr brown of a new design. The centre of the stamp pictures an entrance to a building.

SOUTH WEST AFRICA.—The 6p stamp noted below under Union of South Africa has been surcharged vertically "South West Africa" and "Suidwes Afrika" alternately for use in this colony. The surcharge is in black.

TRANSJORDANIA. — Whitfield King & Co. report that the following provisionals have been issued: on the postage due stamps, script watermark, 1m on 1m, 2m on 1m, 8m on 3m, 4m on 3m, 13 on 13m and 5 piastres on 13m.

TURKEY.—Mr. Harvey L. Meekin has received a letter from Smyrna with a pair of stamps of a new design. The value is five grouch and the view in the centre is that of a citadel. At the base is the inscription "Turk Postalari". The color is grey lilac.

UNION OF SOUTH AFRICA. — Mr. R. Roberts sends for chronicle the new 6p orange and green stamp. It is of the orange tree type in the centre similar to Orange Free State design, but printed in two colors, the oranges being in orange and the crop very plentiful.

2,500 French Colonials

This collection covers practically every colony of France, both old and new issues.

Most of the stamps are mint, some are in complete or nearly complete sets, the condition is fine, and taken as a whole, the collection represents very fair value. It is not a regular stock packet with us, but we happened to pick it up at an opportune moment, at a price much below actual wholesale market value, and are passing it along on the usual small profit margin.

Others ask $175.00 and more for a packet of this size, but ours is going, via the cost-plus route, for

Only $115.00

3,000 All Different French Colonials

(No stamps of France)

Now $167.50!

This is probably the largest collection of its kind which has ever been regularly carried by any concern, and they are so difficult to assemble that it is impossible for us to offer more than one or two each year.

The mere number "three thousand" does not appear very startling, but when it precedes the words, "French Colonials" — scarce, undercatalogued and everywhere in demand—then will incredulous exclamations be forthcoming from every collector. For how many devotees of the Great Hobby can point with pride to well-filled pages of these hard-to-get Colonials? How many more have glanced ruefully at the many empty and unfilled spaces and very near despaired of ever filling them?

A detailed description of the collection cannot be undertaken in this short space. We can state, however, that every stamp is in fine condition and that the collection will fill, at one fell swoop, many of those annoying blank spaces with the medium-priced French Colonials you have been unable to obtain. Early issues, new issues, red cross and charity stamps; occupation and provisional issues:—hundreds of superb, handsome and hard-to-get stamps, most of them in mint condition.

* * * That's the story in a few words and if you are not more than pleased after a thorough examination, the collection may be returned for a full refund. We make this seemingly liberal offer secure in the knowledge of such good value that no one will ever think of taking advantage of it!

Last fall we offered a collection of this same size, but containing several hundred stamps of France. The collection now on hand contains the Colonials only—not a single stamp of France—and is therefore of much better value.

This collection is regularly priced to sell at wholesale for $235.00, but owing to a recent drop in francs, the advantage of which is gladly passed on to the purchaser, we are able to reduce the price—for cash only—to and of unpopular countries, make the specialist in the issues of King George feel how inadequately in comparison these issues are dealt with, but he is prepared to put up with omissions of varieties of shade and paper if the lists are otherwise accurate, and obscure and trivial shades are not given undue prominence merely because they have happened to catch the Editor's attention; e.g., Barbados 200 and 200a, Cayman Islands 77 and 78 should certainly not be differentiated at all, much less in the quotations of the former, unless far more definite shades of other issues are to be included.

Only $167.50

An overhauling of the Georgian lists is overdue, and is a simple matter for many specialists, but would require editorial supervision to maintain equality of treatment between the various countries.

I have not attempted to answer here the queries put forward by Mr. Iremonger, as I feel that they are not intended to be dealt with in this reply, and that, to a certain extent, they were rhetorical and added more as emphasis to his views than as search for information.

I would add that the colours of ink and of paper are more difficult to describe, though perhaps less necessary to expertise on, in the case of the line-engraved stamps, such as St. Vincent 112b, due to the running and soaking of the ink, giving somewhat complex results, from the wetting of the paper in the course of printing.

Finally, I make the suggestion for what it is worth that you deal with the coloured papers in a similar manner to that which you do with Dies I and II, viz., that where a stamp exists only on one make of yellow paper, whether "yellow," "lemon," "buff" or "pale yellow," you refer to it merely as "yellow" not in italics, and that you only italicize the colour of the paper when it is necessary to differentiate between two different makes of paper occurring in the same duty. The italics at present nominally used in the colour of the paper do not make the description any clearer, and if only one make of paper exists in a particular duty it does not matter much to the general collector, nor even to the specialist who can look after himself, which particular paper it is. The s cialist will naturally differentiate minor shades, or even into clim changes, as he does with colour of gum of stamps on white paper, and suc course would tend to remove inconsis cies by demanding less accuracy in n essentials on the part of the compi of the Catalogue, but still allow of pansion into further subdivisions italics, to include, say, lemon-yellow, low-buff, orange-buff, etc., in partic cases where these shades occur unr takably.

Thus, "green" of Gilbert and El Islands 1s would be in ordinary t whereas that of Ceylon 5rs would be italics, where besides "green," "bl surface, green back" could be inclu and yet consistency could be maintai If such a course were adopted, excep might be taken to listing Antigua, N 55, 56 and 60, as being merely "on low," or No. 57 as "on green"—in b cases not in italics, but if it were un stood that the actual make of paper in this manner not particularised, I do see that any such objections would ca weight.

Alternatively to using "green" in manner for all four main makes of pa I suggest that "emerald" might be u as well; thus the present descriptions Gilbert and Ellice Islands, Nos. 19 35, would stand by putting the "gre and "emerald" into ordinary type.

In support of this suggestion, I wo refer to the 4d of the current Ascens design, not yet catalogued, but as Helena, Type 20. Let the Catalogue scribe this as "on yellow"—no ital whereas if it were described as "on p yellow" there would be a demand for extension of the list, as this stamp be found also on lemon-yellow (ba and on deep lemon (back)—the la really a deep lemon-yellow, but with considerable amount of lemon.

In time to come, these three variet of paper may receive catalogue ra but meanwhile generalisation should adopted without the particularising wh would be associated with the use italics. — Stanley Gibbons Month Journal.

THE NEW ISSUE PROVISIONAL ALBUM

First Quarterly Edition Ready About June 1

This album has been designed to satisfy the growing multitudes of requests we constantly are receiving for a TEMPORARY HOUSING for the large numbers of stamps issued after the various editions of our albums are published.

THE NEW ISSUE PROVISIONAL ALBUM SERVICE IS A COMPLETE ANSWER TO THIS NEED

The New Issue Provisional Album

(1) Will be issued every three months.
(2) Will provide spaces, fully illustrated, for ALL STAMPS issued the three months previous as chronicled in Scott's Monthly Journal.
(3) Countries will be arranged alphabetically.
(4) Pages are regular album size, specially bound with a linen hinge, so constructed as to permit placing this album into the Loose Leaf Editions of our Albums: (They may also be slipped into the back of a bound album.
(5) Each edition will be as large as is necessary to include ALL new issues.*

Sold by Subscription Only

An annual subscription price of $2.50 entitles subscribers to 4 issues, post free, less than a year's subscription will not be accepted.

SINCE THE FIRST ANNUAL PRINTING HAS BEEN LIMITED TO 2000 COPIES ONLY A LIMITED NUMBER OF SUBSCRIPTIONS CAN BE ACCEPTED, AND WE ADVISE THOSE INTERESTED TO WRITE US AT ONCE.

SCOTT STAMP & COIN CO.

1 WEST 47TH STREET — NEW YORK, N. Y.

*Inasmuch as the 1st quarterly edition goes back to the publication of the 1926 catalogue, it will be somewhat larger than later editions. [tf

NOTED:—

THERE appeared in the Times-Picayune, of New Orleans on May 21, a very fine editorial dealing with the new Ericsson postage stamp. Thanks to E. O. Barnes for the clipping.

WE have received from C. W. Urie a specimen of the first day Sesqui cover which he advertises elsewhere in this issue. It is a unique cover with a fine representation of the Liberty Bell on the left side of the envelope.

OUR English contemporary Stamp Collecting issued on May 8 what it terms a "Special Strike Issue" and underneath is found the advice "Keep this copy as it may be rare". The number consists of four pages, nearly all advertising. The reading matter is a brief statement of the circumstances under which the number was issued.

A PIECE of poetry comes to us from John J. Thorndahl entitled, "A Collector's Lament on Cincinnati Trip." It is dedicated to the S. P. A. convention. We print the concluding lines:—

But since I've done some figgering,
My trip is put on skids;
I guess I can't afford it,
'Cause I got so many kids.
But I'm not going to worry
'Cause I cannot pay the freight,
And maybe in the future they
Will choose a nearer state.

THINGS down in the British West Indies, so far as new issues are concerned, are rather dead—although with the return to 2½d foreign letter rate, color changes will be coming along, in the 2½d and 3d, and some other values. The 2½d gray Grenada, script is exhausted (replaced by the 2½d blue), and the 2½d orange, St. Lucia, stock was withdrawn and destroyed, on issue of the 2½d blue, script. In St. Vincent, we have a blue 2½d and a blue 3d, the latter will not be requisitioned "on yellow" until present stock lowers. The 2½d Leeward Islands, orange, may prove to be a good "one," you know it wasn't furnished to all islands—Montserrat that I know of, and maybe Dominica.—HARRY E. HUBER.

FR. REINHARD --- SWISS PHILATELIST

Eminent Collector, Editor, Society Member. One of the N. Y. Exhibition Judges

It is a pleasure for the WEEKLY to publish the following sketch of the philatelic activities of Fr. Reinhard, who is probably the most active of all Swiss philatelists. Mr. Reinhard has accepted a position as one of the judges of the New York Exhibition and his willingness to serve is a marked tribute to the Exhibition. We know of no way in which we can improve the splendid sketch submitted by Mr. Reinhard and we quote directly from his letter as follows:—

I was born on the 20th of May, 1871, son of a stationmaster of a village near Berne and showed from my earliest childhood the keenest interest for postage stamps. A chain of happy circumstances affirmed my interest. We had a cousin, very dear to us, who had passed a large part of her childhood under care of my parents and who had, after finishing her studies, the chance to accompany a family on long travels. She visited the whole Continent, Great Britain, Africa and America. This lady was thoroughly acquainted with our keen interest and sent us kiddies stamps of every country she passed. I well remember the joyous screams we used to greet the postman with, when he brought us a specially fat letter from abroad, containing heaps of stamps. They were carefully stuck with glue in copybooks, as at that time we had no idea of stamp hinges.

One of my brothers had a friend, who still lives near Berne, who was very rich in worldly goods but very poor in knowledge. My brother used to help his friend with the home-work, made many a good essay for him and was rewarded with little gifts of postage stamps. There is no need to say, that many a duplicate came into my collection as well. I often remember with pleasure my nice little collection, containing many pages of Hamburg, Bremen, Hannover, Baden and Swiss Cantonal stamps. How proud I was to be the lucky possessor of even the large newspaper stamps of the United States of America!

When I was a boy of fourteen I was sent to a college in Serrières in the periphery of Neuchâtel, to study the French language. Serrières is the well known place of the head office of the chocolate factory Suchard. This office had an immense correspondence with the whole world and we boys were allowed to look through the paper baskets for stamps. I well remember the trouble our teachers had to keep us boys from exchanging stamps during the lessons.

At that time there already existed forgeries. I once exchanged, for instance, some duplicates against stamps of Tuscany and Queensland and found out later on that they were forgeries.

The following experience suppressed my enthusiasm considerably. It was in the year 1887 when I read in a newspaper an advertisement of the stamp firm A. Ch. in Geneva, who was willing to exchange stamps. I had quite a lot of very nice and undoubtedly valuable duplicates. I sent a box full of my stamps to this address and was sure to get at least the same quantity of oversea stamps in exchange. My disappointment was therefore immense when I only received one set of Samoa 1877, express mail, and a few stamps of Italy. A few years later I found out that the stamps of Samoa were reprints and the Italian forgeries.

In the following years I was rather indifferent to stamp collecting, owing to my annoying experience. I devoted my whole time to my education and to the Alpine sport. I joined in 1895 the Swiss Alpine Club and climbed many of our beautiful Swiss mountains. My enthusiasm for the Alpine sport has remained to this day. I celebrated in August, 1925, my silver wedding with my wife and two of my children in an Alpine club house in the height of 9,600 feet.

I married in the year 1900. My young wife possessed a nice little collection of postage stamps, which she had started on her visits in France and England. We continued collecting with the greatest of enthusiasm and tried to complete first the collection of my wife. I kept all the duplicates for my collection.

Want Lists

We make a specialty of filling collectors' want lists, from our stock, also from the fine collections we purchase from time to time.

We recently acquired a very complete XX Century collection (up to 1914 only), especially strong in Colonials, British, French and Portuguese, although by no means confined to these, a few items from which are offered below—want lists will receive our careful and prompt attention whether for a cheap or high priced item.

H. F. COLMAN, 509 7th St., N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C.

A year later a healthy little boy was born and my wife had hardly any time left for her collection. This was the time when I started to devote my free time to my collection. I first was a general collector. Later on I collected mostly British Colonies and specialized in very interesting countries, such as Albania, Abyssinia, New Hebrides, Gilbert and Ellice Islands, British New Guinea, and I believe they were some of the best collections of the European Continent. I possess medals of stamp exhibitions for these specialized collections.

I established 1903, with two of my friends, the Stamp Exchanging Club of Berne, which is today one of the largest stamp clubs of Switzerland. I also started my journalistic occupation for philately, to which I devoted much of my free time. I first edited the "Philatelistischen Mitteilungen," the paper for the Stamp Exchanging Club, Berne, and became 1910 the editor of the "Schweizer Briefmarken Zeitung," the journal of the Union of Swiss Philatelic Societies. In the years 1914 to 1918 I edited the "Berner Briefmarken Zeitung" as well. The "Schweizer Briefmarken Zeitung" won distinction at several international stamp exhibitions (London, New York, etc.). Since 1915 I have been the president of the Stamp Club, Berne, and acted as same six years before. I am also member of the committee of the Union of Swiss Philatelic Societies.

I am pleased to say that my children are keenly interested in philately. My eldest son, Freddy, who first passed several years in England, has been two years manager of one of the leading stamp firms of Switzerland and my daughter Marguerite, who also stayed many years in Great Britain, has a leading position in the same firm, and intends to start shortly a stamp business on her own account. I am sure that my family will remain loyal to philately.

I had the pleasure to visit the U. S. A. in the autumn and winter, 1919-1920, and I passed many enjoyable hours in New York and the adjoining states. I am, therefore, looking forward with keen anticipation to greeting again the wonderful Statue of Liberty in the bay of New York.

SUBSCRIPTION RENEWALS

Some of our subscribers need to know our rule regarding discontinuances. We discontinue all subscriptions in arrears promptly the second issue of each month. This means that your subscription should be renewed prior to expiration. The expiration number can be ascertained by consulting your wrapper. No free copies of the WEEKLY are sent out and this rule is as fixed as the laws of the M. and P. Our older subscribers understand our rule and the newer subscribers should get acquainted with it.

FROM ALL QUARTERS:—

A NEW air-mail route will soon be established between Cleveland and Pittsburgh by way of Youngstown, Ohio. The postmaster at Youngstown is stacking envelopes for the initial flight. Information from E. Gordon Dillon.

WE have received from Wm. F. Benedict, San Francisco, Calif., the manuscript of a talk on "The Postage Stamps of Iceland" delivered over KFRC in San Francisco on Monday evening, May 10. It is a well-known fact that Mr. Merell has a very loyal stamp club which has been developed by the use of this radio station, and this talk on Iceland was given to assist Mr. Merell. We wish we had space to print Mr. Benedict's address. A very fine history of the island was supplemented by an intimate study of its stamps, the entire talk being an ideal one. Mr. Benedict informs us that his son, aged eleven, who specializes on Jamaica and belongs to the San Francisco Society will doubtless make a little talk on his favorite country over KFRC in the near future. If we can find the room we shall print Mr. Benedict's article on Iceland sometime during the summer months.

IF any of our readers are unable to get replies to letters sent Lloyd Martin, 132 N. Columbus Av., Wooster, Ohio, they should communicate with Arthur S. Griswold, M. D., 20 Haddon St., Bridgeport, Conn., who is interested in this party.

EMIL J. RALL sends us a letter from Arica, Chile, from which we quote:—"I expect to remain on this job until the Tacna-Arica Plebiscite is consummated. The Secretary of War has authorized an indefinite extension of leave of those Panama Canal employees whose continued presence may be deemed necessary. Chile has not issued so far any plebiscite stamps, though some Peruvian stamps have been surcharged "PLEBISCITO". These are postally used by the Peruvian government on the steampship "Rimac" anchored in Arica harbor. Only the 10c Peru is at present available with the overprint indicated."

BOTH John Fletcher and John N. Foster send us clippings giving the particulars of a Russian exhibit at the New York Exhibition. "Seventy volumes of the rarest stamps" will accompany the Soviet representative, Prof. Theodore Tsuschin. A complete collection of Russian stamps will be shown.

TWO postcards are at hand from A. O. Tittman, who is travelling abroad. Under date of May 6 he writes from Seville, Spain, and again on May 15 we learn that he is in Tangier, Morocco. Mr. Tittman is having a delightful trip and desires to be remembered to his numerous philatelic friends in America.

UNITED STATES "EDUCATORS"

For those who are not certain of their classifications of 19th Century U. S. stamps (and that means nine collectors out of every ten) we have made up this series of packets and approval booklets, in which every stamp has its correct catalog number. from 1851 to 1890 inclusive, only $2.00

Packet A. — 30 varieties of U. S. postage only, all classified, including every issue

Packet B. — 20 varieties of the hard-to-place Bank Note issues each one numbered according to Scott's catalog, 1871 to 1890 .....$1.00

"Educator" Approvals contain almost all regularly issued stamps of the United States from 1847 to 1900. No stamp priced more than $5, most of them at big discounts from catalog prices. Sent only against references or deposit. [H

Additional info re lot of May 3. No. 6 was used in Blairstown, N. J., the monogram being the then postmaster's initials, J V D—John Van Doren, info supplied by Mr. Wm. Webb, who adds that red and magenta were also used in this type of cancellation. He says the town used a crude V in circle at times.

Mr. A. B. Thacher sends in a cancel with a large E surrounded by a laurel wreath struck in that mild purplish black ink of the period, on a 3c green cover used in 1881. The E is quite similar to our E, No. 4 of May 3, as far as the letter is concerned, and letters have distinguishing characteristics as well as fancy or ornate cancels. The town is Ellenville, N. Y., in the Catskills, and we may find our No. 4 to be from that same town.

Mr. H. M. Jones has sent in such a beautiful copy of the bottom cracked plate on 3c 1851 (94L5L) that I cannot help mentioning it, the color being almost vermilion, and a far away shade from the usual clarets in which that C.P. appears. He sends two copies of 3c 1857 Type II's that are apparently recut just below the top left rosette along the frame line. Several things appear to have gone wrong at this spot on these No. 44's, and it is wise to keep an eye open for these oddities. Dr. Chase has shown one that is heavily retouched in his series of articles on these 3c '51-57's.

Another item Mr. Jones calls attention to is a copy of No. 44 with a distinct short heavy line directly down maybe an mm from center of button on tunic. These are very neat, and I have seen several. It is so clearly defined that no glass is necessary. Many are hunting for recuts on these No. 44's, and one is in this lot that surely looks recut at top of the bottom right diamond block, also at top of adjacent label over letters NTS. Heavily inked at these spots, and the work stands out neat and clear, rather than soft and fuzzy, as is usual.

From Mr. A. H. Benners comes one of the most interesting Patriotics that I have had the privilege of seeing. In some manner this Patriotic envelope found its way into the South and was used there, the sender having a keen sense of the fitness of things, for he has inverted the cover before writing the address and stuck the pair of 5c Locals — well, I reckon I'll copy the poem which accompanies this cover, as it explains all,—

"AN INVERT.
Columbia standing on her head,
Jeff Davis on her heels;
Lord,—how it showed in '63
Just how a Rebel feels!"

This combination of a Union patriotic envelope mailed with a pair of Confederate stamps is almost as strange in appearance as the one mentioned some time ago—mailed with a 1 groschen rose Hanover!

That Southern New England affair arrived on Saturday, and at the banquet tables were some 75 collectors. The afternoon was given over to an auction of about 150 lots, several exhibits of stamps, and a contest sheet of whatever the submitter chose to show, the value of the stamps to count nothing; but originality of the subject to have the prime number of points in the judgment. The prizes went first to a sheet showing the coats of arms of various nations, second to a sheet showing a stamp from each of the countries included in the League of Nations, with a block of 17c Wilson's as central motif, entitled, "The Father of the League". In case you do not know how many nations are in this League, it would be a good thing to hunt up during some spare moments, tho I'd better tell you and save your time—it is 55, a number so large that it surprised me. Third went to a sheet showing the discovery

FAR AND NEAR:—

THE May number of the Philatelic Journal of Great Britain is another "strike" publication. It is in a very abbreviated form, consisting of eight pages. A feature of the number is a story of "A Strike Stamp" issued in Amiens, France, during the postal strike of 1909. Attached to the page is a genuine original specimen of the stamp, issued by the local Chamber of Commerce which organized a temporary postal service. Mr. Sefi has gotten out a very interesting number of the paper, which he edits, and it will have a secure niche in philatelic magazine fame.

A SECOND card of greeting is at hand from F. E. Wilson, who is touring Belgium. In part payment of postage, a new 2c stamp in brown of the prevailing type is used. Mr. Wilson writes:—"Just issued".

THE Sharon (Pa.) Stamp Club assisted in organizing the Sharon Junior Stamp Club May 23. Talks were given by John Dunfee, Paul Wentz and Fred Esslinger of the adult club. The junior club starts off with 15 members. Quarters have been secured for a meeting place and bi-monthly meetings will be held.

A WHOLESALE pricelist has just been issued by the Scott Stamp & Coin Co., 1. W. 47 St., N. Y. City. It covers a wide range of stamps in sets and packets, also albums and philatelic accessories. Probably no firm in the world carries such a complete line of goods as this firm offers. A parcel post zone map, together with a rate chart, are useful features of this large list, which will be sent free of charge to any applicant.

WARNER BATES, 452 New Scotland Av., Albany, N. Y., has a supply of prints of the 3c green suitable for illustrating or describing minor varieties. He will supply them at cost.

ADVERTISERS will please note that letters of commendation must be accompanied by name and address or adv. copy will be edited. An endorsement has no value unless this rule is complied with.

U. S. ARROWS AND GUIDE LINES

By JOHN J. SPENCER.

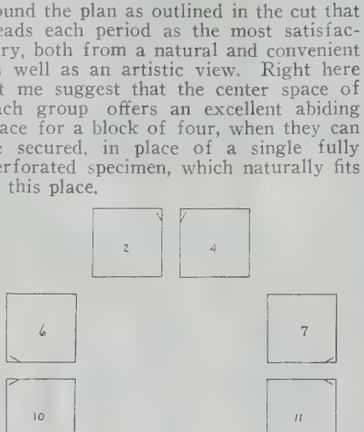
With the preparation of the Panama-American series, both arrows and connecting guide lines were used, but the position of the arrow was so changed that the arrow point now appeared entirely without the finished perforated sheet of stamps. When the sheets are properly perforated and divided the arrow is entirely removed from the stamps with the marginal paper and only the guide line varieties remain. After this period no arrow should be found on the normal single stamp.

A study of these arrows and guide lines as they finally appear on the individual stamp naturally groups them into three general divisions or periods. First, arrows alone. Second, arrow and guide line together. Third, guide lines only.

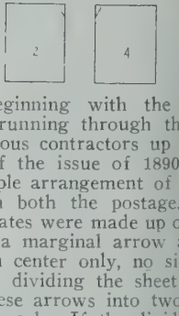
I have studied various groupings for the permanent arrangement of the several possible varieties of each value and have found the plan as outlined in the cut that heads each period as the most satisfactory, both from a natural and convenient as well as an artistic view. Right here let me suggest that the center space of each group offers an excellent abiding place for a block of four, when they can be secured, in place of a single fully perforated specimen, which naturally fits in this place.



First Period

1869. Stamps of this series, 1 cent to 12 cents inclusive, were printed from plates of 300 subjects, with an arrow on the margin at the top and bottom center of the plate, through which the printed sheet was cut, dividing it into two panes of 150 stamps each and all vertical arrows will be found on these unperforated sides. Two arrows were also engraved on each side of the full sheet between each five horizontal rows of stamps. The pane or sheet of st was not cut horizontally, but only forated through these horizontal ar the arrows having been placed he later serve as a guide for the post clerk in making small divisions o sheet of stamps. All horizontal a will therefore be found in the corn the top or bottom of a full perf stamp. As the perforating of this was very poorly done, most arrow mens will be found bearing a major tion of, if not the whole arrow, in of a half arrow, as in most cases of issues when the perforating was more accurately. This series giv the full eight varieties for each o five values,—viz., 2, 4, 6b, 7b, 10b, 13 and 15.

No arrows occur on values abov 12 cents, as these stamps were all pr from small plates, of 100 subjects sheets from which were not us divided, but supplied to post office sale as they came from the printer.



1870. Beginning with the serie 1870, and running through the pri of the various contractors up to th pearance of the issue of 1890, we a very simple arrangement of the a varieties in both the postage, and stamps. Plates were made up of 200 jects with a marginal arrow at th and bottom center only, no side ar being used, dividing the sheet whe through these arrows into two pan 100 stamps each. If the dividing sheets were made exactly in the c of the arrow, each pane would sh half arrow at the top and bottom the straight edge side, on the righ one and the left of the other, giving varieties, Nos. 2, 4, 13, and 15. The ically this would give us one a stamp for each 50 stamps issued, owing to the faulty division of the sh the average has been found to not ex one to each 100. It will be noticed the stamps printed more particu from the later plates of the Amer Company show arrows with much gated points, some extending cons ably inside the stamp alignment.

1890-93. The series of 1890-93 i duces a more complicated assortme varieties, in that the plates for the cent and most of the two cent v were composed of 400 subjects while the remaining values were still duced from plates of 200 subjects. Sl

New Approval Books for the Summer Season

I have just remade a large number of my approval books and have included a fine lot of early issues from various collections and auction lots that I have bought during the winter season. The following new books are now available and I should be glad to send same to collectors who desire fine old stamps at reasonable prices.

ARGENTINE REPUBLIC
Issues 1858-1867.—Remarkably strong in the very fine Rivadavia issues, both imperf. and perf. The 5c are divided into six different printings. The 1862-1864 issue is also a fine lot, with some scarce varieties.

BRAZIL
Issues of 1843-1866.—Remarkably strong in the Bull's Eyes.

UNITED STATES OFFICIAL STAMPS
I have made up 8 new books of these, including duplicates from the large collection I have been forming during the past three years. These consist of unused and used, the latter with many rare cancellations, and prices will be found to average about half catalog.
1861-1868 Issue, 3c rose.—I have 4 books of these, all cancelled, including many rare varieties.
Patriotic Envelopes.—I have 6 books of these, all used and with a number of scarce varieties.
Confederate States.—About 25 new books have been arranged. First, a series of the general issues on covers, and, secondly, a series of unused and used stamps not on covers. I can send fine books of any of these issues (except the 10c outer line). My books of the small stamps 2c, 5c, 10c, and 20c, are arranged to show all varieties of die, paper and shade, in singles and in blocks, at very reasonable prices.

CANADA
About 25 books are now ready of all issues from 1851-1882 and a few books of modern issues. I can send selections of any issue either unused or used or scarce varieties of cancellation, also a very fine selection of stamps on cover.

HONG KONG
Four new books have been arranged, very strong in early issues and with a large number of interesting cancellations.

LABUAN
Two new books, chiefly of early issues, only, before the speculation set in.

INDIA FEUDATORY STATES
I have two books of stamps from Chamba to Patiala surcharged on India stamps and including a number of scarce varieties priced at very reasonable rates.

STRAITS SETTLEMENTS
Four new books have been made up, including the Straits Settlements themselves and all the States with a number of rare and interesting errors.

INDIA
Five new books are now ready, including a remarkably fine selection of the early issues, with a number of rare blocks and pairs of the 1854-1855 issues and a fine selection of the rare large Service stamps of 1866.

COLOMBIAN STATES
Five new books have been made up of the early issues of the Colombian Republic and all the various States. Only the old worth while stamps are included. None of the modern rubbish.

PORTUGUESE COLONIES
Three books of these have been made up, including a good lot of the early issues in the Azores and Madeira and a choice lot of the early types of Portuguese India.

PHILIPPINE ISLANDS
Three new books, including a fine lot of the first issue and a number of scarce Provisionals.

FRENCH COLONIES
I have 9 new books of these, from Anjouan to Tahati. No issues later than 1890 and many rare early Provisionals, including two of the first issue of Reunion.

GERMAN STATES
I have just broken up a very important collection of German States unused and used, including many of the great rarities such as Saxony 1851, a pair of the rare error ½ng blue, 3pf red, three copies unused and a pair used on cover, and fine lots of Brunswick, Wurtemberg, Bremen, etc. I have also a series of cheap books of the old German States.

SERVIA
Three new books of the early issues have been arranged, including a grand lot of the first issue, all of which are plated.

PATHE STAMP CO.
tor St., Dallas, Texas

ed from 200 subject plates still ne arrows in the same location ere divided vertically into two of 100 stamps each, producing the arieties—2, 4, 13 and 15. Sheets ed from plates of 400 bore a marertical arrow between the center at the top and bottom of the lso a horizontal arrow midway on f the sides. The sheets were cut ly through the top and bottom and horizontally through the side dividing the sheet into four equal f 100 stamps, producing four verd four horizontal arrow varieties, os. 2, 4, 6, 7, 10, 11, 13 and 15, be found on the unperforated edges.

The stamps of the Columbian were printed from plates of 200 s bearing a horizontal arrow mideach side and these printed sheets vided into panes of 100 stamps by horizontally through the arrows four varieties, Nos. 6, 7, 10 and to be found on the unperforated bottom of the stamp. It has been perience that the arrows of this re to be listed as among those the ten met with.

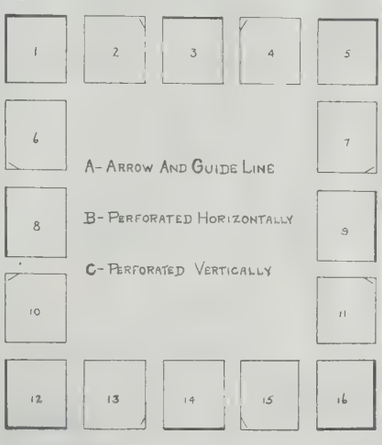
—In 1894 the contract for the of the U. S. stamps was taken the Bureau of Engraving and g, giving us an increased number w varieties. All sheets of the 1 cent and 10 cent stamps were ed from plates of 400 subjects hav- top, bottom and two side marginal and when divided into four panes stamps gave the eight varieties, 7, 10, 11, 13 and 15.

first four plates prepared for each ent, 4 cent and 5 cent values had nps each and all subsequent plates t 200 stamps each. As all plates h 200 and 400 subjects bore the arrows and only the 400 subject roduced the horizontal arrows, it found that the horizontal arrows ch less plentiful than are the arrows of these 3 values. All denominations above the 5 cent were printed from plates of 200 and yield but four varieties, 2, nd 15.

series also complicates the situapresenting two well defined varieties or arrows in all the denominations. One variety being composed of thick, heavy lines and the other, seemingly the more plentiful, of much finer, hair-like lines. Of the 2 cent value, arrow varieties of all three triangles are to be found, those of triangle I, however, greatly predominating, while those of triangle II are least in evidence.

Second Period

The grouping of the many varieties of the second period can best be accomplished after the following arrangement. The letter A in connection with a number in the text indicates a combined arrow and a guide line. The letter B indicates a stamp with a perforated top or bottom and the letter C indicates a stamp with a perforated side.



1895-1898. None of the plates under discussion made prior to December 4, 1895, contained other guide lines than the marginal arrows or tridents. All plates of stamps prepared by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing since December 4, 1895, bear both a vertical and horizontal guide line terminating with the usual arrows on the margin of the sheet and crossing each other at right angles in the center of the sheet, dividing it into four equal parts.

In the case of plates containing 400 subjects, the sheets were divided into four panes of 100 stamps by cutting along these guide lines, leaving unperforated edges on a side and top or bottom of the new sheet, consequently all stamps from these sheets bearing guide lines will be found with the guide line on the unperforated edge. If the guide line were heavy and the cutting into sheets accurately done, each new sheet of 100 stamps would show the colored guide line along each of the two unperforated edges and the unperforated corner stamp of each sheet would have two colored edges at right angles (the "corner" stamp).

The original sheet of 400 thus possibly produces all 16 varieties, 1, 2a, 3, 4a, 5, 6a, 7a, 8, 9, 10a, 11a, 12, 13a, 14, 15a and 16. However, as the guide lines were generally fine and the cutting into sheets none too carefully done, usually but half of the sheets will be found to show the guide line after the division and but one stamp of the four from the center of the original sheet will show the right angle guide line or "corner" stamp. The probabilities then are that while the original sheet of 400 subjects will produce 16 vertical and 16 horizontal plain guide line stamps, two vertical and two horizontal arrow guide line stamps with one "corner" or right angle guide line stamp, there may be but seven of the 16 varieties recovered from the original sheet of 400 stamps.

Sheets of stamps from plates of 200 subjects were cut along the vertical guide only, into panes of 100 stamps, while the horizontal center guide line was simply perforated with the balance of the sheet, the horizontal arrow and guide line being placed there merely as a guide for later division. Stamps from these sheets will be found having the vertical guide line along the unperforated side, the horizontal guide line along the perforated top or bottom and the four center stamps of the plate will show an unperforated guide line side with a perforated guide line top or bottom. The original sheet of 200 stamps, thus possibly produces the sixteen varieties, 1b, 2a, 3b, 4a, 5b, 6ab, 7ab, 8, 9, 10ab, 11ab, 12b, 13a, 14b, 15a, 16b.

The 1 cent, 2 cent and 10 cent green stamp of 1895 printed from plates engraved after December 4, were in sheets of 400, yielding the 16 varieties, 1, 2a, 3, 4a, 5, 6a, 7a, 8, 9, 10a, 11a, 12, 13a, 14, 15a and 16. These three values are to be found with both perforated and straight-edge top or bottom guide lines.

The brown 10 cent stamp of 1898 appearing in two types presents the one complication of the series and the greatest number of varieties. Type I was printed from plates of 400 subjects and produced the 16 varieties just noted above. Type I was soon followed by type II, which was printed from plates of 400 subjects up to April, 1900, after which it was issued from plates of 200, thus yielding both unperforated and perforated top and bottom guide line specimens, giving twenty-two varieties of type II, viz., 1, 1b, 2a, 3, 3b, 4a, 5, 5b, 6a, 7a, 8, 9, 10a, 11a, 12, 12b, 13a, 14, 14b, 15a, 16, 16b, or a grand total of thirty-eight varieties of the 10 cent brown.

All the other values of this issue printed from plates prepared after December 4, 1895, were in sheets of 200 subjects showing both guide lines and divided thru the vertical guide line into two panes, yielding the eight guide line varieties, 1b, 3b, 5b, 8, 9, 12b, 14b, 16b. In preparing the plates for this issue, the arrows were engraved at the ends of both vertical and horizontal lines. The vertical arrows were still engraved so that the points projected in the perforated sheet in alignment with the outer row of stamps and gave the four top and bottom arrow varieties 2a, 4a, 13a, and 15a for each value.

In the case of the horizontal arrows the plates for all values do not seem to have been prepared alike, only the five cent and eight cent values showing varieties 6ab, 7ab, 10ab and 11ab. The other values, 3 cent, 4 cent, 6 cent, 10 cent brown, type II from the 200 plate, 15 cent, 50 cent, and $1.00 seem devoid of these varieties, the arrow having been engraved farther back and being removed with the perforated marginal paper.

The first stamp books were issued in 1900 and panes bearing a horizontal perforated guide line between the first and second row of stamps appeared. These books were of the 2 cent denomination only and the single book stamp bearing a horizontal guide line can be distinguished from the regular issue by the perforation on the guide line of the book stamp.

1898. The stamps of the Trans-Miss. (Omaha) series were printed from plates of 100 subjects, having vertical and horizontal guide lines, the sheets being cut vertically on the guide line into two panes of 50 stamps each, resulting in 16 varieties of each value, 1b, 2a, 3b, 4a, 5b, 6b, 7b, 8, 9, 10b, 11b, 12b, 13a, 14b, 15a, 16b.

EDITORIAL

The new five cent Ericsson commemorative stamp could well be advertised as the stamp "with a difference" so far as U. S. issues are concerned. The invariable remark that greets it from collecting lips is to the effect that the stamps bear the ear-marks or rather, atmosphere, of a foreign creation; and it is not to be denied that it carries old-world suggestions. The shape of the stamp is distinctive for our issues and the specimen will be a striking addition to our albums. When it is taken into consideration that the stamp was prepared and issued within a very short space of time, it will be admitted that the Bureau worked to advantage. We are assured that the likeness of Ericsson is a good one and that no fault is to be found with the many details that enter into the design. There are enough of the stamps issued to go around and it is likely that collectors will do their part in seeing that a great number of the stamps are used.

Denver has been put on the air-mail map with a vengeance and we have had first trip covers from Mr. C. A. Nast and Mr. T. A. Hayward of that city. Speaking of the Cheyenne-Pueblo route, Mr. Nast wrote that the city was all agog over the inauguration of the highest air-mail route in this country. The postmaster kept a window open all day on May 31st, in order that the public might obtain "air mail souvenir stamps." The Denver Post published a cartoon depicting the growth of the mail service from the prairie schooner and Pony Express to air plane; and also printed an appropriate poem, "The Air Mail," by Harry Lucas.

Our Washington correspondent has ear to the ground and we infer that he hears the rumbling of another commemorative in the offing, although we have just had word from him that we hold intimations that we have received from him, until he is allowed to speak with some finality. Too many commemoratives will lessen the regard that such issues are received with and while we appreciate the attractions of novelty, yet the philatelic appetite for such things may be satiated or worse, surfeited by a profusion of these tid-bits. The position of the post office department, in this connection is not an eviable one, we suppose, when it is realized that it must be subjected to pressure by many interests that are keen to make capital of memorials and events in which they have a particular interest. These officers are the servants of the public, which, sometimes, is a hard task-master.

Graduation days are here for those to whom they mean a scholastic step in advance or the close of the school career; and again this year, we are able to say that philately will not be lost sight of during this distracting period. At least two graduates in this broad land will employ philately as a theme worthy of their best endeavors at the qualifying exercises. Several requests have come asking for advice on the choice of stamp subjects or for information about topics that have been chosen. One of these devoted philatelists has taken a theme that must prove of interest to many folks and that is the history of the Philippine Islands as shown by its stamps; and he asks for authority for statements on the Aguinaldo or Philippine Revolutionary stamps. Naturally, he would like to have official backing for any observations on the stamps. These issues are not given place in the regular catalogue but are recognized in the supplement of local stamps and we know that not a few collectors in each new generation are puzzled by the Aguinaldo stamps which used to be so common, at one time, in unused condition. The following abridgment of a letter sent to the essayist is given. F. L. Palmer, Major U. S. Army, retired, in his splendid work on the postal issues of the Philippines, published by the J. M. Bartels Company, in 1912, said that for many months the revolutionary government was an organization that maintained jurisdiction over a large territory whose population was not confined to natives and which functioned through various bureaus and branches. When Funston captured Aguinaldo, the de facto government collapsed, but before that exploit was embalmed in history, it was shown beyond the peradventure of a doubt that the stamps actually had been used. A correspondent in the army in the Philippines proved through the columns of the WEEKLY the validity of the stamps by the capture of a used cover; and the occasion is well remembered as there was a thrill in the news that the postal claims of the stamps had been established. The unused stamps were held by many collectors here, but their philatelic standing was doubted by many. However, one fact stood forth even before there was any disposition to acknowledge that the stamps had merits and that was the certainty that they had not been prepared for the market at the expense of collectors. The stamps were never handled in a way to arouse suspicion that they were being pushed for philatelic purposes only. There are locals in the special catalogue of such stamps that have less warrant for inclusion than the Aguinaldo issues, especially in view of the statement that has been made by Major Palmer that of one type of the "correos" issue, the unused stamps much scarcer than the used.

According to the "Times of Mal the self-government pictorial issues, charged "Postage," have been the co of an inquiry. A member of the M Legislative Assembly prepared a lis over a score of questions concerning manipulation of the stamps by the office authorities which the ministe charge of the department found diffi in answering plausibly and convinc The member of the district who instit the examination knew his subject an is not unfair to say that he has the ter of the department. Whether the vantage will be pressed to the detri of the officers in power in the depart remains to be seen. The fact shoul understood that collectors feel that have a right to be acquainted with statistics as to numbers of stamps is in issues such as this and all oth They are encouraged to have a more interest in new emissions and detail quantity and so on should be forthco for their benefit. We might add tha Stamp Collecting just at hand, we fi reprint of the questions and answers this paper is not so tolerant of the co tions exposed as we are and quotes words: "An evasive, incomplete and satisfactory defence."

The following note has been rece from a reader who does not tell w it originated, except that it dates f the year 1870: "As soon as the new the gold discoveries in British Colu reached England, my brother sta again for that dreary region. A terrible suffering on the road to Car he took, as the hunters say, the 'track' for Vancouver's Island. The souvenir that I possess of that disast campaign consists of a hand-stam oval, Post Office Paid, Victoria, V couver's Island." Even so, a cover the kind would be in demand in t days when so much attention is give early markings.

Professor E. G. Young, Pek China, writes that conditions which been none too pleasant in his city some time past, are improving; and is hopeful that he will get back to country in time for the American P atelic Society convention and the York Exhibition. We have an ar from our friend on the stamps of Chinese dependencies.

ODD ITEMS:—

We acknowledge with thanks the receipt from W. W. Washburn of Hawthorne, N. J., of the renewal of subscription for the Hawthorne Free Public Library of that city.

We are indebted to Richard E. Tims for two clippings of interest. One is from the Cedar Rapids (Iowa) Republican of May 29, in which A. W. Jenista, president of the Hawkeye Stamp Co., is featured. In addition to the usual interview there is a fine cut of Mr. Jenista. All in all, the story is excellent. The other clipping is from the Pathfinder of May 29 and is entitled "New Stamp Issues Elaborate".

We are indebted to Bright & Son for specimens of several new stamps. One is the new 25 lepta Greece. There are also specimens of a new airpost stamp issued for Syria, the set consisting of four values, 2, 3, 5 and 10 piastres. Similar sets have been issued for Lebanon and Alaouites. Overprinted charity set appeared May 1 in aid of refugees rendered homeless by the war in Djebel Druze. The set consists of sixteen values for Syria and Lebanon, each stamp being overprinted "Secours aux Refugees" with new value. They are available for postage to the amount of the surcharge, but while a 25p surcharged 5p actually costs 30p, but on the letter only counts as 5p, the remainder going to the refugee charity. The 1921 12c Costa Rica has been overprinted 10. This is the American Banknote issue.

Charles Metz of Philadelphia sends greetings to the Weekly from his city in connection with the opening of the Sesqui Exposition May 31. Matter descriptive of the Exposition is printed on the face of the card and this with the 2c Sesqui stamp and the picture upon the reverse side of Gen. Washington inspecting the first American flag as made by Betsey Ross is a pleasant first-day souvenir.

On May 31 a first flight inaugurating contract airmail between Cheyenne, Wyo., and Pueblo, Colo., was established. We have covers at hand from Albert E. Gorham and Charles E. Saxton. One of Mr. Gorham's covers shows a Cheyenne marking of 5 A. M. for despatching and a receiving mark of 11.30 A. M., at Pueblo. A second cover from Mr. Gorham shows a Denver 5.30 P. M. marking. Mr. Saxton's cover left Pueblo, May 31, at 3.45 P. M., and bears a New York receiving postmark of the following day. We thank both of these subscribers for their courtesy. Mr. Saxton writes that he has been a subscriber to the Weekly for many years.

DEATH OF GEN. COOLIDGE

We have received from Herman W. Boers and Dr. W. L. Babcock news of the death of Brig. Gen. Charles A. Coolidge of Detroit, Mich., which occurred Tuesday June 1. Further particulars will be published next week.

FIRST DAY ERICSSONS

The mails on May 29th gave evidence of the appearance of the new Ericsson memorial stamp. It is probable that more first-day covers were sent out with this stamp than of any previous commemorative issue. We offer our acknowledgments to various parties for courtesies extended.

We are indebted to Albert E. Gorham for a set of covers bearing Washington, New York, Chicago and Minneapolis postmarks and dated May 29. Raymond V. Bahr sent a Springfield, Ill., cover, the envelope used being a 3c violet overprinted 2c. Two additional Minneapolis cancellations came from Julius A. Kurtz and G. E. Tisdale. Mr. Tisdale's cover had a block of four of the commemorative.

L. F. Beuchel sent a New York cover to each of the three members of the firm, which courtesy was greatly appreciated. E. J. S. Halvorsen of Salem, Mass., sent us greetings by way of New York in which he exploited the Ter-Centenary celebration soon to be held in Salem.

Philatelists availed themselves as never before of the privilege of celebrating a first day issue, and much free advertising resulted through the columns of the metropolitan press. The stamp has been so fully covered in our new issues department that we do not need to describe it.

ATLAS STAMP CO. (P. C. Smith) West Somerville, Mass.

First Day Covers

While I am supplying my regular clients with all of the first day covers, I have recently obtained two varieties that I do not believe have been secured by any other dealer. The number obtained in each case is limited to fifty covers, and while they last, you may have one of each at a price of $1.00 for the two.

The first cover is the 2c Sesqui-Centennial used from the model post office located on the grounds on the opening day at the hour of the opening of the post office. A souvenir of this occasion will add interest to any collection, for it celebrates the most important event in the history of the country.

The second cover is a 5c Ericsson used from New York, one of the cities where it was first officially placed on sale, but it does not bear the New York postmark but is canceled aboard the cruiser, "U. S. S. Dobbin", and bears the special ship cancellation, giving date, showing, of course, that it was used on the first day.

Can furnish the 5c Ericsson covers from four cities, Washington, New York, Chicago and Minneapolis, at $1.25 for the four, and the 7c, 8c and 9c rotaries, canceled on covers from Washington on day of issue, at $1.00 for the three.

The nine covers described above, if purchased at one time, for $3.00.

5c Ericsson, Issue of 1926

Saturday, May 29th, was a gala day in philatelic circles as several new stamps made their appearance for the first time. The most important variety was the 5c Ericsson in a shade of purple blue, unlike both the 5c and 14c, in fact, it is nearer the light shade of the current special delivery. This stamp differs greatly from any variety heretofore turned out by this Government and resembles the pictorial emissions issued by some of the South American nations. It is officially described by the Department as follows:

"The subject of this stamp is a model similar to the John Ericsson memorial statue designed by J. E. Fraser.

The new stamp is an upright rectangle, 1 44/100 by 84/100 inches in size, printed in purplish blue ink. The central design is the white marble figure of John Ericsson seated in a large chair resting on a stone base. Upon the base appear the words 'John Ericsson Memorial' and 'Cents' in white Gothic letters with the numeral '5' in both corners. Extending from either side and in rear of chair on darker stone appear the years of his birth and death, '1803-1889.' On an ornate base, above and to the rear of the figure of Ericsson is a group of figures in white marble, the center one, a female, representing 'Vision,' is shown. The background for this statue is a dark sky with darkly silhouetted evergreens showing on each side. A narrow white line border surrounds the stamp with a shield of the United States in the upper left corner and a shield of Sweden in the upper right corner. Connecting the two shields is a panel supported on each side by small ornamental brackets and containing the words, 'U. S. Postage' in white-face Gothic letters."

The variety is unusual and is the type of stamp that will bring new collectors into our fold for it is bound to attract attention on any piece of mail matter. Its sale on the first day was limited to Chicago, New York, Minneapolis and Washington, the first two offices receiving 200,000 copies each and the latter two offices 100,000 each. Fifteen million are being printed and are available to postmasters in limited quantities.

Through the courtesy of Mr. G. G. Ryder, I have received copies postmarked "Boston" on the first day, but these no doubt were carried from New York. I wish to thank Messrs. W. A. Corley, Willis M. Pott, Julius A. Kurtz, H. H. Barber and C. J. West for first day covers. One is especially attractive for it bears the postmark of the "U. S. S. Dobbin", which was stationed in New York Harbor on the day this stamp was on sale.

New 7c, 8c and 9c Rotaries

On May 29, 1926, there also appeared for the first time, at Washington only, the new 7c, 8c and 9c perforated 10, the product of the rotary press. With these three denominations on sale, we now have all values, from 1c to 10c inclusive, in the rotary type. It is quite possible that these three stamps will only be available at the Philatelic Agency for the present, for those now being turned out by the Bureau are being precanceled to take care of the many demands from the larger offices throughout the country. A number of them have already received the cancellation and will reach the hands of several postmasters during this week.

Washington Notes

With the proposed changes in postal rates recently outlined in this column, there is a possibility of three new "Special Handling" stamps for the new charges are in amounts of 10c, 15c, 25c and 35c. As we already have a 25c value, no doubt the 10c, 15c and 35c will make their appearance. There is also a possibility of a new 15c and 20c air mail stamp for use in connection with certain charges on the contract air mail service.

With the recent new issues, the Philatelic Agency has received upward of 3,500 letters, and, as a result, a delay is bound to occur. In order to facilitate the delivery of the new varieties, it is their intentions of filling those orders calling for the new issues only, and then filling the orders calling for the regular stock. Our readers are asked to have patience, for the demand is so great that their force cannot turn out this quantity of orders as promptly as they would like.

Sesqui-Centennial Post Office

On May 31st, the model post office located at the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition was opened and as expected a special postmark was used for this occasion. The office opened about 1.00 P. M. and the first covers mailed on the Exposition grounds bore a cancellation of this hour. The postmark reads "Philadelphia, Pa., May 31, 1 P. M., 1926—Model Post Office Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition."

I wish to thank Mr. Joseph Klein for such a cover containing not only the 2c Sesqui-Centennial stamp, but the 3c Centennial envelope as well. Mr. Klein tells me that he sent similar covers to President Coolidge and the Mayor of Philadelphia.

New 1½c Provisional Envelope

Mr. H. Clay Reed has just shown me a copy of the 1c green Franklin, issue of 1903, on amber overprinted 1½c, with the double line overprint. I have not seen the variety on any other color of paper as yet. It is the first one of this issue that has come to my attention with the new overprint.

Canal Zone

The Nassau Stamp Company has shown me a complete southwest pane of the 12c Cleveland from plate 14406 on which I note the surcharge on the thirtieth stamp has the inverted "Zone", a variety similar to the 1c quite recently located.

CILICIA.—Mr. C. A. Ryniker informs us that he has a copy of No. 117 with the fourth and fifth letters "IC" in Cilicia missing.

DENMARK.—Our esteemed Special Correspondent, Mr. E. A. G. Caröe, informs us that, under an official decree (dated March 31st), all Danish postage stamps will be demonetized as from October 1st, with the following exceptions:—

Numerals Type.—1, 2, 4, 5 brown, on 8, 8, 10 ore green.

Christian Xth Type.—7 on 27, 12 on 15, 15, 20 red, 25 green, 30 blue, 40 yellow, 50 grey, 60 blue-green, 70, 90 ore; 1 kr. brown and blue, 2 kr. lake and grey, and 5 kr.

1924 Jubilee (Chr. IV and Chr. X)—10, 15, 20 ore.

1926 Jubilee.—10, 20, 30 ore.

1926 Provisionals on obsolete official stamps.—7 ore on 1, 3, 4, 5, 10, 15, and 20 ore.

Definitive 7 and 12 ore stamps are expected shortly.—Stamp Collecting.

HONDURAS.—The commemorative arra of 1 centavo stamps of last year (portrait of President Miguel Paz Barahona was recently augmented by yet another color, green, of the same design and denomination. To add variety, there are shades of each tint and some of the stamps may be found in imperforate state. But what is most strange are the very restricted quantities issued, comprising (according to M. Théodore Champion):—6,500 of the 1c blue; 40 of the 1c brown; 3,050 of the 1c carmine;—and 50 only of the 1c green.—Stamp Collecting.

ITALY.—Mr. R. Roberts sends us four values of Air Post stamps of oblong shape with the inscription "Posta Aerea". The values are 60c grey, 1 L blue, L50c pale orange and 5L green.

MALTA.—Mr. Roberts reports the appearance of two new items for this colony. They are the 6p rose carmine and violet, King's Head medalion design as before and the 5sh new pictorial issue line engraved, green and black. The inscription beneath the view in the centre of the 5sh is "Mnaidra".

JUST COMMON COURTESY

Whenever we write a letter asking information we make it a practice enclose an addressed stamped en- pe for reply. It is simply a com- on everyday courtesy that should not neglected. Why should we expect one to trouble themselves with a uest we have made upon them when do not even pay the postage upon reply? The ethics of correspond- e require that this little detail be n proper consideration.

THE BI-MONTHLY JOURNAL

A house organ with an inimitable style and charm, published every two months. Each issue consists of from 32 to 48 pages, every one containing a formidable array of unusual offerings in medium and scarce sets, packets and special collections, dealers' stocks, single stamps, philatelic supplies, etc., etc.

Albert C. Munson, 412 Broadway, Houston, Texas, writes:

"I enjoy the Bi-Monthly as much as MEKEEL'S; there is no other paper, house organ, journal or circular of any kind wherein one can find such extraordinary good stock—and at such reasonable prices."

C. A. Ralston, 164 Vaughn St., Waterloo, Iowa, says:

"I am paying subscription charges for two large house organs, but would rather get along without both of them than to lose yours. If necessary, I know that I could pay a substantial subscription to the Bi-Monthly and save all of it on stamps offered in a single issue."

The Bi-Monthly Journal is a distinctive publication and absolutely free to patrons. You can't afford to be without it!

APRIL MEETING OF NANKING (CHINA) PHILATELIC SOCIETY

MARKET IN MODERN COLONIALS

Turks and Caicos—The 2sh Turks Is. of 1922, recently mentioned in these columns, seems turning out a really good thing. The numbers printed on the old wmk. paper must have been pretty small, and the value of the stamp has gone up with a rush; present market price appears about 30sh. It may seem curious that a stamp apparently imported in normal quantities, and current for two or three years, should go up so sharply, but the same thing happened with another 2sh stamp of this colony—the large 2sh ship type. This was current for about ten years, and yet on withdrawal proved quite scarce, the present catalogue quotation of 50sh showing how much it has risen despite its long currency.

It has been left to another 2sh stamp of this colony to provide the real rarity of the group; this is the 2sh printed on an almost white paper in 1917 and issued in 1919, and was claimed at the time to be the rarest regular K. George postage stamp. It is a very distinct stamp, both on the face and back, and is more than a mere shade of paper variety, and is well worth acquiring when offered reasonably. It has been stated that the 2sh of 1922 (S.G. 171) exists on blue-green as well as on emerald paper, but the writer has still to see this variety; if any reader has one, it might be sent up for formal chronicle.

Modern Rarities—It was interesting to hear that certain readers have copies of other doubtful or very rare varieties recently enquired after in this column, notably Sierra Leone 1sh emerald old CA, and Mauritius 1 rupee on emerald throughout in Die I, although it does not appear clear from the letter whether Die I is really meant. Die II on the old paper is of course well known, but we have still to see a copy of Die I; the only copies sent up proved to be the ordinary variety and it is very easy to tell the dies at a glance by the presence or absence of the buds. This often forms a useful way of separating the two watermarks where the paper may be thick and one is much commoner than the other, as in Mauritius 50c K.G. or Straits Settlements $1 Exhibition Commemorative. This latter on the old CA paper is a real rarity, and if more popular would probably be priced at £5. The three low values on old CA paper are also very scarce.

Nauru—Another Georgian rarity that has been in the limelight is Nauru 10sh Waterlow printing. A number of this stamp have recently been turning up, many on the Continent, and prices have shown wide variations. The auction price recently quoted in this paper of £12 10sh turned out to have been an "unsold," but the statement made by a correspondent that it has not been obtainable from a London dealer for less than £20 is, of course, incorrect, as a well-known London house was offering it in the very same issue of the "P.M." at 70sh, and more than one reader was quick to take advantage of the offer. At this figure no collector of Nauru would go far wrong, although one hears of a collector in Paris getting six copies from a dealer at considerably less than this even, as on the Continent this shade variety, although quite distinct, is not valued quite so much. The actual numbers printed of this stamp do not appear to be known. A few years ago some very low figures were given, but these are almost certain to be incorrect.

Malta—Speaking of numbers issued reminds us of the fact that the figures given in the last article for the Malta rarity, 10sh mult. CA, were not quite correct. The official figures were 51 sheets of 30—a total of 1530 copies, all of which were sold out in 1919.

The latest Malta provisionals have been creating much interest, but here we are still quite in the dark as to the numbers issued of these "Postage" overprints. Certain values (the 4d and the 2sh) are stated to have been sold out in an hour, but it is possible for as many 2sh to have been sold in this period as would normally last a month or two.

Some people locally having the tip or surmising that the 1sh, 2sh and 2s6d, not having been recently printed, would be rather low, bought up all possible of these values, with the results known, but until we have the official numbers issued it is hard to say whether these are worth more or less than the prices demanded.

The 2sh Self-Govt. on old CA paper were also issued in very small numbers, less than any others of the series, and are due for a further rise, the Gibbons quotation being substantially lower than on the Continent and elsewhere, although for some little while after they became obsolete, they were obtainable for 10sh each.—Philatelic Magazine.

FRANCE

THE HISTORICAL ASPECT OF HER POSTAL ISSUES

By BRIG.-GEN. W. DICKSON.

In the days of our youth, when stamp collecting was regarded as essentially a pastime for the young, it was the fashion of our guardians and teachers to encourage the practice on the ground that it "taught the boys geography." But Philately can point to another subject included in its curriculum of instruction, and one in which its instructive powers increase as the years roll on, and that is modern history.

Many countries could be cited as examples of this, and notably Spain, Mexico, Brazil and the Transvaal; but it is proposed here to confine our attention to the historical aspect of the postal issues of our next door neighbour and ally, France.

France is to be numbered among the philatelically "popular" countries, and is yearly becoming more so. It is becoming increasingly difficult to get together a good representative collection of the early issues in fine condition. Our association during the War has, no doubt, had a great deal to do with the increasing popularity of France as a country "to take up" over here; but a deeper reason is to be found in the intrinsic "cleanliness" and excellence of her postal issues themselves. France has scorned the surcharge printer; she has not descended to the despicable practice of going round with a philatelic hat in one hand and an armful of unnecessary issues in the other. Of late there are, certainly and sad to relate, signs of a tarnish appearing on France's philatelic purity. We have seen a ½ centime surcharge, we have seen a Pasteur Commemorative series. There are even talks of a French "Olympic games" issue. It is to be hoped that this does not mean that the dry rot, which has made the French Colonial issues a thing of horror to the philatelist, is spreading to the French motherland itself.

But this is a digression. How few of those who include the issues of France in their albums appreciate the historical interest, or pay much attention to that most remarkable of romances, which lies behind the profile depicted on the French issues from 1852 to 1870? In my youthful days, my stamps may, and probably did, teach me some geography. In later times, the fascination which the beautiful and philatelically "clean" early issues of France exercised on me led me to read with increasing avidity and interest any and all literature I could get hold of dealing with the character who figures on the issues named, a man who, when the political passions of the time have faded into distant history, will undoubtedly be classed as one of the most extraordinary and romantic characters of this or any other age.

France, during the last 150 years, has suffered to a remarkable degree from what may be termed "swings of the pendulum." The continued oppression of a corrupt and tyrannical aristocracy resulted in giving the pendulum a violent push to the left, followed in its turn by an extreme swing to the right when France, striving to free herself from the Bolshevik excesses of the Revolution, threw herself at the feet of the superm Napoleon, who had just appeared. W the whole of France, her blood a treasure, at his unquestioned disposal. led her to dazzling heights of milit glory, but in doing so raised the enm of the whole of Europe, which combi to overthrow him and her. When, af stupendous efforts, Europe succeeded this, France, lying bleeding and exhaus viewed with little but relief the dep ture of the man who had made her so heavy a price for her few years intoxicating glory. But the return of old regime, who "had learned noth and forgotten nothing," soon made French turn their thoughts once m towards the "Martyr of St. Helen They began to think more of all he h done for them and all they had risen under him, and less and less of the pr they had had to pay for it. A Napo onic legend, almost religion, grew The great name became surrounded a glittering halo of attributes which had never possessed in reality, the Fra of the Empire was dreamt of as a Uto which it had never been while in exi ence. But the Utopia could only sighed for. The weakling son of Emperor had died a virtual prisoner the Austrian Court; there was no propi living to lead them to the land of th dreams. But these dreams only increa the growing discontent with the reacti ary regime of the successors to the Gr Saint. Charles X was driven out by revolution. An attempt to found a c stitutional Orleanist monarchy failed satisfy the cravings of the French so It hungered for the fleshpots of Egy and would not be put off with the mas of the desert.

Then suddenly, as if from the sk appeared the hoped-for prophet, wh figure is now familiar to us on t French stamps of 1852-70. France w startled one day in 1836 with the ne that a forgotten, an almost unknow nephew of the Emperor had appeared Strasburg, and had very nearly succeed in raising a military revolt there in favour. The alarmed Orleanist ki hustled the pretender as quietly a quickly as he could out of the coun to America. But a thrill of excitem vibrated throughout the French nati Was this indeed the expected Messia Louis Napoleon, whom the death of cousin and brother had left the heir the imperial throne, was a consumm judge of the French character. judged accurately the rising current the Napoleonic legend. It was necessa to crystallise it around Napoleon's ne The Strasburg attempt did this. promised land was no longer a thi merely to sigh for in dreams; it w appearing on the horizon, and the propl to lead them there was at hand. Orleanist king, feeling the strength the Napoleonic flood that was setting endeavoured to consolidate his own po tion by doing something to gratify Napoleon's remains were brought w great pomp from St. Helena and d posited in Paris. But Napoleon's he now a refugee in England, could not main idle at such a moment. Anoth attempt was made, this time at Boulog which again ended in failure. L Napoleon was condemned to perpet imprisonment at Ham, in France. I escape therefrom reads more like a cha ter of a Rider Haggard romance than episode from real life. The growi f Napoleonic sentiment was not the of the causes that brought about evolution which overthrew Louis pe in 1848. A republic was set up, much to the dismay of the republi- the indomitable Louis Napoleon appeared on the scene and was d President of the Republic by an helming majority of the votes of untrymen.

s brings us to the stage when h history appears on the pages of tamp albums. The postal reforms, involved the use of stamps, had y been in existence eight years in Britain, but nothing had been done e effete administration of Louis pe to bring in the reform in France. new administration of the Imperial dent of the Republic took it up and rst French issue appeared. It bore, ourse, the traditional female effigy e Republic, and struck out what was rather a new line, the surface print- rocess of reproduction. In two re- s the issue showed signs of being t effort at postage stamp production. stamp in commonest use, 20c, was ed in black, an obviously unsuitable r as the obliterating marks did not up on it. It was later changed to but before the blue stamps were put e, the postage rate was raised to and the blue 20's were not used. figured for many years as one of rench rarities, being regarded as an . The other respect in which in- ience was displayed was in issuing the higher values, 40c and 1fr, in ame colour, orange-vermilion. This speedily rectified, leaving the 1fr, e, to become the treasure of a h collection.

was obvious to all that the position e claimant to the French Imperial e, occupying the post of President e Republic, was a grotesque and un- one, and that, true to Napoleonic ions, he would "do something" be- long. He did. On December 2, the anniversary of the date on n the first Napoleon had closed, in well-like fashion, the assembly of rst Republic, and also the anniver- of Napoleon's great victory at Aus- , Louis Napoleon forcibly closed ssembly of the second Republic, nted disorder with an iron hand, ulgated a new Constitution based at of the old Empire, but still a "Republic," with himself as dent for ten years, and then asked rench people to confirm his action plebiscite. They did so by an over- ning majority. This change is n in the pages of our albums by the stamps of 10 and 25c, which ap- d in 1852, bearing still the inscrip- 'REPUB FRANC," but displaying, in- of the traditional portrait of the supposed to embody the Republic, the of the remarkable man who had ght these changes in France.

was obvious that this now doubly ial Republic could not be more than porary stepping-stone to the real and, again, on the fateful anniver- of Austerlitz, in 1852, the almost nous vote of the French people Louis Napoleon on the Imperial . The constitution of December, which had been based on the Im- model, required little change be- altering the title of its head from dent" to "Emperor, by the Grace d and the Will of the People." In ilar manner the postage stamps, had been designed in the shadow y coming events, required only an ion of the inscription at the top r "REPUB FRANC" to "EMPIRE FRANC." nce had at last arrived at the happy of her dreams, and the Emperor's began under the most happy aus- with the enthusiastic devotion of tire people. Prosperity grew, and sing prosperity is reflected in the e of our albums by a reduction in te rates which gave rise to the l "big rarity" of our French col- ics. The reduction necessitated the uction of stamps of 20c and 80c, in of those of 25c, and 1fr, and as ter had only been in use a short e their rarity increased, especially t of the last named. I saw, some years ago, a wonderful specimen of the faker's art in this connection. The 80c of the Empire and the 1fr of the Republic at that time were comparatively cheap, and some faker, with zeal worthy of a better cause, had got one of each, matching in shade, cut off the bottom labels containing the value and neatly affixed the 1fr label of the Republican stamp to the body of the 80c Imperial, thereby producing a fine specimen of the rare 1fr Empire. The join was most neatly done, and I could not detect any traces of it under a magnifying glass. It would probably now be reposing among the treasures of my album, but for one little point that gave the whole show away. The 1fr of the Republic bears the inscription "1 FR POSTES 1 FR," while that of the Empire is "1 F POSTES 1 F." It is strange that an individual, prepared to expend so much skilful care on his faking, should not have made himself better acquainted with the details of the stamps he was faking. I would have been glad to have had the specimen as a curiosity, but not at the price of the genuine article.

The early years of the Empire went well, bringing in their train a share of that military glory dear to the Frenchman's heart. The eagles of the Second Empire floated victoriously over the scenes of the first Napoleon's victories in Italy, and by 1860 the Empire may be said to have reached its high-water mark. This phase is shown in our albums by the change in the French stamps. The Emperor's head is now crowned, Cæsar-like, with a wreath of laurel.

It has been regarded as strange, that the man who showed such almost superhuman skill and energy, while a pretender to the throne, who evidently so thoroughly understood the French people, should not have made more of his opportunities when raised to practically supreme power in France, and particularly that he should have allowed himself to be eventually outwitted by the cunning of his Eastern neighbour. It would be outside our subject, even if space admitted, to go into the reasons which brought the French Empire sliding into the awful abyss of 1870, and the reader who is interested must be referred to the ample literature which is to be found on this most interesting period of France's history. That the Emperor retained right up to the Franco-German War the confidence of the French people is shown by the plebiscite of 1870, held ostensibly to confirm the alteration, in a liberal sense, of the constitution, but really treated as a vote of confidence in the Emperor.

Before leaving the period of the Empire, mention must be made of the handsome little stamps, bearing the Imperial eagle, issued for use in the Colonies. France had deferred, much longer than most countries, perforating her stamps, and even when making this concession in France, continued to deny the boon to the users of stamps in the Colonies. The eagle issue were therefore imperforate, and in addition certain values of the French stamps were issued imperforate for the Colonies, a practice that continued for some years after.

The cataclysm of the Franco-German War is shown in our albums by the lithographed set issued at Bordeaux, when the advance of the German armies drove the French Government to that place. When the production of postage stamps could be resumed at Paris, the plates used for the issues of the 1848 Republic were fetched out of the lumber-room to serve for those of the Republic of 1871. There is a point in connection with these stamps which I have always thought has been strangely neglected in catalogues. The stamps printed for France from the old plates are readily distinguished from those issued in 1848-50 by the fact that the former are perforated, but when, following the usual custom, these stamps were issued imperforate for the Colonies, this means of discrimination was not available, and the 10, 25 and 40c were moreover issued in the old colours. Why is there no note in the catalogues to explain how Nos. 24, 27 and 28 of the Colonial general issues are to be recognised from Nos. 2, 11 and 14, of France? I suspect that many of the latter have passed muster as specimens of the older issue, while specimens of 26 (imperf. 20c, blue, Colonial) have, no doubt, obtained money under false pretences of being the rare unissued 20c, blue, of 1850 (No. 27, France). The collector, who goes in much for France, gets, no doubt, a sort of second sense that seems to tell him, but the general collector wants something definite.

In the later issues of France, the historical aspect does not appear in so prominent a light. Until the advent of the Sower type, it can hardly be said that they do full credit to French Art. The Peace and Commerce type, familiar to us for so long, originated in a demand to have the figure of value more conspicuous on the face of the stamp than was the case in the previous issue, and the demand for something more artistic, which was the cause of the 1900 designs, resulted in something generally voted worse. The present Sower type will, however, probably be admitted by most philatelists to come much nearer the ideal stamp. Most of us will agree that a stamp ought to have three things: (a) simplicity of design, and not a vast mass of stuff crowded into a small space, (b) good solid blocks of colour, and (c) the value clearly indicated in figures. The "Sower" fulfils these desiderata.

Much more could be written on the fascinating stamps of our neighbour and ally, and still more on the subject of history as depicted in the pages of our stamp albums, but the patience of neither the editor nor the readers of the Monthly Journal can be regarded as inexhaustible quantities. The writer hopes that, by drawing attention to this aspect of our hobby, it may be the means of affording to some of his brother philatelists that additional interest in their specimens which he has himself derived from contemplating the romances of history which lie behind them.—Stanley Gibbons Monthly Journal.

DEALERS UNITE FOR PUBLICITY

Out of all the talk and correspondence going through the press lately some definite plans are at last forthcoming. A Dealers Committee has been formed for the purpose of raising a fund for National Publicity, the work starting immediately.

While it is planned to include the activities of the Exhibition as the outstanding news event of this year, the main object is to stabilize the hobby by interesting new collectors. The plan is to furnish and place well-written news articles for publication through the whole of the U. S. and Canada and to create interest in Philately in all parts of the country.

The Advisory Board represents practically the whole of the stamp dealing fraternity and includes such well known men as: J. M. Bartels, Chas. W. Garrett, H. M. Clark, Geo. W. Linn, C. J. Phillips and W. C. Phillips.

To raise the money for this purpose, dealers are being asked to pledge contributions to the Dealers National Publicity Fund (Tom V. Binmore, Secretary, 575 Fifth Avenue, Long Island City, N. Y.).

These contributions will be properly and prominently acknowledged in the trade papers. These papers will also be kept in touch with the progress of the work being done.

Mr. Albert W. Draves is enlisted in a good cause and he is trying to dispose of the interesting accumulations of postal markings made by the late Arche M. Pike of Binghampton, New York, in order that Mrs. Pike may reap some benefit from the high enthusiasm of her husband. Mr. Draves says: "I still maintain the enthusiasm that Mr. Pike and I have had for five years in accumulating historical material and postal markings. As Mr. Pike and I exchange everything we had, our collections were duplicates, but Mr. Pike attempted to create a stock up to fifty copies of each item." While "darting all over the east and possibly Europe," Mr. Draves' summer address will be: 77 Lefferts Place, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Both of our sterling London contemporaries, the Stamp Collectors' Fortnightly and the Philatelic Journal of Great Britain issued "strike" numbers; and for this commendable bit of enterprise, each publisher deserves well of his readers and others. The difficulties that were surmounted by the determined efforts of the conductors of these papers may be imagined and the attenuated issues of the papers in question should be preserved as an evidence of the permanency of philately. Appropriately, the leading number in the Philatelic Journal of Great Britain is an article on the stamp issued during the strike of the postal employees in Amiens, France, 1909, illustrated by a copy of the stamp itself. This local stamp was in use six days in May of that year and was issued by the Chamber of Commerce at Ameins or at least under its authorization, with the approval of the postal authorities; and it was used in addition to the regular issue, in order to compensate for the expense incurred for special postal delivery during the strike.

Mr. Edward S. Knapp, who adheres to the straight and narrow path in Confederates, has taken unto himself a summer address: Southampton, Long Island, New York.

We have received a number of first day postmarks of the Philadelphia "Model Post Office, Sesquicentennial International Exposition"; and behold, Mr. Joseph Klein, Philadelphia, uses a centennial, 1876, three cent stamped envelope, franked with the 2c Liberty Bell, making a double extra to grace our hope chest.

Mr. Gordon C. Fennell of St. Louis was in Chicago recently where he found time to call on a few of the local folks.

and development of America. There were a lot more that were interesting, and the idea may give you something to propose when your club is after some entertainment.

In this lot of faces shown today, there should be some that you recognize, perhaps the prettiest of all as shown on the stamps turned in to the Forum is the No. 4, it stands out quite brilliantly on the vermilion background. No. 6 is a very clear printing, and is unusual, as I have seen but two of them. No. 10 is called the Black Cat, and was probably used for quite a long period on the Civil War 3c stamps.

If you have any faces not in this lot it would be welcome news to have you turn in some as there are almost enough others to make a group of totally different faces, and a few additional will complete the second group of these for a coming number of the Forum.

U. S. BUREAU PRINTED PRECANCELS

By FREDERICK W. ALLEN.

History.—It was not until 1916 that the Post Office Department made any attempt to directly supply stamps with the precancellation already applied, to offices requiring a large amount of this class of stock. In that year the Bureau of Engraving and Printing prepared upon order a consignment of the current series bearing a printed precancellation that had been applied when the sheets were in the original size, imperforated, and ungummed 11,910,000 stamps of 16 denominations, were thus prepared for the cities of Augusta, Me., New Orleans, La., and Springfield, Mass. As the overprinting was done with a distinctive font of type, it is not difficult to recognize this first Bureau Print Issue.

With the advent of the utilization of the Stickney Rotary Press for manufacture of stamps in sheet form, we get a second general issue of precanceled stamps that are to be known as Bureau Prints. Immediately after the stamps are printed, they pass under plates with impress upon them a precancellation. Following this step the roll is gummed, perforated, and cut into sheets.

The first precanceled stamps of this order were issued to New York and Chicago, in April, 1924. Since that time there has been a rapid increase in the demand and to date 108 cities have placed orders with the Department for Bureau printed precancels. By September, 1926, every denomination, from one to ten cents, in sheet form, and the 1, 1½, 2, 3, 4, 5, and 10 cents in coil form will have been precanceled. Because of the cost of the work no order for less than 500,000 stamps of a denomination in sheet form, or 250,000 stamps of a denomination in coil form, is accepted.

Arrangement has been made for the official chronicling of new varieties as they appear, and, in view of that fact, it is urged that collectors refrain from making direct inquiry regarding these issues. The Bureau and the Department have received much correspondence that is entirely unnecessary and burdensome, from stamp collectors, and if it continues to bother them, it is obvious that they shall feel rather bitterly about the hobby in general.

The collection of Bureau printed precancels will undoubtedly be a popular pastime and side-line for U. S. specialists. To one unitiated into the fascination of them, we recommend their consideration.

A catalog, listing and pricing all varieties, has appeared and shall be revised frequently, if the occasion demands. It will be an invaluable guide for it has been the basis of serious attention by precancel experts, and is thorough in every sense of the word.

Believing that a review of each city that has received supplies of these stamps, will be of interest, we shall attempt to render an accurate and complete summary.

Birmingham, Ala.—None are especially plentiful, the 1c coil being the hardest to get. The 2c coil has been ordered and is likely to be a difficult item to procure. The 4c has been reported, but does not exist.

Los Angeles, Calif.—It is strange that nothing over the 3c has been used. Although the 4c, 5c, 6c, and 10c, have been reported they do not exist and are not now on order. It is probable that they shall be required soon. The 2c coil is the elusive one of the existing varieties.

San Francisco, Calif.—Will soon have the 7c, 8c, and 9c, and these should be common. 2c coils are scarce and worth ten cents each.

Denver, Colo.—Latest to appear are the 1½c and 2c coils. While the former will be easily procured, it is likely that the 2c will be a stumbling block to completion.

Bridgeport, Conn.—The 2c is on order and should appear soon. The 1c, 1½c, 3c, 4c, 5c, 6c, 10c and 1½c coil, already exist. None can be classed common, nor are they especially scarce.

New Britain, Conn.—Many are hunting for the single variety issued to this office, the 1c coil. It is a hard item to run down and worth about fifty cents.

New Haven, Conn.—Are plentiful. Only the 1c, 1½c and 2c exist.

Wilmington, Del.—Has appeared on the 1½c coil. The 2c coil is on order.

Washington, D. C.—Just received the 3c coil and soon is to have the 4c coil. There seems to be no need for any value in sheet form, over the 2c.

Miami, Fla.—Mystery has o'ershadowed the Miami Bureau precancels. For some time it was thought the 1½c coil was in existence. It has been proven to be a false alarm. There is on order, however, the 2c coil. This should soon be received by the Miami office.

Atlanta, Ga.—Nothing rare here, but the 3c, 4c, and 1c coil seem to be scattered. The 6c was reported, but is not in existence.

Macon, Ga.—Will soon have the 1c coil to supplement the 1½c coil, now on hand. Both will likely be rare, as the 1½c coil has been out for some time and is contained in few collections.

Chicago, Ill.—Does not appear to have ordered the 7c, 8c, and 9c, at this date (May 18th), but will undoubtedly receive supplies as soon as these denominations are printed on the rotary presses.

De Kalb, Ill.—The 1c coil is worth fifteen cents, and the 1½c coil about ten. The former appears to be obsolete and is worth acquiring immediately.

Decatur, Ill.—Has only the 1½c coil, which is fairly hard to get. About fifteen cents is a fair price for it.

Elgin, Ill.—Received a shipment of the 1c coils, but they must have been laid away for future use, for only a few collections contain a specimen. They are really rare at present, but we have a hunch they will not remain so.

Springfield, Ill.—Was reported by mistake. No Bureau prints have ever been issued to this city.

Waukegan, Ill.—Is known only on the 1½c coil. Has been pretty widely circulated, so is not scarce.

Fort Wayne, Ind.—Exists only on the coils of the 1c, 1½c, and 2c values. The 2c is fairly good property.

Kokomo, Ind.—Is to be found on the 1½c, sheet form. It is rarely met with, and is to be found on most want lists.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Occurs on the 4c, but this denomination has not been used to any great extent. It is improbable that it shall remain scarce for any length of time.

Muncie, Ind.—Has placed an order for the 2c, in sheet form. The 1c, and 2c coils are infrequently seen and are on most want lists.

Peru, Ind.—Are found on the 1c and 1½c coils. As both denominations have seen constant service with the American Stationery Co., they are more often met, than some of the other small town varieties.

South Bend, Ind.—Had a supply of the 1c coils, but few are to be found on the market. This is a good buy at twenty-five cents.

Davenport, Ia.—Employs only the 1c and 1½c, both of which are very common.

Girard, Kans.—Are difficult to secure in any quantity. The 1c and 1½c are used by the Haldemann-Julius Co., for circular mailing.

Wichita, Kans.—The 1c coil is best of what few items exist with this precancellation, but is not truly scarce.

Louisville, Ky.—Is represented by nine varieties, but none are of noteworthy character.

New Orleans, La.—Has been issued the 1½c coil, but the same does not appear to have been put into general circulation. It should not be elusive, for none of the others, in sheet form, are.

Portland, Me.—Will soon have the 1½c in sheet form. The 1c, 1½c, and 2c coils are on hand, but very scarce. There must be a limited demand for them as they are not often found.

Baltimore, Md.—Has ordered the 7c, 8c, and 9c. It is rather strange that Baltimore has not seen fit to order any Bureau prints in coil form.

Boston, Mass.—Has filed order for the 7c and 8c, but not the 9c. Also the 3c, 4c, 5c and 10c coils. Appearance of the latter will be eagerly watched for by collectors.

Lynn, Mass.—Has requested the 1c, in sheet form, so it can be expected at an early date.

Salem, Mass.—Both the 1½c, and 1½c coil are plentiful and worth about five cents each.

Springfield, Mass.—Both the 1c and 1½c are commonly met with. The 1c should be a good item in future years, if the present postal rates are maintained.

Westfield, Mass.—Occurs on the 1½c coil. Ten cents is a fair price for it.

Battle Creek, Mich.—The 1 cent coil is rare. Present market value is approximately forty cents. The 2c, in sheet form, will soon appear.

Detroit, Mich.—Strange to say, the 2c is the scarcest of the set. The 2c coil does not exist.

Grand Rapids, Mich.—The 2c coil will be found difficult of acquisition. It is likely that the 3c coil, which has just been ordered, will be still harder to get.

Kalamazoo, Mich.—Has used the 1c and 1½c in both sheet and coil form. None are classed as uncommon.

Lansing, Mich.—Here again the 1c coil is a rare variety. The 1½c occurs in sheet form, as well as coiled.

Saginaw, Mich.—Recently received its first Bureau prints, which were of the 1½c denomination, and in sheets. The 10c has also been ordered.

Duluth, Minn.—Are all fairly good, but contain nothing valued at over ten cents.

Minneapolis, Minn.—All very common except the 2c coil.

Saint Paul, Minn.—The 4c and 6c are rather uncommon. Also the 2c coil is scarce and worth about twenty cents. The 7c is on order at the Bureau.

Kansas City, Mo.—Has ordered the 7c. All current varieties are very plentiful, with the exception of the 2c coil. The latter is worth four cents.

Liberty, Mo.—Will bother you when trying to complete your collection. The 1c and 1½c coils are in existence, and valued at twenty-five and fifteen cents respectively.

St. Louis, Mo.—Saint Louis is one of three cities that have had two different plates used for its Bureau precancels. The first type reading "ST. LOUIS" occurs only on the 1c and 2c. While there are a large number on the market at present, they are worth saving and will show an appreciable increase in value in later years. The second reading "SAINT LOUIS" is current and of small value on any stamps save the 2c coil. This type has never appeared on the 2c, in sheet form, but as soon as the

UNITED STATES "EDUCATORS"

For those who are not certain of their classifications of 19th Century U. S. stamps (and that means nine collectors out of every ten) we have made up this series of packets and approval booklets, in which every stamp has its correct catalog number.
Packet A.—30 varieties of U. S. postage only, all classified, including every issue from 1851 to 1890 inclusive, only $2.00
Packet B.—20 varieties of the hard-to-place Bank Note issues each one numbered according to Scott's catalog, 1871 to 1890 .....$1.00
"Educator" Approvals contain almost all regularly issued stamps of the United States from 1847 to 1900. No stamp priced more than $5, most of them at big discounts from catalog prices. Sent only against references or deposit. [H

UNITED STATES ISSUES 1870-1900

DR. WM. EVANS, Editor,
313 E. Freemason St., Norfolk, Va.

(Any letter requiring a reply must have a self-addressed stamped envelope. No attention can be given matters that do not belong to the years indicated. What can you contribute of interest?)

Some time ago you were asked to report railroad cancellations on the stamps of the Bank Note Co.'s issues, and those who responded were Gilbert M. Burr, Major C. H. Bonesteel, R. S. Nelson, W. S. Barker, Dr. R. C. Fisher, J. F. Yegge, Karl Koslowski, E. A. Young, J. H. Davis Reynolds, Hugh McClellan, A. H. Schumacher, Dr. L. L. Myers, S. C. Rogers, L. Bryan Dabney, A. N. Benners, Dr. H. B. Hinman, W. E. Whitnall, Victor G. Loly, C. A. Heath, H. P. Atherton, J. O. Moore Inc., Wm. S. Eager, C. W. Haynes, Alma Newcomb, F. L. Greenough, John E. Fast, Jas. Lewis Howe, Robert F. Molitor, John R. Dunfee, K. N. Woodward, S. W. Richey, A. B. Thacher, M. N. Stone.

The result is shown below and the list is much longer than the one first published, but it is no doubt still incomplete.

The color of these cancellations is black unless otherwise noted.
